Call it tradition . . .
Call it success . . .
Call it winning . . .
“We call it program.”
The University of Montana ranks 16th in the nation among the 2,400 eligible colleges and universities in production of Rhodes Scholars. UM ranks 4th among schools west of the Mississippi. Rhodes Scholarships provide two to four years at Oxford University in England. Students are chosen on the basis of scholarship, community involvement, political involvement, athletic ability and personal character.

The Yellow Bay Biological Station, located about 70 miles northeast of Missoula on Flathead Lake, is the nation's oldest inland station. Among some 70 inland units in the United States, the UM ranks fifth for its program facilities and student population.

KUFM, a noncommercial public radio station operated by the radio-television department of the School of Journalism, is the only National Public Radio station in Montana.

University of Montana education majors compete very successfully for jobs with 93 percent of those with bachelor's degrees and 100 percent of those with graduate degrees finding appropriate positions.

The Department of Social Work is fully accredited by the Council on Social Work Education and is the only Montana school that assures its graduates of a year of advanced standing in graduate schools of social work.

The School of Journalism has had 17 of its students selected as Sears Congressional interns — more than any other journalism school in the country. During the four-month internship, students work for a United States Congressman or Senator and also attend classes.

The Department of Art enjoys a national reputation for excellence in ceramics.

The Department of Drama/Dance has a professional theater group — the Montana Repertory Theater — based on campus. The Montana Repertory Theater, which tours throughout the Northwest, is the only professional Actors Equity company between Minneapolis and Seattle.

University of Montana student has been chosen to receive a Truman Scholarship for three of the last four years. The national scholarship is given annually to students committed to a government career who have superior academic ability and leadership potential.

The Department of Anthropology has the largest collection of artifacts and records of pre-history in the region.

Nearly 47 percent of the Business School's accounting graduates pass the Certified Public Accountant Exam on their first try. This is more than three times the national first-time success rate of 14 percent.

The Department of Geology has an outstanding national reputation in cooperation with Purdue University, a field station has been set up in southwestern Montana. The department also provides hands-on experience for students in the minerals, rocks and paleontology laboratories at the University's Seismic Station and in the Earthquake Research Laboratory. The Department of Geography has one of the region's best cartography laboratories where students learn to make maps and interpret aerial photography.

The Department of Health and Physical Education is one of a handful in the country that trains students to be athletic trainers. And it is the only program in the state to offer a master of science in physical education.

The Native American Studies program at the University of Montana is regarded by Indian educators as one of the four most outstanding in the nation.

Newly remodeled training facilities in the Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders are some of the finest in the region. People from all over the state come to the center for speech, language and hearing therapy.

The first gold discovery in Montana was at Gold Creek, southeast of Missoula by Francois Finlay in 1850. The Gold Creek area was later mined for gold in 1862 by Jesse and Granville Stuart and Reese Anderson.

The University of Montana in Missoula is located in a mountain forest setting in beautiful Western Montana. It is halfway between Glacier and Yellowstone national parks.

Four wilderness areas are located nearby Missoula. The natural surroundings offer excellent opportunities for hunting, fishing, backpacking, river floating, camping and other outdoor recreational pursuits. Two excellent winter ski areas are located within minutes of the University. Several other ski areas are only a couple of hours away by car. UM owns and operates its own golf course adjacent to campus.

The University of Montana is one of the West's pioneers in education and was chartered February 17, 1893. The school opened in September, 1895, with 50 students enrolling the first day. Located on 201 acres at the base of Mount Sentinel, UM has grown from 50 students and seven faculty members to a present enrollment of 8,800 and approximately 450 fulltime state supported faculty positions.

Throughout its history, the University of Montana has sustained a high standard of academic excellence in teaching, research and service.

UM offers associate of arts degrees in two areas and bachelor's degrees in 58 fields. It offers master's degrees in 54 programs and doctoral degrees in 13.

The College of Arts and Sciences, which is the core of the University, includes a full range of programs and courses in the life sciences, physical sciences, social sciences and humanities. The College also offers curricula in interdisciplinary fields ranging from ethnic studies to interdepartmental studies.

Seven professional schools complete the academic program—Business Administration, Fine Arts, Journalism, Education, Forestry, Law, Pharmacy and Allied Health Sciences.

The aim of the University is to provide its students with a relaxing and meaningful learning experience with the best facilities possible. The administration, faculty and staff strive for this goal.

A 1964 graduate of UM with an M.S. in health, physical education and recreation, Lewis became track and cross country coach at UM in 1966. Prior to assuming coaching responsibilities at UM, the 1959 graduate of Butte High School coached two years at the University of Portland.

Lewis served as cross country coach until 1976 and won nine Big Sky titles until resigning the position. He served as track coach through the 1978 season. While track coach, Lewis won the conference title in 1972. He has been named Big Sky Coach of the Year in cross country and track, ten times. He has served on numerous national committees, worked with U.S. Olympic endeavors and coached several All-American performers at Montana.
Mike Montgomery begins his fourth season as head coach at the University of Montana, and his sixth as a Grizzly coach. He served as an assistant coach at UM prior to becoming the head coach.

Mike has taken the Grizzlies to the Big Sky Conference’s postseason playoffs all three of his seasons as head coach. The last two seasons the Grizzlies have been the runnerup in the tournament and a quest for a berth in the NCAA Regionals.

