MONTANA DISTANCE RUNNER IS BEST IN UNITED STATES

By D. D. Richards, '12.

Soldiers Field, Chicago, June 13—Special.—Arnold Gillette of the State University of Montana twice brought cheering thousands to their feet here today and furnished more thrills and sensations to the crowds attending the games of the National Collegiate Athletic Association than any other college athlete among the 200 here for the contests.

Gillette, whose name has been prominently mentioned in Chicago newspapers and whose prowess was featured by the college coaches, looked frail and weak out there on the field, but when he went into action he proved to have a lion's heart, and by running heady races he placed Montana near the top of the list of colleges competing here and Montana's name on the lips of thousands. He was easily the sensation of the big collegiate gathering recognized everywhere as the American olympic.

Gillette ran a stellar race in the mile, finishing second to Judge of Notre Dame. He carried away all honors in the two-mile event, starting in last position and finishing in a thrilling drive to defeat Peaslee of New Hampshire.

Starts Out in Rear.

As they lined up for the start of the two-mile, Gillette had the pole in a field of 19 starters. As the gun cracked, Gillette was deliberate in getting away and at the first turn was last. He ran in last position all of the first lap, a quarter of a mile. Then on the second lap he pulled up a little and ran the next lap third from last place. At the head of the column, Devine of Washington State and Peaslee were fighting to see who should make the pace. About the sixth lap the tail-enders began dropping by the side of the track. Gillette plugged along, running easily and letting Devine and Peaslee wear themselves out, each taking turns at leading the race.

As the runners swept past the stands on the seventh lap, Gillette was in ninth position, but began moving up rapidly to position number four. On this lap, Devine, exhausted by his efforts to make the pace, fell by the side of the track. Gillette held his fourth position until he reached the 220-yard mark. Then he uncorked his sprint. He had it. He sprinted as the crowds began to roar "Montana!" Then thousands roared, and Peaslee, knowing something was happening, hunched his shoulders and tried to dig in. He sprinted, too, but not fast enough.

Crowd Gets to Its Feet.

As they swept around the turn, nearly dead head on toward the cheering throngs, it could be seen that Gillette was not to be denied. The runners straightened out onto the last few yards and Gillette passed Peaslee. Staid Chicagoans, coaches who had seen most everything in athletics, were all on their feet, each trying to outshout the other. "Gillette," some one sang out and the crowd took it up. Thus did the Montana athlete, the frail looking youth, cross the finish line, a stride ahead of the great Peaslee, touted to be the class of all colleges in the two-mile run.

This was Gillette's third time to run the two-mile event in competition and it was his third time to win it. Time for this two-mile run was 9 minutes 40 3/10 seconds, fast, considering that the track was rain-soaked last night and rather heavy today.

Second in Mile Run.

In the mile run, Gillette was sixth as the runners passed the stands. He moved up one place in the first quarter and then fell back to seventh, where he was when the half-mile was reached in 2 minutes and 13 seconds. As they went on to the last lap, Gillette had moved up to third place and then began his sprint. He could not overtake Judge of Notre Dame, who seemed to have a lot of sprinting steam left, too. However, he crowded him for honors.

STREIT BANISHED BY BALKAN STATE

Clarence K. Streit, '20, has been banished by the Rumanian government for articles he had written that were "insulting to the crown and the government."

While it was not made known whether the articles that were found objectionable were cabled to the New York Times, for which Mr. Streit is foreign correspondent observing happenings in the Balkan states, it is believed that the articles were in connection with the ascension of the present regime in comparison to the Prince Carol episode.

It is generally rumored that Prince Carol was forced out of the throne by his two brothers and the dowager queen. The crown prince abdicated in favor of his young son in order that the throne would not pass to his brothers. However, they with the queen mother, are the real rulers and it is believed Streit's sympathies with the young crown prince are the root of the trouble.

Mr. Streit received his newspaper training at the school of journalism at the State University. Immediately after completing his studies here he entered Oxford as a Rhodes student in 1919. He served the Philadelphia Public Ledger in Paris as assistant correspondent for a number of months during vacation periods. When Streit married Mlle. Jeanne Defeance of Paris on September 26, 1923, all support was withdrawn in regards to his studies at Oxford and he did not complete his work there.

He was at that time appointed Rome correspondent for the Philadelphia Public Ledger at a salary of $5,000 a year. He served as correspondent in Rome for about two years and then was sent to Constantinople and later to Paris for a few months. He then resigned his duties with the Ledger and went to Egypt where he was the first American newspaper correspondent to interview Mustapha Kemel Pasha, leader of the Turkish constitutionalists, for several eastern newspapers. Last year he served as correspondent for the New York Times during the Riffian war and was sent to Vienna just before Christmas time to cover the Balkan situation.

