The University of Montana

The University of Montana in Missoula is located in a mountain forest setting in beautiful western Montana. It is halfway between Glacier and Yellowstone national parks.

Four wilderness areas are located near Missoula. The natural surroundings offer excellent opportunities for hunting, fishing, backpacking, river floating, camping and other outdoor recreational pursuits. Two excellent winter ski areas are within minutes of the University, and several other ski areas are only a couple of hours away by car. UM owns and operates its own golf course near the campus.

The University of Montana is one of the West's pioneers in education and celebrated its Centennial last year, as it was chartered February 17, 1893. The school opened in September 1895 with 50 students enrolled the first day. Located on 207 acres at the base of Mount Sentinel, UM has grown from 50 students and seven faculty members to a present enrollment of over 11,000 and approximately 450 full-time faculty positions.

Throughout its history, the University of Montana has sustained a high standard of academic excellence in teaching, research and service.

UM offers a general associate of arts degree and bachelor's degrees in 50 fields. It offers master's degrees in 45 programs and doctoral degrees in nine.

The College of Arts and Sciences, which is the core of the University, includes a full range of programs and courses in the life sciences, physical sciences, social sciences and humanities. The college also offers curricula in interdisciplinary fields such as ethnic studies and liberal studies.

The University also has schools of business administration, fine arts, journalism, education, forestry, law, and pharmacy and allied health sciences.

The University aims to provide its students a humane and productive learning experience with the best facilities possible. The administration, faculty and staff strive for this goal.

George Dennison became the 16th president of The University of Montana on August 15, 1990.

Before coming to UM, Dennison was provost and vice president for academic affairs at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo, a post he had held since 1987.

He is a former resident of Kalispell, and a UM alumnus. A history professor, he earned two degrees in that field at Montana: a master's in 1963 and a bachelor's with highest honors in 1962. In 1967, he completed a doctorate in history at the University of Washington.

Before joining Western Michigan's administration, he held a number of positions at Colorado State University between 1969 and 1987. They include history professor, admissions and records director, associate academic vice president, graduate school associate dean and associate dean of the college of the arts, humanities and social sciences.

Dennison and his wife, Jane, also from Kalispell, have two children.

Head Coach

DICK SCOTT

359-238, 17 Years at Montana
470-258, 23 Years Overall

Dick Scott enters his 18th year as head coach of The University of Montana Lady Griz volleyball team. He has coached in the Big Sky Conference longer than any other and has guided his teams to 13 consecutive Big Sky Conference Championship appearances. No other coach in Big Sky history has accomplished that feat.

Last year Scott led the Lady Griz to a 25-6 record, and Montana was the 1994 Big Sky Conference co-Champion with a 13-1 league record. He led his squad to the NCAA Championship by way of an at-large bid, and the Lady Griz advanced to the second round after beating Arkansas State 3-1 at home in the first round.

Scott's teams have won three Big Sky regular-season titles (1990-91-94).

His 1991 team won a school-record 26 matches and advanced to the NCAA Championship for the second year in-a-row. His 1994 team lost to Idaho in the Big Sky tournament, but received an at-large bid to the NCAA Championship. The Lady Griz defeated Arkansas State in the first round, then lost to the 1993 national champion Long Beach State in the second round.

His teams have made three appearances in the NCAA Championship (1990-91-94), and his 1992 squad participated in the National Invitational Volleyball Championship.

Dick has twice been named the AVCA Northwest Region co-Coach of the Year (1991 & 1992) and was the 1991 Big Sky Conference Coach of the Year.

Scott returned to Montana in 1978 from southern California, where he coached at Santa Monica Junior College and UCLA. He led Santa Monica to an overall record of 110-20 and a league record of 52-1 from 1971-78. While working as a graduate assistant at UCLA, Scott earned his master's degree in health and physical education. He also taught physical education and general science at John Adams Junior High from 1970 to 1978.

During his time in Los Angeles, Scott led the Maccabi Volleyball Club team to two national open titles. His 1976 team won the USVBA national title and took second in the AAU national tournament, and his 1977 team won the AAU national title and took second in the USVBA tournament.

Scott has a vast amount of international experience. He was the head coach for the USA Junior National team from 1977-79. His 1977 team placed third at the Pacific Rim International Championship; and in 1978 and 1979, Scott's teams won the Pacific Rim Championship. It was the first time the United States had won a Gold Medal in volleyball since the Pan-American Games in 1967.

Scott was also an assistant coach for the Junior National Team prior to that. He led the team to the NORCECA tournament in 1976 and qualified for the World Junior Championship the following year.

Scott served as an assistant coach for the United States Olympic men's volleyball team when it participated in the USA Championship Series in 1985.

He also served as an assistant coach for the Men's National Team in the 1981 World University Games in Rumania and the USA Cup in 1985. Scott was the assistant coach of the 1976 USA National Team which defeated the Suntory Club from Japan, the first time an American team defeated a team from Japan.

A native of Denton, Mont., Scott received his bachelor's degree in physical education in 1965 from Montana State University, where he lettered in basketball and track. He served in the Air Force from 1965 to 1969.

Scott was named the recipient of the 1993 Ed Chinske award, given annually by the Missoula Athletic Council to the outstanding professional in the field of sports. In 1990 he became a published author, writing a chapter in "Volleyball's Cadre Collection--Volume II," an accumulation of coaching techniques written by some of the most prestigious coaches in volleyball. Scott was named Montana's Outstanding Official in 1989 for his officiating of high school volleyball matches.

Dick has three children. Jean (23) played volleyball for Northwest Community College and Eastern Montana College. Patty (19), played volleyball for Hellgate High School, and Jack (12) is a student at Rattlesnake Middle School.

Assistant Coaches

MARY KLUEBER
Assistant Coach

Mary Klueber (CLUE-Ber) begins her second season of coaching at her alma mater. She assists Dick Scott in virtually all areas of coaching, which include recruiting, scouting, conditioning, travel arrangements, budgeting, scheduling, player counseling, and game management.

Klueber was a four-year letter winner at Montana from 1980-83, and her presence lingers in the Lady Griz record book. She was Montana's Most Improved Player as a freshman in 1980, then was the 1981 Outstanding Hitter and Outstanding Blocker. She went on to earn Mountain West all-conference honors in both 1982 and 1983 and was an all-region selection in 1981 and 1982.

Klueber still remains among the top 10 all-time career leaders in four categories. She is third in service aces (156), fourth in blocks (412), fourth in hitting percentage (.245), and seventh in kills (1108). Klueber was a member of the National Sports Festival West team that won a Gold Medal in 1982.

