THE PRESIDENT

The Grizzlies' number one alum is Dr. Carl Mc-Farland, University president since 1950, who is the only graduate in the institution's history to serve as its president.

Under the McFarland philosophy, intercollegiate athletics at the University are an integral part of the over-all educational plan. The University is proud of its expanding recreational and athletic facilities, and it also takes pride in its fundamental precepts that say, "a student at MSU is a student first and an athlete second."

The University, and consequently the recreational and athletic facilities, has had its greatest period of growth under Pres. McFarland's leadership. Examples of this growth are the Field House, an arena with 6,668 capacity for basketball, and the Glacier Rink, a year-round outdoor skating arena.

Pres. McFarland received three academic degrees at the University, 1924 to 1930, then went to Harvard University where he received his degree of doctor of juridical science, 1932.

During the twenty years before he returned to Montana as the University president, Dr. McFarland became a nationally prominent Washington, D.C., attorney, served as assistant attorney general of the United States, wrote law books, and became an outstanding professional lecturer in the nation's leading law schools.

In 1934, Harvard University published Dr. Mc-Farland's book on "Judicial Control of Administrative Agencies." Recommendations made in that book relating to the Federal Trade Commission have since been adopted by federal statute. In the same year the American Bar association gave him its first Ross Award for his writings on constitutional law.

Three years later, in joint authorship with U. S. Attorney General Homer Cummings, he published "Federal Justice — Chapters in the History of Justice and the Federal Executive." It was the first and remains the only full scale history of any of the federal departments of government and, as such, is now a standard work of reference in university and government circles respecting the history and organization of the U. S. Dept. of Justice.

He was the principal draftsman of the Administrative Procedure Act, which became law in 1946 without a single dissenting vote in either house of Congress. That year the American Bar association awarded him its thirteenth gold medallion "for conspicuous service in the cause of American jurisprudence." He was the only practicing lawyer to hold that honor, the other dozen recipients being teachers, editors, and jurists, including such men as Elihu Root, Oliver Wendell Holmes and Charles Evans Hughes.

The Director

In his third year as head man of the Grizzly Athletic program, is the hard-working, dependable "Jiggs" Dahlberg, former head basketball coach at Montana University. Dahlberg had the longest basketball tenure in University history — 18 years. He brings to the directorship more than 30 years of coaching experience.

Since he returned to Montana in 1937, "The Professor" has been head basketball coach, has assisted in baseball and football coaching, served as acting athletic director after World War II, and has been the department's chief proselyter.

His leadership and his friendly humorous nature plus a capacity for getting things done make him a constant inspiration for the Montana Staff.

Dahlberg graduated from the University in 1925 with athletic honors in football and basketball. He was captain of the 1925 cage team and is one of four Butte brothers who have been prominent in Montana sports for most of the last half-century. He spent 12 years coaching high school teams at Miles City and Anaconda, Montana and at Hoquiam, Puyallup and Chehallis, Wash., all with considerable success. He spent two years in the service coaching baseball, basketball, and boxing at Fort Lawton, Wash., 1943-44.

Jiggs developed the University's most outstanding basketball team in 1949. He is married and has a son Jon, 15, and a daughter, Margaret, 13.

Head Football Coach

Jerry R. Williams, a 1949 Washington State College graduate, begins his second year as Montana University's 22nd football coach in 56 years of gridiron history. The young former professional football star, age 32, impressed football fans last year in his first season as the Silvertip's head mentor by guiding Montana into sixth place in the rough Skyline Conference with two wins and four defeats. In pre-season polls the Grizzlies were a unanimous choice for the cellar.

His coaching experience includes player-coach with the Philadelphia Eagles, the spring of 1951 as an assistant with the University of Idaho, and 1953 as an assistant at Villanova.

Williams had a coaching career as his goal while still in college and set out to prepare himself for that career with six years of professional football. He was an avid student of the aspects of the game and he was intent on its coaching techniques.

