FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

A total of 332 Montana State University students, or about 12 per cent of the student body, placed on the Honor Roll for spring quarter and fall semester, according to the Registrar's office. Thirty-nine students, or slightly over one per cent of the MSU enrollment, earned a straight-A average.

Law students attend two semesters instead of three quarters during the academic year, and the fall semester overlaps the winter quarter, the Registrar explained.

A straight-A average means that a student has a grade index of 4.0. The index is computed by multiplying the number of credits a student carries by the number of grade points he earns and dividing by the number of credits. Under the University's grading system, the grade A receives four grade points; B, three; C+, two and a half; C, two; D, one; and F, none.

To be eligible for the Honor Roll, a student must have either a minimum of 54 grade points with an index of 3.0, or a minimum of 42 grade points with an index of 3.5. No student is eligible if he has an F on his current record.