While in the University Mr. Streit was prominent in debating and journalistic circles. He is a member of Sigma Chi, national social fraternity, and of Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary fraternity for journalism men.

While serving in the A. E. F. he was one of the guards at the Versailles peace conference. His observations there led him to write a book later, "Where Iron Is, There Is the Fatherland."

This book attracted international attention by its charge among others that certain iron properties along the German-French border had been allowed to operate unmolested to supply war material to both sides and reap huge profits for international owners.

Streit has been a foreign correspondent for several years since shortly after publication of the book.

JAMESON IS REELECTED PRESIDENT OF ALUMNI

William Jameson, '19, of Billings was reelected president of the alumni association of the State University at a business meeting of the association held June 14. Wynema Woolverton Porter, '23, was elected vice president; George Shepard, '21, three-year delegate, and Solvay Andresen, '24, John Patterson, '20, and Mack Gault, '20, of Great Falls were chosen as one-year delegates.

Ballots were sent out from the office of the State University to all alumni. These marked their choices for the offices, and returned the ballots, which were formally opened and counted yesterday. Claude Marcyes, '03, was the other candidate for president, and Ruth Davis Maclay, '18, of Lolo, was the other candidate for vice president. Helen Smead Harris, '08, was in the race for the office of three-year delegate, and Helen Wilcox, '02, Oakley Coffee, '23, Hazel Swearingen, '17, Alice Johnson, '20, of Boulder, and Frances Kelley, '07, of Great Falls were the other nominees for one-year delegates.

MONTANA EDUCATOR CALLED BY DEATH

James H. T. Ryman, Montana pioneer, whose death occurred on June 1 in Missoula after a long illness, had been closely associated with the State University.

Governor Rickards named Mr. Ryman a member of the local executive board when the State University of Montana was organized in 1895. He continued in this capacity by appointment until 1923 when Governor Dixon named him western Montana member of the State Board of Education, with supervisory control over all of the state educational institutions.

FLORENCE DE RYKE WILL SPEND YEAR IN FRANCE

Florence DeRyke, who graduated from the University in 1912, has been awarded a year's residence in France in a contest conducted by the board of education of Ohio and the French minister of public instruction.

Miss DeRyke, who has been teaching French at the East Technical high school in Cleveland, Ohio, during the past year, will go to France in September, and a French teacher will be sent to Cleveland by the French government for a year's residence in this country.

In France, Miss DeRyke will teach English in a French school to be selected and the French teacher will be assigned to teach French in the Cleveland schools. Miss DeRyke will receive living quarters and a reduction in transportation costs from the French government.

Miss DeRyke was selected because of the candidates for the award, she seemed most likely to profit from a year's residence abroad, according to Dr. E. B. DeSauze, director of foreign language study in the Cleveland schools, and Charles H. Lake, assistant superintendent of schools in Cleveland.

U GRADS ELECTED A. A. U. W. OFFICERS

Mrs. W. H. MacDonald (Mary Farrell, '22) and Mrs. William J. Jameson, Jr. (Mildred Lore, '22) were elected president and delegate at large at a meeting of the Billings organization of the American Association of University Women, held in that city recently.

SUPERSTITION ATTENDS VOLCANIC ERUPTIONS

Letters from Bill Cogswell, '23, former president of the student body and editor of the Kaimin, who is now working with the Hawaiian Tourist Bureau at Honolulu, reveal some strange superstitions regarding the recent volcanic activities in the Islands.

The natives tell of having seen a mysterious old woman walking around an old lava flow, and sitting down near the road to rest. While she sat there, three Fords came along the road, and just as they drew opposite her, the engines of all three stopped dead. The Japanese drivers could not get their motors started again until they headed back in the direction from which they had come. The natives said that this was a sign—that the old woman was the goddess Pele, whose appearance was a sign that some volcanic activity was about to take place.

Later, another story came out to the effect that the goddess had been seen in a taro patch in another part of the island. This was a second sign. About a month after these appearances of the goddess, the lava began to flow. Every time there has been a period of volcanic activity, it has been preceded by other similar stories of the mysterious appearance of Pele.

Another strange story: It seems that during a lava flow on Hilo, an old Hawaiian's house was in the direct path of the lava. When people tried to get him to move he wouldn't budge, saying that Pele would never hurt a Hawaiian. The lava came to within fifty yards of the back door of the house, then branched off into two streams, went around the shack and then joined again. This story has been verified by prominent business men of Hilo.

