ILLINOIS ADMINISTRATOR TO SPEAK AT HELENA CONFERENCE

MISSOULA---

John A. Kennedy, director of general services for the State of Illinois and a nationally noted authority on government information systems, will arrive in Helena Nov. 13 for a two-day conference with local, state and federal officials.

Kennedy will speak during the conference on Information Management Potential Analysis Control Systems (IMPACT), Nov. 14-15 in the State Capitol House Chambers. The conference is sponsored by the Bureau of Business and Economic Research and the Department of Planning and Economic Development of the University of Montana.

Kennedy is chairman of the Intergovernmental Task Force on Information Systems, which has published a report entitled "The Dynamics of Information Flow." The report makes recommendations to improve the flow of information within and between local, state and federal governments.

Among Kennedy's recent publications is an article in Public Automation entitled "Choreography in State Government," in which he evaluates the role of automation in state government.

Dr. Patricia Bragg Douglas, assistant professor of business administration at UM, said anyone interested in information services, automation in government or program budget planning is urged to attend the conference. Further information may be obtained through Dr. Douglas at the Bureau of Business and Economic Research at UM.