He is the first coach in Montana history to win 50 games in his first three season and has a career mark of 50-33. His winning percentage (.660) is the best in the school’s 72-year history.

“Monty’s” 1980-81 record of 19-9 is the sixth best in the school’s history. His record was 17-11 in the previous season and 14-13 his first year. His 17-11 mark was the seventh best in UM history.

Montgomery has 11 years of major college coaching experience. He served as an assistant coach at Boise State for three seasons before coming to UM. He has also had coaching stints at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy, Colorado State, the Citadel and the University of Florida.

“Basically our offense is designed to get the high percentage shot, depending on the capabilities of our personnel,” Montgomery said. “That shot changes from year-to-year, from inside to outside.”

“The highest percentage shot comes out of the fast break, so we do emphasize the break in our offensive development,” he continued. “Regardless of our offensive talent, defense has to be the emphasis in our program. We take great pride in our defense, and we want our opponent to only take low percentage shots. We strive for consistent, hard-nosed defense.”

Montgomery is a 1968 graduate of Long Beach State and is a native of Long Beach, Calif. He played basketball for the 49ers and was a starter. He earned a masters degree in Physical Education from Colorado State.

His wife’s name is Sarah.
Assistant Coaches

Stew Morrill is in his fourth season as the number one Grizzly assistant in charge of recruiting and scheduling. He was an assistant coach at former Big Sky Conference member Gonzaga University for three years.

He was an All-Big Sky center at Gonzaga his senior year in 1973-74, and was named team captain and Most Valuable Player for the Bulldogs that season.

Prior to playing at the four-year level he participated in basketball at Ricks College, where he averaged 23 points a game as a sophomore and was named a JC All-American.

He played pro basketball in Europe for a Division I team in Bordeaux, France, after his graduation from Gonzaga in 1974. After a few months with the team he was named player-coach.

From Provo, Utah, Morrill earned nine letters in basketball, football and track at Provo High School.

The 29-year-old is single.

Morrill was the number one coaching assistant at Gonzaga for three years, and was the school’s recruiting coordinator for two seasons. He was a graduate assistant for the Bulldogs for one season.

Bob Niehl
Assistant Coach

BobNiehl begins his second season on the Grizzly staff. He joined the basketball program in August of 1980. He assists in varsity coaching, along with scouting and recruiting, as well as supervising the Grizzly junior varsity program.

Before coming to Montana he served as a parttime coach for head coach George Raveling at Washington State University in Pullman. At WSU he was head coach of the JVs, and assisted in varsity scouting and recruiting in 1978-79-80. He has also had a lot of experience coordinating basketball camps.

Bob also served as a graduate assistant at WSU for a season. From 1975-77 he was the head basketball and girl’s and boy’s track coach at Sprague High School in Sprague, Washington.

He was a standout athlete at WSU, where he was a three-year letterman in basketball and team captain his senior season. He was a seven-foot high jumper for the Cougars, and qualified for the NCAAs all four of his collegiate seasons. He is a 1970 graduate of Bethel High School in Spanaway, Washington, where he was also a basketball and track star.

Niehl is a 1975 graduate of WSU, receiving a B.S. in physical education.

The 30-year-old is single.
Kelly Arkell begins his second season as head junior varsity basketball coach at the University of Montana. He guided the Grizzlies to a 5-3 overall record during the 1980-81 season.

"Kelly is now in his second year in the Grizzly program, and he knows our system well, and is teaching the junior varsity team the ins and outs of our program," said head coach Mike Montgomery.

"He did a very good job for us last year, and communicates well with the players," Montgomery said. "We are delighted to have him in the program for another year."

Arkell, 25, is from Tacoma, Washington, where he was a basketball and baseball standout at Washington High School. He graduated from there in 1974. He was team captain his senior year in basketball.

Prior to coaching at UM he was junior varsity basketball coach at Sumner High School in Sumner, Washington for three seasons. All three were winning seasons; in his last season he was 16-4. His overall coaching record there was 36-24.

He is a 1978 graduate of Washington State University. He received his B.S. in Physical Education.

Arkell is single.

Blaine Taylor

JV Coach

A Missoula product, Blaine Taylor was one of the outstanding players at the University of Montana in recent years. This is his first year as a Grizzly coach.

Taylor was a Big Sky Conference honorable mention selection as a junior and a senior. He was named to the conference post-season all-tourney team last year.

He is the No. 17 career scorer in Grizzly history with 753 points. Taylor was also known for his passing and ball-handling skills. He was on a record-setting pace for assists last season until he was sidelined for five games with an injury. He finished the season with 102 assists in 23 games, for a 4.4 average.

He was Montana's leading scorer in five games in 1980-81, including a team and game-high 21 points in UM's 85-64 win over Montana State in the first game of the Big Sky tournament.

"Blaine should be an outstanding coach, based on the contribution he made to Grizzly basketball during his career," Montgomery said. "He has good knowledge of the game and understands Grizzly basketball and its traditions."

Taylor was an all-state player at Hellgate High School for three years. He was the state "AA" MVP as a senior.

