Cram course offered for candidates for the certified public accountants examination

University of Montana--Missoula. Office of University Relations

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.umt.edu/newsreleases
Let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation
https://scholarworks.umt.edu/newsreleases/964

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the University Relations at ScholarWorks at University of Montana. It has been accepted for inclusion in University of Montana News Releases, 1928, 1956-present by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at University of Montana. For more information, please contact scholarworks@mso.umt.edu.
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

A cram course for candidates for the certified public accountants examinations will be offered by the Montana State University School of Business Administration Aug. 7 to Aug. 19, Dean Paul B. Blomgren announced.

Dr. Jack J. Kempner and Dr. Dorsey E. Wiseman of the MSU accounting staff, both CPAs, will be the instructors for the highly concentrated two-week review.

About 70 per cent of the persons who took the coaching course the first three years it was given passed the examinations and are now CPAs, the dean noted. The course, which has been given the past five summers, is sponsored by the Montana Society of Certified Public Accountants to encourage public accountants to sit for the national CPA examinations and become fully qualified members of the profession.

Registration for the 1961 session is still open, Dean Blomgren said. Inquiries about the course should be directed to Dr. Jack J. Kempner, Montana State University, Missoula.

###