UNIVERSITY OF MONTANA

Chartered February 17, 1893

The University of Montana in Missoula is located in a mountain forest setting in beautiful Western Montana. It is halfway between Glacier and Yellowstone national parks.

Four wilderness areas are located near Missoula. The natural surroundings offer excellent opportunities for hunting, fishing, backpacking, river floating, camping and other outdoor recreational pursuits. Two excellent winter ski areas are located within minutes of the university. Several other ski areas are only a couple of hours away by car. UM owns and operates its own golf course adjacent to campus.

Chartered February 17, 1893, the University of Montana is one of the West's pioneers in education. The school opened in September 1895 with 50 students enrolling the first day. Located on 201 acres at the base of Mount Sentinel, UM has grown from 50 students and seven faculty members to a present enrollment of 9,679 and approximately 450 full-time faculty positions.

Through its history, the University of Montana has sustained a high standard of academic excellence in teaching, research and service.

UM offers associate of arts degrees in two areas and bachelors in 58 fields. It offers master's degrees in 54 programs and doctoral degrees in 13.

The College of Arts and Sciences, which is the core of the university, includes a full range of programs and courses in the life sciences, physical sciences, social sciences and humanities. The college also offers curricula in interdisciplinary fields ranging from ethnic studies to interdepartmental studies.

Seven professional schools complete the academic program — Business Administration, Fine Arts, Journalism, Education, Forestry, Law, and Pharmacy and Allied Health Sciences.

The aim of the university is to provide its students with relaxing and meaningful learning experience with the best facilities possible. The administration, faculty and staff strive for this goal.

HEAD COACH DICK SCOTT

Dick Scott begins his 13th year as head coach of the University of Montana volleyball team. After 12 years at UM, he has posted a 244-197 record and nine 20-win seasons.

The Lady Griz are the only Big Sky team to advance to the conference playoffs each of the past eight seasons.

Before coming to Montana in 1978, Scott coached in California. From 1971 to 1978, he coached at Santa Monica Junior College. With 52 wins and only one loss in league play, his record there was 110-20.

While at Santa Monica J.C., Scott was also a graduate assistant for the UCLA team from 1970 to 1978. He earned his master's degree in Health and Physical Education there.

In addition, Scott taught physical education and general science at John Adams Junior High from 1970 to 1978.

Scott has had a vast amount of international experience.

He led the Maccabi Volleyball Club to two national open championships. In 1976 his team won the USVBA national championships and took second in the AAU nationals. In 1977 his team won the AAU national championships and took second in the USVBA nationals.

Between 1977 and 1979 he was the head coach for the U.S.A. Junior National team. In 1977 his team took third place at the Pacific Rim International tournament. In both 1978 and 1979 Scott's teams won the Pacific Rim championships. 1978 was the first time the United States won a Gold Medal in volleyball since the Pan-American Games in 1967.

In 1976 Scott was an assistant coach for the U.S.A. Junior National Team for the NORCECA Tournament. His team qualified for the World Junior Championships the following year.

Scott served as an assistant coach for the United States Olympic men's volleyball team when it participated in the U.S.A. Championship Series five summers ago.

He also served as an assistant coach for the Men's National Team in the 1981 World University Games in Rumania and the U.S.A. Cup in 1985. In the fall of 1976 Scott was the assistant coach of the U.S.A. National Team which defeated the Suntory Club from Japan, the first time an American team defeated a team from Japan.

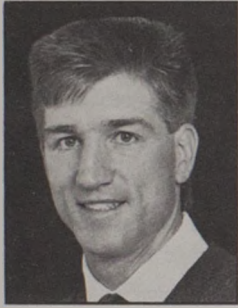

A native of Denton, Mont., the 47-year-old graduated with a B.S. in physical education in 1967 from Montana State University where he was on a basketball and track scholarship. Scott served in the Air Force from 1965 to 1969.

Most recently Scott was named the Outstanding Official for the state of Montana for his officiating of high school volleyball matches.

