Even BURKE KILROY could get in on time if she would have LOUIE take her to the

for quick refreshments. And what an entrancing place to linger longer! Casa De Refresco of Spanish design, beautifully lighted, Navigator radio music, is the aristocrat of outdoor refreshment places. You'll like the atmosphere, the complete fountain service, the newness and cleanness—and for all this service and quality the prices are no higher!

HOT AFTERNOONS HAVE BEEN IN MONTANA.

Rattle, rattle, rattedly bang! pop! sque-e-a-a-k-k-k!!! A certain gray "bug" (motorized), filled with legs, pulled up at the links, and THEY piled out—Sid, Dot, Woody, Kappy, Stuss, and Huston.

"Say, let's have a fag before we go around." (Who said it? It doesn't matter!)

And the gang settled down in a cloud of smoke for a little enjoyment before the work of packing golf bags around the course. (As if hanging on greens wasn't enough for the bags!)

"Well, gang, what's the latest gossip around the dorm—I miss the old place since I've left. Any more pins hung, that I haven't heard about?" (This from Sid.)

"Oh, you've heard about Chas. Smith and Punk Wold, of course—that's ancient now, but the latest is Joy Brown-ing and Bill Darcy!" (Huston always knows the latest, speaking up in her baby voice!)

"Oh, has Bill come back to school?"

"Oh, no, nothing like that—just came back to give Joy his pin. It's a pretty darned good lookin' pin, too."

"Well, Huston, don't forget yourself—that's about the latest. You know, Sid, she had Jack Toole's pin the other night—but she hasn't got it now. Say, I'd like to know if Jack rents his pin by the hour over there at the Chim, or does it go with the cover charges? I wouldn't mind having a pin, even if just for an evening." (Kappy speaking.)

And Dot in her well known drawl, speaks up, "Yeah, you and Jack would

"JIM CLARK NAMED ABER DAY MANAGER"—headline in the Kaimin when Aber day talk first began. And of course he was appointed by the president of A. S. U. M., GORDON ROGNLIEN. His assistants included RAY LEWIS, along with Ted Mellinger, and Jimmy Morrow. (And did you read the advance Aber day dope that appeared in the Kaimin from time to time until today?)

"ROGNLIEN NAMED CHIEF JUSTICE OF ABER COURT" was the next important headline concerning the traditional day. It was awfully nice of Jim to return the favor. And STEINER LARSEN was appointed an associate, not forgetting Jamesbert Garlington.

"ALLEN NAMED TO HEAD ABER ENTERTAINMENT" was an interesting development in this political monopoly, and when the last of the advance Aber day dope was given out, the gang was well represented. Ted Rule heads them, you know of course, but LLOYD CALLISON was the representative, while George Martin and Carl Rankin help. Women police bosses showed Rognlle influence—Elge, of course, is a lawyer, and Betty Torrence— Well, you know. Jim is often seen in Betty's car.

Good Men Friday include BILL BROWN and MILTON ANDERSON, though Jack Aiton and Harp Kilroy are helping out. And the official cars selected were those of R. Boden, WALTER COONEY and L. LUBRECHT (no, she's not a Phi Delt, she just wears the pin.)

The work sheets tell the rest of the story.

NECK AND NECK.

This spring's handicap bids fair to be awarded to the A. T. O.'s. Brother Kosoff after hemming and hawing around wondering how long it would be before he could hang a pin on his afflinity (Helen Scott) really got himself in permanently by buying her a diamond. Now he'll have to marry her to get the diamond back.

Then Ollie Wold has selected Chaz Smith to battle with. He is luckier than his brother, though, for he had a pin to hang, and pins can be unfastened in anger or in chagrin. Bob Parmenter, aloof for so long, found himself a girl, too, to do his class assignments, and hung his pin on Monna Anderson. A pin can cinch more than matrimony, as any man of college experience can testify.