The natives are full of such stories, and they believe in them absolutely. They furnish a great deal of amusement when the volcanoes begin to cut up, and the natives have great times with their warnings and predictions and ceremonials.

MANY ALUMNI BACK FOR TRACK MEET

Many State University of Montana graduates and former students were in the city attending the State Inter-scholastic meet. Several former members of Grizzly athletic teams brought teams which they had been coaching as entries in the meet. Among the list of coaches were also those who never made any university team or were never athletically inclined, but have found that among their numerous teaching duties they must also coach their school teams.

University women graduates and former students in most cases were chaperoning high school girl contestants in declamatory and debating contests. Many of these women are now dramatic instructors in various high schools of the state. Some perhaps had had experience in this line, while others never dreamt that some day they would be expected to coach a class in public speaking or debate.

Among the Grizzly athletes who were here with teams were: George "Jiggs" Dahlberg, '25, coach of the Custer County high school for the first year;

Harry "Swede" Dahlberg, '21, coach of the Butte High teams for the last few years and for Hamilton High previous to that time; Steve Sullivan, coach of Butte Central teams for the past three years; Ernest "Hop" Prescott, '18, present coach of the Superior teams, and formerly coach at Alberton; Ralph Christie, '24, coach at Hamilton, who is at the end of his second year there; Alva Straw, '22, coach of the Whitehall team; Ole K. Moe, '24, coach at Belgrade, and Jay Hoffman, '23, coach at Inverness high school; Prentice Staggs, '24, who was coaching at Klein.

George Howard, who graduated from the University law school with the class of '23, was a guest at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house. Mr. Howard is practicing law in Butte at the present time.

Thelma West, '23, taught home economics and chemistry in the high school at Plentywood this year. She chaperoned the Plentywood declaimers. Other guests who were here were: Ted Cochran, ex '27, of Darby, at S. P. E. house; Dorothy Wright, ex '28, of Great Falls, who is attending the Great Falls Commercial college this year, at the Alpha Chi Omega house; Reynolds Thompson, ex '27, of Twin Bridges, who is operating a store in Dillon, at the S. P. E. house.

Miss Kathryn Broadwater, '22, of Havre, who had been spending the winter in California, passed through Missoula on her return trip to her home. Miss Broadwater reported that Mac Gault of Great Falls, a University graduate in law with the class of '21, is playing a part in "Old Ironsides," a movie production which is soon to be released from Hollywood.

Miss Rachel Jordan, who graduated with the class of '23 in the department of English, was an instructor in the Hardin High school this year. One of her pupils, Inza McDowell of Hardin, won the state essay contest recently.

Miss Ruby James, a graduate from the 1925 English department, who has been teaching in the Superior High school at Superior, was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. James.

John Adams, ex '26, who had to withdraw from school a year ago because of illness, was a guest at the Sigma Nu house.

Walt Whitworth of Deer Lodge, and Charles McDonnell of Big Timber were guests at the Sigma Chi house.

Eugene Harpole, '22, county attorney of Mineral county, accompanied by Mrs. Harpole, were here. Mrs. Harpole is remembered as Miss Ruth Spencer, '24.

Miss Barbara Frazier, '19, who was teaching in the Helena High school, was a guest at the Delta Gamma house.

BREVITIES

Pi Gamma Nu, national social science fraternity, has been formally accepted at the State University of Montana. It was created by the simultaneous organization of seventeen chapters in as many standard colleges and universities in the United States.

The new tennis courts at the University are now ready for use. They are located just north of the women's gymnasium.

Individual histories of graduates of the School of Journalism, who are members of Sigma Delta Chi, and a short history of the fraternity are features of a new booklet published by the Montana chapter of Sigma Delta Chi. It was edited by Ben Quesnel.

A club, "Rolling Stones," has been organized in honor of Dean Stone by graduates and former students of the Montana School of Journalism. The officers elected were Ellsworth Mosby, president; Sol Andresen, secretary; Joe Kerschner, western vice president, and George Stone, eastern vice president.

BASEBALL

Major Frank W. Milburn will not be faced with many veterans when he issues his first baseball call at this school next spring, because seven three-year Grizzly baseballers finish their careers next week.

Just where he will muster ball players is a big question, but he may be able to start with a slim outlook and still turn out a classy club. This year prospects were far better than ever before, but the Grizzlies went through the season without a conference victory.