Dick and his wife, Mary, have three children: Jean, 18, Patty, 15 and Jack, 8.

Assistant Coach JERRY WAGNER

Jerry Wagner begins his third season as assistant coach under Dick Scott. His duties include assisting in all volleyball activities. He helps in recruiting, player counseling, fitness and health guidelines, budgeting and scheduling. He also assists in the development and direction of summer volleyball clinics and camps.

Before coming to UM, Wagner coached at Northern Montana College in Havre for four years. He began as an assistant coach in 1983, and after three years, he was named head coach for the NAIA volleyball program. As head coach in 1987, he led his team to a third-place finish in the Frontier Conference with a 22-14 record.

In 1988 Wagner was a USVBA (United States Volleyball Association) club coach for an all-star team in Havre.

Wagner also coached at Havre High School from 1984 to 1987 where he compiled a 74-54 record. His 1987 team finished fourth in the state Class "A" tournament.

Wagner graduated from Northern Montana College in 1986 with a degree in secondary education. An honors graduate, he is currently working on his master's degree in athletic administration.

Wagner was a 1979 graduate of Havre High where he competed in football, wrestling and tennis.

Most recently, the 29-year-old coached at the Olympic Festival tryouts in Minneapolis, Minn., last April.

Graduate Assistant MARI BROWN

Montana's co-MVP last season as a senior, Mari (MAR-eee) Brown will return to the court as a graduate assistant. She will assist in all aspects of volleyball including recruiting, scouting, conditioning and game strategy. Her unique experience at starter in all positions on the court (right-side hitter, left-side hitter and setter) will help guide her in her coaching career.

Last season Brown was a first team all-conference selection. The only senior on the team, she also received the Bobcat Award for her outstanding play against rival Montana State.

Brown ended her playing career with the Lady Griz as the best digger in Montana history with 1,249 career digs. She finished fourth in aces with 151 and fifth in assists with 1,355.

In 102 games, Brown led the Lady Griz last season in kills (3.38), digs (3.79) and service aces (36).

Team MVP as a junior, Brown was a first team all-conference selection and was ranked among the Big Sky leaders in kills (324), digs (340) and service aces (50).

Brown was a two-time Most Inspirational selection in 1986 and 1987, the only UM athlete to receive that honor her first two years in the program. As a sophomore she set a school record for digs in a single match with 35 against Montana State. She was chosen UM's Best Setter that year.

As a freshman, Brown was named UM's Outstanding Rookie, in addition to being the Most Inspirational as mentioned before.

At Shadle Park High School in Spokane, Brown led her team to two-straight Class "AAA" championships in 1984 and 1985, those teams each going 24-0 during the season. She was also a two-time Greater Spokane League MVP in those years.

In December, Brown will receive her bachelor's degree in elementary education with an emphasis in special education.

1990 OUTLOOK

On the heels of their best conference record ever (12-4), the University of Montana Lady Griz volleyball team has extremely high expectations for the new decade. With aspirations of a conference title and an ensuing victory in the NCAA playoffs, the Lady Griz begin the 1990 season with 10 letterwinners from last season's third-place team (21-10) and two in-state recruits.

"Our goals are indeed high this year," said 12-year head coach Dick Scott. "The competition will be extremely strong, but we are looking forward to the challenge."

The only Big Sky team to advance to the playoffs each of the last eight seasons, the Lady Griz are still looking for that conference crown.

Scott said he sees all the teams in the league as being significantly better this year. Conference champion Eastern Washington and runner-up Boise State lost some strong players, but both teams had an excellent recruiting year.

"Idaho State will be picked as number one or two in the preseason poll," Scott said. "And I believe Nevada-Reno and Montana State will be the most improved teams in the league."

With a sub par performance at the conference tournament last year, the spring season was critical for the team to regroup and become physically and mentally stronger.

"We had the best spring season we've ever had," Scott said, "and we have good depth at every position."

With 13 players vying for starting positions, the desire to achieve success is evident. The Lady Griz have a better understanding of what needs to be done to accomplish some lofty goals.

