THE OVAL IS THE FOCAL POINT OF CAMPUS

Main Hall, located at the head of the Oval, currently houses administrative offices and the Geography department.

The Math-Physics building, originally a dormitory, is now the home of the University's Linear Accelerator. The "atom-smasher" was given to MSU by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The Scheuch Memorial Planetarium contains an Astro-Projector, one of three in the West.
THE MAIN CAMPUS SPREADS OVER 125 ACRES,
EXTENSIVE ADJUNCTS CONTAIN
OVER 22,500 ACRES.

The Field House is the scene for many sports events. The curved roof is supported by laminated wood arches, the largest in the Northwest.

Gymnasium and recreational facilities and the Home Economics department are located in the Women's Center.
THE PHYSICAL PLANT INCLUDES . . .

The Men's Gym, located next to Dornblaser Field, houses one of the two swimming pools on campus.

THE PURPOSE OF A UNIVERSITY IS FULFILLED.

Commencement—an end and a beginning. President H. K. Newburn confers degrees as candidates are presented by the deans of their respective schools and colleges.

The Library houses approximately 330,000 volumes, receives over 1,665 periodical titles, and has a collection of more than 33,000 maps.
Craig Hall, a modern brick structure, is the home of many underclass men and most athletes.

 WHETHER THE STUDENT LIVES IN A DORMITORY,

There is always time for a game of cards with friends, as this scene in Craig Hall shows.
The Homecoming parade features floats built by living groups and University departments and schools. Spurs and Bearpaws lead the floats down Higgins and University Avenues.

The Lodge, as seen here from Craig Hall, is a popular leisure-time "hang-out" for MSU students.
Each fall and spring, freshmen take the long walk up Mount Sentinel to white-wash the "M."

MSU pauses during spring quarter to sponsor Interscholastic for Montana high school students. Areas of competition include track and field, debate, oratory, art, and drama.
... ARE NUMEROUS AND VARIED.

Whether for Freshman Camp in the fall or Leadership Camp or a fraternity weekend in the spring, Western Montana lakes offer excellent recreational facilities.

IN ANY SEASON, IN ANY WEATHER, THE CAMPUS HAS A SPECIAL BEAUTY.
THE YEAR IN RETROSPECT

The school year 1960-61 was a time marked by history. It was the year of the "Great Debates" and long campaign struggle between John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon. In the end, Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, won the Presidency with the smallest popular-vote margin ever. In Montana, Donald G. Nutter was elected Governor and promptly rocked the University system with his "budget cuts." The Congo Crisis; Laos; the Kennedy Clan; Berlin; and Astronaut Alan Shepherd, USN; were familiar names for millions of Americans.

During 1960-61 MSU continued to grow, as these pictures of the new Health-Science building (top) and the new Law School (bottom) show.
Freshman Camp, held the weekend before Orientation Week, gave freshmen, upperclassmen and faculty members a chance to get acquainted and to discuss campus issues.

The Orientation Week committee, under the direction of Myrna Eyerly, planned and coordinated the week's activities.

Bearpaw Denis Adams and Spur Peggy Josephson lead a group of parents and new students on a tour of the campus.

Spurs Susan Wetzel, Marlene Kolesar, Sally Holton and Felicia Hardison sell beanies to some freshmen.
ORIENTATION WEEK

Freshmen convened in the Field House to take entrance tests.

Orientation Week Group Leaders were sophomore, junior and senior students chosen to help the incoming freshmen adjust to campus life.

All students living in the dorms eat their meals in the Treasure State room of the Lodge.

The campus patrolman shows Vern Anderson the correct position for the new parking stickers which were issued at registration.

Students meandering toward Elrod Hall from the Chemistry building, Journalism School or the men's Gym had two choices. Either walk across the grass by the planetarium, or try this narrow bridge across the ditch beside the new Health-Science building as Roger Kramis did.

Bearpaws Jack Griffith and Doug Grimm pose with the stone, Hello-Walk marker, which was removed to make way for the addition to the Liberal Arts building.

HOMECOMING

Faculty members Castle, Cogswell and Hertler serve at the barbecue.

Members of the Forestry Club cut approximately 1100 Douglas fir trees for the Ball.

Dr. Vedder Gilbert taps Glen Aaseim for Bearpaw, sophomore men's service honorary.

The Outstanding Bearpaw award for 1959-60 Bearpaws went to Doug Grimm. Denis Adams, 1959-60 Bearpaw president, presented the award on behalf of the group.

WELCOME SPURS

“Campaign fever” arrived early in the fall at MSU when the freshmen elected delegates to Central Board.

GOP candidates Donald G. Nutter and Orvin Fjare campaigned on campus.

Democrat Ted Kennedy visited campus to speak on behalf of his brother, John.
The Bobcats lost the football game and MSC student body president, Arjay Godson, lost his trousers to ASMSU prexy, Paul Ulrich.

The president of the MSC Fangs presents the Treasure Chest to Bearpaw president Glen Aaseim, Traditions Board chairman Denis Adams, and football captain John Matte.

Fathers of the football players were honored at half-time.

GRIZZLEY-BOBCAT GAME

The Christmas SOS marked the end of the fall quarter.

The pressure of studies and finals was too much for some.
This picture, posed by Kaimen photographer Jerry Hassinger with the help of Stan Bolle and dog, spoofs the "lake" that covered the Oval in February.

Students began registration procedures by conferring with advisers.

Long lines filled both the Cascade and Yellowstone rooms as students waited to pay fees and check out.
Most students, after struggling through the one-day registration, expressed the hope that procedures would be simplified or two-day registration would be renewed.

ONE-DAY REGISTRATION . . .
AND IT WAS LINES, LINES, LINES.
Basketball games were familiar weekend and sometimes week-day entertainment. Here MSU's Steve Lowrey (4) jumps against a University of Wyoming player as teammates Paul E. Miller (10) Kay Roberts (22) and Dan Sullivan stand ready.

Pom-pon girls Susie Frizell and Karen Upshaw boost "school spirit" during a basketball game.
Many students indulged in this favorite winter sport during Ski Weekend, sponsored by the Ski Club.

The Four Freshmen were among the "big-name" entertainment brought to campus by ASMSU.

