RELATIONSHIP TO PROGRAM:

Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to correlate the knowledge and understanding necessary for patient care during the various phases of more complex major surgical procedures.
COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course is a study of major surgical procedures, following the patient through the pre-operative, intra-operative, and post-operative stages of surgery.

STUDENT PERFORMANCE OUTCOMES:

Upon completion of AHST 202, the student should be able to:

1. Describe major surgical procedures in relationship to the total physiological, pathological and anatomical aspects of surgical intervention.
2. Correlate the knowledge and understanding of surgical specialties through the presentation of the following categories that relate to specific surgical procedures.
   a. Typical patient history
   b. Significant findings on physical assessment
   c. Diagnostic studies
   d. Probable hospital course
   e. Preparation for surgery, including pre-medication
   f. Pathology/Specimen
   g. General surgical rationale/scheme to include:
      i. Pre-op diagnosis
      ii. Incision site
      iii. Surgical prep
      iv. Drapes
      v. Patient position
      vi. Anesthesia
      vii. Instrumentation
      viii. Sutures and needles
      ix. Intra-operative medications
      x. Packs and supplies necessary
      xi. Drains
      xii. Dressings
   h. Step by step surgical progression
   i. Potential surgical hazards and complications
   j. Early post-operative management
METHODS OF INSTRUCTION:

1. Guest lecture
2. Online Power Point Presentations
3. Workbook use from Surgical Technology Principles and Practice
4. Group discussions

ATTENDANCE POLICY:

Attendance is mandatory for exam time and any other meetings that are arranged with the clinical instructor. Prompt and regular attendance will be expected in order to meet student outcomes. Students are required to notify the instructor prior to scheduled time if unable to attend. Unit tests will be proctored by your clinical instructor.

Only an emergency situation will be acceptable for missing an exam. Under discretion of the instructor, a written excuse may be required for missing an exam. A make-up exam will have to be arranged with your clinical instructor. It must be taken the first day that you are able to be back. No make-up exams will be given after 5 days, and a 0% will be awarded for that exam.
OTHER POLICIES:

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a mature, professional manner at all times. All assignments are expected to be turned in on time. Assignments turned in late will receive a penalty on the Professionalism Grade. Other penalty is under the discretion of the instructor. Written work must be neat, legible, well organized, complete, and preferably typed.

Your course of instruction should be your highest priority.

Qualified students with disabilities will receive accommodations in this course if possible. Please speak to the instructor, and be prepared to provide a letter from your DSS Coordinator.

All students must practice academic honesty. Academic misconduct is subject to an academic penalty by the course instructor and/or disciplinary sanction by the University.

All students need to be familiar with the Student Conduct Code. The Code is available for review online at:
