Prof. Florence Reynolds of the University of Montana music faculty will present a cello recital Sunday (Oct. 16) at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall, according to Dean Charles W. Bolen of the School of fine Arts. She will be accompanied at the piano by Prof. Rudolph Wendt.

The program, open to the public without charge, consists of J. S. Bach's Suite VI in D Major, Joseph Haydn's Concerto in C Major, and Benjamin Britten's Sonata in C, Op. 65.

The manuscript of the 18th-century Haydn concerto was discovered in 1961, the same year that the Britten work was written. Both will receive their premiere Missoula performances Sunday.

The recitalist, a member of the UM faculty since 1953, is active as a music educator and festival adjudicator as well as a performing artist. She is first cellist with the Missoula Symphony Orchestra and a founding member of the Montana String Quartet. She holds three degrees, including a doctorate, from Eastman School of Music and has also studied at Juilliard School of Music.