Blaine's wife's name is Annie Marie. They have a one-and-a-half-year-old daughter, Amber Lee.
1981-82 Grizzlies: Accent Is On Youth

The accent was on youth this fall when fourth-year basketball coach Mike Montgomery put his team through its first drills of the 1981-82 season.

Montgomery, who has brought the Grizzlies to the Big Sky Conference's postseason playoffs every season as head coach, will have two returning starters and 10 lettermen off a team which was 19-9 overall and 11-3 (tied for second) in the conference.

Montana will have no seniors, three juniors, seven sophomores and three freshmen on its 13-man roster.

"Our areas of concern are leadership, both physical and mental toughness and rebounding," Montgomery said. "The key could be how quickly we adjust to one another. We need to learn each others strengths, play team basketball and use those strengths collectively."

The Grizzlies lost five seniors off its second place Big Sky team, three of whom started. The other two averaged almost 20 minutes per game.

"We lost more than anyone in the conference as far as experience is concerned," Montgomery said. "Our non-conference schedule will be very important for us and answer a lot of questions personnel-wise."

The Grizzlies two returning starters are juniors. Craig Larsen, a 6-11 center from Aurora, Colo. and Derrick Pope, a 6-6 forward, also from Aurora, are the starters who are back. Despite coming from the same city, Larsen prepped at Aurora Central, while Pope attended rival Smoky Hill.

Larsen started in 22 games for Montana, averaging 6 points and 3.6 rebounds a game. Perhaps his finest game was in UM's final regular-season win, a 63-58 victory over Montana State, in which he hauled down 10 rebounds and scored the last 10 points. Larsen averaged a blocked shot a game, finishing with 28.

Pope was UM's No. 3 scorer (7 ppg) and rebounder (4.3) last season. He led UM in rebounding in seven games. He played in 26 games and started in 21 of them. He had 17 blocked shots.

A pair of sophomores appear to have the inside track at replacing graduated starting guards Craig Zanon and Blaine Taylor, both who were named to the Big Sky all-tourney team last season. The players are Marc Glass and Doug Selvig.

Glass played in all 28 Grizzly games last season and started in six of them. He was UM's fourth-leading scorer, averaging 6.4 points a game.

Selvig averaged 3.1 points and 1.7 rebounds in 17 games. He started once.

The other junior on the roster is 6-7 Brian Morris, an all-stater at Sentinel High in Missoula. Morris averaged 2.7 points a game in 15 games, and has been moved to forward this season, although he could play guard too.

Another player who will be hard to keep out of the lineup is Anaconda product Rob Hurley, a 6-4½ forward. The sophomore averaged 3.1 points and 1.8 rebounds in 10 games last year.

Redshirt Jim Caler, a 6-6 forward, will also be vying for playing time and a possible starting berth.

The remaining Grizzly lettermen are sophomores Ron Brumfield, redshirt Dave Johnson and DJ Johnson.

"All three of our recruits have the ability to contribute as freshmen," Montgomery said. "A lot depends on how they adapt to our system and compete at the major collegiate level."

On the Big Sky Montgomery said, "Idaho returns the bulk of its championship team. Reno had a good recruiting year and returning talent. Idaho State has four of five starters back and should be improved."

The Grizzlies have led the Big Sky in defense the last 10 seasons in-a-row. UM broke its own conference record last season, allowing only 60.1 points per game.

HEAD COACH: Mike Montgomery
ASSISTANT COACHES: Stew Morrill, Bob Niehl

TRAINER: Naseby Rhinehart
MANAGER: Wayne Robertson
A returning starter for the Grizzlies, Craig Larsen must have a good year for the Grizzlies to be successful in 1981-82. He showed that he had recovered from ankle problems that he had his freshman season, playing in 28 games, and starting in 22 last year.

Although he is a junior, Larsen played very few minutes his first season because of his ankles. He played in only 8 games that season (see stats below).

However, the 1980-81 season of a year ago was another story. Craig was the No. 5 scorer for the Grizzlies, averaging six points a game. He was the fifth leading rebounder as well, averaging 3.6 a game.

Larsen was one of the top shot blockers in the Big Sky Conference. He had 28, averaging one per game, and ranked 7th in the conference, and led the Grizzlies.

"Craig is a returning starter and came on steadily last season," said Grizzly coach Mike Montgomery. "He was a significant factor for us late in the year. He is a very intense player and a good leader. Craig has fine offensive tools."

Larsen led UM in rebounding in four games, and had a season and career-high 10 in a 63-58 win over Montana State in Missoula late in the season.

"Craig must have a good year for us to be successful," Montgomery said. "He needs to improve his defense and rebounding, but has been a very hard worker in the off-season since he has been here. He wants to be a player."

Larsen was all-state one year and all conference twice at Aurora Central High School. He was a two-year letterman in basketball and team captain his senior season. His coach was Bryon Bookhart.

His hobbies are fishing and backpacking. His nickname is "Lars."

He is a Geology major.

Craig's parents are Ray and Hilda Larsen of Aurora.

Birthdate: April 1, 1960.

By far the most experienced player on the team this season, Derrick Pope started in 21 of 26 games last season and played in 25 games as a freshman.

A Dahlberg Arena crowd-pleaser, Pope is an outstanding jumper, scorer and all-around player. He is the top returning scorer from last season, and was third on the team in '80-81 with a seven points per game average. He was also the third-leading rebounder last season (4.3).

