HIGH SCHOOL MUSIC
CAMP OPENS AT UM

The annual Montana High School Music Camp will open at the University of Montana Sunday (July 31) with over 200 students from seven states and Alberta signed up for the intensive two-week program in the arts, reports Dean Charles W. Bolen of the School of Fine Arts.

Originally started for high school musicians, the camp has expanded to include art, ballet and drama as well as music, according to William Manning, director. Each camper works with staff specialists in his major field of interest and also has an opportunity to take elective work in other areas, Manning said.

In addition to their classroom work, most registrants also participate in performing groups.

Camp programs and their respective directors are: Art - Richard Reinholtz, former art supervisor for the Great Falls public schools and newly appointed chairman of the UM Art Department; ballet - Dana Carter of the Dance Division of the UM Department of Health and Physical Education; drama - S. Joseph Nassif, visiting professor of drama and associate director of Masquer Summer Theater.

Orchestra - Donald Thulean, Musical Director of the Spokane Symphony Orchestra and the Spokane Junior Symphony; band - Thulean and James Eversole of the Jersey City State College faculty; chorus - Dr. Joseph A. Mussulman, director of UM choral organizations; piano workshop - Jerome Rappaport, concert pianist and member of the University of Arkansas faculty.
