PWA RECEIVES
FINAL APPROVAL

Late last night construction foremen of the PWA Project No. Too Big For You To Read were given permission to begin work. Word of final approval came from the office of D. A. Miller, better known as "Chalky," after several days of delay due to Corbin hall conference with D. Clayburgh.

Blue-prints and plans had been passed on weeks before by Flanagan and Co., the board regulating such activities of the Putrid Words Against-em.

Construction foremen have consulted with Dr. Robert L. Housman, authority on long-line words and pipe-stem phrases.

Bids for the muck foundation have been let by Houseboys, Inc.

The problem of depressing construction dirt into pretty figures of speech or leaving it in its native, dingy state was left to South-Sea-project-foreman Simmons.

Wally wired Murray, but the flames of scandal burned the wires.

Senator Wheeler could not be reached—something about defending the Constitution was keeping him busy.

Personel was to have been approved by Dean Ferguson, but it's too late now. (Ain't it always the case?)

Singleton Tells Panhel

SINGLETON SAYS NUTS TO PANHEL

Melvin A. Singleton, Interfraternity Council mentor, says that women are not to be reckoned with. Word comes to PWA that his small election project has sunk into the horizon behind the elevated soap-boxes of twenty wild-eyed feminists.

"Women shall not rule. We men must lead—they shall follow even as the white lamb to the slaughter. They shall not play the foul game of politics. They shall not enter the foul doors of Central Board—not more than two of them with voting powers anyhow," says Mel.

Bending his beaten brow Singleton returned to the sympathetic arms of his brother Interfraternities to weep and wail over the modern woman. To think that the little dears should defy the word of Singleton.

CONTRASTS IN PIN HANGING

While Ruth Shaffer wore Rolly Lundberg's Sigma Nu pin on her unmentionables for two months because Rolly couldn't afford to buy "seegars" for the house, Sammy Parker presented his pin to Mary Cowell (or car??) and retrieved it the next day, period.

CARMODY GOES TO A DANCE

One of the many PWA workers was on the job last quarter at a certain fraternity dance. And what do you think he saw? A man who had been indulging. He was wearing a tuxedo and he was late to the dance. Following stealthily, all PWA men are stealths, the PWA man saw this man stumble up three flights of stairs and enter the dance. His hair was awry.

Carmody paid.

WEDDING BELLS AND THE GONG

Wedding bells ring out but not for long. The groom shows up with the marriage license marked "invalid."

Don't tell a PWA man that Neil Heily, youngest member of Phi Delta Phi, is not of age! Convenient thought, wasn't it?

Petitions have been received by PWA for more publicity for other departments and less for the treasure room.

WARNING TO THE HOUSEMOTHER

Angels have taken wing!! Since Prexy Joyce Roberts has removed herself from mothering the brood, the Alpha Chis have fallen from 'grace.' Not that they are really bad but it's just that Fran Price has a poor memory and forgets to get in on time—from her date for the quarter !!

Again it can't be helped that Gwen Benson's heart throb (Gunner Shields) turns his very delicate and conveniently sprained ankle—when Gwen is with him or that the young Co-ed must display her nursing ability to the tune of 3 o'clock in the morning.

The dirt still flies and as a gentle warning the PWA project joins to inform Mrs. Pratt that the Sidney Big Shot and her basketball love are again on a date and his ankle is still subject to hurts—at times.

Dr. Chic Sale, better known as "Heater Button" Sale to the fellas has been accredited the most popular of all those who have been inflicting the student body with tick shots recently. The co-eds cry for him.

Rattletrap competition among the frats and sororities is growing heated. The Theta 'jalopy,' the S. A. E. open air taxi, the Phi Delt's resurrection from the junk heap, the Sigma Nu "Squat" car 13 and the Phi Sig bus add the necessary bit of "sprig" color to the Campus.

Latham awakening after night of forgetting all.

NORTH HALL GIRLS BINGE

This is a story of frustrated loves. Two little North hall girls were left 'I all alone' without their two big handsome heroes. In the words of our friend, Mehitabel Wotthehell, they thought. And bled themselves to Jocko's gym. There to imbibe in whatever it is that brings back the spirits.

And so the two sad North hall girls did just that. Later, as the pitcher emptied and the level of spirits were raised, two gentlemen approached, offered assistance and were accepted. Home came the girls, gay and no longer two broken-hearted North hall girls.

Their evening of training at Jocko's had fortified them against the sight of Jack Dowling and Biff Hall squiring their two D G friends of late.

