FINAL SESSIONS
OF TAX-ESTATE
INSTITUTE ARE SAT.

MISSOULA--

Final sessions of the University of Montana School of Law's 1968 Institute on Taxation and Estate Planning are slated for Saturday morning at the Florence Motor Inn.

The two-day institute for lawyers, accountants, insurance underwriters and trust officers from throughout the state, is being held in the Bitterroot Room at the Florence.

Speakers and topics on the agenda for Saturday's segment of the program include Paul D. Miller, a Great Falls lawyer, "Corporate Redemptions: Sections 302, 303, 304 and 318," 10 a.m.; James W. Thompson, a Billings attorney, "Formation and Liquidation of Partnerships," 11:20 a.m., and D. Norman Wilson, a certified public accountant from Great Falls, "Recent Cases and Rulings," 11:50 a.m.

Friday's portion of the institute included David L. Johnson, a Billings attorney, "Taxation of Trust Income to Grantors and Others"; Harry A. Haines, a Missoula attorney, "Problems in the Formation of Corporations"; Alexander A. George a Missoula lawyer, "Subdivision of Real Estate"; S. Clark Pyfer, a certified public accountant from Helena, "Income and Deductions in Respect of a Decedent."

Also, Joseph G. Mudd and Robert Corontzos, Great Falls attorneys, "Federal Tax Liens and Their Removal" and "Allocation of the Purchase Price in a Bulk Sale of Assets."