Spur Susan Wetzel threatens to paint Bearpaw Dave Browman as they work on decorations for the annual Sadie Hawkins dance.

Parents attended lectures given by MSU faculty members. Here, Dean Blomgren of the School of Business Administration addresses a group.

PARENTS’ DAY

Jerry Agen, Director of Public Relations for ASMSU, welcomes parents of MSU students on Parents’ Day.

Members of Aquamaids entertained with water ballet and synchronized swimming routines.

At the end of the day, parents and students enjoyed a banquet in the Lodge. Entertainment was by the MSU Jubileers.
RESEARCH — AN IMPORTANT PART OF THE PROGRAM OF NEARLY EVERY SCHOOL AND DEPARTMENT ON CAMPUS.

MSU zoology professor, Dr. Ludvig Browman, has developed the only strain of "blind" mice in the world. The mice are used for various experimental purposes.

Montana State University Registrar Leo Smith (right) discusses with Jean P. Mather, president of the American College Testing Program, the new research program of ACT under which the group will compute indices predicting the grades a student is likely to make in his freshman year at college. MSU has participated in the ACT program for two years.

During summer quarter, students work in the Radiology lab at the Biological Station at Flathead Lake.

Ross Williams, Dean of the School of Forestry, is shown receiving a $1,000 check from Arthur Will for the Forest and Conservation Research Library in the forestry school. Mr. Will, shown on the right, is the local representative for the Sears Roebuck Foundation which has given the money to the library.
The State Music Festival, held at MSU during the early part of spring quarter, drew high school musicians from all parts of the state.

Talented senior and junior high school students displayed their science projects at the Montana Science Fair. Dr. Reuben Dietert of the Botany Department headed the Science Fair Committee for the fifth year.

For some the beginning of a quarter means new courses, new instructors, and the renewed resolve to "study hard."
The Aquamaid show, Peter Pan, always a favorite on campus, was "held over by request" for an extra performance.

Right, Tiger Lily, played by Kitty Van Vliet, tries to enlist the help of the Lost Boys, played by Jerry Sammons, Mary Lynn Petterson, Helen Buros, and Gwen McLain.

Members of the cast and crew for the Yellow Jacket toured Montana during spring vacation. Here Wayne Finney, Dick Willis and Georgia Benton are shown in a scene from the play.
In the election for the ASMSU presidency, it was Adams over Ulvila by a slim 12-vote margin. Charges of "fraternity politics" and Kaimin editorials in support of certain candidates caused much comment during the campaign.

This year, for the first time, MSU sent a team of scholars to New York to appear on the television program, the General Electric College Bowl. The team, however, was defeated by the varsity scholars from Johns Hopkins University. Team members were, from left to right: Don Hubbard, Terry Stephenson, Zena Beth McGlashen, and Jim Polk.
Coed Patti Jo Shaw returned to MSU this spring after a year of travel and public appearances as Miss Wool of America.

Jane Borden, editor of the 1960 Sentinel, proudly displays the book which won first place in yearbook competition in the Rocky Mountain area. The award was announced at the Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Press Association meeting in Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. Lommasson, Angel Flight adviser, congratulates Helen Cain on her selection as Coed Colonel and Angel Flight commander for the 1961-62 school year.
In spite of an early May snow, University classes moved outside for most of spring quarter.

Bed-pushing, a new collegiate fad, came to MSU as the World University Service committee sponsored a bed-pushing contest instead of the usual Chinese auction.

Linda Riedel watches as Juli Karlsgodt donates blood at the annual Red Cross blood drawing. MSU failed to meet its quota and thus lost to MSC in the contest held in connection with the drawing.

New Mortar Board member, Penny Loucas, talks with parents and friends at the reception which followed the tapping. Parents of girls who were tapped received a special invitation from the graduating members to come to MSU for the ceremony.

ASMSU President Paul Ulrich (right) presents the Sibley Award to James Dorr Johnson. The award is given to the junior or senior student who has made the most outstanding contribution to MSU.
Mrs. Albert Stone is honored for her two years of service as Spur adviser as Myra Shults taps her as an honorary Spur. Newly-tapped Spurs Joan Smith, Carol Wilson, Barbara Young, and Ann Wolhowe smile with approval.

Spur president Myra Shults taps freshman Carol Skalsky as a new member of Tanan of Spur, sophomore women’s honorary.

Silent Sentinel honored junior men when Dr. Robert Turner tapped them for membership. Here, Dr. Turner congratulates Denis Adams on his selection for membership.
Here, James Eversole, director of the Treasure State Band, acts as announcer at the outdoor band concert held during Senior Week.

Senior Terry Stephenson accepts an award from Dean Robert Coonrod at the Prizes and Awards Convo. Mrs. Lommasson stands in the back. Many seniors, underclassmen, and graduate students received awards (see pages 127-128.).

ACTIVITIES

The procession, led by Academic Vice President Abbott, "swings out" on the way to Commencement exercises in the Field House.
Montana State Board of Education members are, from left to right: Mr. Russell Barthell; Mrs. F. H. Petro; Mrs. H. F. Byrne; Mr. George C. Lund; Monsignor Emmet J. Riley; Miss Harriet Miller, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; Governor Donald G. Nutter; Attorney General Forrest H. Anderson; Dr. Earl Hall; Mr. Gordon Mullendore; Dr. Gordon Doering; Mr. Boynton G. Paige.
H. K. NEWBURN

To The Students of Montana State University:

Again it is my pleasure to extend greetings for Mrs. Newburn and myself to the students of Montana State University. This record of the year’s activities carried so well in the Sentinel tells the story of an active and I hope profitable period for each of you, and one which will bring back meaningful memories over the years. Montana State University is dedicated to the development of young men and women to the full extent of their intellectual capacities. In achieving this broad goal we hope to enrich the lives of our students. We trust that your experience here will aid you significantly in becoming better men and women, and thus make it possible for you to make more significant contributions to the society of which you are a part.

H. K. Newburn
President

President and Mrs. Newburn greet a new student and her parents at the President's Reception during Orientation Week.