PDT PRESENTS DIAMOND CLASSIC

The invincible Phi Delta Theta baseball nine at last got a lucky break. While practicing on their University Avenue field last week they made one hit—into an apartment house window. The lady was away. One hit, nine runs down the alley, one error.

Montana's China Boy

SEYMOUR SEES A DREAM COME TRUE

A dream by China Seymour accompanied with soft music, flowers, sweet perfume and hazy emotions:

TRADITIONS

Traditions add zest to college life. They are handed down to us to preserve and cherish by those students of the past who founded them. Montana has many traditions of which it is proud. They are indicative of loyalty, sportsmanship and pride in our institution. Know the meaning of those traditions and you will love them, too. (Shades of Abe Thompson) ABER DAY—Early in the spring (too early, but it's Chalky's fault) an all-school holiday is declared for the purpose of picnics and the lawyers to get even with everyone who hates them, and incidentally to clean up the campus. Campus primary elections are held, with much stuffing of ballots and loud campaigning.

"HELLO" WALK—The sidewalk which runs back and forth, north and south, between the oval and the library, saying hello to everyone. We always greet each other here. Gives

—pwa—

CO-ED FORMAL—During the winter quarter the women give a dance and play escort to the men. Women call for their dates, send gardenias, perform all the little courtesies and pay and pay and pay.

—pwa—

FORESTERS' BALL—The men's gym takes on the atmosphere of the backwoods and every man hopes he can buy a ticket for this outstanding social affair. (See Sentinel when and if Smith gets it out.)

—pwa—

BUTTE GAME—Down through the years, the Grizzlies and Bobcats have met on the gridiron to battle for supremacy while their class-mates cheer drunkenly from the sidelines. Special trains for students are chartered so the event will be the greatest, noisiest, during the season.

—pwa—

SONG CONTEST—Between halves of home basketball games, song contests are held so the rabble-rousers will have opportunity to practice up, and the Sunday school kids can throw pennies at Sjaholm (and other songsters).

GONE ARE THE BLEACHERS!

The intentions of the administration and powers that be were good when they ruled out dates in the store and lounge during the week, last quarter. Net Results—Student Union Theater auditorium dressing rooms and the law building class rooms raised their respective eyebrows at the sudden advent of lovers at odd times.

It was a long, hard night, and a longer, harder day that Jimmy Haviland put in before Panhellenic. Then he sat down to rest before the dance. But he went to sleep. #### LANE IS IN LOVE!

At last it comes to Lane! After three years of breaking the hearts of Sigma Nu's Hanson, Theta Chi's Hazelrigg, and numerous others, Helen is in love. Coming in one night she confessed to the girls. "We looked into each other's eyes, and then he kissed me. Girls, it's wonderful! Yes, Burke and I are the perfect couple and oh, I'm so-O-O much in love."

INVESTIGATORS SMASH UNION ACTIVITIES

The policy of "leave us alone, and we'll come home, dragging our tails behind us" was established at a board meeting of the student investigating committee last week when the brain-trusters met to figure out how they could do the unions.

Feeling ran high, for had not the unquestioned freedom of university students been trampled upon? "Cooperation we will not give, but cooperation we will demand. These unions must be made to rest quietly beneath my thumb," said Chairman Hickman. "Aye," answered the rest of the committee.

The dirty work began with first of all demanding union members to carry their instruments in the right hand to and from work. This was to protect the committee in case of riots. Next on the issue was the consideration of swing.

"Swing is a tool of the devil," said conservative Chairman Hickman. "Aye" said the rest of the committee.

After dismissing swing with a grunt the timid-eyed, weak-kneed, lawyer conservative Chairman Hickman turned to weightier problems of this issue of students vs. unions.

"We must insure the integrity of Mr. Petty and his drawings, of Esquire, that monthly publication of literary gems, and of student wit. We must forbid the killing of such original and clever masterpieces of student-written skits. Musical productions must go on forever—even if I can't sing a note," said the chairman. "Aye" voiced the rest of the committee. Union leaders pulled a laugh from their sleeve and donned it.

MUSICIANS UNION STRIKES BACK

Out of a clear blue sky came a bolt of lightning in the form of an ultimatum. University orchestramen belonging to the local order of Musicians' Unions were told to "lay off" this musical show stuff. In other words, ask for good wages for every rehearsal and nuts to budgets, etc, and the tender feelings of the students.

Retaliation came in the form of a student committee of brain-trusters to act as mediators. After four months of thorough investigation of closed and open shops in other universities, the committee set up a policy of "this, or else." Musicians were to wear white ties at formal dances, and not bite nuts.

