2010

+++

Peter Richards
People open to combing seem truly ventilated and closing their eyes it usually happens the fears combs have of people are barely real though often they evolve as fears and seem dependent on unhappy campaigns of punishment when a comb denied the rights of command gets held in a manner inconsistent with the wishing combs are just normal people in the atmosphere raking the air for air cannot say it gentle enough

The slope here is gradual and orange the living aspect a living vault still the salt of so many others made it confusing what happens at any moment what glare pulsing as spears through slots in the wood the horses on their coats I promise never to take one for myself folding her behind my cuirass all warmth all reflection and on my heart a great love for the book for it might change Julia into an island capable of holding as many ships as she can until she herself is the island’s freed ringlet of ships
The halls for the most part held grasses from way back and on the walls open fields without hedges thickest to the southeast and orchards so the intakes occur year round by strings of solitary observers all moving at a time the waterways arable and clean and yet that nightingale taste

The music onboard sickens at night this from me who can see music planting a skull along all the cow paths lining Helsinki the royal palms there draw water by first considering the forecast how much the others might drink then there's the washing all those newcomers most likely they won't ever find its one cathedral you enter by wetting your finger