She was inducted into The University of Montana inaugural Women's Hall of Fame in 1989, and her jersey No. 8 was retired at the same time.

Klueber was the first head volleyball coach at Big Sky High School between 1983-85. In her first season there, the Eagles went 28-2 and won the Montana state "AA" championship. In her second season, the Eagles went 22-8 and finished second at the state tournament. She was subsequently named Coach of the Year by the Montana Coaches' Association in 1985.

After receiving her B.S. degree in health & physical education in 1985, Klueber returned to her native state of Alaska. She was the head volleyball coach at Wasilla High School, leading her team to an 18-4 record and a second-place finish at the Alaska state championship. While in Alaska, Klueber was also a substitute teacher and a volleyball official.

Klueber moved to Albuquerque, N.M. in 1986. She spent one year as a volunteer assistant coach at the University of New Mexico and also coached a girls 16-and-under club team. She received her Master's degree in sports administration from New Mexico in 1990.

Prior to her appointment at UM, Klueber was a District Executive Director for the American Cancer Society in New Mexico. She was responsible for fundraising, patient services, education programs, and volunteer services throughout northwest New Mexico.

Klueber earned nine varsity letters in volleyball, basketball, track and tennis from Bartlett High School in Anchorage, Alaska.

MICHELLE PETERSON
Assistant Coach

Michelle Peterson begins her first season as an assistant coach for The University of Montana after completing her collegiate career last season. She replaces Jennifer Moran, who left Montana to pursue other career opportunities.

Peterson spent five years as a student-athlete under Dick Scott, and now she will continue working as a protegee within the Lady Griz program.

She will be responsible for such things as film exchange, travel arrangements, game management, scouting and game strategy.

Michelle came to The University of Montana in 1990 as a walk-on and earned a scholarship the following year. As a sophomore in 1992, she was named the co-Outstanding Backcourt Player, along with Yuki Morita, after Montana posted a 19-13 record.

Peterson played in 98 games as a junior and averaged 1.52 digs per game. As a senior, she saw time in 82 games, averaging

1.25 digs per game. During Peterson's collegiate career, the Lady Griz posted a record of 89-34 (.724).

Immediately after fulfilling her collegiate eligibility, Peterson was named head volleyball coach at Big Sky High School, taking over a program that was looking for a state title.

Peterson led the Eagles to an 18-2 record and the Montana state "AA" championship title last spring. She was subsequently named the Montana "AA" Coach of the Year as a rookie.

She coached Big Sky standout Katie Almquist, who is a freshman on Montana's team this season.

Peterson has been instrumental in the development of the Missoula Volleyball Club, which has competed in the Davis tournament the last three years in-a-row.

In addition to her volleyball expertise, Peterson is also a certified American Softball Association (ASA) umpire and has been umping both fast-pitch and slow-pitch softball for five years. She is also a certified volleyball official.

A three-sport standout at Big Sky High School in Missoula, Peterson led her prep teams to back-to-back state "AA" titles in both volleyball and basketball. She earned countless accolades in both sports, in addition to earning numerous awards in softball.

Peterson recently received her bachelor's degree from Montana in health and human performance.

1994 - A Season in Review

Last year was a monumental season for The University of Montana women's volleyball team, as the Lady Griz advanced to the second round of the NCAA tournament for the first time in school history. Montana also made its first appearance in the Top 25 rankings, popping in at No. 23 in late November.

The senior-laden squad of 1994 won a share of the Big Sky regular-season title, going 13-1 in league action. But Idaho won the right to host the conference tournament, then won the title match in five games.

In a year which saw the Big Sky Conference lose its automatic bid to the NCAA Championship, Idaho was required to participate in a play-in game. Montana, on the other hand, received a surprising at-large bid for a match at home.

"That was something I never expected," said UM head coach Dick Scott, who wrapped up his 17th year at Montana with a 25-6 record. "We were just ecstatic when we heard we were hosting a first-round match."

The Lady Griz defeated Arkansas State, the Sun Belt champion, 3-0 in that first-round match in front of a roaring crowd of 1,236 UM fans. It was Montana's first NCAA win in school history.

The reward was to challenge Long Beach State, the defending national champion, in LBSU's brand new facility - the Pyramid. Although the Lady Griz came up short against the 49ers, Scott was delighted with the season's finish.

"It was icing on the cake," he said, referring to the trip to southern California in early December.

At the beginning of the season, Scott figured his 1994 team had the potential to go far. A very talented class of five seniors gave Montana both the skill and leadership essential for a winning season.

"Those seniors really wanted to win a Big Sky title," he said. "That class had a very determined attitude, and they weren't satisfied with the one title they won as freshmen."

Picked to finish third in the league's preseason poll, the Lady Griz felt no pressure to prove themselves. Their goal was to take it one match at a time.

Montana opened the season winning its own Subway Volleyball Classic but was tested early on by an aggressive Cal State-Sacramento team. The Lady Griz defeated the Hornets in five games in both pool play and the championship match, but the final game scores were 17-15 and 16-14.

Senior setter Linde Eidenberg was tabbed the tournament MVP, while fellow senior Karen Goff-Downs also earned all-tournament honors.

"Given the competition we had against Sac State, it was outstanding for us to come through that tournament undefeated," Scott said. "We were very fortunate to beat them twice. Every player had her moment, and everyone contributed at some point during that tournament."

Eidenberg broke her nose during the championship match of the Subway Classic while diving to save a lose ball. She had her nose set the following Monday and was required to wear a face mask for several weeks.

Despite Eidenberg's broken nose, Montana picked up another tournament title in Springfield, Mo. The Lady Griz went uncontested there, sweeping host Southwest Missouri State, Kansas and Tulsa. Eidenberg was tabbed the tournament MVP for the second consecutive week, while Goff-Downs, Heidi Williams and Inga Swanson each earned all-tournament honors.

"We had a lot of fun at that tournament," Scott said. "Southwest Missouri State has a very nice arena, and they have great fan support. It was a superb atmosphere for volleyball, and we played like a veteran team."

The Lady Griz took a 7-0 record to Lexington, Ky. the following week to compete in the Kentucky Conference Challenge. It was a tough weekend for Montana, as the team returned home with three five-game losses to Kentucky, Iowa and George Mason.

"We were in position to win all three matches, but we just couldn't get it done," said Scott. "We competed well, but we didn't play very intelligently at times. Additionally challenging was the air conditioning system that broke down during the tournament, and the humidity was probably at 90 percent. Every match was over two hours long, and we were completely drenched at all times."

Montana began Big Sky action with a 7-3 record and swept through the first half of league play. The Lady Griz also picked up a five-game win over Gonzaga in Spokane, winning the fifth game 15-13.

