FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Dr. Anna Y. Martin, visiting professor of psychology at Montana State University, has been awarded a Fulbright grant for a year's work in Formosa (Taiwan), MSU officials announced.

Dr. Martin will train a graduate group in clinical psychology at the National University of Taiwan and will work with students in clinical testing at Provincial University. In addition, she will be consultant to the Mental Health Clinic for Children at the largest hospital in Taipei, capital of Taiwan.

After completing her assignment as visiting professor of clinical psychology in the MSU summer session, Dr. Martin will go to Washington, D. C., for a week of pre-departure orientation. She will leave for Taiwan around Sept. 1. Enroute she will stop in Tokyo, where she will be met by a former student, Hideo Kimura, a 1960 graduate of MSU.

Dr. Martin was visiting professor of psychology at MSU during the 1959-60 school year. She spent last year in Florence, Ala., teaching part-time at Florence State University and serving as clinical psychologist with the Muscle Shoals Mental Health Center.

Dr. Martin headed the Department of Psychology at New Mexico Highland University for more than a decade. She is a fellow of the American Psychological Association and has served on committees of the International Congress of Women Psychologists. She is past president of the Rocky Mountain Region of the APA and of Psi Chi, national honor society in psychology.
