MONTANA ACADEMY OF SCIENCES
MEETINGS APRIL 5-6 IN HELENA

MISSOULA---

The 28th annual meetings of the Montana Academy of Sciences will be held at Carroll College in Helena Friday and Saturday (April 5-6). The meetings will start with a banquet at 6 p.m. Friday.

An annual public lecture will be given at 8 p.m. in the amphitheater of O'Connell Hall at the College. Dr. Wilson Clark of Eastern Montana College, Billings, a leading authority on conservation and conservation education, will be guest speaker. He will discuss "Environmental Responsibility."

On Saturday, 80 scientists will present results of their research in sessions devoted to research reports. These reports vary from such topics as fossil insects and reproduction in the pronghorn "Antelope," in the biological sciences section, to a consideration of the casual delinquent, in the social sciences section.

Meeting with the Academy will be the Montana Psychological Association which will have papers presented to them by its members on results of their research.

Dr. Clifford V. Davis of Montana State University, Bozeman, is president of the Academy. Dr. Robert B. Ammons of the University of Montana, Missoula, is President of the Montana Psychological Association. The Academy has some 150 members in the colleges and universities in Montana as well as many others who are interested in its objectives of promoting science and science teaching.