Highlighting the first half of conference action was most certainly the win over Idaho in mid-October. A season-high crowd of 1,239 Lady Griz fans were on hand to see Montana down the Vandals in a tight five-game match. It was UM's first win over Idaho since November of 1992.

Midway through the conference season, Montana took a break from Big Sky play and picked up two road wins over Wyoming and Colorado State.

The Lady Griz nearly swept through the second half of conference action, but the Vandals closed the door on a perfect Big Sky season. Idaho defeated Montana 3-1 in the last regular-season home match. Despite identical 13-1 Big Sky records, Idaho's four game win in Moscow gave the Vandals the hosting rights to the Big Sky Championship.

Montana returned to the Palouse the following weekend for the tournament and downed an aspiring Idaho State team 3-1 in the semifinals. But a Big Sky championship was not to be for the Lady Griz, as the Vandals defeated Montana in the title match for the second year in-a-row. Idaho won the fifth game 15-8 to win their third Big Sky crown.

Despite the loss, three of Montana's key seniors were named to the all-tournament team. Eidenberg, Goff-Downs and Williams also earned Big Sky all-conference first team honors, while junior Inga Swanson was named to the Big Sky honorable mention team.

Eidenberg, Goff-Downs, and Williams were each named to the AVCA all-Northwest Region team.

Montana returned home to await word on any postseason possibilities, and a roar of applause erupted when the Lady Griz became one of the 48 teams selected to compete in the NCAA tournament.

"It was just really exciting and really unexpected," Scott said. "We thought we might get invited to the NIVC, but we certainly didn't expect an at-large bid to the NCAA Championship. We were very fortunate!"

In addition to the success on the court, the Lady Griz recorded its best season in the classroom, as a record-number eight players were named to the Big Sky all-academic team.

At the season-ending banquet, Eidenberg was voted the team's Most Valuable Player for the second time in her career. She was also honored with the Outstanding Leadership award. Goff-Downs earned her second consecutive Outstanding Frontcourt Player award, and Williams earned her second Outstanding Backcourt Player award.

April Sather was tabbed the team's Outstanding Rookie. A center on the Lady Griz basketball team, the sophomore joined the volleyball team during the spring and made significant contributions throughout the season, which concluded with a starting position for her during the Big Sky tournament.

The Most Improved Player award went to both Jennifer Patera and Dana Bennish. Patera saw significant time as a back-row player, and Bennish came on strong at the end of the season. Her blocking was a key factor in Montana's win over Arkansas State.

Williams was named the Most Inspirational Player, and Swanson earned the Outstanding Postseason Player award. Junior Sheri Vinion was named the Outstanding Player vs. the Bobcats.

A total of nine team records and seven individual records fell during 1994. Furthermore, the Lady Griz were ranked 34th in the nation in attendance, averaging 646 fans per home game.

Montana posted its second-best record ever at 25-6 for a winning percentage of .806. In 1991 Montana went 26-4 (.867), but lost to Pacific in the first round of the NCAA tournament.

"It was truly a great season for us," Scott recalled. "Our seniors really stepped up and did a fine job of leading this team throughout the season. We were lucky in that we didn't suffer any major injuries, and we improved from the beginning to the end. I'm very happy with the accomplishments of the 1994 team."

1995 Season Outlook

AS ALWAYS, MONTANA IS "DIGGING FOR GOLD"

Jennifer Patera

Montana head coach Dick Scott believes that team goals are of utmost importance, and year-in and year-out his teams have strived to win the Big Sky Conference title. This year is no different, and the theme "Digging for Gold" is most appropriate.

"We always want to win the Big Sky title," said Scott, who enters his 18th year at Montana. "That's something we strive for every year."

The Lady Griz have won three regular-season league titles in the last four years, but that tournament title has eluded Scott and company the last three years in-a-row.

Despite last year's loss to Idaho in the championship match, Montana posted a 25-6 record and advanced to the NCAA tournament for the third time in five years. Last year's squad also did something no other UM team has done...advanced to the second round of the NCAA Championship.

"It was icing on the cake," Scott said. "It was just really exciting for us."

Hopefully last year's accomplishments will motivate a young 1995 squad to set the same high standards this year. However, Montana has two obstacles to overcome.

"We are very young and very inexperienced," Scott explains. "We have six new players coming in, and we have eight freshmen on the team."

But things have a way of working themselves out, says Scott.

"We have a lot of good athletes in our program," he said, "and this team is coming in with a very good work ethic. I believe they're going to surprise some people."

The Lady Griz have their work cut out for them. The first thing on the agenda is to replace three all-region players - Linde Eidenberg, Karen Goff-Downs, and Heidi Williams.

"We lost three key people last year," Scott said, "and those players were significant contributors to our program. Losing our setter and two starting middles creates a big deficit for us."

Replacing Eidenberg at setter is junior Jennifer Patera, who has seen very limited time at the setting position. However, last year she played in nearly every match as a defensive specialist. That experience gave Patera and her teammates confidence in her abilities, and Scott believes she will step right in and surprise some people.

"We lost experience and savvy when we lost Eidenberg," he said, "but Jen is going to come on strong. As the season progresses, Jen will gain confidence and experience. She has done a lot of things to improve her consistency, set selection and timing, and her blocking is also improving."

Patera's back-up may be questionable. Redshirt freshman Jaime Holleman tore her ACL last spring and will miss most of the season. Holly Horn, a transfer from Oregon State, could see some time there, as she did some setting for Montana last spring. Incoming freshman Jamie Wolstein is also a potential back-up setter.

Montana's other significant void is in the middle. Gone are two four-year starters, who left UM ranked No. 2 and No. 3 in career blocks.

"We lost two very good all-regional middles, who started their entire collegiate careers," Scott said. "That's a lot of lost experience!"

Sophomore Dana Bennish will step right into one of the starting middle positions, and she is expected to have an outstanding career at UM.

"Dana made tremendous strides throughout last year," Scott said. "She spent the last two years playing behind two excellent blockers. She is definitely ready to step into a more active role."

The other starting middle position is a question mark. Scott moved junior April Sather over from right side, and her blocking skills have improved significantly. Another potential starter there is incoming freshman Paige Merritt.

"Paige has some tremendous blocking skills for a freshman, and she will be a real key to our operation next year. I expect Paige and April will be battle for that other starting middle position."

Another middle blocker who is expected to fill a back-up role is sophomore Shayla Thisselle, a local girl who was the team manager last year.

"We may be inconsistent in the middle," Scott said. "We have all new players there, but I expect improvement as the season progresses."