He played both defense and offense as a halfback with the Los Angeles Rams, four seasons, 1949 through 1952, and he was with the Eagles in 1953 and 1954. During his rookie season he played under Clark Shaughnessy, the originator of the T-formation.

Williams was an All-Pacific Coast conference halfback with WSC in 1948. He dominated Cougar individual statistics and set a league record for yardage on kick-off returns. He set a National League record of 99 yards with the return of an attempted field goal against the Green Bay Packers, 1951, while on defense for the World Champion L. A. Rams. In 1954 he figured in the longest touchdown via aerial when he took a pass from Eagle quarterback Adrian Burk and went 84 yards to score. He ranked 4th in the league for punt returns in 1954 and was one of the leading pass receivers among the backs.

He was a flying officer during World War II. He played in the East-West Shrine game and the College All-Star game of 1949. He is the second WSC graduate to hold the head job at Montana.

Williams was born and raised in Spokane and participated in football, basketball, baseball, and track at North Central High School, 1938-42. He married the former Marion Munro, also of Spokane, and they have three children, Jerry Bill, 4, Rebecca Sue, 3, and Todd David, 4 mos.

Football Assistants

Bob Zimny, 34 assistant coach, also begins his second season at Montana as line coach working with guards and tackles. Bob came to the Univer-ity after four years as head line coach at Washburn University of Topeka, Kansas, where his line ranked among the top ten small college teams in the nation, defensively.

"Zim" won All-Big Ten mention as a tackle for the University of Indiana, and he participated in several All-Star charity games. He played under A. N. (Bo) Mc-Millin, who later coached the Detroit Lions and the Philadelphia Eagles. Bob's college education was interrupted by three years of U. S. Army service as a physical education instructor. He received his bachelor of science degree, 1951, and at present is a candidate for a master's degree in recreation.

Last year the Grizzlies' defensive line turned in their top performance against the champion Colorado A&M Rams by holding them to a hard-fought 12-7 victory.

Zimny was graduated from St. Rita high school, Chicago, 1940. Following the war, he played five seasons with the Cardinals, 1945 through the 1949 season. He moved to Washburn following graduation in 1951. Zimny's additional contribution to the Montana staff is his ability and experience in counselling athletes and in supervising the work program.

He is married and has two boys, Danny, 8, and Rickie, 3.

Hal Sherbeck, 28, former outstanding Montana high school coach, joined the Grizzly staff March 1, 1956 as freshman football and basketball coach and head baseball mentor. Sherbeck moved up from Missoula County high school to the University.

A 1952 graduate of Montana University, Hal took over as head coach at Missoula the following season. His Spartan team won the state class AA championship during his initial season and also in 1953 and 1954. He was named "Montana Coachof-the-Year" after his first season at Missoula. In four seasons of play his teams won 28 games, lost 5, tied 6.

At Montana University Hal won six varsity letters, participating in football, basketball, and baseball. He played halfback on the football team, was a basketball guard and played shortstop on the diamond nine. He was captain of the basketball team his senior year and was elected to the Grizzly Basketball Hall of Fame for his outstanding play.

Born in Minnesota, he came to Montana as a youngster and lived in Big Sandy. He was an outstanding athlete there and played six man football during high school.

After graduation from high school he entered the Army Air Corps for two years and then enrolled at Olympic Junior College at Bremerton, Washington. At Olympic he was a top halfback on the football squad and then entered Montana in the fall of 1950.

Sherbeck also coached the Missoula high B basketball squad to an undefeated season last winter and coached the Missoula American Legion team during the summer of 1952.

Hal is married to the former Donna Skates, ex-Montana women's tennis champion, and they have two children—Lori Ann, 3, and David, 1.

Laurie J. Niemi, a former teammate of head coach Jerry Williams at Washington State College, and ex-professional tackle with the Washington Redskins and the British Columbia Lions, is the new Montana assistant replacing Fred Naumetz, who resigned to enter private business.

Niemi and Williams were co-captains of the 1948 Washington State team and participated in the East-West Shrine game, Chicago All-Star game and the Hula Bowl following their graduation in 1940.

