Gordon B. Castle, acting president of Montana State University, and Ray Jenkins, head football coach, will be principal speakers at the annual spring meeting of the MSU Alumni Association executive committee, scheduled to be held at Miles City June 20 and 21. According to Robert Pantzer, acting secretary of the association, the agenda will contain several matters of importance to the future welfare of the University.

Opening event will be a luncheon for officers, delegates and alumni from the Miles City area. This will be followed by an executive session lasting throughout the afternoon under the chairmanship of Dr. Robert Stansberry, of Missoula, president of the association. A social hour and dinner have been called for 6:30 p.m. at the Cross Roads Inn. Following dinner, James P. Lucas of Miles City will act as toastmaster for the evening program featuring the guest speakers.

Wives of delegates and visiting alumni will be entertained during the afternoon at a bridge and splash party at the Miles City Country Club. Remaining business of the executive committee will be transacted at a session on Sunday morning, June 21. Local arrangements for the annual meeting are in charge of Herbert Abel, district delegate at Miles City.
