About Artist Jim Cole

Montana native Jim Cole, a local artist, created the Champion Holiday Classic IV all-tournament awards. The burn-on leather artist used oak and leather in his 1983 awards. Cole is a University of Montana graduate and grew up in Livingston. He has displayed art in numerous shows around the state. This is the third year he has provided the all-tournament awards, in which he says, “I try to remind the recipients of things in the West and Montana.” Cole taught for 22 years in School District 1 and resigned in 1975. He is past president of the National Cowboy Polo Association and also active on the rodeo circuit in Montana.

The University of Montana in Missoula is located in a mountain forest setting in beautiful Western Montana. It is halfway between Glacier and Yellowstone national parks.

Four wilderness areas are located near Missoula. The natural surroundings offer excellent opportunities for hunting, fishing, backpacking, river floating, camping and other outdoor recreational pursuits. Two excellent winter ski areas are located within minutes of the University. Several other ski areas are only a couple of hours away by car. UM owns and operates its own golf course adjacent to campus.

The University of Montana is one of the West's pioneers in education and was chartered February 17, 1893. The school opened in September, 1895, with 50 students enrolling the first day. Located on 201 acres at the base of Mount Sentinel, UM has grown from 50 students and seven faculty members to a present enrollment of 9,000 and approximately 450 fulltime faculty positions.

Through its history, the University of Montana has sustained a high standard of academic excellence in teaching, research and service. UM offers associate of arts degrees in two areas and bachelor's degrees in 58 fields. It offers master's degrees in 54 programs and doctoral degrees in 13.

The College of Arts and Sciences, which is the core of the University, includes a full range of programs and courses in the life sciences, physical sciences, social sciences and humanities. The College also offers curricula in interdisciplinary fields ranging from ethnic studies to interdepartmental studies.

Seven professional schools complete the academic program — Business Administration, Fine Arts, Journalism, Education, Forestry, Law, Pharmacy and Allied Health Sciences.

The aim of the University is to provide its students with a relaxing and meaningful learning experience with the best facilities possible. The administration, faculty and staff strive for this goal.

ABOUT CHAMPION

Champion International Corporation is a major forest products company and a pioneer in the building products, papers and paper packaging businesses. Headquartered in Stamford, Connecticut, the company’s major domestic divisions include:

- Building Products
- Paper
- Packaging
- Timberlands

The company was formed in 1967 with the merger of Champion Papers Inc. and U.S. Plywood Corporation. The name Champion International Corporation was adopted in 1972.

Champion in Montana

Champion’s investment in Montana is a substantial one. It includes 683,000 acres of timberlands; the largest softwood plywood plant in North America; several sawmills that produce a wide variety of lumber products; and the largest pulp and paper mill of Champion’s packaging division. All together, there are some 2,400 Montana Champions employed by these operations located primarily in western Montana and also northern Idaho.

Champion’s desire to sponsor a tournament for the University came as an outgrowth of an existing community interest in college basketball, and a need for additional academic scholarship programs at the University of Montana.

It is intended that any income from the tournament which is not required to pay the expenses of the tournament will be used for academic and scholarship programs at the University of Montana.

This community event enables individuals from divergent backgrounds and interests to have a common interest, that being the University of Montana.

This event is an example of industry and community participation, hosting an athletic event to provide assistance to academic and scholarship programs at the University of Montana.

THE MAKING OF HOLIDAY CL

The art of lost wax casting is almost as old as art itself. Probably the most complex of all casting techniques, it has been used throughout history to capture detail and intricate design in various metals.

When Missoula residents Don Olson and Ron Herron first tried their hands at this ancient technique, they used an old tomato juice can and plaster of Paris. That was in 1970 and both would have to admit they've come a long way since then.

Herron, who has since moved to Helena, has become a nationally recognized artist, famous for both his painting and sculptures, and Olson have perfected the techniques of casting in bronze to the point that artists from around the nation send their work to his Alpine Bronze foundry, located in Missoula.

Watching the technicians work on the two bronze trophies for the Champion Holiday Classic offers a glimpse into the history of this ancient art, a complex and time consuming process which yields works in bronze that cannot be duplicated.

The process begins in wax. The two original trophies, which were sculpted by Herron in wax, were first photographed for reference and then brushed with several layers of latex to create a mold of the wax original. This latex mold is the permanent record of the artist's original.

Next, wax is poured into the latex mold, the wax cooled, the mold disassembled, and in theory what emerges is an exact duplicate of the artist's original. However, it is never that simple.

