Public Comment

*Alex Rosenleaf apologized for missing the interview committee meeting due to a conflict. He expressed hope that Senate would oppose SB43, as he believes the matter needs to be clarified for the future. He also commented on Flint's letter in the Kaimin about election expenses.

*John Fletcher informed Senate about a lecture on high protein diets to be held February 17 at 6:30 p.m. in GBB123.

The Chair recognized the presence of Rafferty.

*Senator Eben Reckord read the following statement (with minor grammatical/structural changes) to Senate on respect and teamwork, hoping for a change of attitude:

I would like us all to take pause to consider our intentions this evening. Will we act in the name of the students that we have sworn to serve, or will we act in the name of ourselves? I encourage us all to take pride in the words we speak, but over the course of my term I have heard things that no one should be proud of. We are doing our job on paper but have forgotten one thing, the most important thing, respect. Personal agendas are to be expected; differing beliefs are almost guaranteed; but listen to be heard. Listen to what the other person is saying, and if you have questions, ask them to clarify and not to make your point. And, if you must question their ideology, do so without attacking their character. We are all developing minds. Let us help one another to grow from our misunderstandings rather than aid in this war of attrition we find ourselves fighting amongst one another.

There are no guidelines that state that any of us have to get along. But I would encourage all of you to keep in mind that yes, sticks and stones may very well break bones, but words can break a spirit, and a broken spirit has the potential to never heal. Let us lift one another up with our compassion and intelligence while allowing our differences to be respected. Let us stop speaking from positions and express ideas as interests and look for common ground using instead our words, not arrogance, to find the solutions to the issues we discuss. We all have to work together to function as a group, or we will simply break down. And I will stand by anyone that has the patience to disagree yet continue to listen to find common ground. Now tonight we have an opportunity to start over, as we are a new group.

Tonight there sit four new senators among us. And let tonight be the beginning of a new attitude in the senate. An attitude of understanding. An attitude of working together toward a common goal. An attitude where the spectrum of partisanship is an idea that is understood by all, but that is also realized has no place in this room.

When 25 people applied for the open senate seats I shook my head in disbelief, because I knew that almost all of them had no idea about what they were getting themselves into. Let us bring some honor back to this hall. Let us live up to the expectations of those 21 senators that will not sit at this table. And to all the students of the University, we owe it to them to shape up because there is an entire senate that can be found outside those doors that were ready to make that promise - to rise above party differences and petty grievances. And it is time to start tonight.

The meeting adjourned at 10:57 p.m.

Resolution requesting the Montana Associated Students (MAS) withdraw from lawsuit with The State of Montana.

Whereas, the resolution passed by last year’s senate of The Associated Students of The University of Montana (ASUM) requested a legal opinion, rather than a lawsuit;

Whereas, the MAS lawsuit resulting from the previous senate’s action includes defendants not mentioned in the original ASUM resolution;

Whereas, the lawsuit now mentions each member of the 58th Legislative Assembly of the Montana State Senate;

Whereas, oral arguments in this case have not even started;

Whereas, the term of the disputed nomination is set to expire in June of 2004;

Whereas, the 2002-2003 MAS leadership was consulted by the Governor’s office;

Whereas, Section 2-15-1508 of the Montana Code Annotated allows the Governor of Montana to appoint the student of her choice;

Whereas, according to the law, “the length of the term of the student member is determined by the Governor and must be for not less than one year and not more than four years;”

Whereas, the law clearly puts discretion in the hands of the Governor;

Whereas, if students desire a formal consultation process, lasting many months, they should seek a legislative clarification;

Whereas, taking the State of Montana to court severely undermines the credibility of student governments around the state;

Whereas, a more important case MAS could have joined was AP vs. Crofts;

Therefore let it be resolved that The Associated Students of The University of Montana requests the Montana Associated Students to formally withdraw from the lawsuit:

Montana Associated Students vs. The State of Montana, Judy Martz as Governor of the State of Montana, All Members of the Senate of the 58th Legislative Assembly of Montana, and Bob Brown as Secretary of State of The State of Montana.

Let it further be resolved that ASUM supports legislative clarification to the Montana Code Annotated dealing with the selection of the Student Regent that strengthens the consultation process.
