A team effort...

Getting sufficient electricity to our customers is a team effort. We are helping to develop resources, including electrical energy, to provide jobs and opportunities for Montana's young people who wish to continue to make the Big Sky Country their home. In the 1970's, there will be 144,000 Montanans reaching age 21. They will require adequate electricity. So will the rest of us.
Coach Jud Heathcote

Jud Heathcote has guided the Grizzlies to a 46-33 record in his first three years as UM’s basketball coach. He hopes to add considerably to the win total with this season’s veteran team.

Last year he led the Tips to a 19-8 season, the best record for a Grizzly hoop squad in 24 years. Montana’s 1972-73 record was 13-13, and in 1971-72, Heathcote’s first season, the Grizzlies were 14-12.

The wins in the first two seasons represented the best back-to-back win total for UM since moving into Adams Fieldhouse in 1953. Last year’s 19-8 team improved upon that substantially. The 1973-74 Grizzlies won 13 straight games, tied for the Big Sky regular season championship and attracted record crowds.

Heathcote came to the University from Washington State. At WSU he served as varsity assistant and frosh coach. His freshman teams compiled a 99-9 record and the Cougar varsity placed second in the tough Pacific 8 Conference three times.
Assistant Coach Jim Brandenburg

Jim Brandenburg is in his fifth season at the University of Montana. In his initial season he served as varsity assistant to Coach Lou Rocheleau. The last three years he has served as varsity assistant to Jud Heathcote and as coach of the UM freshman squad. He directed the Cubs to a 36-18 record against competition which included many junior varsity teams the last three years. This season his responsibility is to serve as varsity assistant.

Before coming to Montana he coached at Flathead Valley Community College. There, he led FVCC to a 23-4 record in the school’s first year of competition. His impressive prep record of 171 wins and 46 losses was compiled in Texas and Colorado.

Frosh Coaches

Former Grizzly players Robin Selvig and Kevin Rocheleau are serving as coaches of the freshman basketball team. Both were three-year lettermen. Rocheleau was Montana's third guard for three years and sparked many UM victories with his fiery and hustling play. Selvig was voted the Grizzly Outstanding Defensive Player Award last year and was the recipient of the Babcock Award (Most Outstanding Montana Athlete) for the 1973-74 year. Selvig, a native of Outlook, is 22-years old. Rocheleau, a Missoula Sentinel graduate, is 23-years old.

This weekend marks the final home appearances of five senior basketball players who have presented UM fans with plenty of exciting and winning basketball over the last three years.

Ken McKenzie, Eric Hays, Tom Peck, Larry Smedley and Mark Nord flash their talents on Adams Fieldhouse's tartan for the final two times in the important games with Boise State and Idaho State.

Going into this weekend the efforts of the five seniors in three years of varsity basketball have netted UM 48 victories against only 27 losses.

McKenzie, a unanimous all-conference pick last year, is already the University's all-time rebounder, and is closing in on the number two spot in the career scoring rankings. The 6-9 Canadian also holds the Fieldhouse single game scoring record of 39 points.

Hays ranks nationally in free throw shooting this season and is a sure bet to set a UM single season record in that category. This week Hays is the league-leader in free throw and field goal accuracy. He will finish as UM's leader in career field goal percentage and has an excellent chance at the career free throw accuracy record of 80.1 percent.

While the UM co-captains have been leaving their mark on the Grizzly record book, the contributions of Peck, Smedley and Nord have been many. They have been varsity players for three years, providing both starting and reserve strength.

After two years of reserve duty, Peck has assumed a starting role and developed into the type of floor leader and inspirational player that Coach Jud Heathcote looks for. He has emerged as the Grizzly playmaker.

Injuries hampered Smedley during his sophomore and junior seasons after a sensational freshman year in which he averaged 19.9 points and the Cubs won 17 of 18 games. An excellent shooter, Smedley has come on strong this year and is averaging 14 points in the 10 Big Sky games.

Nord has seen both starting and reserve action during his three varsity seasons. Like Smedley, injury problems have hampered the Missoula Sentinel products effectiveness. He has been troubled by muscle pulls, but has consistently displayed an intense desire to play.

The players are not the only seniors associated with the team. Managers Dennis Murphy and Don Ryan have played integral roles in the progress and coordination of the basketball program.

Murphy films games and serves as assistant trainer. Ryan, when he is not shooting around with the team, does his best to participate in the coaching chores. On the road they are known as the “management.”

“In four years as managers they have become cognizant of the makings of our basketball program,” Heathcote said. “They do many things that go unnoticed, but they are appreciated by the players and the coaching staff.”

BOISE STATE COACH

Bus Connor is in his second full year at the helm of the Boise State basketball program. Last year he had the Broncos in title contention until the final three weeks of the season.

This season the Broncos are on the winning side of the ledger with a team that is exceptionally young. The roster has five freshmen, three sophomores and three juniors.

Connor, who has a bachelor's degree from Idaho State and a master's degree from Utah State, served as an assistant at Idaho State and Boise State before assuming the head coaching duties at BSU midway through the 1972-73 campaign.