On the occasion of Mr. Badgley's retirement as Controller on June 30, the Board of Regents passed the following resolution:

"RESOLVED, that upon the occasion of the retirement of E. Kirk Badgley from Montana State University, the State Board of Education, ex-officio Regents of the University of Montana, expressed its appreciation of the long and faithful service of Mr. Badgley to the University and to the State of Montana. His official connection with the University began as an undergraduate, and he has continued on during his entire adult life rendering most valuable services to the institution. During his many years tenure he has personally participated in the vital financial and fiscal problems which have faced the University, and he has played a most significant role in the progress of the institution. His quiet, friendly, thoughtful manner has been an example for fellow staff members and students alike. During his long tenure he has served faithfully on numerous boards and committees, his presence always being a stabilizing influence upon the business affairs of such groups. Always he has kept uppermost in his mind the welfare of Montana State University, and consequently, he has made a notable and lasting contribution to the institution and through it to the State which it serves."

DEDICATION
When Mr. Bennett retired from the University on August 18, the Board of Regents passed this resolution: "RESOLVED, that upon the occasion of the retirement of Professor Edward Earl Bennett from the faculty of Montana State University, the State Board of Education, ex-officio Regents of the University of Montana, joins with students, alumni, faculty, and friends across the state and throughout the nation in expressing appreciation of his loyal service to Montana State University. During the thirty-five years of his teaching career at the University, nearly twenty thousand students have enrolled in his courses. He has taught every field of history—ancient, medieval, and modern, European and American—and for many years handled the courses in Montana history and government. His faithful service on university and community committees, his patience in advising students, and his dedication to the profession of teaching, have won him the esteem, the respect, and the admiration of those whose privilege it has been to work with him."

IN RECOGNITION OF THEIR YEARS OF SERVICE TO MONTANA STATE UNIVERSITY, THE STAFF IS PRIVILEGED TO DEDICATE THIS 1961 SENTINEL TO MR. E. KIRK BADGLEY AND DR. EDWARD E. BENNETT.
IN MEMORIAM

NORMAN BRUCE COLLINS

Norman Bruce Collins, 19, Missoula, was killed in a car-truck collision on Sunday, May 7, 1961. He was a sophomore at Montana State University.
The new Health-Science Building will provide much-needed classroom and laboratory space for many of the science departments.

"All the King's Men"

"All the King's Men," under the direction of Firman H. Brown, toured to Bozeman to perform for the Rocky Mountain Theater Conference from which it received great praise. It is a powerful and timely play about political and personal morality which raises profound questions centering around moral decay of its leading characters, the lust for power, and the age-old problem of good and evil.

Bill Lensing, Dick Willis and Claudette Johnson operating the lights for effect called for by the play.

Jim Polk and Desiree Collette provide some stirring scene from the show.

Terence Rattigan's "Separate Tables" won for Mr. Willis, the director, the award for the best production. "Separate Tables" in reality is two long one-act plays. In "Table By The Window" the problem is given focus by a divorced couple one of whom has loved too much and the other who has loved too little. In "Table Number Seven" the emphasis is directed by the same two actors who assume new roles to play a fearful, mother-dominated spinster and a pompous but lonely retired army officer. These four characters play out a climactic bit of their lives among others who are also marked by their need for love. Major roles were characterized by David Hunt and Marith McGinnis.

Mr. Malcolm (David Hunt) and Mrs. Shankland (Marith McGinnis) as seen in "Table By the Window."

Major Pollock (David Hunt), Mrs. Railton-Bell (Eileen Gal­lagger) and her daughter (Marith McGinnis) in "Table Number Seven."

Dick Willis, right, directs Miss McGinnis in a scene from "Separate Tables."
School for Scandal

“The School for Scandal,” Richard Sheridan’s warm, witty, scandalous play about love and marriage in the 18th Century, was directed by Eileen Gallagher, senior drama major. It is a comedy of manners in a satire on the follies of 18th century fashionable social circles. Eighteenth century costumes for the production were designed by Sarah James. Technical advisers were: Allen Goddard, scenery; Tam Scriven, assistant to the director; Sara Grey, props and Dick Willis, lights.

For the major play for Winter Quarter 1961, The Masquers presented William Shakespeare's final play, the tragico accounting of THE TEMPEST. This play is filled with song and dance, a sprite and a monster plus other airy spirits, a magician who rules the elements and plays the role of fate in the lives of all who come to his enchanted island. The total production was given an authentic Elizabethan quality and added delight by the effective and flexible set designed by Richard H. James, Jr., designer and technical director for the Department of Drama; the spectacle was further enhanced by the splendor of the Elizabethan costumes designed by Sarah James, costume designer for the Department of Drama.

DOUGLAS BANKSTON—Director
"The Yellow Jacket" was the Masquers' major production of the year and the play presented on the annual state wide tour. "The world's most famous Chinese play," is staged so that the stage itself is a recreation of a Chinese theater. No realistic scenery is used, instead the lavish oriental properties on stage are handled throughout the performance by property men who are part of the cast, in the tradition of the Chinese theater. "The Yellow Jacket" tells the story of the life of a young man from birth through youth to adulthood, following his experiences in love and ending with his recognition of a meaning to his life.

Diane Kenyon and Roy Maidmont portray the young lovers in "The Yellow Jacket."
Suzan Howard, a senior drama major, directed THE SILVER CORD, with the able assistance of Dick Willis, Designer and Technical Director. The production deals with the question—How strong are the affections between widowed Mrs. Phelps and her grown sons. Mrs. Phelps plans David's life, which will keep him tied to her apron strings. She persuades her younger son Robert to break off his engagement to Hester. Christina, David's wife, brings things to a head by offering David the choice of her or his mother. Ultimately Mrs. Phelps is left with only her younger son for consolation.
The Kissin’ River, is an original musical play by Robert McKinnon, MSU senior. The play is a musical farce about a western dude ranch. The owner is Ma Yellowstone and her two daughters who become romantically entangled with a couple of dudes and a government engineer. The plot, involving a government order to change the dude ranch from a primitive area to a wilderness area, provides a great deal of fun and anxiety before an earth shaking event brings about a happy resolution.

Down in the Valley

“Down in the Valley” is a folk opera, and parts of the score are based on familiar American folk songs, including the title song, “The Lonesome Dove,” “The Little Black Train” and “Sourwood Mountain.” “Down in the Valley” required the additional help of a chorus, the MSU Royaleers and the MSU Chamber Band.