One area in which Montana will not be deficient is in on the outside. Montana returns three solid senior hitters in Andi McHugh, Inga Swanson and Sheri Vinion, all of whom were starters last year.

McHugh will continue her role opposite the setter. The experience and confidence she has gained will make her a better player.

Swanson and Vinion will continue to lead Montana on the left side. Swanson has been a natural leader throughout her career, and her physical contributions are also significant. Vinion is in great shape and has been an outstanding leader for the young athletes.

"We are very solid on the left side because we have both Inga and Sheri returning," Scott said. "Plus we have tremendous back-up there."

Incoming freshman Katie Marshall may play the back-up right side position behind McHugh. Marshall's size and blocking skills could give her the opportunity to contribute immediately. Holleman can also play right side, but her ACL injury will keep her from contributing early on.

Five players have the ability to back up left side. Those five are sophomore Holly Horn and freshmen Katie Almquist, Shannon Blott, Heather Jensen and Jaime Volkmann.

"We are very solid in back up at the left-side position," Scott said. "We have a lot of players who can fill that position. We will surely be an outside-oriented team this year."

With a solid core of 16 players on the roster, Scott wants to redshirt a couple of freshmen.

The Lady Griz begin the 1995 season with an alumni match on Aug. 26, then the team will travel to Texas to compete in the UT-Arlington tournament. With Indiana and South Alabama among the field, Scott believes it's a perfect opening weekend tournament for his young team.

"It's the type of challenge we need early on," he said. "I'm sure we will still be working with the lineup at that point in the season."

The following weekend is Montana's home tournament...the Rodeway Inn/Montana Pie Classic. Akron, Colorado State and Pepperdine will be in Missoula Sept. 8-9 to challenge Montana.

"That is a scary field," Scott said. "Those teams are very tough. Pepperdine is always strong in volleyball, and Colorado State returns everyone from a team we narrowly defeated in five games last year. Akron is a solid team that has had some success over the years."

Montana will host Gonzaga Sept. 11, then will compete in the Iowa Classic Sept. 15-16.

"That's another tough field," said Scott. "The Big Sky Conference race begins Sept. 21, and as always, it will be a barn burner."

"Unfortunately, it's going to be a crazy race this year," said Scott, who has advanced to the league tournament in all of its 13 years. "I think Idaho is, again, the team to strive for. They've had a good winning tradition there for the last few years, and I believe they will be the team to catch."

Scott believes the lower echelon of the conference will be significantly improved this year.

"Montana State is definitely going to be stronger this year. Northern Arizona is always a tough challenge. Weber State is going to be very good, and Boise State will definitely be improved."

"Idaho State had a coaching change, but they have a lot of people in place," Scott said. "They're like the 'Land of the Giants,' they're so tall. Eastern Washington gave us all we wanted last spring; they will certainly be improved."

"I think the conference race will be a dog fight," he said. "Many teams in the league are improving, and I see that any team in this conference has a shot at the title. In years past there have typically been three or four teams that you know will advance to the tournament. This year it could be anyone."

"I want our team to be playing it's best by the time the league season starts," Scott said. "I think our schedule will challenge us and will provide us the opportunity to get better as the season progresses. We have a lot of unknowns on our team, but I know we will be an outside-oriented team. Things have a way of working themselves out, and I believe this young Montana squad will be a pleasant surprise."

Player Profiles

Andi McHugh is one of Montana's three returning senior starters this year; and she, along with Inga Swanson and Sheri Vinion, should lead the 1995 Lady Griz to new heights. McHugh is a right-side hitter, whose blocking ability is a key, and she is Montana's best returning server. Furthermore, she is one of UM's best students and was one of eight Lady Griz players named to the Big Sky all-academic team last year.

1994: McHugh started during most of the season and played in 102 of 124 games. She averaged 1.8 kills per game and hit .163 on the season. She also averaged 1.2 digs and 0.8 blocks per game and tallied 27 aces.

1993: McHugh started during most of the season and played in 102 of 124 games. She averaged 1.8 kills per game and hit .163 on the season. She also averaged 1.2 digs and 0.8 blocks per game and tallied 27 aces.

1992: McHugh played in 17 games during 1992 and averaged 1.9 kills and 1.3 digs per game. Montana posted a 19-13 record that season.

1991: Andi redshirted as a true freshman in 1991, a year in which the Lady Griz went 26-4 and advanced to the NCAA Championship.

High School: McHugh was a three-sport standout at Butte High School, where she led the Bulldog volleyball team to a first-place finish in the Western "AA" Conference in 1990. She was a two-time all-conference and all-state player and a member of the 1991 Montana All-Star team. McHugh was Butte's Outstanding Female Athlete of the Year in 1990-91. She was also a standout in both basketball and tennis, earning numerous honors in both sports.

Scott Says: "Andi had a tremendous spring season, and I am very pleased with what she has accomplished. She is playing with a lot more confidence, and we are looking for her to play a significant role this year. She can help us with her attacking skills, but her most important contribution is being able to stop the opposing attack."

The daughter of Marilyn McHugh of Butte, Andi is an Honors student in psychology. She was born on February 3, 1973, and is engaged to be married to Charles Fishero next summer.

6-0 Senior
Outside Hitter
Pendroy, Montana

Probably Montana's most versatile athlete, Inga Swanson can play any of the three frontcourt positions. Initially recruited as a middle blocker, she has played both outside hitting positions for UM. Swanson is a very strong and deceptive hitter and is Montana's most experienced player.

Swanson is a two-time recipient of the UM President's Award, given to the student-athlete with the best GPA, having maintained a 3.92 in business marketing. She is also a two-time Big Sky all-academic selection (1993 & 1994).

In addition, Swanson is a Big Sky all-conference selection in track & field. She finished second in the high jump at the Big Sky Outdoor Track & Field Championships last spring, clearing 5-foot-7.

1994: Swanson earned Big Sky honorable mention all-conference honors as a junior and played in 122 of 124 games. She averaged 3.0 kills on a .263 hitting percentage and contributed 1.9 digs and 0.8 blocks per game. In addition, Swanson was named to the Southwest Missouri State all-tournament team in early September.

1993: Starting the season at right side, Inga averaged just over two kills and two digs in 83 games as a sophomore. Her time was cut short when she broke the pinky finger on her right hand in early October and sat out for 30 games. Swanson returned to the line-up at left side after Jennifer Moran suffered a career-ending back injury. The Lady Griz posted a 19-11 record in 1993.

1992: As a middle blocker, Swanson was named Montana's Outstanding Rookie after starting in place of the injured Karen Goff at the 1992 National Invitational Volleyball Championships. She averaged 1.6 kills and 1.2 blocks per game as a true freshman, as Montana posted a 19-13 record.

