The Grizzly Outlook

Seven returning lettermen from last year's sixth place team, five sophomores from a good frosh squad, and new head coach Frosty Cox are the ingredients for Montana's 1955-56 edition of the Grizzly hoopsters.

Coach Cox came out of semi-retirement in the cattle business to guide the fortunes of Montana's cage squad this season. The Grizzlies are not blessed with exceptional height so will be using the double post offense which is more suitable for a team not loaded with unusually tall players. Montana will not a defensive-minded team as Frosty is drilling his boys hard on the so-called "lost art" of defense. After his first month of the season Coach Cox said, "The squad has done a good job of learning the patterns so the job ahead is to smooth out the rough spots."

A chief weakness this season appears to be bench strength. The Grizzlies are short on depth and with the tough schedule they face, the job is to develop a strong bench in order to become a contender.

Top candidate of the returning lettermen is Ray Howard, 6-6 junior center, who led the team in scoring last year with 446 points—a 17.2 game average and a new high for University sophomores. Howard has one of the finest hook shots in the conference and with his speed and height is a valuable rebounder. He averaged 15 rebounds a game to placed second in the conference in that department and was an honorable mention All-Skyline choice.

Chief losses were Co-capts. Dave Adams and Ed "Fuzzy" Fine, Hal Winterholler and George Samuelson. Adams, a scrappy defensive performer, was a regular forward until injured in the middle of the season. Fine and Winterholler were regulars at the end of the season and Samuelson filled in for Howard at the pivot spot. Merritt "Lefty" Monson, slick ball-handling guard, did not return to school this year.

Senior lettermen Ed Argenbright and Ed Bergquist, along with Howard, form the nucleus of this year's club. Argenbright, 5-foot-10 inch guard, was the Grizzlies third scorer last season with 335 points. A long shot artist who can drive when covered close, Argenbright was an honorable mention All-Skyline choice. Bergquist, 6-3 forward, is a tough man on the boards and has found the scoring punch this season to make him one of the top big men in the conference.

Junior lettermen Rudy (Zip) Rhoades and Al Dunham will also see plenty of action for the Silvertips. Rhoades, 6-3 forward, was the Grizzlies second leading scorer with 345 points for a 13.3 game average last year. He is a good ball-handler with a sharp eye for the basket. Dunham, 6-4 guard, is a top rebounder and with more scoring punch could become one of the top performers in the conference. Rhoades was an honorable mention All-Skyline pick last season.

Jerry Johnson, 6-2 junior forward, and Maury Colberg, 6-1 junior forward, are the other two lettermen from last season's squad. Johnson, an end on the grid squad, showed plenty of promise towards the end of last season and could make things interesting for one of the forward spots on the starting five. Colberg, a fine shot and a good rebounder for his size, will also be pressing for a starting berth.

The top prospect from last year's fine frosh club is tall Russ Sheriff. Sheriff, 6-6 center, was one of the top scorers for the freshmen and is a good rebounder. If Sheriff is used with Howard in the starting lineup, the Silvertips will have top rebounding strength. Both Sheriff and Howard hail from the same hometown and played high school ball together.

A pleasant surprise for Coach Cox has been the showing of Bob Powell, 5-10 guard, who played for the frosh during the 1953-54 season but did not attend school last season. A scrappy ball player who can hit on a jump shot, Powell has been sparking the club in practice this season. Transfer Tom Jenson, 6-3 forward, who played frosh ball at the University of Indiana is also showing plenty of promise in drills and will see action this season.

Other fine sophomore prospects are Hal Erickson, 6-1 guard, a good shot and a fine defensive performer. Erickson is also a guard on the Grizzly grid squad. Pete Rhinehart, 6-2 guard, is a top defensive player with plenty of determination. Rhinehart had an appendectomy performed during the last half of the football season and will get a late start.

Under Coach Cox's new pattern offense considerable switching of positions will be necessary to obtain the right combination. His lineup for the early games has been Howard at center with Sheriff his first replacement, Argenbright, Dunham and Powell at the guards; Bergquist, Rhoades and Jenson at the forward spots.