"We need more consistent passing and serve reception," Scott said. "However, we do good things defensively. We touch a lot of balls, and we have the potential to block very well at times."

Leading the Lady Griz into the new decade will be UM's Outstanding Rookie and Most Inspirational, 6-0 sophomore Jennifer Moran. The Big Sky co-Freshman of the Year, Moran is an exceptional team-oriented player. A potential All-American candidate, she is the leading returnee in kills, averaging 3.35 per game.

Another team leader is senior Jennifer Pinkerton. Montana's Outstanding Hitter last season, the 6-1 middle blocker holds the record for best hitting percentage at .300. She averages 2.26 kills and 1.18 digs per game.

Other players at the middle blocking position include 6-1 senior Anne Tarleton, 6-2 junior Colleen Jantz and freshman newcomer Heidi Williams. Jantz was UM's Most Improved Player and Outstanding Blocker last season, averaging 1.71 kills and 1.27 blocks per game.

Tarleton was hindered by a shoulder injury during last season, however, she averaged 1.91 kills, 1.06 digs and 1.02 blocks per game. She needs to strengthen her right shoulder before she'll be back in full force.

A Missoula native, Heidi Williams was Montana's first full-ride in-state scholarship winner. Voted the team MVP, Outstanding Hitter and Outstanding Blocker, the 5-11 Big Sky High prep star averaged 4.43 kills and 5.29 blocks per game for her team.

Joining Williams on the newcomer list is 5-8 freshman Sarah Hurlburt. The outside hitter from Billings was also chosen team MVP but, in addition, was selected the Outstanding Offensive Player and the Most Inspirational at Billings West High. She averaged 3.7 kills, 1.6 digs and 1.0 blocks per game for her team.

Three other outside hitters, all of them juniors, join Moran and Hurlburt: 5-9 Angie Bellinger, 5-8 Kathy Young and 5-8 Kata Faha.

"Angie is our best pure athlete, and we have high expectations of her," Scott said. Bellinger leads the team in digs at 2.91 per game, and she averages 2.69 kills per game.

Selected UM's Outstanding Backcourt Hitter last season, Kathy Young averages 2.12 digs per game and is the best jump server on the team.

"Kathy is probably our second best pure athlete," Scott said, "which certainly makes this position quite solid."

UM's only redshirt last season, Kate Faha saw limited action on the court, but according to Scott, she has, "made vast improvements during the spring season and will give us solid depth at this position."

UM's two right-side hitters include 6-1 senior Cyndee Jones and 6-1 sophomore Tricia Lake.

"Both of these girls have the potential to dominate the net," Scott said. "This will be an extremely competitive position for us."

The position of setter is of utmost importance to Scott and his team. "The setter makes almost as many decisions as the coach does," Scott said. "She is the one who motivates the others."

Two excellent players contending for the position are senior Erin Parks and junior Ann Schwenke. UM's best defensive player at this time, Parks averaged 1.6 digs per game. The 5-8 Missoula native played in 47 percent of last season's games.

At 5-6, Schwenke is the smallest player on the team, but her 10.92 assists per game won her last season's Outstanding Setter nomination. She was also chosen UM's co-MVP and had a school record of 98 assists against Weber State last season.

"We're more balanced this year," Scott said. "We have a better team attitude and more confidence."

Confidence is what is needed when the Lady Griz match up with pre-season powers Notre Dame, Brigham Young, Santa Clara and Washington State.

"We're hoping for success when we go against teams we're not expected to beat," Scott said. Other non-conference opponents include Mississippi, Utah, Utah State, Gonzaga and Eastern Montana College. Montana begins conference action September 14 against Eastern Washington in Missoula.

UM's season opener is the Washington State Invitational August 31 in Pullman, Wash.

Understanding Volleyball

Spike: An aggressive attack by the hitter, swinging the arm directly over the shoulder and contacting the heel of the hand and aggressively snapping the wrist over the top of the ball. The tipping motion, a soft contact of the ball, is also considered a spike.

