FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Dr. Arnold Bolle, dean of the Montana State University School of Forestry, has been asked to participate in the White House Conference of National Beauty to be held at the State Department in Washington on May 24 and 25. Dr. Bolle expects to leave Missoula Sunday May 23, returning on the 27th. He will participate in various panel discussions.

The conference will be opened by Mrs. Lyndon Johnson. Panels are expected to discuss every phase of the national beautification problem and to develop plans for the first major action in the program. Dr. Bolle's principal interest will be in the programs relating to saving the forests and the soil.

A meeting with members of the Cabinet and a White House reception are features of the conference, Bolle said.