Was it a guilty conscience over the method by which she got all those grade points that made Rosamund Pederson turn down Kappa Tau this year?

Our Own Elsie Heicksen: Why, I was so embarrassed to be parked there in that open car, with a baby in my arms!

Prompter: Parked where?

O-O-E-H: In front of the Elmore hospital.

P: Where did you expect to be parked? Inside?

FORE!

"Hello, old timer, I thought you never were going to come—I've been waiting around these here links for about an hour for you."

"Sorry I didn't get here sooner, but I got to talkin' with one of the Sig Eps, and he told me a choice bit of gossip—said the street-car jumped the track down by the Kappa house the other night. I guess the motorman couldn't stay on the job, because the Kappas forgot to pull down their blinds—I wouldn't mind being a motorman in that case."

"Me neither—that's pretty good. (chuckle, chuckle.) Maybe that's the reason Bub Rankin stepped out with Helen Huston the other night—to pay Edith Mae back for their carelessness. I wonder if she knows that—he said he sure had a good time with Huston."

"Yeah, those Sig Eps do. There's sure a lot of them got their pins back this year. You know Leonard Shultz had his girl come down from Sheridan to see him not long ago so that he could get his pin back from her. Then you know there's Claude Samples and John Rankin, though he's not in school now—maybe he's gone down to Bozeman to hang it on that little Alpha Chi who went down there. I believe her name was Dee Goodell. Oh, yah, Archie Grover, too."

"Yeah, I guess his down town rival cut him out. He got his pin back all right, but he hasn't got it now."

"Oh, did he hang it again?"

"Oh, no, he's still got a pin, but the one Edith gave back to him is in a pawn shop in Spokane—Archie must have been hard up."

"Well, I guess with the spring handi-cap on, everyone likes to have his pin handy, so if he takes a notion he can

PHILLIPS TO THE RESCUE.

Quite a dramatic little scene took place not long ago when Marjorie Reynolds fainted in the Treasure room at the Library. Professor P. C. Phillips, always gallant, heroically struggled down the steep steps with her in his arms. But, what we would like to know, is—Why did she faint??!

Time: After class.

Place: Craig hall.

Scene: Heroine slips on stairs and strains ankle. Enter, the Hero, CARL BEALL, who picks up the dainty morsel and carries her down stairs.

Carl: You know, there's something to having a girl in your arms!

Evelyn Mattmiller: Oh, you big he-man.

And this is absolutely true.

Since the Kappas have moved out in the sticks the more languid ones, Betty Cooper, Betty O'Connor, Fritz Walker, Virginia Newland, Unarose Flannery, Mary Cardell and Jack Parsons, have taken to roller skating. We said LANGUID, but what's your word?

We have made a great discovery! We have found out why Dr. N. J. Lennes's name is listed in Who's Who. When he heard that the University would close down if the three mill levy wasn't passed, he generously offered to hold his mathematics classes in his new home.

THA BURP

In the Montana Kaimin, twice a week, is a column called Tha Bird. Quite a fuss is made over this tripe which runs under the picture of a member of the class aves with a long neck suitable for poking its nose into other people's business. He has a flare for personalities signifying that he comes from a small town—Podunk, no doubt.

Who Tha Bird is, and who picked him and, after reading his remarks, why, has not been explained. But it is people like he who give the impression to other colleges that Montana U is small town stuff for small town people.

Are you a nice person or do you conduct a column of personalities?

We just finished Dr. Elliot's Five-foot shelf. You mustn't miss this. It is good and believe me I know what I'm talking about and I want you all to know I read GOOD literature.

Perhaps we had better sign off, the ads take up so much space in this here now publication. See you in Campus Rakings no doubt.

PAGING INGERSOLL.