Captain Cammie Meagher, three-year first baseman, heads the list of departing Grizzlies. Jimmy O'Connor, one of the most depended upon hill men since he started, three years ago, has sent his last twister at a Montana foe. Danta Hanson, second-sacker and football man, Scorp Anderson, shortstop, and Bus Tarbox, third-baseman, are also through.

Chief Ilman, left fielder and nine letter man, the highest that Montana has had for years, is wearing the Copper, Silver and Gold for the last times. He leaves a terrific hole at fullback in the gridiron squad and also at forward and center on the court quintet. Obbie Berg, center fielder and basketball player, completes his college competition this spring. In the recent series with Montana State College he played the hero role by cracking out a circuit drive with the bases full in the eighth, giving his mates their winning margin.

Some of these boys plan to play ball with Montana and Canadian teams this summer, but none knows just where he will definitely locate.

Here are the 1925 and 1926 baseball records of the Grizzlies:

1925

Gonzaga, 6; Montana, 0.
Washington, 1; Montana, 0.
W. S. C., 2; Montana, 1.
Idaho, 1; Montana, 3.
Gonzaga, 9; Montana, 6.
Whitman, 4; Montana, 9.
Washington, 7; Montana, 0.
W. S. C., 3; Montana, 4.
Whitman, 1; Montana, 4.
Gonzaga, 11; Montana, 5.
W. S. C., 13; Montana, 9.

1926

Idaho, 11, 7; Montana, 2, 4.
W. S. C., 12, 16; Montana, 3, 5.
Idaho, 3, 7; Montana, 1, 3.

TRACK

Last year Montana had her best track team; this year she had a better one; and next year the squad may even surpass the feats of the 1926 record slaughterers.

Montana's weather makes for a short training season, and because the length of the training season counts for half of a track team's showing, the Grizzly results for 1926 are nothing short of remarkable.

This year's crew produced three new Pacific Coast conference records, two new Relay Carnival marks, eight new Treasure State records and equalled two others. Eighteen Grizzlies earned monograms, the largest number in the history of the school.

Here is the way Montana went through the season:

Quadrangular meet: Montana, 70 $\frac{3}{4}$ ; Washington State, 57; Idaho, 30 $\frac{1}{4}$ , and Gonzaga, 4.

Seattle Relay Carnival: Montana tied Washington for first.

Dual meet: Montana, 89; Idaho, 41.

Conference meet: The efforts of Sweet and Gillette placed Montana fourth.

State Interscholastic meet: Montana, 98; Montana State, 33; Intermountain Union, 5.

In this state only one record, the high jump, is outside of the Grizzly camp. The latest Treasure State records are:

100-yard dash—Sweet, 9.7 (conference mark).

220-yard dash—Sweet, 21.4.

440-yard dash—Ritter and Egan, 50 flat.

Half-mile run—Gillette, 2:00.4.

Mile run—Gillette, 4:21.7 (conference mark).

Two-mile run—Gillette, 9:30.4 (conference mark).

High hurdles—Spaulding, 15.8.

Low hurdles—Sterling, 25 flat.

High jump—Cates (Montana State), 6 feet 1 $\frac{1}{10}$  inch.

Broad jump—Sweet, 21 feet 11 $\frac{1}{2}$  inches.

Pole vault—Miller, 12 feet 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  inches.

Shot put—Kerran and A. Blumenthal, 43 feet 10 inches.

Discus throw—Shaffer, 144 feet 6 inches.

Javelin throw—Bessey, 175 feet 1 inch.

Mile relay—Sweet, Davis, Stark, Ritter, 3:24.

Half-mile relay—Stark, Ritter, Coyle, Sweet, 1:29.3 (relay carnival mark).

Medley relay—Sweet, E. Blumenthal, Tysel, Gillette, 6:25.6 (relay carnival mark).

RUSSELL SWEET

Versatility—that's the word, and Russell Sweet is the fellow to whom it applies.

This energetic 178-pound blond can do more things well than any Grizzly who has strutted the campus here for many a year. And the nice part of it is that through all of his glory-winning he remains the same ambitious and consistent Sweet. Because he is accustomed to applause and congratulations, his hat never gets too small for his head.

Coming to Montana as a freshman, he scintillated on the Cub gridiron squad that won the northwest championship, sparkled on the basketball five that didn't lose a game, and revealed exceptional prowess on the 1924 Cub track team.

Sweet's varsity career has been just one fulfillment after another of the promise shown as a frosh. In football he has earned the distinction of being about the finest punter in the Pacific Coast conference. His pass grabbing and open field running ability has come to be feared by every foe.