The two one-act operas were presented by the Opera Workshop in cooperation with the Montana Masquers.
The University Choir made a concert tour with the University Symphonette, gave its own share of concerts and combined talents with the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs at the Annual Winter Concert, which added up to another busy year.

With the familiar M-formation and the singing of the Traditional "Montana, My Montana" many were introduced to the MSU Jubileers. The Jubileers entertained at banquets and receptions, both on campus and in the community. This year, while on tour, the Jubileers appeared on "Q" 6 TV in Spokane. The Jubileers are under the direction of Joseph Mussulman.

The University Symphonette is a select group of student musicians. Its program of activities includes campus concerts, tour concerts and opera productions.

The Montana State University Music Series this year presented the following, in addition to many faculty recitals.

JOSEPH MARAIS and MIRANDA—International Balladeers
THE CONCERT ARTISTS OF PITTSBURGH
THE MONTANA STATE UNIVERSITY TRIO
MARY MOORE, Contralto
The Missoula Civic Symphony Orchestra is a cooperative project of the University and the City of Missoula. A number of MSU students and staff take part in its program each year. Its season includes three formal evening concerts, three Saturday afternoon Children's Concerts (at which time, the conductor gives an illustrated lecture on Music), a series of television shows under the direction of Prof. George Hummel which serve to stimulate interest in the Symphony music.
The Treasure State Band, under the direction of James Eversole, performed at the football games; during basketball season the pep band played; and over spring vacation the entire band toured the state. This large parent organization provides the members for Chamber Band and many other specialized groups.
The Chamber Band, which is made up of members of the Treasure State Band, presented a variety of programs, such as assisting the Opera Workshop, and the Spring Concert during Commencement Week.
Many hours of work go into practice for the specialized groups within the Montana State University's School of Music. Although the School of Music and its counterparts are often taken with no word of thanks, the entire University would be lost without its versatile groups.

Art displays and sales were set up in the Lodge, Library lobby, and the Fine Arts Lobby by the painters and sculptors of the Art Department. The Art Department also brought many traveling art shows and displays to campus again this year.

UNIVERSITY MUSEUM

A unique section of the University which seldom receives a word of mention is the University Museum. Its fine collection is on display in the Fine Arts building and is open to the public. The museum has collectors items from around the world which are donated by faculty members, friends and other interested people.

Dr. Robert Turner, director of the University Museum, explains a tapestry received as part of the Hammen Collection.
Helena Symphony Society President "... not only was the choreography artistic and imaginative, but the enthusiasm and skill of the performers made a truly finished production."

Paul A. Grieder, head of the Department of English at MSC said—"... It was a Beautifully done performance in a most difficult cut medium, and the university is to be congratulated on the quality of its ballet school under the direction of Marnie Cooper."

"An evening of truly wonderful entertainment," says Bruce Jacobsen, Commissioner of Dramatics at MSC.

Joseph Fitch, Director of Theatre, MSC... "you have succeeded in developing believable and honestly motivated performances..."

Kaimin: "U Ballet Theatre Audience has Thrilling, Unusual Experience..."
"An Evening of Ballet"
In seven years the ballet department, under the direction of Marnie Cooper, has to its credit fifty ballets, ranging from the classic traditional to modern ballet, opera, musical comedy and the creative modern dance. Ballet Theatre not being solely a device for public performance, but equally an educational department, has trained students from basic to advance technique. The addition of the Children's Ballet Theatre widened the scope educationally, giving University students an opportunity to work with, instruct, and create in this medium. Infused with a remarkable "esprit de corps" due in part to the high standards of performance, Ballet Theatre grew from modest beginnings to a company of state wide acclaim.
STUDENT-FACULTY

Campus Development committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Earl Lory, worked with Traditions Board this year to locate new places to establish Hello Walk and the Arbor Day Monument.

The Library Committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Ludvig Browman, represents the students and faculty in advising with the librarians in terms of faculty and student library needs and problems.

Student Union Committee strives to provide various types of entertainment for the students and faculty. They sponsor the movie program, beach parties, a popcorn dance, bowling tournaments, and ping-pong among other activities.
COMMITTEES

Social Standards Committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Gordon Browder, is an advisory committee to the deans on social regulations.

The Foreign Student Committee, with Dr. Vedder Gilbert as chairman, acts as a policy board for advising our foreign students in non-academic subjects and providing hospitality for them.

Commencement Committee, of which Professor O. J. Bue is chairman, plans the schedule for Commencement Week, June 3-5.

Central Board, the governing body of the Associated Students of Montana State University, supervises and co-ordinates activities of the campus. It is composed of elected representatives from each class, ASMSU officers, and faculty representatives. Their main concern this year is streamlining the structure of the committee system to make it as efficient as possible. They are also concerned with providing as good a program as possible for the students, including lecture and film series and art exhibits. The ability or inability to get big-name entertainment on campus is an ever-present problem.

This governing body is a training ground for democracy, giving the students a close-up, realistic view of what a legislative body is like. It prepares the participating students for political activity in later life.
President Paul Ulrich was always willing to discuss the functions of Central Board with interested students. His main object was to keep and build student control of student money. Paul hails from Butte and is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity. He was one of two Montanans who were semi-finalists for Rhodes Scholar.

ASMSU OFFICERS

Vice President John Datsopoulos, Missoula, closely co-ordinated all the ASMSU committees, and took over the gavel in any absence of the President. He is a member of Sigma Nu social fraternity.

During Fall Quarter, Business Manager Virgil Bon, known as Pizza, maintained a close watch over student money as chairman of Budget and Finance Committee. Because of studies he resigned winter quarter. He is a member of Theta Chi and comes from Ashland, Ohio.

Secretary Diane Mossey of Denton faithfully took the minutes of Central Board meetings and distributed them over the campus. She also kept the files in good shape. Diane is a member of Delta Delta Delta social sorority.

John Ulvila, former Junior Central Board delegate, was elected Business Manager to fill the vacancy left by Bon during winter quarter. John is from Red Lodge and is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity.
J-COUNCIL

Under the able leadership of Brad Dugdale, Judicial Council, the controversial student guardian of the University liquor rules, placed some students on scholastic or social probation and dismissed other charges after carefully considering their cases.

STORE BOARD

Store Board consists of five students who are elected by the entire student body, and five faculty members chosen by the University President. They control the student Book Store which is located upstairs in the Lodge.

