FOR RELEASE SATURDAY, AUGUST 6

Montana State University President H. K. Newburn has announced the appointment of four instructors in the College of Arts and Sciences. Albert C. Heinrich will teach anthropology and primitive linguistics; Robert D. Wheeler, economics; Axel E. Hansen, geography, and Roland J. Keefer, physics.

For the past three years Heinrich has been an instructor in anthropology at the University of Washington, where he has completed the course work for the Ph. D. degree. He has served on the advisory board of the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, Territory of Alaska, held teaching and administrative posts in the Alaska Bureau of Indian Affairs and been an instructor at the University of Alaska, where he earned an M. Ed. degree in 1955. He took his bachelor's degree at the New School for Social Research. He has done field research in Alaska and published articles in professional journals.

Wheeler is a graduate of Washington State University and has spent the past three years as a graduate assistant at Northwestern University. From 1955 to 57 he was senior underwriter at the Boise, Idaho, service office of General Insurance Co. of America.

Hansen has been a geographer for the Office of the Quartermaster General, Washington, D. C., and has taught at Iowa State Teachers College, Wisconsin State College and Henderson State Teachers College, Arkansas. He holds a bachelor's degree and a master's degree from the University of Wisconsin and is a candidate for the Ph. D. at the State University of Iowa.

Keefer, who received a master's degree in physics from the University of Arizona this year, has done research for the U. S. Naval Radiological Defense Laboratory. He is a native of Billings and a 1957 graduate of MSU.