High School: Swanson was Montana's first-ever class "B" recruit. She led Choteau High School to three consecutive state titles and was a three-time all-conference and all-state selection. She was the Most Valuable Player as a senior.

Scott Says: "Inga had a tremendous junior year. She has come on really strong in both her leadership abilities and her physical contributions. She has been working her tail off. We are definitely going to find ways to get the ball to her a lot; she is a key player for us."

The daughter of Larry and Bev Swanson of Pendroy, Inga was born on December 26, 1973.

6 SHERI VINION 6-0 Senior Outside Hitter Missoula, Montana

Sheri Vinion is one of Montana's best pure athletes, and one of three returning senior starters for the Lady Griz. She and Inga Swanson will give Montana a strong attack on the left side.

Sheri is also one of Montana's best students and was named to the Big Sky all-academic team in both 1993 and 1994.

1994: Vinion started all 124 games last season and averaged 3.0 kills on a .182 hitting percentage. She also contributed 2.6 digs and 0.6 blocks per game. She was tabbed Montana's Outstanding Player vs. the Bobcats after averaging 3.5 kills on .269 hitting against Montana State.

1993: Sheri was a part-time starter as a sophomore, seeing action mostly on the right side. She played in 82 games, averaging 1.8 kills and 1.7 digs per game. She was subsequently named Montana's Most Improved Player in 1993, when the Lady Griz went 19-11.

1992: Vinion played in 34 games as redshirt freshman and averaged 1.9 kills and 1.2 digs per game. Montana posted a 19-13 record that season.

1991: Vinion redshirted her first season as a Lady Griz in 1991, when the Lady Griz went 26-4 and advanced to the NCAA Championship.

High School: Another outstanding athlete from Missoula's Big Sky High School, Vinion helped lead the Eagles to two consecutive state "AA" titles in volleyball, earning MVP honors as a senior in 1990. She was also a standout in both basketball and track & field, earning several all-conference, all-state and MVP honors in both sports. Her basketball team won the 1988 state title, and her track team won the 1990 title.

Scott Says: "Sheri is just as solid as she can be. She is in great physical shape, and she is a great leader for the younger players. She works very hard, especially in the weight room and sprints. I think she is playing with a lot more confidence, and her serve is really coming along. I look for her to have a tremendous senior year."

The daughter of Marvin and Betty Vinion of Missoula, Sheri was born on December 26, 1972 and is an accounting major. She is engaged to marry to Rich Roth on August 3, 1996.

Jennifer Patera (Pa-TERRA) is expected to step into the starting setter's position, left vacant by the graduation of two-time MVP Linde Eidenberg. Patera has seen limited time at the position, but had a solid spring season.

Another outstanding student, Patera was one of eight Lady Griz players named to the Big Sky all-academic team last year.

1994: Patera saw action in 109 games as a defensive specialist and averaged 1.2 digs per game. She was named Montana's Most Improved Player, along with Dana Bennish.

1993: Playing strictly as Montana's back-up setter, Patera saw action in only three matches as a redshirt freshman. She started at Idaho State midseason while Eidenberg was out with a sprained ankle. At the end of the season, Patera had shoulder surgery to repair a torn rotator cuff.

1992: Patera redshirted during her first season as a Lady Griz, when Montana posted a 19-13 record.

High School: Jennifer came from Havre High School, where she was a two-time MVP (1991 & 1992) for the Blue Ponies. She was also a three-time all-conference and all-state selection and a two-time state "A" all-tournament pick. She graduated as the all-time leading setter with nearly 1,400 career assists. She was also a standout in both basketball and track & field, and she was inducted into Havre High's Hall of Fame in 1992.

Scott Says: "Last spring was the first time Jen had been on the court as a first-string setter, and she really took the bull by the horns. She has done a lot of things to improve her consistency, set selection, and timing, and her blocking is also improving. I'm looking forward to her leading the team and gaining confidence throughout the season."

The daughter of Robert and Lela Patera of Havre, Jennifer was born on June 10, 1974. She is a physical therapy major.

April Sather (SAY-Ther) has become a valuable asset to Montana's volleyball team. She was heavily recruited in both basketball and volleyball, then came to Montana on a basketball scholarship in 1992. Sather is in her second season of playing volleyball for the Lady Griz, and this year she has moved from outside to middle blocker. April is a three-time Big Sky all-academic pick, having earned that honor twice in basketball and once in volleyball.

APRIL SATHER

1994: Sather was named Montana's Outstanding Rookie last year and started during the Big Sky tournament at the end of the season. She saw action in 21 matches and tallied 31 kills, 21 digs and 18 blocks.

April saw time in 19 basketball games during Montana's 26-7 campaign, averaging six minutes per game. She tallied 29 points and 29 rebounds and hit 46 percent from the field.

1993: As a redshirt freshman in basketball, Sather played in 14 games and garnered eight points and 16 rebounds.

High School: At Havre High School, Sather led her volleyball team to a 22-2 record and the state "A" championship title. She was tabbed MVP as a senior, and she was a three-time all-conference and two-time all-state selection. She led the Blue Pony basketball team to a 16-8 record and a second-place finish at the state tournament, earning several accolades along the way. Sather was also a standout in track & field, helping her team win the state "A" title in 1992. She was Havre's Female Athlete of the Year that year, and she earned academic all-state honors in all three sports.

Scott Says: "April is playing with a lot more confidence. We have worked hard on her one-foot takeoff, and she is getting better at that. Her attack is improving, and her blocking, particularly the reading of the opponent, has also improved significantly. April is going to be vying for a starting position at middle blocker."

The daughter of Terry and Kathy Sather of Havre, April was born on May 5, 1973. She is studying health and human performance.

DANA BENNISH
5-11 Sophomore
Middle Blocker
Tarzana, California

One of Montana's most exciting players, Dana Bennish should step right into a starting spot vacated by the graduation of both Karen Goff-Downs and Heidi Williams. She is an outstanding blocker and a very aggressive player.

Bennish was one of eight players named to the Big Sky all-academic team in 1994.

1994: As a redshirt freshman Bennish was tabbed Montana's Most Improved Player, along with Jennifer Patera. Bennish played in 17 matches and saw significant time at the end of the season. She played the entire match against Arkansas State in the first round of the NCAA tournament and averaged 1.2 blocks on the season.

1993: Dana redshirted during her first season, as the Lady Griz went 19-11.

High School: Bennish was a two-time MVP at Montclair Prep High School in Van Nuys, Calif. She led the Mounties to a 14-3 record and the third round of the CIF Southern Section playoffs as a senior. She also played with the Valley Thunder club team.