Big Russ has not been permitted to show everything he has in basketball because Coach Stewart has feared that a floor injury may keep him from track fame. As a guard he is, however, a mean thorn in the path of any basket tosser.

The fact that he is caretaker of the conference record in the century at 9.7 and is anchor and starting man, respectively, of Montana's record-holding half-mile and medley relay teams proves his brilliance in track. Only for an unhealed strained muscle, acquired in the conference meet at Palo Alto, May 15, he would have gone to the National Track and Field meet at Chicago to struggle with Roland Lock and America's other sprint celebrities.

Sweet is also somewhat of a ball player. He played on the pennant winning city league team here last summer and wielded quite an unmerciful hickory. He plays a strong game of tennis and is a good swimmer, being an especially clever diver.

But Russell does not limit his accomplishments to sports. He is a good student, and because he was the best all-around athlete-student combined last year, he was presented with the Montana trophy, given by Doc Schreiber.

The other day the campus was surprised to learn that he had been made cadet major of the local ROTC unit, this being the highest award available in the Montana military science department. His size and snappy walk make him a fine looking soldier.

About a month ago this Grizzly comet was chosen to become a member of Silent Sentinel, honorary senior organization here. Membership in this group is recognition of noble services rendered the school.

While running a trial dash, in preparation for the national track and field meet at Chicago June 12, Russell Sweet again strained the muscle that caused him to fall to the cinders in a heap at the conference meet at Palo Alto May 15.

Big Russ has nursed the leg carefully and has been confident that it would be in shape for the Chicago affair, but Dame Misfortune has played the cards against him. Now Doc Schreiber says that the big blond speedster should hang up his spikes for a year.

Sweet started the century nicely today, but was forced to quit before reaching the tape.

"I would easily have made 10.2, the time necessary for me to make to go east, but when I got to the 60-yard mark I felt the old muscles knotting and had to stop," declares Sweet. He added: "I'm a has-been for the rest of this summer, but will be in there to punt and receive passes in football next fall. This summer I will go to the R. O. T. C. camp at Camp Lewis."

With Russ playing football next fall, the great Kelly-to-Sweet combination will remain intact.

Bill Kelly, Grizzly catcher, will guide the Grizzly baseball nine. He was elected to the captaincy on the way home from the recent Bobcat-Grizzly series.

"Wild Bill" is also captain of the football team for next year. He has won two letters in each of three major sports, football, basketball and baseball.

Other Grizzly captains for 1927 are: Basketball—Fred Sterling. Track—Russell Sweet and Arnold Gillette.

POSSIBILITIES

Rarely has Montana had as many extraordinary—yet probably not super—freshman track performers as she had this spring. Although the Grizzly track squad loses Captain Milton Ritter, quarter-miler; Emil Blumenthal, quarter and half-miler; Al Blumenthal, weight man, and Heman Stark, sprinter, through graduation, it will be bolstered by 17 capable yearlings next spring.

Coach Stewart seldom smiles, but his face does glow when he talks about these promising men coming up. "The fine thing about these frosh is that they are keeping on training until the close of the season," says Jim. In the past the first year men have often quit working out as soon as their first meet is over, which is usually early in the season.

Many Show Ability.

A yearling named McCarthy looms as the brightest star. This curly-headed lad runs a neat half-mile and does it in exceedingly fast time for a frosh. He has traversed the 880 in 2:00.6, which is only .2 slower than Gillette's state record made as a sophomore—and look what little Arnie has done.

Sweetman breezes the century equally as fast as Sweet did in his first year. He has done 10.2, which is as good as Big Russ did when he was out for the first year here. Bergin is another sprinter with unusual promise and he can also step the 440 in good time. The other sprint prospects are Haines, who is also a hurdler, and Hagen, who also runs the quarter-mile.

Staunton Good 440 Man.

There is one freshman who has not had a chance to show his wares much. That is Staunton, sprinter and 440 man. Stewart says, "Staunton has been sick with a leg infection, but he has lots of stuff."

Mowatt is a high jumper of the point-winnig Varsity type while Wendt can toss the spear far enough to place in big meets. Shults can develop into a good weight man and the Grizzlies are weak in this department. A lad names James is already doing better than 11 feet in the pole vault.

Others who may develop into Varsity tracksters with more experience are: Reed, sprinter and low hurdler; Tom Davis, sprinter and jumper; Wendt, quarter-miler; Ross, half-miler; Riberdy, shot-putter; Hygham, jumper and javelin thrower; and Rankin, jumper.