The store was begun by a group of students in 1919 and was incorporated from 1921 to 1956. This year the Board worked on reincorporating the store.

Morris McCullom has worked as manager of the store since 1925.

BUDGET AND FINANCE

Budget and Finance Committee prepared the proposed budget of ASMSU for the 1961-62 year and supervised expenditures from the 1960-61 budget. The ASMSU Business Manager presides over the group.

LEADERSHIP CAMP

Leadership Camp, under the chairmanship of Harold Gilkey, met April 28, 29 and 30 at Flathead Lake Lodge outside Bigfork, Montana, to discuss "The 60's at MSU." Delegates from each living group, Central Board, alumni and faculty considered student problems for 1960, '61, and '62.

Activities Board is composed of the chairmen of the activity committees and serves to co-ordinate and supervise the working of the sub-groups. Bob Morgenstern assumed the chairmanship of the group during winter quarter upon the resignation of Barbara Wheeler.

ARTS AND CRAFTS

Arts and Crafts Committee arranged to provide outstanding art exhibits at MSU. Upon the resignation of Dennis Lahr during winter quarter, Central Board appointed Juliette Deschamps as chairman of the group.

VISITING LECTURERS

Visiting Lecturers Committee arranged to bring distinguished speakers such as Vance Packard, Dr. Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., Dr. Alan Watts, and Senator Mike Mansfield to the campus this year. The group also planned the Charter Day Convocation.

Special Events Committee spent a busy year planning ASMSU dances and striving to obtain big-name entertainment such as The Four Freshmen for MSU students. Linda Porter was named chairman during winter quarter to replace Bob Morgenstern.

GAMES

Games Committee sponsored bridge lessons, bowling parties and tournaments, and ping-pong for University students and faculty among their activities this year.

MOVIES

Under the chairmanship of Jack Mueller, Movies Committee sponsored quality American and foreign films for MSU students.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

Jerry Agen was chairman of Public Relations Committee which consists of these subordinate committees: Campus Visitations, Hometown News, Radio-TV, Travel Co-ordination, Secretarial Committee, and Movies Presentation. Their purpose is to inform Montana citizens of the goals, traditions, and accomplishments of MSU. Sue Cadwell undertook the duties of chairman winter quarter.

CAMPUS VISITATIONS

Campus Visitations Committee, of which Dave Browman was chairman, planned and directed all programs for campus visitors.

Seated: Dorothy Keener, Beverly Boorman, Gail Shile.

HOMETOWN NEWS

Hometown News Committee, under the chairmanship of Jeff Lenci, submitted stories of MSU News Service concerning the activities of students and also recommended coverage previous to campus events.

TRAVEL CO-ORDINATION

Travel Co-ordination Committee arranged for publicity and proper distribution of touring groups throughout the state. It also prepared the budget for the following year. Chris Cheetham was chairman.

SECRETARIAL COMMITTEE

Secretarial Committee aided the director of the Public Relations Committee. It made a survey of the opinion of high schools throughout the state concerning University programs, and it also sponsored Parents' Day which was held February 25, 1961. Sue Cadwell was chairman of this committee.

MOVIE PRESENTATIONS

Movies Presentation Committee worked to produce a movie of student campus life and activities to show to alumni and prospective MSU Students. Marti Davis assumed chairmanship of this committee winter quarter.

Seated: Marianne Whelan, Barbara Young, Lynn Eyer, Marti Davis, Char Warren, Carol Hilliard, Mavis Tremblay, Sandy Rounds.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming Committee organized and supervised homecoming program and queen elections for 1960 under the co-chairmanship of Jack Griffith and Marlys Nelson.

Seated: Marlys Nelson, Sally Shiner.

WUS

World University Service Committee, under the leadership of Marcia Holmes, helped supply material assistance to staff and students throughout the world in fields of student lodging and living, health and individual and emergency aid, including refugee services.

ELECTION COMMITTEE

Elections Committee supervised all ASMSU elections and encouraged qualified students to run for offices. Ed Whitelaw was chairman.

DEBATE AND ORATORY

Debate and Oratory Committee of which Charles Vick was chairman encouraged student participation in debate and oratory. They arranged intercollegiate schedules, organized intramural debate and oratorical contest, and recommended those eligible for debate and oratory awards to Central Board.

PLANNING BOARD

Planning Committee, under the chairmanship of Jim Johnson, made suggestions for revisions in the Constitution and planned in general what would be better for ASMSU.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Intramural Sports Board, under the chairmanship of Jerry Robbins, had control over intramural sports schedules, rules for eligibility for intramural competition, and general supervision over all intramural athletics.

PUBLICITY

Publicity Committee with chairman Helen Dwelle publicized campus functions and activities upon the request of other committees.

Left side; front to back: Helen Dwelle, Pat Schmitt, Genevieve Schneider, Delores Leuthold, Glenna Nelson, Douglas Grimm.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

International Students Committee arranged events and activities of interest to the international students on the campus and stimulated better relations among the foreign students, the University, and the State of Montana. Carol Cooper was the chairman of this committee.

Traditions Board supervised MSU traditions such as rallies, SOS (singing-on-the-steps), painting the "M," and student demonstrations at athletic contests. It also chose the pompon girls and cheerleaders for the year. It was under the chairmanship of Jack Griffith after the original chairman, Dennis Adams, resigned.

POMPON GIRLS
Kneeling: Helen Ferrlan, Nancy Hirst, Susan Frizelle.

CHEERLEADERS
Publications Board, under the chairmanship of Frank Walsh, controls the student publications Kaimin, Sentinel, Venture, and "M" Book. They interview applicants and present recommendations to Central Board for the key positions on these staffs. Editors, business managers and advisers of the student publications are ex-officio members of the board.

"M" Book Committee has general supervision over the publication and distribution of M Book. This book, which contains dress hints, school song lyrics, and information concerning student government and publications, Greek organizations, activities, and school traditions, was a most helpful guide for freshmen.

Editor Rolf Olsen often wrote controversial editorials concerning campus problems and state and national issues.

For members of the Kaimin staff, life was one constant deadline. The staff was busy continuously—fulfilling assignments, proofreading, composing, and rewriting articles to appear in next day's edition. Published daily, Tuesday through Friday, the paper covered campus events as well as state and national news.

