LSAT dates

University of Montana--Missoula. Office of University Relations

Follow this and additional works at: http://scholarworks.umt.edu/newsreleases

Recommended Citation

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the University Relations at ScholarWorks at University of Montana. It has been accepted for inclusion in University of Montana News Releases by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at University of Montana. For more information, please contact scholarworks@mail.lib.umt.edu.
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Missoula--The Law School Admission Test, required of candidates for admission to the University of Montana School of Law, will be given at the school Feb. 12, April 9, and Aug. 6, according to Dean Robert E. Sullivan.

The test administered by Educational Testing Service will be given simultaneously in more than 100 other testing centers throughout the nation. It is required for admission to most American law schools, and was taken last year by more than 35,000 candidates whose scores were sent to over 100 law schools.

ETS advises candidates to make separate application to each law school of their choice, and to ascertain from each whether it requires the Law School Admission Test. Since many law schools select their freshmen classes in the spring preceding entrance, candidates for admission to next year's classes are advised to take the test by February.

The morning session of the Law School Admission Test measures the examinee's ability to use language and to think logically. The afternoon session includes measures of writing ability and general background.

Sample questions, registration information, and registration forms are included in a Bulletin of Information, which should be obtained in advance of a testing date from Law School Admission Test, Box 944, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N.J. 08540. Registration forms must reach ETS two weeks before the desired test administration date.