Niemi comes to Montana with seven years of professional football experience. He played tackle for the Redskins from 1949 through 1953 and took part in two All-Pro games in Los Angeles. During the past two seasons he played for the British Columbia Lions of the Canadian League and averaged better than 50 minutes of play in each game.

At Washington State he was accorded INS All-American honors and was an All-Pacific Coast selection for his play at tackle.

He is a native Montana boy, born in Red Lodge, and attended Butte high school his freshman year. His family then moved to Clarkston, Washington and he completed high school there.

Laurie is married and is the father of one son, Stephan, age 3. He is 31 years old and joined the Montana staff March 1, 1956.

Everything Montana training facilities are today can be attributed to Naseby Rhinehart, athletic trainer who took over the injury treating duties as a part-time job in 1935. His know-how and his training techniques make him one of the most respected among the training fraternity around the nation. Besides his training duties, Rhinehart teaches classes in the care and prevention of injuries for the department of health and physical education.

Nase was honored for his 20 years of service to the University last basketball season when "Naseby Rhinehart Night" was presented on March 3. He was given gifts by the M-Club and presented with a plaque from the local Jaycees.

He came to the University from Milwaukee and was an outstanding end in '32, '33 and '34 . . . he is still rated on the All-Time Grizzly team. He lettered 3 years in basketball and track.

PROSPECTUS

Improved—augmented or enhanced in value or good quality; made better, is the definition according to Webster's and the 1956 Montana Grizzlies will fit this interpretation of the word. The degree of improvement, however, is much harder to define until the actual season begins with the tough schedule Montana plays this year.

The Grizzlies face a full ten game schedule that includes seven Skyline foes and three non-conference opponents. Montana open with Arizona on Sept. 15th at Phoenix, then have a weekend open until they tangle with strong Utah University at Salt Lake on the 29th. The following weekend the Grizzlies travel to Denver to meet the Pioneers from the Mile-High city. With these three tough games in succession the Silvertips will have their work cut out for them and the success of the remaining campaign will be easier to predict.

The reasons for the basic improvements this season are based on four things. (1) A better than average crop of sophomores up from the frosh team. (2) A fine spring practice season. (3) 15 returning lettermen. (4) Coach Jerry Williams begins his second year at the helm and the players are more familiar with his system of play.

A cheery note was issued by Williams this season

when he stated that Skyline foes will find the Grizzlies stronger in about every position. "On paper, MSU looks weaker because we lost our starting quarterback, two halfbacks, and two guards," he said. "But in reality we will be stronger in about every position. We are three deep at center, and I consider each capable of the job. We will have more tackle strength and the fullback prospect is improved 100 per cent."

Last year the Grizzlies finished sixth in the conference with a 2-4 mark. "I expect Montana to be picked for the same spot this year," Williams said. "But I am more optimistic and think the Grizzlies will come up somewhat. This is the first time since I have been here that the situation looks a little bright," he concluded.

Montana will be improved but still lack the depth for a championship club and will have a chore replacing fourteen lettermen lost by graduation. Seven of the fourteen were regulars or semi-regulars last season.

Hardest job facing the Grizzly staff is finding replacements for halfbacks Dale Shupe and Don

JONES

Brant, guard Doug Dasinger, and quarterback Norm Kampschror. Dasinger and Shupe were All-Skyline first team choices and Brant and Kampschror were honorable mention picks.

In a capsule, the Grizzlies team speed will be about on par with the 1955 club, the passing attack will be a little weaker without a full experienced quarterback, but the end post is the strongest position on the line and will help balance out the passing situation, tackle strength will be greater, especially on defense, guard post was hard hit by graduation but has great potential this season, center situation will be greatly improved, fullback slot is better and the halfbacks will be small but shifty. The Grizzlies will operate out of a modified split T formation during the 1956 season.