In addition to volleyball, Bennish earned many honors in both basketball and softball. She was a two-time MVP in both sports and was the softball Rookie of the Year in 1989-90. She was Montclair's Scholar Athlete of the Year in 1991-92, and she was a four-year member of the California Scholarship Federation.

Scott Says: "Dana is a very solid volleyball player. She is an outstanding blocker, and her hitting has improved significantly. She has made tremendous improvements over the last year, and she is really looking forward to this season. Dana has played behind two excellent blockers the last couple of years, and this year she's going to get after it."

The daughter of Corky and Betty Bennish of Tarzana, Dana is studying business administration. She was born on December 27, 1975.

Holly Horn transferred to Montana from Oregon State, where she spent her freshman season as a back row player for the Beavers. Horn came to UM in December of 1993 and has been a pleasant surprise. She can play either outside position, plus she has good setting skills.

5-9 Sophomore
Outside Hitter
Spokane, Washington

1994: Horn was a defensive specialist for Oregon State head coach Jeff Mozzochi, who led the Beavers to a 17-17 overall record. Despite finishing eighth in the Pac-10 Conference with a 4-14 league record, Oregon State advanced to the National Invitational Volleyball Championship and posted a 2-2 record there. Horn saw limited time at Oregon State, playing in only eight games.

High School: Horn was a three-year starter for Shadle Park High School in Spokane, Wash., a school which also produced Lady Griz standouts Mari Brown (1986-89) and Jennifer Moran (1989-93). Horn led Shadle Park to the Washington state title in 1993, a third-place state finish in 1991 and a fifth-place finish in 1992. She was the first player to be named to the all-Greater Spokane League (GSL) team three years in-a-row, and she was an all-state selection in 1993. Horn also earned one letter in basketball and three letters in track & field. Furthermore, she competed for four different volleyball club teams - Seattle Juniors, Spokane Juniors, Cutting Edge and Club Valley.

Scott Says: "We recruited Holly when she was still at Shadle Park, but she decided to try Oregon State. She transferred to Montana at the semester break last year, and that was really exciting for us. She has tremendous work ethic. Holly backed up three different positions during the spring season, and she is very valuable because she can do so many different things. She is a great addition to our program."

Holly is the daughter of Pat and Ann Horn of Spokane and was born on February 5, 1976. Her sister, Shannon, played volleyball for Eastern Washington University, where she was the Most Inspirational Player in 1989. Holly has not declared a major yet.

3 SHAYLA THISSELLE
5-11 Sophomore
Middle Blocker
Missoula, Montana

Shayla Thisselle (Thi-SELL) walked on the Lady Griz volleyball team last spring after spending the entire 1994 season as the team's manager. Thisselle needs some experience under her belt, but she should prove to be a solid back-up player at middle blocker.

High School: Thisselle earned three letters at Sentinel High School from 1992-94, under the direction of former Lady Griz player Deb (Carter) Thompson (1984-86). Thisselle was Sentinel's Most Improved Player as a junior and the Spartans' Outstanding Blocker as a senior. During her senior season, Sentinel posted an 11-11 record and advanced to the state "AA" tournament. She averaged 9.8 kills and 3.1 blocks per match, while hitting .285 on the season. She was also named to the Montana "AA" All-Star team. In addition, Thisselle played for the Missoula U18 All-Star volleyball club, which competed in the 1993 Davis tournament.

Scott Says: "Shayla has been a pleasant surprise. She needs to get physically stronger, but one of her best skills is blocking. She has good instincts and pretty good hands. Shayla is still inconsistent in her hitting, although it is improving. I expect that Shayla will play a back-up role at the middle position this year."

The daughter of Vernon and Connie Thisselle of Missoula, Shayla was born on December 30, 1975. She is a health & human performance major.

Katie Almquist comes to Montana from Big Sky High School in Missoula, a program that has produced numerous Lady Griz volleyball players. Almquist had an outstanding career in high school, and she has been tabbed as one of the best athletes ever recruited to the Montana volleyball program.

High School: Almquist led Big Sky to the 1994 state "AA" title and an 18-2 record. She was the co-MVP as a senior, along with setter Stephanie Anderson. Almquist was also a two-time all-conference and all-state pick and was a unanimous pick in 1995. She was also named to the Montana All-Star team, and she played for the Missoula Volleyball Club that went to Davis in 1993.

Almquist earned four letters each in both basketball and track & field. She was a two-time MVP in hoops and earned Big Sky's Outstanding Defensive Player award three times. She was also a two-time MVP and two-time Outstanding Sprinter in track. Her 1600-meter relay team holds the school record.

Almquist was named the Outstanding Female Athlete at Big Sky as a senior, and she was a 10-time academic all-state selection. She was one of several class Valedictorians, maintaining a perfect 4.0 GPA.

Scott Says: "Katie could potentially be our best all-around athlete among our new players. She is an outstanding athlete in all three sports (basketball, track & field, volleyball), and she had a tremendous athletic career at Big Sky. She has excellent work ethic, and she's the type of player you want in your program. I like recruiting Big Sky athletes because they have the ability to adjust to my style of coaching right away, having been coached by my former players. Big Sky athletes are hard workers who are accustomed to winning; there has been a lot of winning in that program. I'm really looking forward to coaching Katie."

The daughter of Denny and Mary Gay Almquist of Missoula, Katie was born on February 19, 1977. She is interested in elementary education.

1 SHANNON BLOTT
5-8 Freshman
Outside Hitter
Spokane, Washington

Shannon Blott is another outside hitter from the Spokane area, who has had a lot of success. Hailing from Lewis & Clark High School, Blott is a versatile athlete, having played all three positions in the past.

High School: A three-year starter for Lewis & Clark, Blott led her team to a 31-2-1 record and the Washington State "AAA" title in 1994. It was the Tigers' second state title in three years, having won it in 1992 as well. Lewis & Clark won the Greater Spokane League (GSL) title four years in-a-row, and Blott was the GSL's Most Valuable Player as a senior. Last year she hit .306 on the season.

Blott was also a two-year starting point guard on the Tiger basketball team. Her hoop team was the Washington state academic champion when she was a sophomore, and her volleyball team was the first to win both the state title and the state academic title the same year.

Scott Says: "Shannon had an outstanding high school career and has played for the Washington State title more than once. She played for coach Buzzy Welch, a man who also coached UM standouts Allison Yamell (1984-87) and Cheryl Hanson (1984-87). Shannon may not have great size, but she has been trained to do virtually everything. She has some setting capabilities, and she has played both left and right sides."