At the next dance, musicians were seen in black shirts and white ties. Still nuts.

OBSERVATIONS OF A PWA WORKER WHILE ON THE JOB

True love will win out! Now that Doris Lockridge's Charles is home with a beeg car, the SN pin is shined up and back in its place, and a former Daddy Aber is probably training his high school boys for Interscholastic. Drowning his sorrows in hard work, as it were.

—pwa—

Lawyer Hickman growing old and gray and wan from wrangling over the fittest ending for an Esquire skit concocted at the Jungle Bar.

—pwa—

William B. Ahders, Butte boy with chubby cheeks, a baseball mania and a Phi Delt pin he is always threatening to hang—is smart enough to only threaten. It is embarrassing to be refused.

—pwa—

Little Tommy Mather should be careful about the stories he brings home to mama Sigma Chi. The truth will out.

Acquiring the Brown Bomber hasn't helped B. Andrews in the winning of that raid-hailed, Ginger-spirited gal from Kalispell.

—pwa—

Has anybody here seen Coughlin? The gay Lothario, the young Lock-invar, the law school Casanova, otherwise known as Cregg—where is he? Buried in a law book you say? Unearth him! It's spring, and there are picnics and beer! Oh my, Klopfer has returned east and our own Cregg, yes Cregg Coughlin, is being true! It's the truth, s'help us.

—pwa—

Have you heard? Jimmy Browning has at last forgotten such minor problems as compulsory military, the life of Student-Faculty Council, Mavericks organization, the powers of legislation, the administration, F. D. R., the Sluice Box, and how to get the James Robert Browning before the public eye. He is now promoting a love affair—for the interests of James Robert Browning, that one and only Browning—oh, oh, forgot brother Bill. Mary Rose Chappellu is the lucky girl.

Dawn, this is a small bit of motherly advice and I hope you will take it—as I mean it.

Your fond Mother.

Newest initiate of the "Tappa Kega Beer" frat (guess who) is learning from 'old timer' La Rue Smith that picnics aren't picnics without bugs, ticks and ants in the brew, cold hands and feet, rain and no fire. Well—we live and learn.

New development—outings without above indispensables substituting typewriters and filing cabinets in the cosy atmosphere of his habitual haunt, the Sentinel. How is the copy coming, La Rue?

NATURE'S SOLITUDE IS BROKEN

Ray Greene, Don Juan from Chicago, and Mabel Nelson, Snow White with red hair, are the Campus' most ardent nature lovers. They seek the solitude and wide open spaces instead of the usual haunts of amorous Freshmen.

Side note—for a detailed itinerary of their haunts see Walt Martin or Elizabeth Scott.

THE SIG HOAX AGAIN

Do you suppose the Sigma Chi's really did pull the wool over Mary Elrod's eyes the night of the big party—mmm-m honey just dripped all over the place while they tried to get back in her good graces—in a private interview she said it didn't go over so big.

Co-Ed Colonel Judges

CO-ED COLONEL RACE FORGES ON

Five beautiful gals have been chosen by those inestimable, those ever-present Army men to be their Colonel. Meaning, that out of those five, one will be chosen. And who that one will be, the whole campus wants to know.

Well, bets are high on Baskett. Quaintance, however has the support of the Sigma Chi chapter of Scabbard and Blade which brings things pretty close. Lane and Carrigan have divided the interests in the D G supporters among the soldier boys, and Dorothy Jane Cooney is an also-ran.

No one knows, but the PWA worker has found out who. Don't you know? It's a dark horse. Lucia B. Mirrieles was elected by a huge majority. You see, the boys are taking English this quarter—and fair means or foul, they'll pass.

In other words, all's fair in love and war—and Graves has lost out—the brothers have forsook him.

What about these five poor deluded gals who think they stand a chance of being Sweetheart of the Army?

Oh, well, they'll live. For consolation Baskett will go to the cream-colored job; Quaintance can cry for any number of the absent Carter's brothers—Graves preferred; Cooney can just cry; Lane will find solace with the one and only Burke; and Carrigan will look for Weingartner. As has been said before, the Sigma Chi chapter of Scabbard and Blade will be some unpopular for a time to come. PWA laughs!

around with a set of blue-prints with a dream castle drawn on them? Do they think they'll ever have enough that? The stories have changed—modified to the nth degree. Even they're wondering what it's all about.

Can't believe themselves anymore.
Imagine their surprise if some day
