SWARTHOUT LANDS PAIR OF GRIDDER FROM TACOMA, WASH.'S CITY CHAMPS

MISSOULA---

Jim Weaver, 220-pound tackle, and Don Falk, 6-1, 185-pound split end and defensive back, both from Mt. Tahoma High School in Tacoma, Wash., will enroll at the University of Montana on football scholarships. Mt. Tahoma won the Tacoma League championship last fall.

Jack Swarthout, Grizzly coach and athletic director, made the announcement Friday.

Weaver, who was also a heavyweight wrestler in high school, is considered the best Tacoma prospect by the Grizzly staff. An all-city selection, he was also mentioned on the Washington all-state team.

Falk was also an all-city and all-state selection for Mt. Tahoma High. Swarthout tabbed him as an excellent receiver and an excellent prospect both offensively and defensively.

"We think Jim and Don are the best of the four or five Tacoma prospects we were after," Swarthout said. "We are extremely happy to know they're joining us this fall."