Shannon is the daughter of Bruce and Beverly Blott of Spokane and was born on June 24, 1977. She is interested in studying physical therapy.

Player Profiles

Jaime Holleman (HALL-A-Mun) is another California prep standout, whose versatility allows her to play both right-side hitter and setter. Unfortunately, Holleman tore the anterior cruciate ligament in her right knee while skiing last winter and will be unable to compete early on. The left-handed standout may return to action some time late in the season.

1994: Jaime was one of three players who redshirted for the Lady Griz last year.

High School: Holleman led Long Beach Poly High School to the Moore League championship title three years in-a-row. Her team finished 13-2 in 1993 and 15-3 in both 1992 and '94. Long Beach Poly has been ranked among the Top 25 prep teams in the nation in both Volleyball Monthly and USA Today.

Holleman also spent six years with the Reebok Magnum Volleyball Club in Southern California. In addition, she competed for her high school swim team. Holleman is one of six players from Long Beach Poly High who is currently playing at the collegiate level.

Scott Says: "Jaime may return to action sometime during the middle of the season. We'll see how she progresses throughout the next few months. We'd certainly like to have her as a back-up at the right side, but her injury may keep her from helping us much this year. Jaime had a good early spring season before she got hurt. She is very strong defensively, and she is good at serve reception. She is working on her setting skills and her frontcourt play."

The daughter of Tom and Marge Holleman of Long Beach, Jaime was born on November 24, 1976. She has not declared a major.

HEATHER JENSEN
5-10 Freshman
Outside Hitter
Troutdale, Oregon

Heather Jensen walked on the Montana volleyball team last year and has shown some strong skills. She is expected to continue improving this season and could see some time at left side.

1994: Jensen was one of three players who redshirted for the Lady Griz last season.

High School: A native of Troutdale, Ore., Jensen was the Reynolds High School Athlete of the Year in 1993-94. She led her team to a 20-7 record, averaging 3.74 kills per game on a .386 hitting percentage. She was a two-time all-league and all-state selection and her team's MVP last fall. Jensen also spent four years with the NIKE Northwest Juniors club team, which placed second at the regional tournament and 11th at the Davis National Tournament. In addition to volleyball, Jensen was a four-year letter winner in tennis.

Scott Says: "Heather had a pretty good spring season, coming on stronger toward the end of the season. She is a talented volleyball player, but there are probably better all-around athletes playing in front of her right now. At this point, it looks as though she may be backing up the left side position, especially if she improves her consistency."

Heather was born on September 26, 1976 to Robert and Debra Jensen of Troutdale. She is a pre-physical therapy major.

Katie Marshall comes to Montana from Kent, Wash., where the left-handed standout has extensive club experience. In high school, she competed in the South Puget Sound League, the same league that produced former Lady Griz standout Trish Lake (1989-92), who played for Oak Harbor High. Marshall played middle blocker at Kentwood High School, but Scott expects to move her to right side hitter.

High School: Marshall led the Conquerors to a 12-11 record as a senior. She was Kentwood's MVP last year and tallied a school-record 483 kills in 23 matches, a phenomenal 21 kills-per-match average. Marshall produced one of the most memorable performances in South Puget Sound League history, tallying 47 kills in a five-game match last October. That is believed to be a Washington state record.

In addition to her high school career, Marshall also played club ball for the Seattle Juniors for two years. In addition, she was a standout high jumper and discus thrower on Kentwood's track & field team.

Scott Says: "Katie is coming into a situation where she could be the number-one back up person at right side. Her size and her blocking skills may give her the opportunity to contribute right away. She is a great athlete, who was the go-to player for her prep team. I think Katie is a lot like Trish Lake, who came from the same area. She is a left-handed athlete with great size, who can really put the ball away. We are very fortunate to have her in our program."

The daughter of John and Judi Marshall, Katie was born on March 8, 1977. She is interested in studying international business.

9 PAIGE MERRITT 5-10 Freshman Middle Blocker Portland, Oregon

Paige Merritt is another newcomer who comes to Montana with a significant amount of playing experience. She hails from the Mount Hood Conference, a league that produced Montana standouts Cyndee Jones (1986-90) and Linde Eidenberg (1991-94).

High School: Merritt led David Douglas High School to a phenomenal 47-4 record and a fourth-place finish at the Oregon state "4A" tournament last year. The Scots finished third in the Mount Hood, a league that produced eight of the last nine state title teams. She was a unanimous all-conference selection, plus she was named to both the all-state and all-tournament teams. Merritt averaged 3.8 kills per game, while hitting .383 on the season. She was the Mount Hood Conference co-Player of the Year as a senior.

Merritt also spent three years with the Portland Volleyball Club, under the direction of Jim Kirby. In addition she was a two-year letter winner in track & field.

Scott Says: "Paige will be a real key to our operation next year. Despite being a freshman, she has tremendous skills in the middle. It appears that she and Sather will be battling for a starting middle position. Paige really fills a need for us. She is very active and has good mobility. One of her strengths is blocking, plus she is a good hitter. Paige has played a ton of volleyball under coach Jim Kirby, who also coached Linde Eidenberg. Paige could be a real key for us. If she comes in ready to play, she could help make us a better team."

The daughter of Ned and Charlene Merritt, Paige was born on April 4, 1977. She is interested in studying secondary education.

Jaime Seibel-Volkman (SIGH-Bul-VOLK-Mun) hails from Troy High School, which produced an unprecedented sweep of the three major girls' sports in 1992-93. Troy also won both the basketball and volleyball state "B" titles in 1993-94.

1994: Jaime was one of three players who redshirted for the Lady Griz last year.

High School: In volleyball, Troy won back-to-back titles in 1993 and '94 and finished second in 1992. Volkman was a three-time all-state and all-tournament pick, leading the Trojans to a three-year record of 109-2. She also played middle blocker for the Specs Elite club team in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, a team that advanced to the national tournament in Kansas City, Mo., in 1993.

In basketball, Volkman was a three-time all-state selection and four-time MVP. She finished her prep career with 1,751 points in three years at Troy and averaged 22 points and 11 rebounds per game as a senior. She was named the 1993 state tournament MVP and was also invited to the BCI (Basketball Congress International) Camp, North Carolina, the 1994 NCAA Champion, recruited Volkman in basketball.

In track & field, Volkman was a four-time MVP and all-state selection. She had personal-best marks of 16-3 in the long jump, 33-10 in the triple jump, 5-2 in the high jump and 134-3 in the javelin. Volkman transferred to Troy in 1991 from Thompson Falls, where she spent her freshman year.

