FOR RELEASE TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 12

The Office of Naval Research has awarded a three-year contract for $1,633,000 to support research by Dr. Clyde E. Noble of the Montana State University Psychology Department, MSU officials said.

The grant for continued support of Dr. Noble's research in human learning is part of the program of the Personnel and Training Branch of the ONR. The investigations deal with laboratory studies of the relationship between individual differences and learning variables in the field of verbal behavior.

Dr. Noble's chief assistants on the project are Blaine L. Baker, Charles H. Koski and Richard K. Smith, graduate psychology students from Missoula.