BIG DANTA

And they thought he couldn't pitch. Through six straight conference defeats Montana kept Danta Hanson at the Keystone bag, and then when the Grizzlies went to Walla Walla to clash with the Whitman Missionaries the big Dane was given his eagerly awaited turn on the mound.

Unlike the other Grizzly twirlers who have been bombarded unmercifully on the western trip, Hanson not only turned in a 7-2 win in his first real trial this year but a few minutes after the first game was over went back into the box again and turned the Missionaries back for the second time in one afternoon, this time 8-2.

This big 200-pound Grizzly wasn't satisfied with hurling superbly. He started the winning of his first game by smacking the pellet for the circuit with a mate already on base. In addition to this he aided his own cause by garnering four blows in the two games.

Before the Grizzlies left on the disastrous road jaunt, Hanson declared he would bet anything that he would be called upon to pitch before the season was over. It's funny about this big fellow. Last year when the Copper, Silver and Gold was short of pitchers he didn't like hill duty, but this spring he has just been waiting for a chance to fling a few.

Hanson looks awkward in a baseball uniform, and when he pulls sparkling bits of fielding, fans shout, "Lucky." But Hans is probably the unluckiest player on the squad. Two years in a row he lost 10-inning tilts 2-1 to the Washington State Cougars and he has been nosed out of several games in the city league when his support momentarily cracked. Truly, Danta makes many phenomenal stops, but he is aided by an unusually large pair of mitts. At any rate his scintillating is altogether too consistent to be termed "luck."

This is Hanson's last season for the Grizzlies and it will be a sorry moment when he checks in his uniform at the close of the season, because the Dane loves baseball more than any other sport. He is a five-letter man, having played two years of football. He is a bug for baseball rules and big league dope, reading everything available along this line. The information he has thus gained and the good use to which he puts it on the diamond makes him the smartest balltoss on the Grizzly squad.

MAY FETE

"Ye Olde English Maye Fete" was presented on Dornblaser field Saturday evening, May 22, before a record crowd. A concert by the Grizzly band, under the direction of Albert Hoelscher, preceded the May Fete. Receipts of the production will go toward the construction of the women's athletic field.

More than 150 girls participated in the festival, which was held as an old English fair scene. Puck, the fairy, in a solo dance by Alice Lease, awakened the Clovers, Sunflowers, Poppies and Wisteria, who danced until the villagers approached to hold the May Fete coronation ceremonies. Marcia Patterson, as queen, led the procession of Attendants, Lords and Ladies, Chimney Sweeps, Bakers and Milkmaids to the court. Following the crowning, the different guilds danced for her favor. Nan Walsh, as the gypsy queen, took the leading part among the wandering gypsy band who danced for the queen. Jean Haviland, Albertine Twitchell and Betty Peterson as jesters, and Mary Joe Dixon and Eloise Walker as bears, performed in special feature dances. Pianists for the dances were Janet Hobbs, Iris Lowe, Lucille Rector, Helen Hammertsrom, and Eleanor Stephenson.

WINTER QUARTER STANDINGS SHOW INCREASE OVER FALL

Scholarship averages for the winter quarter showed an improvement over those of the fall quarter, according to the figures released by Dr. R. H. Jesse, dean of men. The Templars led the list of fraternities and Sigma Kappa headed the sorority list. The averages of men show a marked improvement over the fall quarter and the women have improved to a smaller degree.

The averages for the fraternities for the fall and winter quarters are:

	Winter	Fall
Templars .....	20.86	18.67
Sigma Alpha .....	20.11	18.96
Alpha Delta Alpha.....	19.91	15.78
Phi Delta Theta.....	18.63	16.85
Sigma Chi .....	16.84	18.56
Alpha Tau Omega.....	16.66	11.38
Sigma Nu .....	16.10	10.81
Phi Sigma Kappa.....	15.81	12.93
Sigma Phi Epsilon.....	14.30	9.37

The University men made an average of 18.23 points compared with 15.62 for the fall quarter. The fraternity men have an average of 17.68 and the men not belonging to organizations have 18.92.

The sororities' averages for the two quarters are as follows:

	Winter	Fall
Sigma Kappa .....	25.55	21.30
Phi Beta .....	22.10	19.68
Kappa Kappa Gamma.....	21.45	19.58
Alpha Xi Delta.....	21.05	20.54
Alpha Phi .....	20.04	21.67
Kappa Alpha Theta.....	19.38	17.12
Alpha Chi Omega.....	16.13	16.98
Delta Gamma .....	15.97	16.63

The women of the University made an average of 20.62 grade points and the sorority women made 20.18. The women not belonging to sororities have an average of 21.19 points.