Zena Beth McGlashan worked hard as business manager to please the advertisers and others with whom she was in contact.
The staff is always reviewing, writing, or proofing articles to appear in the next day's issue.

Penny Wagner, News Editor, was startled by the camera flash while assigning reporters beats. Penny also worked in the same capacity as the associate editors.

Gaylord Guenin as Sports Editor covered all the Grizzly sports action and intramural sports.
At the regular Tuesday staff meeting, this group discusses the articles to appear during the week.

Associate Editors Owen Ditchfield, Barbara Williams, and Marie Stephenson "manned" the copy desk. They wrote columns and editorials, were in charge of reporters and copy editors, and assisted and advised in staff policy.
Editor Gloria Eudaily spent many long hours co-ordinating the working of the Sentinel staff. Under her guidance, the staff worked frantically to meet deadlines and come up with acceptable ideas for layouts.

In a regular Wednesday morning meeting, staff members discussed technicalities with William Kenney of the Taylor Publishing Company.

Larry Juelfs, Sentinel Business manager, handled contracts and kept the budget within its limits during the year. He also initiated many new programs such as distributing old yearbooks and beginning a student file system.

By contracting with an out-of-state publisher, a larger and more colorful Sentinel was possible this year. Three more sections, more four-colored pictures and spot color were included in the expansion which was brought about with a substantial saving. It was also encouraging to note that many of this year’s staff will be returning to work on the 1962 Sentinel.

Working intently late one afternoon, the staff was startled by a photographer.

Sharon Blaszek

In charge of Royalty, Student Government, and Athletics, Sharon Blaszek, associate editor, spent many hours coordinating committees and photographers, with the assistance of Nancy Long, Bev Hughes, and Pat Serafine.

Jim Weiler

Jim Weiler, associate editor, supervised Living Groups, Fine Arts and Activities sections. He was ably assisted by Bill Lucey during winter and spring quarters. Jim was chosen editor of the 1962 Sentinel.

Judy Rodgers

Taking over the position of associate editor in charge of class sections and administration, Judy Rodgers filled the vacancy left by Sue Greenfield.

Cyrile Van Duser

Cyrile Van Duser, adviser to the staff, was always ready with advice and encouragement, in addition to heading the Hometown News Service. Cyrile is also the official University Photographer and willingly spends many hours training Sentinel photographers and helping out when assignments are difficult.

Photography Editor, Whitey McGill, and his assistant, Dale Graff, spent a busy year taking pictures and printing them to the specifications of the associate editors. Many hours were spent waiting for scheduled groups that did not show up for their pictures. Whitey took over when Doug Paulson resigned as photographer at the first of the year. Then, Dale took over during spring quarter when Whitey resigned to concentrate on studies; Diane Boehler assumed the duties of assistant photographer.

Many other contributions were made to the University and University groups, during the past year. The 1961 Sentinel Staff has realized that, regardless of student budgetary allocations, the financial security of the book could not have existed on student support alone. This is a page of the merchants and professional men who have contributed to the yearbook and, therefore, to every University student. By supporting the yearbook, these firms have shown an interest in Montana State University and its student body which has earned our gratitude and a hearty "thank you."

Jim Polk was editor of Venture this year after working on the staff for the three previous years.

Christine "Tina" Bohlinger, who served as business manager, saw to it that the books were balanced.

Venture, which is printed once each quarter, is a literary magazine which offers campus writers a chance to view their work in print. This year it sponsored a contest for the best short story, essay and poem written by an MSU student. Faculty contributions caused some controversy on campus. John Schwartz was the faculty advisor.

FOOTBALL

The 1960 Grizzly football season was the most successful since the school became a member of the Skyline Conference in 1950. With only eighteen returning lettermen, Coach Ray Jenkins had to draw heavily from his sophomores. They didn't fail him, several turning in fine jobs and earning starting positions in the lineup. Montana State University won both the Homecoming and Grizzly-Bobcat games, rousing the lagging interest of the student body.

GRIZZLY HONORS:

Seniors John Gregor and John Matte were elected co-captains for the 1961 season.
Quarterback Bob O'Bilovich led the nation in pass defense, intercepting seven passes for a total of 68 yards.
After turning in three years as the Grizzlies' toughest guard, senior John Matte also entered into the pass interception column during the 1960 gridiron season. John was elected co-captain of the 1960 Grizzlies.

John Gregor, the mainstay at tackle, was coach Ray Jenkins' powerhouse in a perennially weak position. The pros expressed a definite interest in big John, who was also a co-captain of the 1960 Grizzlies.

Dale Berry, end, snagged enough passes to place him fifth among Grizzly pass receivers for the 1960 season.
Junior Paul Gustafson dumps the Vandal ball carrier during the Homecoming Game. The Grizzlies won over Idaho, 18-14.

Surprising sophomore, Ron Werba, gains yards against the Vandals in the 1960 Homecoming Game.

SENIORS

Starting center, Jim Johnson, finished his career with the Grizzlies by intercepting a pass in the end zone against Utah to rack up the only Grizzly score in the game.

End Howie Schwend snagged four passes for a total of 101 yards to end his Grizzly playing days.

Scrimmages and drills go together to make up spring football. The hours of practice culminate in an intersquad game during Interscholastic Weekend.
Grizzly gridiron coach Ray Jenkins enjoyed his finest season since joining the staff at MSU. Jenkins started out with a young ball club and his sophomores did not disappoint him. The line, a problem spot with the Grizzlies, was balanced with a powerful running backfield. Known as a good recruiter, Coach Jenkins can be counted on to keep the Grizzly football team supplied with tough and determined talent.

Hal Sherbeck, freshman football coach, finished his career with the Montana State University Grizzlies by turning over to Coach Jenkins twenty-five numeral winners. Sherbeck has accepted the position of head football coach at Fullerton Junior College, Fullerton, California. His influence in training Cubs has been felt by an ever-strengthening of Grizzly grid power.
Grizzly forward, Dan Sullivan, and an unidentified BYU Cougar wrestle in mid-air for possession of the elusive basketball. The Grizzlies lost the game, 72-64.

