GENERAL STATEMENT

The School of Law is located in a modernly equipped law school building with adequate class, office, library, and court room facilities. The school has a good working library of twenty-three thousand volumes. It includes the reports of the Supreme Court of the United States, the complete Reporter System, all State Reports up to the Reporter System, complete sets of reports not in the Reporter System, English Reports, English Statutes, Canadian Reports, the revision and current statute laws of all the states in the Union, citators, encyclopedias, digests, and all leading collections of cases. To a very great extent the library is the result of the generous gifts and legacies of Mrs. W. W. Dixon, and gifts of Judge John J. McHatton and the Anaconda Copper Mining Company. The school is a member of the Association of American Law Schools and is one of the schools approved by the American Bar Association.

Requirements for Admission

The American Bar Association recommends to the various states that two years of college work and three years' work in a School of Law be required of applicants for admission to the practice of law. The Montana Supreme Court requires of those seeking admission to the Bar of the state by examination two years' work in a college or university or its equivalent, in addition to the study of law. Since its foundation in 1911, the School of Law has required two years of college work for admission as a regular student. In accordance with these recommendations and requirements it admits no special students.

Students wishing to register in the School of Law must present credentials showing that they have completed one-half of the work required for the degree of B.A. or B.S. in the State University of Montana, or equivalent work in some other college or university whose credits are recognized by the State University of Montana. In this work they must have obtained as many grade points as credits earned. (For explanation of grade points see page 37 of the general catalog.)

Advanced standing may be granted to students who present satisfactory credentials for equivalent courses taken in schools which are members of the Association of American Law Schools.

Fees and Expenses

There are no special fees for registration in the School of Law. The general University fees are: Entrance, $5; registration, $5; incidental, $10; student activity, $5; Student Union Building, $1; health service, $2.50. The fee for non-residents of Montana is $25 a quarter additional. The cost of books in the School of Law will average about $35 a year.

Graduation and Degrees

Students will be granted the degree of LL.B., upon satisfactory completion of the course. For this degree students are required to complete three years of law with a total of 126 credit hours, including all required courses and to maintain a "C" average or better. In no case will a degree be given unless the student has attended a law school of recognized standing for nine quarters, or their equivalent, of which at least three must have been in the School of Law of the University of Montana. Two summer sessions of approximately six weeks each will be counted as one quarter.

No student will be recommended for the degree of Bachelor of Laws who is markedly deficient in English.

No student will be recommended for the degree of Bachelor of Laws who in the opinion of the majority of the members of the faculty of the School of Law is unfitted for admission to the practice of law by reason of a lack of honesty and integrity.

Combined Degrees

Undergraduate students in regular standing, candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, electing law as a major subject at the beginning of the junior year may count not to exceed 65 credit hours of the law course towards graduation and the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Students may also combine Business Administration and Law so as to secure in six years the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration and the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

Courses for Non-Professional Students

Courses in the Law School are open to students in other departments and schools in the University who meet its entrance requirements. Credits obtained may apply towards degrees in such departments.

Pre-Legal Preparation

Although students who have successfully carried two full years of college work may register as regular students in the School of Law those who contemplate careers as lawyers are advised to take at least three years of college work before applying for admission.

No prescribed pre-legal schedule seems advisable. Besides the restricted electives required of freshman and sophomore candidates for the B. A. degree, the prospective law student is advised to devote as much time as is available to English, History, Economics, Political Science, Philosophy, Psychology, Sociology, Mathematics, and Latin.

The Honor System

The honor system has been in successful operation since the foundation of the school.

Method of Instruction

The case system of instruction is employed.

Special attention is given to practice court work, in which the students are required not only to argue legal questions, but to try cases, prepare appeals, and go through all the steps incident to the trial of a law suit. A very thorough course is given in the use of law books in which the student learns by practice where to find the law.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The course of study extends over a period of three years and is so arranged as to require a total of 126 credits. No student will be allowed credit in any one quarter for over fifteen hours' work in the School of Law; except that in addition, within the discretion of the Dean, a student may be allowed to take an examination to remove a condition and be given credit upon satisfactory passage of the same. All first year work and, in addition, the courses in Pleading and Practice Court are required of all candidates for the degree. Aside from the two courses mentioned, all other courses in the second and third years are elective. The curriculum is designed to afford a preparation for the practice of law in any state, but special attention will be given in all courses to the codes and decisions of Montana.

Examinations

Where courses extend over one quarter, credit is provisional upon the completion of and final satisfactory examination over the whole course. In continuous courses examinations also will be given at the end of the first quarter. Conditions may be removed only in the regular examinations at the end of a repetition of the course.

"Senior Examinations" covering the entire field of concentration will not be given.
