Prerequisite: ECNS 488, senior standing and economics major.

Description and Objectives: This course is designed to assist and monitor your progress on your senior thesis and to provide you an opportunity to present your research findings.

Learning Outcomes:
1) Find, evaluate, analyze and synthesize information effectively from diverse sources;
2) Manage multiple perspectives as appropriate;
3) Recognize and adopt the academic voice of economists;
4) Use multiple drafts, revisions and editing in conducting inquiry and preparing written work;
5) Follow conventions of citation, documentation and formal presentation appropriate to economics;

Assessment: I will assess these learning outcomes based upon your demonstration of those outcomes on homework, your senior thesis presentation and your senior thesis.

Grading: The weights for the course grade are:

Policies and Notes:
1. If my office hours conflict with your schedule, see me for an appointment or try to catch me in my office by chance.
2. Late homework, drafts and presentations cause particular difficulties and will be penalized based upon the degree of extra work they entail for me or other faculty. In the case of illness, please contact me before the assignment.
3. I do not take attendance in this course, but if you miss class you are responsible for the assignments given in class that day.
4. This course is accessible to and usable by otherwise qualified students with disabilities. To request reasonable program modifications, please consult with the instructor. Disability Services for Students will assist the instructor and student in the modification process. For more information, visit the Disability Services website at http://www.umt.edu/disability.
5. Academic dishonesty will result in a score of zero for the assignment in question. Plagiarism is one form of academic dishonesty. All students must practice academic honesty. Academic misconduct is subject to an academic penalty by the course instructor and/or a disciplinary sanction by the University. All students need to be familiar with the Student Conduct Code. The Code is available for review online at:
