12-2-1966

Geologist will discuss computer study of geology

University of Montana–Missoula. Office of University Relations

Follow this and additional works at: http://scholarworks.umt.edu/newsreleases

Recommended Citation
http://scholarworks.umt.edu/newsreleases/2268

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the University Relations at ScholarWorks at University of Montana. It has been accepted for inclusion in University of Montana News Releases by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at University of Montana. For more information, please contact scholarworks@mail.lib.umt.edu.
GEOLOGIST WILL DISCUSS COMPUTER STUDY OF GEOLOGY

Ed L. Dillon of the Shell Oil Company will talk on "Modern Geology Requires Modern Technology" at the University of Montana, Monday (Dec. 5) at 8 p.m.

Dillon, coordinator of computer applications for Shell, will lecture before approximately 40 geological and university groups over the United States and Canada between Oct. 10 and

The lecture is presented by the American Association of Petroleum Geologists and the University's Department of Geology.
It will be held in Geology 107 and the interested public is invited.