BACKFIELD — (Starting halfbacks Dale Shupe and Don Brant, and quarterback Norm Kampschror are lost from the 1955 club. Reserve halfback Walt Lonner, and fullbacks Curt Milne and Don Bissell do not return.) Overall backfield speed will be about the same as in 1955 but a speedster like Brant, Skyline 100 yard dash record holder, cannot be replaced this year. Co-captain

RHINEHART

Bill Kaiserman, and Don Williamson, halfbacks, Roy Bray and Paul Enochson, quarterbacks, and fullbacks Ervin Rosera and Milt Wikert are the backfield letter winners returning.

Top sophomore prospects in the backfield are Jerry Connors, shifty rhb, Dick Wright, lhb, Ron Rivera, rhb, Bob Everson, lhb, Vern Tennant, fb, and Pat Monno, lhb. Monno was the outstanding sophomore prospect for the 1954 season but did not return to school. Chuck McKelvie, junior qb and transfer from Valley junior college, will add depth to the quarterback slot behind Bray and Enochson.

LINE — (Eight lettermen, including four regulars, were lost from the forward wall. Doug Dasinger, regular guard, Carl Strand, regular guard, Vince Barone, regular tackle, Buck Gehring, regular tackle, Ken Byerly, reserve end, Ron Johnson, reserve guard, Hal Erickson, reserve guard, and Bill Gardner, reserve guard do not return this season.)

DZIVI

Dick Dzivi, center, Cocapt. Bob McGihon and Ivory Jones, tackles, and Terry Hurley and Pete Rhinehart, ends, are the regulars from last year that will bolster the line this season. Other lettermen returning include Bob Small, guard, and Wally Mading, Lou Pangle, and Jerry Johnson, ends. Montana's line will have more depth this season with the end position the strongest.

Sophomores will be relied on heavily this fall with the number one prospect Stan Renning, starting left guard. Other sophs who will see their share of action include Mike O'Brien, and Charley Moore, centers, Montana Bockman and John Dixon, guards, Bob Butorovich, tackle, and Jim DeFalco, end. Three transfers — Karl Benjamin and Bill Hand, tackles, and Duane Carver, center, should help the line strength considerably.

Renning and Hurley are definite All-Skyline material, with Jones, McGihon and Rhinehart close.

McGIHON

BY POSITION—ENDS: The strongest position on the line. Five lettermen return. Good pass receivers and strong defensive men. Hurley is the outstanding one. Placed 5th in the nation in pass receiving last season and won the conference receiving crown. Hurley and Rhinehart, juniors, will start. Mading, Pangle, Johnson and Hart—top reserves.

TACKLES: Tackle situation looks brighter. Mc-Gihon and Jones should start. Transfers Hand and Benjamin and soph Butorovich will be top reserves. Will have more experience and size this season. Some sophs will be pressing.

GUARDS: Hardest hit position with both starters from 1955 gone. Position has great potential with sophs expected to carry the load. Will lack experience. Renning, soph, and Small, converted tackle, should start. Sophomore Jankovich and Bockman will be top reserves. Renning will rank among the best sophomores in the conference this season.

CENTERS: Good depth at center this year with three players capable of the job.

Letterman Dzivi should start but will be pressed by sophs O'Brien and Moore. Transfer Carver will help out situation. Stronger at center this fall than past few years.

QUARTERBACKS: The T-general situation has potential but lacks experience. Junior Bray, semi-regular in 1955, has the inside track after spring drills but senior Enochson, three year letter winner, and transfer McKelvie will offer hot competition. All three are good passers but have to perfect split-T operation this season. Passing attack should be good with outstanding receivers. Bray and McKelvie excell at defense.

LEFT HALFBACK: Letterman Williamson has the speed and experience but missed spring drills because of track duties. Sophomores

Monno and Wright have the potential. More depth at spot this fall. Everson, soph, is outstanding on defense and could be in the picture.

RIGHT HALFBACKS: Co-captain Kaiserman has the experience but soph Connors will be tough strongest position

competition, Connors was outstanding in spring drills. Other sophs who will add depth include Rivera and Gorsich. More depth this season with good speed.