The freshman statistics show that the women led with 16.84 grade points and the men had an even 16 point average.

MASQUERS PLAN LITTLE THEATER FOR NEXT YEAR

Out of debt and with a record of three fine major productions and several, one-act plays of merit, the Montana Masquers, State University's dramatic society, has completed an exceptionally good year. New experiments in theatricals, the discovery of much new talent in the student body and the accomplishment of a University-owned little theater are other features of the year's work.

At the beginning of the school year the Masquers were more than $600 in debt. By careful choice of shows which demanded little scenery or costuming expense, yet gave the maximum of entertainment value and drew capacity houses at downtown theaters, and by giving the one-act plays in the University auditorium, enough money was made to wipe out the debt and leave a surplus at the end of the winter quarter.

Owing to the efforts of Carl Glick, who has been in charge of dramatic work at the State University this year, Montana is assured of a Little theater on the campus next year. This is one of the most notable advances in dramatic development since the work began. It means that students will be able to produce their own plays independently. Whereas the Masquers have always made their own scenery they have had to conform to the measurements of downtown theaters. With the advent of the Little theater they will be able to establish and maintain a permanent set of props and scenery that will add greatly to their productions. It will now be possible for those interested in dramatics to get first hand experience in all angles of the business from lighting the stage to acting the parts.

Another innovation this year was the offering of a prize of $10 and production for the best play written by a student. "The Vigil" by Mary Elizabeth Sedman, was the winning play offer. Plays dealing with Montana life are especially sought.

The Masquers have changed their system of membership this year. In the past anyone taking a part in a major production became a member automatically. Now a formal pledging system is used and it has become a selective honorary society.

U STUDENTS FAIL TO ADOPT HONOR SYSTEM

---

Student self government at the State University was defeated by 60 votes, according to the results of a ballot taken recently. There were 488 favorable votes cast and 236 against the proposed plan. As the registration is 1,096 it would have been necessary for 548 students to vote for the issue.

Examinations for the spring quarter were centralized in the men's gymnasium as formerly, but under faculty supervision. No form of student proctor system as tried in the experiments for the past two quarters was used. According to numerous reports, the plan was defeated due to the second phase of the recommendation, which stated the obligation to report infringements.

FRESHMAN WEEK TO BE TRIED IN FALL

---

The plan of having a Freshman Week at the University has been adopted by the faculty.

Under the new system, all freshmen will have a week before classes take up in which to register and acquaint themselves with the University. Freshmen will register on Monday and Tuesday, September 20 and 21, and will spend the remainder of the week taking physical examinations, placement tests and attending special lectures.

Upperclassmen will register on Thursday and Friday, September 23, and 24.

All rushing by sororities and fraternities must be over by the end of Freshman Week, with formal pledging on Saturday night, September 25.

Among the more recent problems is an investigation into the methods for determining the karat fineness of the gold alloy layers on gold-filled rings and watch cases. Perhaps the most interesting research now in progress is the search for the two missing elements, atomic numbers 43 and 75, which belong to the manganese group of the periodic system. The discovery of these two elements was recently announced in Germany and the names Masurium and Rhenium assigned to them. I have 100 troy ounces of asmiridium alloy which I am working up in order to isolate and study them."

Also, "My thoughts have been interrupted by Mack Gault bursting into the office, with his usual enthusiasm and pep, announcing that he has just received notice that he may be admitted to the practice of law in California by appearing before the District Court of Appeals Monday, June 14, 1926. Class Secretary, Solvay Andresen, 217 Blaine street, Missoula, Montana.

June 34, 1926.

Dear Aluminum:

"Newman is taking a little side-trip over to Europe in a few days and for that reason the class secretaries are supposed to hand in their news whether they have any or not. I'm actually beginning to feel like a bloodhound, as I'm always having to scent something, whether I'm so inclined or not.

"About the biggest event of the social season, I imagine, is the jaunt 'Newman.' Flo Sanden and Dorothy Dixon are taking across the pond. They haven't completed their itinerary, but it's needless to say that Norway will be the first country they will visit. Sanden is as Norwegian as they make them, and she's just as good a talker as she was when she went to college many years ago. I don't know how Dorothy and Sanden got their money—unless it was through bootlegging—but Newman had an uncle, by the name of Maxwell, who manufactures coffee, who sent her the shekles necessary for the little trip.