Scott Says: "Jaime had a good spring season, despite a slow start and some injury problems. She made some real improvements between January and May. Once she gets her feet on the ground and starts playing with the confidence she had in high school, she is going to contribute to this program. It appears that Jaime will work into a back-up role on the left side."

The daughter of Peter and Bette Volkman of Troy, Jaime was the co-Valedictorian of her class, maintaining a perfect 4.0 GPA throughout high school. She was a 12-time state all-academic pick. Jaime was born on March 21, 1976 and is a pre-med major.

7 JAIME SEIBEL-VOLKMAN 5-9 Freshman Outside Hitter Troy, Montana

4 JAMIE WOLSTEIN 5-10 Freshman Setter Butte, Montana

Jamie Wolstein (WOHL-Steen) is the second Montana volleyball player to come from Butte, joining senior Andi McHugh, who also graduated from Butte High. Wolstein has a tremendous amount of raw talent, and at 5-10, she is probably the tallest setter to play for the Lady Griz.

High School: Wolstein led Butte High to a 16-8 record and a fourth-place finish at the state "AA" tournament last winter. As a junior Wolstein was a first-team all-state pick, leading Butte to a 21-2 record and the state title in 1993. The Bulldogs won the Western "AA" title, going undefeated at 12-0. Wolstein was a two-time all-conference and all-state pick, plus she participated in the 1995 East-West All-Star Classic.

Wolstein earned a total of 11 varsity letters in volleyball, basketball and track & field. She won the state class "AA" long jump as a senior, and was twice selected her team's outstanding track athlete. She was the 1995 Outstanding Female Athlete of the Year for Butte High School.

Scott Says: "In my mind, Jamie is going to have a tremendous career here. Probably her biggest attribute is her quick feet. She is a very good jumper, and she has great blocking skills. Her movement patterns are very good, and her blocking skills are a step above what we've had at the setting position before. She is raw talent right now, as she hasn't had any training at this level, but I look for her to follow in the steps of Eidenberg and Schwenke."

The daughter of Steven and Connie Wolstein, Jamie was born on November 10, 1976. She was co-Valedictorian of her class and earned 11 academic all-state awards in high school. She is interested in studying pharmacy.

Big Sky Conference

The Big Sky Athletic Conference is starting its 33rd season of operation with championships being conducted in 13 sports including men's and women's cross country, basketball, tennis, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, women's volleyball, women's golf, and football. The Big Sky has eight member institutions and is affiliated with NCAA Division I in all sports except football, which is classified as Division I-AA.

The 1995-96 athletic season is the eighth in which the league will sponsor championship competition in women's sports. On July 1, 1988, the Mountain West Athletic Conference, located in Cheney, Washington, merged with the Big Sky, moving and combining office staffs in Boise, Idaho. The Mountain West Conference had been in existence since 1982.

The Big Sky Conference consists of Boise State University, Boise, Idaho; Eastern Washington University, Cheney, Washington; University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho; Idaho State University, Pocatello, Idaho; University of Montana, Missoula, Montana; Montana State University, Bozeman, Montana; Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, Arizona; and Weber State University, Ogden, Utah. Formed in 1963, the Big Sky Conference consisted of charter members Idaho, Idaho State, Gonzaga University, Montana, Montana State and Weber State.

Boise State and Northern Arizona joined the league July 1, 1970, in the Big Sky's first expansion. Nevada was admitted to the league July 1, 1979, replacing former charter member Gonzaga (Nevada left the Big Sky on July 1, 1992). On July 1, 1987, Eastern Washington became the Big Sky's ninth member. When all nine members of the Mountain West Conference and Big Sky Conference were parallel, the way was paved to merge the two leagues.

The Big Sky Conference has member institutions in five states and covers more than 220,000 square miles (or almost 1/12th the total square miles in the continental United States). The five states included in the Big Sky Conference (Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Utah and Washington) span from the Canadian to the Mexican borders. The Big Sky is one of two major conferences located in the Rocky Mountain region.

The name BIG SKY originated in a novel authored in 1947, by the late A. B. (Bud) Guthrie, of Great Falls, Montana, entitled THE BIG SKY. Jack Hollowell, former Montana Advertising Director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State. Harry Missildine, of the Spokane SPOKESMAN-REVIEW, called for the conference to be named "The Big Sky Conference" in his column of February 20, 1963. On February 25, 1963, the conference name was adopted by the presidents of the newly formed league during a meeting in Spokane, Washington.

Doug Fullerton is the new Conference Commissioner, taking over the post July 1, 1995. He replaces Ron Stephenson, who served as Commissioner from 1981-95. Steve Belko served from 1977-81, and John Roning was the league's second Commissioner, serving from 1971 until 1977. Jack Freil was the Big Sky's first Commissioner, serving from 1963 to 1971.

Kathy Noble was recently named the Assistant Commissioner for Compliance Services of the Big Sky Conference and will begin her post on October 1. She replaces Sharon Holmberg, who served for eight years.

Ron Loghry is in his first year as the Big Sky's Assistant Commissioner for Information Services. He replaces Arnie Sgalio, who served in that post for 17 years.

Art Mendini is in his eighth year with the Big Sky as the league's Assistant Commissioner for Officiating Services.

The Big Sky Conference office recently moved from Boise, Idaho to Ogden, Utah. The phone number there is (801) 392-1978, and the fax number is (801) 392-5568.

Dahlberg Arena

"HOME OF THE LADY GRIZ"

Dahlberg Arena - home of the Lady Griz volleyball team - was named after George "Jiggs" Dahlberg in 1979, and since then it has carried the legacy of its namesake.

The University of Montana field house became a reality in 1953, just over 40 years ago. Legislation for the field house was first signed on March 1, 1951, enabling construction without cost to the taxpayers. Montana Governor J. Hugo Aronson broke ground on March 12, 1953, and construction began the following day.

The historic opening of the field house was on December 18, 1953. The Grizzly basketball team hosted the Indiana Hoosiers, who won the 1953 NCAA crown. It was the first time a national championship team appeared in Missoula and the first time

Montana hosted a Big Ten team.

The arena was officially named on February 24, 1979 during half-time of the Grizzly-Bobcat men's basketball game. When the field house was built, "Jiggs" Dahlberg was in his 15th season as the head coach of the Grizzly basketball team, and he was 79 years old when UM dedicated the arena to him. His plaque, which hangs in the entrance to the arena, proclaims, "the personal example of Jiggs Dahlberg is an everlasting model for students and athletes at the University of Montana."

Dahlberg passed away in September of 1993 at age 93, just weeks after he was inducted into the inaugural Grizzly Sports Hall of Fame. He lived nearly all his life as a Grizzly, and Dahlberg Arena is appropriately named.
