I like the army least of all,
At five thirty a.m. at reveille call.
FLIGHT D

AMELSBERG, OLIVER R.
Thompson, Iowa

AMOS, GEORGE D.
Sallisaw, Oklahoma

BLAKE, WILLIAM M.
Lawton, Oklahoma

BYRD, WALTER C. JR.
Dayton, Texas

BAZZY, JOSEPH C.
Detroit, Michigan

CARSON, JOHN T.
St. Joseph, Missouri

CRAIG, HUBY E.
Alexandria, Louisiana

Upside down on the rings in gym,
Round and round my head does swim.
It's one fourteen and not a bus in sight,
But I sure had a wonderful time last night.
FLIGHT D

HARRIS, DAMEN S.
Rolla, Missouri

JONES, ELDRIDGE J.
Arila, California

HUNT, JAMES A. JR.
Hantshorne, Oklahoma

HAUSER, CHARLES W.
Fargo, North Dakota

LAWS, CHESTER G.
Joplin, Missouri

HERMANSON, ROY T.
Waterville, Iowa

If my GI shoes aren't shined,
With several demerits I'll get fined.
These are the men of Sq. 1;
They work, they study, but still have fun.
FLIGHT D

PEDICONE, PIERINO P.
Chicago, Illinois

RUPORT, RAYMOND F.
Sacramento, California

RAKESTRAW, CHARLES I.
Lincoln, Nebraska

ROOT, RICHARD I.
Newport, Kentucky

Saucier, Richard A.
Easthampton, Connecticut

STARCHER, DONALD C.
Nallan, West Virginia

Russell, Joseph F.
Healdton, Oklahoma

Here I'm shown on the ramp, touring,
Because some of those gals were too alluring.
Here we dash madly up the steps of the Student Union
Each man hoping to be first in the barber’s chair.
FLIGHT E

ALLEN, TOMMY E.
Pawnee, Oklahoma

BOYER, HENRY A.
Crystal City, Missouri

BUCY, HOWARD L.
Tekamah, Nebraska

CLARK, ROBERT C.
Billorica, Massachusetts

BAWDEN, CLAYTON M.
St. Paul, Minnesota

ANDERSON, KENNETH B.
Sambertar, Minnesota

BOYER, HENRY A.
Crystal City, Missouri

AVELLINO, VINCENT J.
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

In front of class, our flight leader braces,
As toward the prof he constantly faces.
But in the rear of the room, way back;
Old "Snafu" busily hits the sack.
FLIGHT E

FAURE, GEORGE T. JR.
New Orleans, Louisiana

MANGAN, THOMAS D.
St. Paul, Minnesota

HARMALA, RALPH E.
Vancouver, Washington

FOX, LLOYD O.
Towner, Colorado

KIRWAN, JAMES J.
FLIGHT LIEUTENANT
St. Paul, Minnesota

McCLELLAND, JAMES F.
Victor, Iowa

FRAZER, HARRY G. JR.
Monroe, Louisiana

Here I bounced in a Piper J.3,
Soon, in a B-24 I'll fly over the sea.
It's fun to kiss a girl in lace;
But we'll guarantee this isn't the place.
FLIGHT E

RASMUSSEN, OSCAR A.
Pierce, Texas

SMITH, IRVIN G.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

RUMMEL, HARRY C.
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

SCHOENEMAN, LOUIS F.
Aplington, Iowa

SCHNEIDER, JOHN E.
Sebewaing, Michigan

SNYDER, JAMES E.
Lynn, Indiana

SMITH, DOUGLAS Y.
Sterling, Louisiana

WELL DISAPLINED MEN AREN'T THEY SIR?
FLIGHT E

SPENCER, DOYNE W.
Kansas City, Missouri

TEMPLETON, PERCY S.
Meriden, Connecticut

VEBER, HOYT K.
Kellogg, Iowa

WHITE, DEAN B.
St. Paul, Minnesota

"ANY QUESTIONS?"
Marching to parade formation on Sunday.

At ease before Sunday parade.

Squadron One, Tenchut!

Fans?

Pass in Review.
The one in the middle's the dog.

Some of that elegant chow served by those swell cooks.

Bull session.

At the Rainbow Dance.

Coking at the Student Union.
POST OFFICERS AND NON-COMS

Pictured above are the non-commissioned officers. These men see that the students are, “on the ball.” The non-coms are assigned various jobs such as: military instructors, personnel work, medical and dental service, and others are assigned to the Squadrons as tactical non-coms.
The Gremlin, generally recognized by journalism authorities as the best Army College Training Detachment publication of its type, is the widely read newspaper published by the aviation students here at MSU. The many fine facilities of the School of Journalism offer excellent opportunities for journalistic experimentation.
PHYSICAL TRAINING

Meeting the challenge offered by the present global situation, the Army Air Forces physical training program includes a system of calisthenics, game competition, and coordination exercises which are designed to better develop the physical aptitudes of the future flier.
BLUETAGS VS. NON-COMS.

Squadron One men shown in white shirts: Bus Weiss, Harold Hill, William Heisel, and Virgil Judy.

Inter-squadron competition found the blue-tag outfit play many exciting contests during the tight competition. Composed of men who have had previous professional and amateur basketball experience, the Squadron One team loomed as a constant threat, and finished in second place in the first month's competition.

Shown above are the civilian instructors in charge of the Army Air Forces Physical Training Programs at MSU.
The Student Union Building, containing the barber shop, auditorium, students' store and fountain, and recreational offices.

South Hall, where the men of Squadron One live and study.
An aerial shot of the oval, Montana State University

Main Hall, Montana State University
During the last month of our stay at the 317th College Training Detachment we received ten hours of dual flying instruction in the Piper cub J-3s, shown above. Under the guidance and direction of qualified instructors, many fellows developed a genuine feeling of flight and their anxiety and desire to become flying officers was intensified.
The Squadron One variety show, "Down South," was presented Friday evening, February 25, 1944, at the MSU Student Union. The auditorium was well filled to capacity with Kaydets and Missoula's citizenry. The show was filled throughout with many clever jokes and a swell array of student talent. Highlighting the program was the piano boogie duo of Dick Gorbach and Bob Tayek. The other clever acts included the singing of "Smiley" Burnett and the Down South quartette. Mr. Jensen acted as the interlocutor and was ably assisted by the end men—Harold Hall, Calvin Williams, Ray Ruport, and Jack Griffith. The men responsible for directing and staging this production were: William Street, director; William Dingle, stage, and Ralph Stephenson, script.
We're shovin' right off, we're shovin' right off again