Nominating committees have been divided into three groups: First committee nominated men who played from 1904 to 1916. Second group covered the middle period 1916 to 1930. The third committee covered the last twenty years.

The nomination list is perpetual and the committees will vote on the standing nominations. Several former players narrowly missed securing enough votes and may be elected in the future.

Basketball letter winners are added to the list of eligible candidates and if they receive sufficient votes are placed on the nominating list. They reach the Hall of Fame when they poll the required three-fourths majority. A player cannot qualify for the Hall of Fame until he has completed his varsity competition. Next Hall of Fame vote will be in the Spring of 1956.

Frosty Montana starts out the 1955-56 basketball season with a new coach but FORREST B. (FROSTY) COX is no stranger to the basketball world. Frosty came out of retirement after spending five years in the cattle business to guide the fortunes of the Grizzly cagers this winter. Before his stint in the cattle business he was head mentor at the University of Colorado for 15 years where he produced nationally ranked teams and a National Invitational winner in 1940.

Frosty is glad to be back in the coaching business again to compete with some of his old rivals. He drives his cagers hard and demands perfection on the court. A likable person with a keen sense of humor, Frosty has gained many new friends in the Treasure State.

A graduate of the University of Kansas in 1931, he became assistant basketball coach under Dr. Forrest C. (Phog) Allen that same year. In 1935 he took the head coaching assignment at Colorado and was there until 1950.

During his tour at Colorado he won three Mountain States Athletic Conference (Skyline Eight) championships, tied for the title once, won the NIT, and was in contention for national honors five years during 1938-1946—before Colorado entered the Big Seven conference.

Frosty was noted nationally as a basketball authority and was much in demand as a clinical strategist for coaching schools. He was also a member of the national rules committee.

He is married and has a son Frosty Jr., 19, a sophomore at the University, and a daughter, Judy, 16, a high school sophomore.

Freshman Coach

In his first year as frosh basketball and football mentor and varsity baseball coach is JACK ZILLY, 33, former professional football player for the Los Angeles Rams and Philadelphia Eagles.

Zilly graduated from Notre Dame in 1947 where he played end on the grid squad. He was chosen honorable mention All-American on several teams. He played professional football with the Rams from 1947 through 1951 and with the Eagles during the 1952 season.

Zilly played basketball with the Rams hoop squad that toured the state of California playing independent and college teams and coached the Navy ROTC cage squad at Notre Dame.

He was an all-around great athlete at Lewis high school, Southington, Conn., and Cheshire (Conn.) Academy, a prep school, where he earned letters in football, basketball, baseball and track. He served as captain of the football and basketball squads and was selected on the All-State team in each sport.

Zilly is married and with his wife, Eulalia, has five children, John 6, Christine 5, Patrick 4, Michael and Margaret (the twins) 3.

Athletic Trainer

NASEBY RHINEHART took over the injury treating duties as a part-time job back in 1935 and has constantly improved methods and training facilities to the point where Montana’s athletes get the best of care. His know-how and his training techniques make him one of the most respected among the training fraternity around the nation today.

“Nase” also handles classes in the care and prevention of injuries for the department of health and physical education. He came to the University from Milwaukee and was an outstanding football, basketball and track star in ’32, ’33, and ’34 and he still rates a berth as end on the All-Time Grizzly football team.

Nase’s son, Naseby Jr., is a guard on this year’s cage squad. He lettered in track as a freshman last season and also won his football award this fall.

Ticket Manager

The important but sometimes trying job of handling all details of ticket sales for varsity athletic events in the Field House is entrusted with ROBERT (BOB) DUNDAS, Auditor of Student and Auxiliary Organizations.

Bob graduated from the University in 1953 with a B.A. degree in Business Administration. He became student auditor upon graduation and was assigned the ticket manager duties last August 1.

He attended high school in Watford City, North Dakota and served as a bombardier with the Air Force during World War II.

In addition to the athletic events he is also in charge of tickets for the various other shows staged in the Field House.