Pass: This is normally the first contact after the ball passes the net on an opponent's serve. The object is to get the ball to the setter in order to set one of the hitters. The ideal position is to have a stable platform with the forearms together. The ball should recoil off the platform, hitting both arms simultaneously. A dig is similar in form to a pass, but is usually the return of a spiked ball.

Block: The first line of defense in volleyball. Blocking is an attempt to intercept a spiked ball on the opponent's side of the net. The blocker is allowed to reach as far over the net as possible without touching the net. The block must occur after the spiker has contacted the ball.

Dive: One of the recovery skills. This is basically a gymnastics maneuver to save the body after the ball has been contacted. The players catch themselves with their hands and slide to dissipate the force of the ball. The dive is used in emergency situations when the player can't get the ball up from the normal platform stance.

Serve: The method with which the ball is put into play. The team can only score after it has served the ball so this is a crucial offensive weapon. The most common serve in power volleyball is the knuckleball. The ball moves in an unpredictable path, making it hard to receive and pass to the setter. The ideal motion is to toss the ball high in front of the contacting shoulder and contact the ball with the heel of the hand and recoil off the ball. It is important not to snap the wrist on the serve.

Set: An overhead pass which is put above the net for the spiker to attack. The ball is set simultaneously from the finger pads of both hands. The ball can never rest on the palms and the follow-through is directly towards the area where the ball was set. (All photos on this page by Howard Skaggs.)

Official Hand Signals

EXPLANATIONS

(Number refers to corresponding diagram)

1. This signal indicates which team possesses the ball after it has been blown dead.
6. This signal normally occurs when players at the net are blocking the spike attempt. It indicates that the blocker did touch the spike attempt.
8. The ball must clearly pass inside the antennae on the net located directly above the sidelines. If the ball or a portion of the ball crosses the net outside the antennae, a violation occurs. A server must be clearly behind the end line before contacting the ball.
9. Unless the first contact is a block attempt, only three hits are allowed on each side of the net. A violation is called on the fourth contact.
10. A player is not allowed to cross the two-inch center line. Stepping on the line is legal.
11. These are all ballhandling violations.
12. The ball can be contacted only once in a single attempt. This call is often made during serve receptions when the ball contacts one arm and then the other arm or another part of the body.
13. The ball cannot legally contact any part of the body below the waist.
17. The ball must clearly be tossed in the air before contact is made on the serve.
18. The server has five seconds to put the ball in play once the official blows the whistle.
21. No player or players from the serving team can obstruct the view of the serve receiving team. No back row player can make a blocking attempt at the net.
22. Before the ball is served all players must be in proper position relative to the players directly beside them or directly behind them. This violation is often called when the back row setter releases to the front before the ball is contacted by the server.
23. A player cannot reach over the net to spike a ball. There must clearly be a portion of the ball on the spiker's side of the net before the attempt is legal. This is also true concerning the block attempt. A blocker cannot contact the ball before the spiker has hit the ball on her side of the net.
24. No back row player can jump above the plane of the net in front of the three-meter line and spike, bump or set the ball over the net.
25. This is the same as a technical foul in basketball.

Bellinger is a strong left-side hitter. With a vertical jump of almost 33 inches, she is the strongest jumper on the team. She played in 70 games last season averaging 2.69 kills and 2.91 digs per game. She was third in kills per game last season and fourth in digs. She is ninth in digs at Montana with 393 career digs. Bellinger was chosen the team's Most Improved Player as a freshman in 1988.

Bellinger came to UM from Ferris High where she was a two-time Greater Spokane League all-conference selection and the league MVP as a senior.

"Angie had some really good matches last season, but she also had somewhat of an up-and-down year," Scott said. "She is our best all-around athlete, and we expect her to come in strong next year as a starter. We expect great things from Angie. She is more of a veteran this year."

A psychology/sociology major, Bellinger is the daughter of Gary and Gail Bellinger of Spokane. She was born June 16, 1970.