He led the team in scoring against Northern Colorado with 16 points, and led the team in rebounding in six games. A very good percentage shooter, Pope hit on 52.9 percent of his field goal attempts and 70.6 percent on free throws. He also shot very well as a freshman (45.9 percent from the floor and 80 percent from the field). He had 17 blocked shots, which ranked him third on the team.

"Derrick has unlimited potential," said coach Mike Montgomery. "He is a fine jumper and has a very good shooting touch. He has steadily improved at forward after playing center in high school."

"He is a player who needs to have an outstanding year for us to be successful," Montgomery continued. "Derrick needs to be more consistent and find the confidence in himself that we have in him."

Pope showed he was a clutch player as a freshman, making two free throws in the closing seconds to upend San Jose State, 74-72 in overtime in San Jose.

Derrick was an all-state and all conference player at Smoky Hill High School in Aurora. He led the league in rebounding and blocked shots as a senior. He played only two years of organized basketball before coming to UM.

Selected as his prep teams' Most Improved Player as a junior and senior, Derrick was coached by Dick Cozza.

He is a General Studies major.

His hobbies are reading and attending movies. His nickname is "D."

Derrick's parents are Cesar and Dorothy Pope of Aurora.

John Bates
Freshman from Covallis, Oregon

A two-time All-State player in Oregon, John Bates has excellent potential, according to Grizzly coach Mike Montgomery.

"John is a 6-7 forward with good quickness for his size, great hands and a fine shooter," Montgomery said. "He just needs a little strength to be an outstanding basketball player in the Big Sky Conference. He was well-coached in high school (Mike Doherty was his coach) and played in a winning program."

Bates averaged 18 points and 7.5 rebounds a game as a senior for the Corvallis High Spartans this past season. His team was 20-4 overall and won the Valley League title with a 16-2 record. He connected on 58.5 percent of his shots from the field.

He was a first team All-State selection his junior and senior seasons. He was also all-league both those seasons. He was named first team in the state tournament as a junior, and second team as a senior.

His junior season the Spartans won the Oregon "AAA" state championship, and had an impressive 25-1 record. He averaged 16 points a game that season.

A three-year varsity letterman in basketball, Bates’ Corvallis teams compiled a 65-12 overall record during his prep career. Other honors include selection to the Basketball Congress International team (B.C.I.), and he was also named to the State Metro All-Star Team in Oregon. Bates’ major is Business.

His hobbies are music and the outdoors.
His parents are Clancy and Betty Bates of Corvallis.
Birthdate: June 18, 1963.

Ron Brumfield
Sophomore from San Jose, California

Ron Brumfield (pronounced Brr-Ruhm-Field) gained valuable collegiate playing experience last season, playing for the UM junior varsity squad, which had a 5-3 record.

Ron started all eight JV games, and was coach Kelly Arkell’s second-leading scorer, averaging 17.6 points a game. He led the team in scoring in two games, and scored 28 in one contest. He led the team in rebounding, averaging 12 a game, and had a game-high 18 against Montana State.

He played in six varsity games, scoring eight points and grabbed six rebounds.

"Ron is a good shooter with a good touch, and a very intelligent player," Montgomery said. "He should be able to help us at both forward positions, particularly if he gets stronger, and can help us at the strong forward spot."

League (Santa Teresa) MVP at Willow Glen High School in San Jose, he was also first team Central Coast Section as a senior. His prep team was 25-5 that season, and he was coached by Bob Burton, who is now the head coach at West Valley Junior College in California.

Ron averaged 20 points and 10 rebounds a game as a prep. He earned three letters in basketball and two in tennis.

His major is undeclared.
His hobbies are fishing and hunting. His nickname is “Brooms.”
Ron’s parents are James and Bernadine Brumfield of Incline Village, Nevada.
Birthdate: October 6, 1962.

"Jim needs to utilize his abilities," said Montgomery. "He's got tremendous speed, shoots the ball very well, is very physical and has a lot of attributes you look for in a basketball player. We are counting on him to give us some valuable playing time."

Caler led the JVs in scoring twice, scoring a team-high 19 points in a win over the Helena All-Stars. He had 17 rebounds in one JV contest.

He was all-state, MVP of the Jefferson County League, a member of the Colorado All-Star team, and All-Metro at Bear Creek High School in Lakewood, Colorado.

Bruce Burns
6-5¼, 195, Forward
Sophomore from Pittsburg, California

A transfer from Humboldt State, Bruce Burns will redshirt during the 1981-82 season, and then have three seasons remaining in the Grizzly program.

He was a starter at Humboldt State as a freshman, and named his team's Most Improved and Most Valuable Player.

He prepped at Pittsburg High School, where he was a basketball letterman twice and team captain his senior season. He also lettered in track. He was an all-conference player for coach Pete Richardson at PHS. His high school team twice won league titles.

"Bruce has outstanding physical skills and should be a fine addition to our program after his redshirt year," Montgomery said. "He is an especially good jumper, and the redshirt year should help him to adjust to our system."

Not only did Pittsburg HS win two league championships, but it also placed second in the North Coast twice during Burns' junior and senior seasons.

His hobby is listening to music.

Bruce's major is Radio/Television. His nickname is "Broughan."