The wax replica must be transferred to the secondary wax room where technicians, who are artists in their own right, refine and perfect the wax, constantly comparing it to the original in the photographs.

Once the technicians are satisfied that the secondary wax is indeed identical to the artist's original, it is fitted with a system of tubes, or sprue... gates, which serve as ducts for the molten metal and escaping air. This insures that when the bronze is eventually poured into the mold, it will flow evenly through the piece and into any extremities.

From the secondary wax to a secondary mold. From this wax replica of the artist’s original a silica and sand shell is created by dipping the replica first in a liquid silica and then into several layers of sand. Once the shell is thick enough, the entire piece, which now looks like something that has just been washed ashore, is placed in an oven. The wax, which is sealed inside the shell, is heated and runs out. Thus, the lost wax.

This empty sand shell is then reheated, molten bronze poured into it, the shell broken, and the bronze and metal allowed to cool, then the trophy is revealed.

At last! But not finally.

For now it must go back to the technicians for refining and finishing.

The sprues, which are now made of bronze, must be removed along with any imperfections, such as air bubbles or cracks. Once again, the technician works from the photographs to insure the accuracy of even the smallest detail.

The entire piece is then heated with a torch until it is so hot it actually glows, and a chemical compound is sprayed onto the surface to achieve the finish, or patina.

Finally the piece is baked with a wax coating and then mounted, which brings to an end an estimated 150 man hours in the casting of one bronze trophy.

The winning team and most valuable player at this year’s Champion Holiday Classic will not only be taking home a trophy for their team and school, they will be earning a unique and valuable work of art, the likes of which will not be seen until the process begins again next year, when the fourth in the series of trophies is cast.
When the Grizzlies and the Bobcats meet, DAD always wins!

Why? Because when you build your team with the best, you’re always a winner! DAD has attracted 60 University of Montana and Montana State University alumni to key positions in its nine branch offices in Montana and North Dakota. We’re very proud of our team.

Champion IV Features Two Pre-season All-Americans

by DAVE GUFFEY
Grizzly S.I.D.

Perhaps the most talented players and teams ever assembled in the Champion Holiday Classic tournament will be on stage during Classic IV, and among the talented teams are two players who received pre-season All-American honors by almost every pre-season basketball publication.

That pair is Cal-State Fullerton's Leon Wood and Centenary's Willie Jackson. Wood is a 6-3 guard, who many say might be the best point guard in the nation this season, and Jackson is a scoring machine who has ranked in the top 20 in the country in scoring the past couple of seasons.

All-in-all, team-wise the fourth Champion tourney features one team ranked in the top 20 by most early season prognosticators — and the other three teams, Centenary, Tennessee Tech and host University of Montana were all selected to finish second in their respective conferences.

Fullerton comes in with the most impressive credentials. The Titans are 4-0 and have three road victories. They have defeated Hawaii 90-60 in the Rainbows' own tournament and had a prestigious, one-point win at Arizona. The 30-point shellacking at Hawaii is one to take notice of. It is said it's about as difficult to beat Hawaii at home as it is to go rafting in Montana in the wintertime.

Wood comes into the opening game with Centenary, averaging a lofty 30.3 points a game and also dishes out assists at a 7.0 clip per game and shoots 66.7 percent (42 of 63) from the field. He played on the Pan American team last summer.

"I think this is the best field overall," agreed Montana coach Mike Montgomery; "based on pre-season picks. Wood will be a showcase player, much like Kevin Magee of Irvine a couple of years ago. He is a legitimate All-American candidate.

"But, by no means is he all they've got," Montgomery continued. "They have several honors candidates and they come in undefeated with road wins over very good teams."

Coach George McQuarn's supporting cast includes 6-11 center Ozell Jones, who averages eight points and eight rebounds a game; forwards Tony Neal (11.3 ppg, 9.3 rpg) and Gary Davis (12.0 ppg), and guard Jon Samuelson (6.3 ppg). Samuelson is the only player who did not start last season on CSUF's 21-8 team, which gave Nevada-Las Vegas its first loss of the season. CSUF was 12-4 in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association last season. Fresno State is favored in the PCAA this season and ranked in the top 20.

Friday's 9 p.m. game pits CSUF against Centenary and Jackson, who is averaging 24.3 points a game. The Gentlemen (Gents) have no starter over 6-7, but have a very balanced scoring attack with four players averaging in double figures.

The Gents, 16-13 overall and 8-6 in the Trans America Conference last season, employ fullcourt, man-to-man pressure and have forced 90 turnovers in four games. Houston Baptist is the favorite in their conference this season.