FULLBACKS: Much improved over last season. Three deep this year. Letterman Rosera has the nod after spring drills. Sophs Tennant and Hayes and veteran Wikert are the top reserves. Potentially the in the backfield.

**BOB SMALL (66) — senior. A returning letterman at center who was switched to guard last spring and the change has paid off. Bob will be one of three candidates fighting it out for the starting right guard slot vacated by All-Skyline Doug Dasinger. Has good size but needs more work to familiarize himself with the new position. A local Missoula high lad. College major is physical therapy.

MONTANA BOCKMAN (62) — sophomore. Another local Missoula lad who was an All-stater as a high school senior. Has good size and speed and likes contact. Montana will add depth to the guard position this season and could land the starting berth with his fine play. Stands 5-11 and weighs 185.

JOHN DIXON (69) — sophomore. A top prospect up from the frosh who was also switched to guard this fall. Attended high school at John Rodgers of Spokane. Played tackle in high school where he had an outstanding record. Only 18 years old and stands 6-3 and weighs 200. Has ability and determination to make a top college player.

JIM BLACK (68) — senior. The leading weightman on the Grizzly track squad, Jim has the size and ability to make a fine college lineman. Saw little action last year as a tackle but will bear watching in his new guard position. Attended high school at St. Ignatius where he earned 11 letters in athletics. College major is Business Administration.

Left Tackles

*IVORY JONES (72) — senior. Returning letterman at the left tackle post. Played mostly defensive last year and should have his best season with a little offensive experience. Fastest lineman on the team. Transfer from West Contra Costa Junior College in 1955. Stands 6-2 and weighs 195. Home is Oakland, California. Will be one of top tackles in the Skyline this season.

KARL BENJAMIN (70) — junior. Another exserviceman who will help out the tackle situation this fall. Is the second big lad Coach Williams is counting on to bolster the defensive line. Stands 6-3 and weighs 245. Transfer from Washington State College and home is in Seattle. Looked rugged in spring drills and will be a top contender for a starting post.

GARY KENNEDY (77) — sophomore. Switched from end last spring to add reserve to the tackle post. An outstanding high school athlete from Hamilton. Injured during spring ball so will be handicapped during the first part of the season because of lack of experience. Stands 6-4 and weighs 210.

Right Tackles

*CO-CAPT. BOB McGIHON (75) — senior. Returning veteran at the right tackle post. "Mac" should have his best year this fall and will be one of the best linemen in the Skyline. Is a top offensive blocker with fair speed. Stands 6-2 and weighs 210. Came to the University after 7 years of Air Force service. Attended high school at Webster, N.Y. Is 29 years old, married and the father of two children.

BOB BUTOROVICH (78) — sophomore. Biggest man on the team weighing 240 and standing 6-5, Bob will add depth to the tackle slot this fall. A former All-stater from Butte high up from last year's strong Frosh squad. He is one of the two gigantic tackles Coach Williams is counting on to fill some of the holes in the Grizzly defensive line.

DAN BARTSCH (76) — junior. An ex-service-man who was a Grizzly squad member during the 1952 season. Dan shows plenty of desire but lacks experience. Hails from Butte. Has added size and will help out tackle situation.

BILL HAND (73) — junior. Transfer from Yakima (Wash.) Junior College where he was a standout lineman. Showed plenty of promise in spring drills with his ability to go both ways. Exceptionally fast for his size. Bill will be a top contender for a first string berth.

Action in the Montana-Denver Homecoming Day game on Dornblaser Field. Lee Lovaas (17), DU quarterback, is pursued by a host of Grizzlies as he attempts an option play in the Pioneers' 61-13 triumph over the Silvertips. Dick Dzivi (57), Montana center has hold of Lovaas as teammates Milt Wikert (35), Bob McGihon

(63) and Carl Strand (66) converge on the play. Other Grizzlies in the picture include Pete Rhinehart (82), Doug Dasinger (62) and Buck Gehring (77), background with face mask. Grizzlies tangle with the Pioneers at Denver this season on October 5th.