"Europe is predicted to have an unusually hot summer, owing to all of the hot aisters who are leaving the states for there soon. Missoula and Helena will undoubtedly be much cooler than ordinarily.

"I walked into the Missoula branch of the forest service one afternoon for some news. I sure got some. Jerry Reed, who has been playing around with the chickens and cows on his father's ranch at Stevensville, was seated in front of one of the desks with one of the married women of the staff. They seemed to just be talking things over so I merely said 'hello' and passed out. Today I returned to the same office to find Jerry up to the same tricks. Getting rather worried I took the boss aside and asked for the 'low-down.' He informed me that Jerry is now a clerk in the office. He isn't the kind of a clerk who waits on people, either. The said people wait for him.

"Herbert Onstad was admitted to the bar over in Helena the day after commencement this year. There's a very few people who are able to be admitted to the bar these days, and those that are usually stay there, unless caught. I haven't heard whether Herb is still at the bar or what's become of him.

"Esther Johnson vamoosed her teaching duties in June and got married to Carl Anderson of Helena the other evening. The husband is connected with the Ford company in Helena—used to be a salesman in Missoula. Most of those who took part in the wedding had a 'son' on the end of their names, so it naturally was a big event. They left for a trip to California and upon their return will live in Helena.

"'Hap' Kibble, who went some place to play baseball, came back and is driving the postoffice 'Rolls-Royce' sedan again. He, along with several others, is now in line for a 'life certificate' at the institution.

"Mabel Jacobsen, who used to knock the grade curve clear out of commission when she went to college, and who has been teaching in Conrad the past year, was a Missoula visitor recently. She and a sister were leaving the next day for Chicago to visit an uncle for several weeks after which they expect to return to their home in Ovando for the remainder of the summer. Mabel is going to teach math in the Missoula high school next year.

"Clarence Johnson, pharmacy student, left soon after school was out this year in his Ford for California. He expects to locate there.

"Eloise Baird, who has been doing library work in Spokane the past year, has been appointed Girl Reserve secretary in Missoula next year. She was here for commencement and I succeeded in waving to her a couple of times from a distance. This summer she is taking up some sort of a Y. W. C. A. course in the University of California at Berkeley.

"Agnes Boyd was also here at commencement time. She looked like a million. She played around Missoula a few days, visited the scenes of her childhood up the Bitter Root, and also took a little jaunt over to Glacier park. She thought the school had improved considerably since she left, she said, but didn't think the class of students could compare to those who attended college when she did. She's on some sort of magazine in Milwaukee, Wis.

"Mrs. Walter Needham (Anne Cromwell) has been spending quite a bit of time in Missoula with her mother. She is at present in Great Falls with her husband. He's not a traveling salesman but might as well be as he never stays put two days in succession. Personally I think that's the only kind of man for a girl to marry. He's never around long enough to really be much of a bother.

"Beulah Trotter, who has been teaching in Tranquility, Cal., this year was a campus commencement visitor. She was all dressed up in silks and satins during her visit here and is making scads of money, it seems. Don't bother writing, boys—she has three men on the string at the present time—even one who is some national tennis champion's pal. She worked in the office of a Jew when she first landed in California, but her boss insisted on keeping his whiskey in the file case, and she couldn't be bothered packing all of her copy around with her so got disgusted and quit. She thinks Tranquility a lovely place.

"The wedding picture of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Harpole is one of the attractions in Colville's window at the present time. They look happy.

"Clark Brown, Fred Schilling and DeWitt Law are all practicing lying here. Clark is with Walter L. Pope and I believe the other two are by themselves. They make themselves very promiscuous around the court house when I'm there.

"I imagine this will be the last letter for class secretaries for some time. The next issue at least will be filled with the editor's 'depression' of 'lutefisk,' 'snus' and the like. I have an awful cold at the time of this episode, and hence haven't been able to scent much news. Better luck to myself next time.

"Most unconsciously in the alum association,

"SOL."

Russell Niles, now instructor of public speaking at the University of Colorado, says he is a "hopeless pedagogue—wears rimless, octagonal glasses, garters, and rubbers when it rains." He writes that he sees Professor Humphrey Owen in Denver occasionally.

Helena Badger has been teaching in a large city school of San Jose, California. Next year she expects to teach in a junior high school either in San Jose, California, or Berkeley. This summer she is attending the University of California for her second summer session, where she is taking extra graduate courses in Education. Her address is 1505 The Alameda, San Jose, California.

Gerald Reed is now employed by the McKenzie-Wallace Oil Company of Missoula.
