HELENA LAW FIRM ESTABLISHES UM LAW SCHOLARSHIP

A $300 law scholarship has been established at the University of Montana Law School by the Helena firm of Loble, Picotte & Fredricks.

In presenting the scholarship, lawyer Henry Loble noted that all members of the firm are graduates of the University Law School and wish to be of assistance to deserving and worthy law students. He said the firm intends to make similar grants each year.

Robert E. Sullivan, Law School dean, said this and similar scholarships will enable students to continue law studies without extreme financial worries and without reducing the time devoted to academic matters.

Dean Sullivan pointed out this grant will be added to the scholarship program which is financed, in great part, by contributions from law firms and individual lawyers in Montana.