His parents are Joe and Bettye Burns of Pittsburg.

Marc glass

Sophomore from

Battle Ground, Washington

The Grizzlies' third most experienced player, Marc Glass started in six games, and played in all 28. He made the best of his starts, making the KOA Classic all-tournament team, and against Maine-Orono in the Champion Holiday Classic I, he made a driving layup for the winning basket with time running out.

He logged 619 minutes of playing time—more than either returning starter Craig Larsen or Derrick Pope. He was the No. 3 scorer on the team averaging 6.4 a game.

Glass is a good percentage shooter, especially from the free throw line, where he made 52 of 66 shots (78.8 percent).

"Marc is physically very talented and a hard worker," Montgomery said. "He is an excellent outside shooter with great range and a tough player inside. He needs to assume a leadership role, left vacant by graduation."

An injury (shoulder) redshirt as a UM freshman, Glass averaged 26 points a game at Battle Ground High School. He also lettered in golf four times and cross country once. He was basketball team captain as a senior, league MVP, all-state and all conference that season too. His coach was Butch Blue.

He is a Business Administration major.

His hobbies are water skiing and golf. His nickname is "Glasser."

His father is Earl Glass of Battle Ground. His mother is Joanne Tarmichael of Vancouver.

Rob Hurley

6-4½, 195, Forward

Sophomore from

Anaconda, Montana

A scrappy competitor with an outstanding shooting touch, Rob Hurley will be battling for a starting berth at forward this season.

Hurley led the JV team in scoring, averaging 21 points a game. He was the third leading rebounder (9.3), first in field goal percentage (55.6) and second in free throw percentage (81.8). He led the Cubs in scoring in four games, including 30 in one.

At the varsity level he played in 10 games, averaging 3.1 points and 1.8 rebounds a game.

"Rob showed tremendous improvement in the spring time," Montgomery said. "We expect him to compete for a starting position. He has a tremendous outside shooting touch, and is a good passer. Probably his biggest asset is his competitiveness and the fact that he is a hard-nosed player."

Anaconda finished third in the state his senior season. That year he averaged 27.3 points and 11.3 rebounds a game. Hurley was the Class "AA" State MVP in Montana as a senior at Anaconda High School. He was a three-year starter for the Copperheads.

Rob is a Health, Physical Education major.

His hobbies are fishing and hunting. His nickname is "Rocket."

His parents are Robert and Dorothy Hurley of Anaconda.

Dave "DJ" Johnson

Dave “DJ” Johnson has the ability to play “lead” or “big” guard for the Grizzlies. He started in all eight JV games last year and averaged 14.5 points a game (fourth).

He led the Cubs in assists, averaging 6.1 a game. He also led the team in blocks (4) and was second in steals (12). He had a team-high 22 points in a JV victory.

“DJ is an excellent passer with good court vision and has the ability to run the club,” Montgomery said. “He is very good on the fast break and understands our offense, which allows him to play either guard position. He needs to improve his defense to become a complete player. We are looking for valuable playing time from him this year.”

Johnson was a second team All-Los Angeles pick as a senior at Washington High School. He was also a first team all league choice, and played for the Watts Magician Basketball Congress International All-Star team.

He averaged 18 points, 10 assists and five rebounds a game in high school. He was a three-year starter as a prep. His coach was Andy Davis. He was team captain his senior year.

He is a General Studies major.

His hobbies are fishing, skating, dancing, softball and jazz.

DJ’s mother is Bobbie Mamon of Los Angeles.

Dave Johnson averaged 8 rebounds in 11 junior varsity games in 1979-80 to lead the team in that category. The JV team finished with a 7-4 record. He averaged seven points a game.

“Coming off a redshirt year, this year Dave will be thrust into a position that he has to help us,” Montgomery said. “He has great court speed, good quickness and good hands. He is also a quick jumper. He has the tools to get the job done, but he needs to believe in himself and have the confidence to battle with other Big Sky centers.”

Johnson played in six varsity games, scoring three points in 1979-80. He led the JV team in rebounding three times and had 15 in one game.

His Rowland Heights High School team was undefeated and the Montview League champions two seasons ago. A two-year letterman in high school, Dave averaged 15.7 points and 13 rebounds per game. As a prep he was team MVP, All-San Gabriel Valley and All-Sierra League. His coach was Chris Richey.

He is a Business Management major.

His hobby is fishing. His nickname is “Ralph.”

Dave’s parents are Ralph and Patricia Johnson of Rowland Heights.

Larry McBride
6-10, 240, Center
Freshman from Anchorage, Alaska

One of the top players in the Northwest last year, Larry McBride should be a Grizzly standout in the future.

McBride, from East Anchorage High School, was the Alaska state MVP this past season. His Thunderbird team went 23-1, and McBride averaged 19 points and 14 rebounds per game to lead them to the state championship.

“We are extremely happy to have Larry McBride in the Grizzly basketball program,” Montgomery said. “He is a very strong player, who plays hard. Larry is an outstanding addition to our team. We think he will continue in the tradition of outstanding post players at the University of Montana.”

Not only was McBride a first team all-state player this season, but he has been an all-state selection since his sophomore year. He was first team as a junior and second team as a sophomore. He was also an all-conference choice three times. During his varsity career at East Anchorage McBride’s teams compiled an impressive 67-5 overall record. The freshman team he played on was 19-1.

