INTERNATIONAL SONGSTRESS PET CLARK TO PERFORM AT UM HARRY ADAMS FIELD HOUSE APRIL 13.

Her American recording debut was "Downtown" but Petula Clark boasted European record sales of over 25 million by 1964 when her hits first were released in the U.S.

Today "Pet" is the most programmed international songstress in the world. And the big-voiced singer, who is bringing her talents to the University of Montana Adams Field House April 13, now has it all: Grammys for two years in a row, winner of the Cashbox Award for "Number One Vocalist of 1966," a million seller on albums and singles and one of the most in-demand campus and night club entertainers in the country.

A multi-linguist, in the past few years Pet has had number one hit records in most western European countries.

She was born Petula Sally Clark in Surrey, England and when still a young child, the B.B.C. introduced her to its network audience. Pet, as she had come to be known, soon became a network regular singing and reciting poems.

Several years later, she signed a film contract and since has appeared in over 25 films with such stars as the late Kay Kendall, Peter Ustinov and Alec Guiness.

Pet and her husband Claude Wolff, a French public relations executive, have merged careers for he has become her personal manager. They are the parents of Barbara Michele, 5, and Catherine Natalie, 3.

Tickets for her one-night appearance in Missoula are available for 4,031 and may be purchased at the UM Lodge desk for $3.50, $2.50 and $1.50.