In spite of the fact that the religious issue of the Wrangler has not appeared, religious belief is not dead on the campus. That Gerry Gray still clings to her faith and will not be swerved from it is proved by the following incident:

It was the Saturday when all the spring housecleaning had to be finished down at Gerry's eating club and Housemanager McGrade had a big bright notion that all the girls should rise at 8:30. She broke into Gerry's slumbers with a not too gentle voice and received the only known original excuse for remaining in bed longer. "I can't get up yet. I haven't said my prayers."

"WE THREE WILL CARRY ON."

A question which has been bothering the campus for some months is whether or not the Delta Gamma's sense of humor is unconscious or intentional. If it is intentional they should have won the Varsity Vodvil contest this year and no questions asked. If you don't believe it listen to this little scene in a semi-secret chapter meeting.

Pres. Helen Maddock: Girls, the present generation is positively immoral and I can not see what is to become of it. Such goings on were positively unheard of in our mothers' day and if it keeps on the way it has been going where is it all going to end? I, for one, think we should make a positive stand against vice and immorality in any and all forms and I think that the first movement in this direction should come from within this chapter. As a first step, I propose that every girl in this chapter who has ever smoked a cigarette, hand in her pin right here and now. Is there a second to the motion?

Betty Torrence (with poorly concealed amazement): Madame President. Do you realize that there would be three of you left in the chapter? Yourself, Fay McCollum and Annie Jean Stewart?

Miss Maddock: Of course I realize it. In spite of all I firmly believe that we should stand on the side of right and that those girls who are immoral should be expelled from the chapter if they do not voluntarily resign immediately. WE THREE WILL CARRY ON ALONE.

(The chapter managed between groans to subdue her and some weeks later Helen and Betty assumed their respective roles in Varsity Vodvil for the benefit of the public.)

SOCIAL WORK.

It was one of those early spring days Missoula likes to encourage her people with, and Professor Turney-High and Miss Hasseltine Byrd were noted in earnest conversation. One of our reporters with a journalistic nose overheard the earnest conversation which was a bet between the two that it would snow before Easter, with the loser taking the other to dinner. Miss Hasseltine, of the affirmative, became the proud possessor of a dinner date with the Professor. We followed proceedings and pried into Hasseltine's preparations for the great event. Girls, her wardrobe for the occasion would make a bride envious.

Having the itch seems to be a favorite sport at the Phi Sig house this year. In fact, "Fatty" Ekegren, Arve Gilboe, Ed McConnell, Pete Donald and Paul Dickson have become so exclusive since they have contracted that most pleasant of pastimes, that they require a private bathroom.

Merle Ulmer,

Leola Stevens

and

Mary Breen

have snap shots for their memory

books finished at

The McKay
 Art Co.

HELEN SCOTT

and

BETTY LEMMON

love to buy their beautiful costume jewelry
 at the

B. & H.
 Jewelry Co.

because there they find such a large assortment.

The SAEs and Phi Sigs

wouldn't have to steal records

from the KD house if they would

buy BRUNSWICKS at the

SCHAEFFER
 MUSIC CO.

Maybe

OLIVE GROBEL

can't afford a portable typewriter
at the

Lister
Typewriter
Co.

But if she had rented one perhaps she would have gotten her "A" in Anthropology.

REBECCA GRIERSON

got her leather coat cleaned

at the

Butte Cleaners

Phone 3131

and it looks just like new.

"Kleaners that Klean."

We suggest that

ASUM

donate a 49c pound box

of candy from

SMITH'S DRUG

to Dorothy Dodge, U phone operator, to sweeten up
that disposition.

GORDON McDONALD

and

NICKEY

endorse those soft davenport

from

Jucy's

BUNKERS.

(Those people who never let the davenport look lonesome.)

was improperly dressed on the golf links?

have the correct sportswear for the right occasion, is the motto
 of our customers, say

virg lockridge, lover nelson, clay crippen

and many others; you never see them at a sunday tea with their pajamas. don't dub your golf game by looking like a dub, when the sport shop can dress you correctly for golf, riding, tennis, slumber parties, picnics and ping pong.