An outstanding shooter for a big man, he shot 70 percent from the field and 70 percent from the free throw line as well.

His major is undecided.

His hobbies are hunting and fishing. His nickname is “Mac.”

His parents are Wilbur and Doris McBride of Anchorage.

Brian Morris
6-7, 180, Guard/Forward
Junior from Missoula, Montana

The Grizzlies will need valuable playing time from Brian Morris this season. He has been moved from tall guard to quick forward.

He played in 15 varsity games last season, and 11 as a freshman. His sophomore season Morris scored 41 points, including a career-high 10 in a win over Portland State.

“Brian is a very good outside shooter and has the quickness to play quick forward or big guard,” Montgomery said. “He is one of three or four players who have to assume responsibility with the loss of our seniors. His attitude is a big plus. He wants to be a player. Brian will probably play at both forward and guard.”

As a freshman at UM Brian led the JV team in scoring with a 12.7 average.

He was twice an all-state player at Missoula’s Sentinel High School, where he was coached by Bob Luoma. He averaged 19.3 points a game and 12.7 rebounds. He was also a member of the High School Coaches All-American team, and on the Montana All-Star squad. Morris was a three-year letterman for the Spartans and team captain as a senior. He was the state “AA” scoring leader as a senior.

He is a Business Administration major.

His hobbies are golf, tennis, water skiing and fishing. Nickname is “Merc.”

Brian’s parents are Charles and Patricia Morris of Missoula.

Doug Selvig is the only other returning player with a varsity start under his belt. He started in the KOA Classic game against Cal-Irvine, an opponent in the Champion Holiday Classic II (see page 27) this season.

Doug played in 17 varsity games as a freshman, scoring 54 points for a 3.2 average. He had 29 rebounds and 28 assists in 235 minutes of action. He scored 35 points in a JV game.

"Doug was a victim of lack of playing time due to two senior guards," Montgomery said; "but he has the ability to be an outstanding Big Sky guard. His biggest asset is a pair of outstanding hands, which allow him to do a lot with a basketball. Doug will be asked to come a long way quickly, make the adjustment to guard (he played guard-forward-center as a prep), and handle a lot of responsibility."

He was the Class "C" MVP as a senior at Outlook High School. He was also all-state, all-district, all-region and all-conference. His 1980 prep team was 23-3 and won the state title. His prep coach was Rollie Sullivan.

Doug's brother, Robin, was a former All-Big Sky player for the Grizzlies, and his sister, Sandy, was a standout for the Lady Griz team.

He is a General Studies major.

His hobbies are hunting, fishing and softball. His nickname is "Smoogie."

Doug's parents are Roald and Agnes Selvig of Outlook.

Leroy Washington
6-0, 180, Guard
Freshman from Long Beach, California

A top-notch ball-handler and passer, Leroy Washington could see a lot of action this season at lead guard. He has all the skills needed to be a team leader, according to Montgomery.

A 6-0, 175-pound lead guard, Washington was the quarterback for his Long Beach Poly High School Jackrabbits — a team which won the prestigious CIF Championships this past season.

The Ron Palmer-coached team finished with a 26-2 record overall, and won its last 20 games in-a-row. Long Beach Poly won the CIF title game against Marcos High (the final was 65-63) on a 14-foot jump shot by Washington in the closing seconds.

"Leroy played on a team which won the CIF championship and that's quite a feat," Montgomery said. "He's a winner as a player and as a person. He's extremely quick, and an outstanding ball-handler. He also comes from one of the best high school programs in the country."

Washington averaged six points, three rebounds and eight assists his senior season. This past year he was also named to the All-City squad, and was an honorable mention all-league selection. He was a two-year starter on the basketball team, and a catcher on the baseball team.

He is a Communications major.

His hobbies are fishing, tennis and jazz. Nickname is "Elroy."

His parents are Levi and Martha Washington of Long Beach.
THE 6TH “MAN” . . .

. . . IS PART OF THE GRIZZLIES WINNING TRADITION
Naseby “Doc” Rhinehart. Missoula, Montana. The University of Montana and Grizzly athletics. You can lump them all together, because they are one in the same.

Nase, as he is affectionately called by administrators, coaches, athletes, and Montanans has been at UM since 1931. He recently announced the 1981-82 athletic season will be his last year at the school. (He also made that statement last year, only to celebrate his 70th birthday in his office, across from the UM training room).

Born May 6, 1911 to Wesley and Crawford Rhinehart on a plantation in Georgia, Naseby and his parents, two brothers and six sisters moved to Milwaukee when he was four years old.

It was in Milwaukee that he learned his athletic skills and would later bring those wares to the collegiate level and UM. His Lincoln High School football team won city titles in 1928 and 1929 and in 1928 he was named an all-city end — the first black to ever receive the honor. He also won the state discus title as a senior.

The rest is history.

The beloved athletic trainer first heard about Missoula and its University from a black lawyer, Jim Dorsey, who was born and raised here, and who received his law degree at UM.

“Jim loved Missoula, but there just wasn't any place to practice law, so he moved to where the jobs were,” Naseby reflected. “He and his wife had no children, and we really hit it off. He told me that he was going to send me out to Missoula to go to school here. Of course, I never really believed him.”