HONORS

The Dragstedt Award went to Grizzly guard Bob O'Billovich.
Coach Hal Sherbeck was pleased with the work done by his freshman squad. Three out-of-staters supplemented the Montanans and enabled Sherbeck to build two strong teams. The two squads played against each other in pre-game meets when the Grizzly varsity was at home. Keith Law and Hal Peterson, both from Kankakee, Illinois, led the Cubs in scoring.
Forrest B. Cox came to MSU six years ago. In the ensuing years, he has devoted himself to building a stronger Skyline cage team. Known for his drive, he has instilled determination in those who worked with him. "Frosty" has also done a top-notch job of recruiting.

Hal Sherbeck, former Montana athletic great, finished his career as frosh cage coach in order to accept the position of football coach at Fullerton Junior College. Before leaving, he turned over several prospects to brighten "Frosty" Cox's life.

Naseby Rhinehart's affable manner has made him one of the most popular men in the athletic department. His ability as a trainer is well known and he has endeared himself to MSU athletes in his 26 years here as a tape-and-injury man.
Top row: left to right: Ron Koble, Ray Ellis, Doug Jones, Glenn Jones, Ron Duncan.

SWIMMING TEAM

Although the swimming team lacked the depth to compete adequately in the conference, it did very well in dual meets, winning 40 and losing 6 in the past four years. The team also moved from seventh to third in the conference dual meets. Denver came out on top in the conference with Montana placing fourth.

INTRAMURALS

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity was the all Intramural Champion for the second year in a row.

Turner Hall received the traveling trophy for the living group which won the most events during the year.
Coach Hal Sherbeck completed his career at Montana State University this year, having accepted the position of head football coach at Fullerton Junior College in Fullerton, California.

When attending MSU as a student, Sherbeck was an outstanding player in football, basketball and baseball. Upon graduation he began his coaching career at Missoula County High School where he turned out four championship teams in four years.

In 1955 Sherbeck joined the MSU coaching staff where he has coached varsity baseball and freshman football and basketball.

H arold Sherbeck and George Dahlberg

COACHES

After 24 years at MSU, George Dahlberg, better known as "Jiggs," has resigned his position as Director of Athletics. He will now serve as an instructor in the Physical Education Department.

Dahlberg joined the staff of Montana State University in 1937 as head basketball coach. In 1955 he became the Director of Athletics.

A very faithful and enthusiastic supporter of collegiate athletics, Dahlberg has continued to be a hard-working promoter of the University.

The campus discussion group met every Friday at noon and discussed international and local problems. Carol Cooper served as Chairman and the Secretary-Treasurer's job was filled by Louise Johnson.

Phi Kappa Phi

Membership within Phi Kappa Phi is limited to persons in the top five percent of the junior class and the top 12 percent of the senior class. A few outstanding graduate students and faculty members may be included. The chapter each year awards a $100 scholarship to one of the 10 sophomores with the highest grade point average. It also publishes the Grizzly Guide. OFFICERS: President, Mrs. M. H. Ephron; Vice President, George McRae; and Sec./Treasurer, Dr. C. R. Jeppeson. Something new for the Alpha Phis this year were the weekly Monday evening talks by guest speakers from the university administration and faculty. The Alpha Phis kept busy with participation in the Heart Fund drive; representation on student committees and in campus activities; keeping up the normal "greek" social life; and of course—studies.
The Tri Deltas are kept busy taking part in all campus activities; sponsoring their own sorority functions, working for the Opportunity School of Missoula; and keeping study hours. Each spring the Delta Delta Deltas offer a campus-wide scholarship to one of the women students. Sleepless nights occur for the Tri Deltas each and every time the Phi Deltas have a "Hell Week."

The Thetas returned to school fall quarter to find their home at 1020 Gerald newly interior decorated. The "KAT's" continued to occupy many of the positions in campus activities and furnished the campus with more than its share of queens.

Contributions are given by the Thetas to the Institute of Logopedics at Wichita, Kansas.

Besides participating in activities and working for top grades, the Kappa Alpha Thetas find time to sponsor social functions such as their semiformal with the Kappa Kappa Gammas during fall quarter.

Delta Xi chapter of Alpha Tau Omega was founded in 1923. In 1942 the chapter was deactivated as all members joined the Armed Services and in 1947 it was reactivated.

Besides small functions, three major social events are sponsored by the ATO’s. Fall quarter the chapter house is turned into an old-time gambling casino for the “Gay-Ninety Party,” Winter quarter the formal “Esquire Ball,” and Spring quarter is the spring weekend at Seeley Lake.

Delta Theta Chapter of Delta Sigma Phi, the youngest fraternity at MSU, received its charter May 26, 1957.

Along with the usual firesides, exchanges and informal gatherings, the Delta Sigs have three main social functions. Fall quarter they instituted their first “Playboy Party,” choosing Stephanie Pedersen as their “Playmate.” Winter quarter the Delta Sig Dream Girl, Gail Saterlie, was crowned at the annual Carnation Ball. In the spring Delta Sigs and their dates romped in the woods at Seeley Lake for the Sailor’s Ball.

Phi Sigs entertain a sorority at an exchange.
In 1904 a local fraternity was founded at MSU. Helped by Professor Scheusch, it later "went national" and became known as Beta Delta of Sigma Chi. Prior to moving into the present home at 1110 Gerald, Sigma Chi lived in what are now the Sigma Phi Epsilon and Theta Chi houses in that order. The year started with a bang with the annual Derby Day, a form of track and field events for new sorority pledges. The Halloween Party and the French Party were the major events of fall quarter. On the last Sunday of Autumn quarter Sigma Chi held its annual Christmas Kiddie Party for over a hundred underprivileged children. The year was highlighted when the Jolly Sigs sang the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi song to Miss Susie Frizelle at the annual Sweetheart Ball.

Sigma Nu

Gamma Phi Chapter of Sigma Nu is the oldest national fraternity on the campus of Montana State University. Since it was installed in 1905, over one thousand men have been chosen to experience the activities and associations of Gamma Phi.

Socially, Sigma Nu is held in high regard for its Barn Dance of fall quarter, the Pledge function during the winter, and the formal Piggee Dinner of spring quarter. The social calendar is supplemented by numerous firesides, treehangings and the "White Star" serenades, along with many impromptu innovations, such as the "Chicken Hop," the spring raft trip down the Blackfoot river and swimming, skating and toboggan parties.

