GRIZZLY SENIORS WILL FIGHT
LAST HOME BATTLE SATURDAY

The words fight, desire, and revenge are mild in expressing the feelings of the 11 Grizzlies who will make their final appearance on Dornblaser Field this Saturday.

It will be the 66th gridiron clash between the two arch rivals, which to date has produced 41 victories for Montana, while Montana State has won 18. There have been six ties over the 69 years of rivalry.

However, in the last 15 years the Bobcats have fought hard and have the edge over the 'Tips with eight wins. Montana has earned seven victories since the University joined the Skyline Conference in 1951.

Montana, growling mad over the recent trend, will be seeking revenge and wants to reverse the current three year winning streak of the Cats.

Besides, the Grizzlies wouldn't want to embarrass a lady. If they lose, the Montana State Associated Students president will have to collect the president's pants from Miss Lynn Marrow, ASUM vice president. She will fill in for ASUM president Tom Behan, who is in Oklahoma City for a student convention.

Two seniors, sidelined by injuries, will render vocal and spiritual assistance to the 'Tips in hopes of pulling the upset of the year.

Wayne Becker the 6'7" tackle from National City, Calif. was injured the first contest and hasn't played since. The 240 lb. draft choice of the San Diego Chargers is a sociology major and handled the kicking chores for Montana.

Roger Clemens, 21, filled an end slot for the Grizzlies until he suffered a shoulder separation in the Idaho State game. The 6'1", 220 lb. biological science major has earned letters the past two seasons for the 'Tips.
Grizzlies expecting to give their very best performance of the season in upsetting the high-riding Cats are,

Warren Hill, 22, from Billings who has earned the name "Old Reliable" because of his many talents in numerous positions on the gridiron. Hill, a 6', 185 lb. business major, is expected to again show the exceptional talents he has displayed the past three years as a top notch tailback. After graduation, plans have him headed for the Air Force!

Suit 36 Terry Bergren, 21, Darby, is 5'10", 175 pound, end majoring in history. He took all-conference last year and set a conference record of 21 pass receptions. Bergren plans to teach history after his Air Force hitch; has been out because of a hip injury.

No. 53 Ronald Aukamp, 21, Mt. Prospect, Ill., is a 6', 205 pound center, majoring in managing and marketing. Has two football letters and has lettered in baseball. He plans to continue his education in graduate school.

Suit 61 Dennis Meyer, 22, Helena, is an energetic, 5'9", 190 pound guard, majoring in pre-med. His quick aggressiveness has already earned him two Grizzly letters.

No. 64 Tony Costello, 24, Chula Vista, Calif., is a 6', 205 pound guard, aimed for a career in coaching and teaching history. He took fifth in the NCAA 191 pound wrestling class last year. Speedy on his offense, Tony is usually the first man into enemy territory on the kick-offs.

Suit 66 Jim Neilson, 22, Shelby, is a 6', 200 pound guard, majoring in physical therapy. An all-conference second string last year, Neilson plays a key role in the Grizzly defense, holds two football letters.

No. 68 Mike Smith, 21, Olympia, Wash., is a 6', 185 pound linebacker, majoring in physical education. He has blocked solidly and quickly and seen action both ways this year. Holds two gridiron letters.

No. 75 Dave Enger, 20, Deer Lodge, is 6'2", 220 pound tackle, majoring in business administration. He also has performed at center and already holds two football letters. He plans to go into teaching after his Army hitch.