Rhinehart said he had several offers from schools to play football, and he decided to attend Northwestern. However, he said, they were having problems in their athletic department, so they told him to sit out a year and it would blow over. He did, but things didn't get any better. “So I decided to give it (UM) a try,” he said.

Things didn't exactly start out rosy for him in Missoula. “The coach (Bernie Oakes) met me at the train (1,500 miles from Milwaukee) and told me 'I thought you'd be bigger.' Well, I told him I had a return ticket and I could just get back on the train and go back home. I remember the day, it was September 13, 1931.”

“I looked around, and it was real quiet and I wasn't too sure about being there in the first place,” he continued. “But the coach said that I took him wrong so I decided to stay.”

After a year of freshman football (he was one of only two blacks at UM, and the only athlete) he was ready for the varsity team. “I made up my mind I was going to be the left end, no matter who was ahead of me,” he said. “I was confident.”

After splitting duties as a sophomore the 6-0, 183-pounder became a fixture at left end for the Grizzlies. He was an honorable mention All-American pick as a senior in 1935, and was later named a member of the All-Time Grizzly Football Team at end.

Another thing that brought him to UM was basketball. “I loved basketball, and at that time the Big Ten didn't allow blacks to play, so I ruled them out quick. I couldn't shoot, but I played defense and covered 'the good cats' and hit the boards." A two-year starter, Naseby played guard and also jumped center.

In track he had bests of 23 feet in the long jump and 140 feet in the discus. The highlight of his career came in 1935, when the winner of nine varsity letters was awarded the Grizzly Cup, given to the school's outstanding overall student-athlete. (An award his son, Naseby, Jr. 'Pete' won in 1958).

Less than a month after his graduation football coach Doug Fessenden asked him if he was interested in becoming the UM trainer.

“It was the turning point in my life,” reflected the nationally-recognized trainer. “I was thinking about going back to Milwaukee and becoming a policeman, but loved athletics so I decided to take the job.”

“Being a trainer was a great challenge, and still is,” he said. “Plus it’s a hell of a lot of fun,” he added with his famous, charismatic smile. “You might be down Saturday night, but Monday you've got to be ready to go. It hurts to lose. It hurts the kids. It hurts me and the coaches. We live together, and we win and die together.”

Not only did Naseby make outstanding contributions as an athlete, but he also did in the classroom.

He was one of the first trainers in the nation to develop an athletic training curriculum (1971) at a university. Many of his former UM students now have jobs at universities and high schools throughout the nation.

He hasn't gone unrecognized for his efforts. Most recently he was named trainer to the Pan American Games in Puerto Rico in the summer of 1979. In 1974 he was awarded the UM Distinguished Service Award. He was selected as a trainer for the 1972 Olympic track team. And in 1967 he was chosen as a member of the Helms Hall of Fame for Athletic Trainers.

Naseby said other than improved size, speed, nutrition, weight training (“I’ve never lifted weights in my life”) and medical training, athletes have not changed much in the last 50 years.

“We wanted to win,” he said. “All of us wanted to win real, real bad. We had a lot of desire, and the athletes today do too. Athletes have a lot of pride. You have to want to be the best. Like I said earlier about making up my mind to start at left end — that’s pride.”

Pride is one word synonymous with Naseby Rhinehart. No matter who you talk to, you know they are PROUD to know this gentle man.

Naseby and his wife of 47 years, Evelyn, have four children. Pete is a comptroller at AT&T in New Jersey; Sid is an Air Traffic Controller in Minnesota; Ann Bates teaches high school and coaches girls' track in California and Penny is in a Pizza Hut managerial program in Seattle.

Big Sky Conference

The Big Sky Conference was formed in February 1963, when the presidents and athletic directors of six Rocky Mountain universities met in Spokane. The original conference members were Gonzaga, Idaho, Idaho State, Montana, Montana State and Weber State. Gonzaga entered the conference as a non-football playing school.

The conference derived its name from a pair of Montanans and a Washington sports editor. A. B. Guthrie, Choteau, Mont., wrote a novel titled “The Big Sky,” and Jack Hallowell, former Montana State Advertising director, promoted the Big Sky theme as a nickname for the state. Harry Missildine, Spokesman-Review sports editor, picked up the name and in a sports column promoted the name Big Sky as the name of the conference. On Feb. 25, 1963, the conference adopted the name—Big Sky Athletic Conference.

In 1970 the conference expanded to include Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, Ariz., and Boise State College, Boise, Idaho. Both entered as football playing schools.

Nevada-Reno became the newest member of the Big Sky July 1, 1979.

Jack Friel became the first commissioner in 1963, and the offices were established in Pullman, Wash., Friel’s home. Following Friel’s retirement in July 1971, the offices were moved to Boise, Idaho, and John Roning was named commissioner. Steve Belko was named commissioner and assumed duties July 1, 1977, following Roning’s retirement.

Ron Stephenson became the fourth Big Sky commissioner in May, 1981. A native of Idaho, Stephenson’s most recent position was Assistant Athletic Director at Boise State. He has 16 years of working experience in intercollegiate athletics as a student, coach and administrator.

The success of the University of Montana is reflected in the careers of M. R. "Sugar Ray" Richardson and John Stroeder.