Sigma Phi Epsilon, the "Fraternity with a Heart," was established on the Montana State University campus in 1918. It is the third oldest fraternity on the campus and has graduated 500 brothers since its founding.

Having the only full-time fraternity house mother on campus helped social life greatly. The brothers spent many weekend nights dancing and visiting with their dates in the house. The major functions were the fall quarter Queen of Hearts Ball and the winter quarter Swamp Stomp. It was an active year at the house with the red door.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Montana Beta chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon was chartered on February 12, 1927. The SAE's then lived at 541 Eddy, but they moved to 1120 Gerald, their present home, four years later.

Although proud of their reputation on campus as "the singing fraternity," the Sig Alphas did not confine themselves to serenading sorority houses. They topped all fraternities in scholarship, and were winners of the Greek intramural athletic trophy. The fall and winter of 1960-61 showed that the SAE's were picking up where they left off the previous school term. The Sig Alphas again led fraternity row in scholarship for fall quarter, and waltzed home with the first-place trophy in fraternity basketball, during the winter.

Synadelphic provides an economical place for girls to live and also develops cooperation between the girls living and working together.

The girls maintain a grade average usually above all other living groups. They sponsor functions each quarter and participate in university activities.

This women's co-op began in 1942 in connection with the School of Religion. In 1947 it became a regular living group. Mrs. Galt has been housemother since 1950.

Synadelphic

Elrod men are usually in the top rank scholastically, but life at Elrod is never dull. Wing parties, impromptu gatherings, and organized functions, including a dinner dance, help the men relax. Telephones are handy and forever busy.

Mrs. Berry served again as "our mother away from home," for the Elrod fellows.

OFFICERS COUNCIL
President is Carl Cain; secretary, Bill Davis; social chairman, Mark Vadheim; and athletic chairman, Rudy Reimold.

Elrod Hall
Turner Hall means home to the main body of upperclass non-affiliated MSU women. These girls maintain a busy social life by many organized teas, firesides, and functions such as the fall Barn Dance and winter formal.

The independents of Turner hold their share of campus offices and usually score high in women's intramural sports.

At least once a year the Turner Hall gals find time to steal Bertha, the Foresters' traditional sweetheart,—usually just before the annual Foresters' Ball.

Two Turner Hall girls escape to their room for a quiet evening of studying.

Traditional fall function for the freshman Triangle is the Peppermint Prince Ball. Peppermint Prince Rene Austin, 1960-61, and his date Margot Latimer lead the grand march after the crowning.

BRANTLY HALL

Brantly Hall is the headquarters of the three-dorm freshman women's Triangle and receives the rush at closing hours. This year Brantly teamed up with Phi Sigma Kappa to win First place in the Homecoming Float contest.
Windy Wilson was Social Chairman of Brantly hall and Beverly Boorman was President of the hall.

The Triangle is made up of the three Freshman Dorms and function jointly for the Peppermint Prince Ball, the South Seas Party Spring Quarter, sing for the Newman Song Fest and sponsor the annual Spring Tea.

Seated: Diane Mossey, Judy Thomas, Marva Kirby, Louise Johnson, Karel Lorenzen, Myrna Eyerly.
Standing: Jordis Erickson, Sharon Dodge, Penny Loucas (Head Junior Sponsor), Ellen Parker, and Judy Davison.

Junior Sponsors live in the freshman women's dorm to help curb homesickness, provide needed advice and a shoulder for crying purposes.
North Corbin is the hall which links the dorm system together and is the youngest of the three. North Corbin won fame this year by placing first in the W.R.A. swimming competition and also the intramural basketball meet.
Informal gab session in the lounge includes: Ann Wolhowe, Judi Rice, Pat Andersbn, Mary McCarthy, Ann Minter and Carla Chander. Gathered around the piano are Mary Leigh, Karen Larson, Patti O’Niel and Tinsley Palmer.

Corbin Hall is home for another third of the freshman women, who participated in the Triangle activities, joined in W.R.A. sports, and provided a Christmas serenade for the men on campus. Corbin, along with her sister halls, received its share of pinnings and serenades.

Corbin officers were Mary O’Conner, President, and Alice MacDonald, Social Chairman.

THANKS ...

Well, the year has passed swiftly and once again it is time for the editor to say good-by and to express her appreciation to all those who have contributed to the success of the book.

First, my thanks to all the staff members who spent so much time and energy on weekends, evenings and vacations working on the various sections of the book . . .

To Sharon Blaszek and her assistants, Bev Hughes, Nancy Long, and Pat Serafine, for the Royalty, Athletics, and Student Government sections.

To Jim Weiler and his assistant, Bill Lucey, for the Organizations, Living Groups, and Fine Arts sections. Special thanks to Jim for finishing the Index.

To Judy Rodgers, Mary Ellen Cawley, and Sue Greenfield for the Undergraduates section.

To Larry Jueifs for handling the finances.

It has been said that a yearbook is only as good as its pictures. Thus, a good deal of credit for the success of the 1961 Sentinel goes to our Sentinel photographers, Doug Paulson, Whitey McGill, Diane Boehler, and especially to Dale Graff. Our thanks also to the Haugen-McKay Co., Catlin's Studio, Lee Nye, the Stanley Color Lab, Cyrile VanDuser, the News Service, the Montana Kaimen and all the individuals who contributed pictures to the book.

Of course, the staff members of the 1961 Sentinel could not have completed their work in the short time allowed if it hadn't been for the help and support of the following people . . .

Troy F. Crowder, Assistant to the President, who served as consultant on bids and contracts.

Cyrile VanDuser, who was our adviser, staunch supporter and photographer when necessary.

William "Bill" Kenney, who served as the liaison man between the Sentinel and the Taylor Publishing Company through his many long-distance calls and personal visits.

Walter Hook, chairman of the Art Department, who generously gave of his time and advice in choosing colors for the cover.

Marshall Holmberg, who did the art work for the cover and title page.

Doug Baldwin, who did the line drawings that appear in the Living Groups section.

Robert Catlin, who came so often to take the individual student pictures and who also took the picture of President Newburn that appears on page 50.

Again I say "Thanks" to all of you. The 1961 Sentinel could never have gone to press without your help.