Richardson, a 6-5 guard, currently plays for the New York Knicks, and was a National Basketball Association All-Star pick last season. He was the NBA leader in assists and one of the top steals leaders as well.

Stroeder, a 6-10 center, is now playing for Club Fiat, a professional team in Birmingham, England. He was an eighth round draft pick of the Portland Trailblazers in the 1980 draft.

Both players have left their mark in the Grizzly record book. Richardson is the all-time Montana scorer with 1,827 career points. He holds single season records in assists (117) as well as career assists (372). He also tied a record when he scored 40 points in one game.

SAYS COACH MONTGOMERY: "Michael Ray, being the fourth best player on his high school team worked hard and long for the success he has had. He was the first Big Sky player to make the NBA All-Star team, and I think he set his mind to do that a long time ago. It shows that a player, no matter where he goes to school, if he is good enough he can make it to the pro ranks."

"Strodes made tremendous improvement in four years at Montana. He turned from a 6-8, 250-pound recruiting gamble to a three-time All-Big Sky pick and a European pro. He might lack the ability to play in the NBA, but he has the skill to make an excellent living in European pro ball. His biggest asset is his coach-ability and desire to improve."

Welcome to Missoula The “Garden City”

WELCOME TO MISSOULA! A friendly town protected by a ring of mountains, breathtaking in its beauty, cultural in its taste, and a place we hope you will return to.

The “key to the city” is yours and the “red carpet” is out. Make yourself at home, we’re glad to have you here.

MISSOULA is located 100 miles from the Idaho border at the junction of Interstate 90, U.S. Highways 10, 12, and 93, and Montana Highway 200. These same crossroad attracted the original settlers over 120 years ago. Five valleys open into the Missoula basin and make Missoula an exciting city of 70,000 with a trade area of 150,000.

Nestled at the base of Mount Sentinel the University of Montana has an enrollment of 8,800 students from throughout the world. The faculty is exceptional with 72% holding a Ph.D. degree. The University heritage includes a Pulitzer Prize winner, twenty-three Rhodes scholars, a Nobel Prize recipient, and countless honors bestowed on its students for excellence in many fields. The Maureen and Mike Mansfield Library on the University of Montana campus is a source of pride to Missoula and Montana.

MISSOULA is one of the fastest growing cities in Montana. We are striving to maintain the best of all worlds...the flavor of a small town with the advantages of a city.

We know you will enjoy Missoula’s Magic, where else within a short distance from a business center could you find wilderness areas, mountain lakes, ranches, fishing streams, and other recreational opportunities for all ages.

The following are comments from former players and coaches about Naseby Rhinehart, the trainer, the person and the vital part of Grizzly athletics...

JIM BRANDENBURG, Head Coach at the University of Wyoming and former UM coach:
“‘My old roomie’ has been one common denominator for Grizzly athletics for the past 46 years. Nase is as close to a totally good person with whom I have ever been associated. I am proud to have worked with him and call him a friend.”

JIGGS DAHLBERG, former UM athletic director, now retired:
“I worked with Nase for 33 years and I have never known a finer man. I have never heard him say a word of criticism against anyone. He has nothing but praise for every athlete that has participated at the University while he was athletic trainer.”

ERIC HAYS, former Grizzly player, and now head coach at Hellgate High (Missoula):
“Nase is a super person and super trainer. He cares for you as an athlete and a person. I had numerous injuries when I played, and I never felt he would let me play if it would hurt my future.
“I remember my junior year (1973) we had just beat Idaho State to tie for the conference lead and I had sprained my ankle. The next night we had Boise State, and he tried three or four tape jobs on my ankle and it allowed me to play. He is a tremendous credit to the University and his profession.”

JUD HEATHCOTE, Head Coach at Michigan State and former UM coach:
“Some people are legends in their own time, some are legends in their own mind, but Naseby Rhinehart is a true University of Montana legend. He exemplifies all that is good in athletics — devotion to his University and to the student-athletes and coaches that represent it. He’s not only a “master at his trade,” respected nationwide for his competence, but he has always performed his job with dignity and pride.
“He is a warm human being and has a genuine concern for everyone with whom he come in contact. I have met a lot of men in my years of coaching and I have never met a man who was more professional or had more class than Naseby Rhinehart. Montana will have trainers in the future. We are all expendable, we are always replaceable, but there will never be another Nase. He is one in a million.”

MIKE MONTGOMERY, Grizzly head coach:
“Nase is one of those rare individuals that you find in your lifetime. When they designed the job of trainer they must have had him in mind. Above all he has excellent knowledge and professionalism in his job, but he also possesses that human quality that is necessary in the job.
“There is no place in the country you can go and mention the University of Montana that Nase is not asked about. He is basically irreplaceable in terms of tradition at Montana.
“From my standpoint, he’s a man that I respect and a guy who I feel very priviledged to know. I’m really sorry to see Nase retire, but as far as everyone who is connected with our program is concerned Nase is the ultimate Grizzly.”

ROBIN SELVIG, UM women’s coach and former Grizzly player:
“I always felt Nase was an important part of the program, and just as important as the players and coaches. He was part of us.
“He did especially good by me, keeping me out of games so I didn’t injure myself further. He was always right. When I look back at the days I played I look back at him, at the coaches and players all as one.”