3021 Brooks, Missoula
The second leading scorer for the Gents (2-2 at press time) is guard Reginald Mosby at 14.5 points a game. He scored a career-high 27 points in a win over North Texas State. Center Eric Bonner is the leading rebounder at 9.5 a game. The other starters are guard Tom Schmidt (4.5 ppg) and forward Albert Thomas (12.0 ppg). Centenary is coached by Tommy Canterbury.

The first game of the tournament — the Grizzlies against the Golden Eagles of Tennessee Tech, features two teams, once again, which were tabbed as second place conference finishers. Montana, of course, features three returning starters off a 21-8 team of a season ago, and one of the best young players in the Big Sky Conference in forward Larry Krystkowiak, a 6-9 sophomore. “Bird” has been averaging more than 10 rebounds a game and leads Montana in scoring. Weber State has been picked as the BSC favorite in 1983-84.

Returning starters Marc Glass and Doug Selvig have been very steady in the backcourt, averaging 7.8 and 10.3 points a game, respectively, and have greatly reduced their number of turnovers from a year ago. Glass has lost the ball only eight times, while Selvig has turned it over only three times in four contests.

The other Grizzly starters include returning starter Rob Hurley (11.3 ppg) at forward and redshirt sophomore Larry McBride at center (9.3 ppg, 7.5 rpg). Leroy Washington and Bruce Burns provide punch off the bench, averaging 6.3 and 5.8 points a game.

Montana continues to have strong defensive statistics. After four games the Grizzlies were allowing only 54.5 points and 35 percent from the field. Last season UM was ranked ninth nationally in scoring defense (57.9) and fourth in field goal percentage (42.1) defense.

Tennessee Tech, a 16-12 team last season (their best record in 12 years), features four returning starters and a redshirt sophomore letterman. Tech was voted to finish second in its league in pre-season polls and is 1-1 (at press time).

Coach Tom Deaton’s team has very balanced scoring, led by 6-2 guard Jimmy Elliot, a non-starter, who averages 16.0 points a game. Sophomore forward Stephen Kite, who ranked 30th in the nation in field goal percentage last year, is next with 14 points a game. Joe Jones, the player who redshirted last season, averages a team-high 7.5 rebounds.

The rest of the starters include guards Carlton Clarington (11.0 ppg) and Danny Schultz (11.5 ppg) and forward Lonnie Boone (7.0 ppg). Jones is the shortest center in the Ohio Valley Conference at 6-foot-5.

Kite, Boone and Clarington were all named “Rookie of the Year” their freshman seasons in the OVC. This year Kite was picked as an all-league first team in pre-season polls. Schultz is the only senior in a lineup that has two juniors and two sophomores.

“The purpose of the tournament was to bring to Missoula the best basketball talent we could, from all parts of the country, and I think that is what the Champion IV has to offer,” Montgomery said. “It gives Grizzly fans a chance to see different styles of play and some excellent basketball players.”

Champion Classic fans have had their share of great basketball games. The first game of the tournament back in 1980 featured a 59-58 Montana last second win over Maine to put them into the championship game. UM lost the title game at the buzzer, 59-57 to Gonzaga. The next year Irvine won 46-44, and last year Montana beat Portland 49-46 in overtime.

Three championships, three exciting finishes. I guess that’s why it’s called a classic...

Blue Star Awnings Don’t Just Hold On, They Hold Up!

In Montana, you can’t buy a reputation for quality and durability, you have to earn it. Whatever your design, you can look forward to it lasting. And something that holds up is worth holding onto.

Quality craftsmanship and products have been a key to our success. Maybe that’s why smart businessmen in Montana have made Blue Star Canvas Products the #1 selling awning in Montana.

Mark Welander began with a dream; to own his own business. One that would produce a quality product. Something he could be proud of.

That was eight years ago. Today, Blue Star Canvas Products skillfully sews everything from tipis and tote bags to boat covers and truck tarps.

We're Western States Insurance Agency and we've been with Blue Star from the beginning, providing Mark with the right insurance protection at the best possible price. That's our job, and we work hard at it. After all, it's one thing to insure a business, it's another to protect a dream.

Darigold Farms of Montana is Montanans working together to bring you the state's finest dairy products. Via the Darigold truck we bring our delicious products to you fresh daily in Grizzly country.

We're The Real Montana Dairy, That's Winning Montana's Taste.

See us on the road.

If You Like Watching The Grizzlies, You’ll Love Our Lion Act.

The Village Red Lion puts on quite a show — pre-game, post-game, any-time! First, there’s our Edgewater Lounge, a great gathering place that also features Missoula’s liveliest live entertainment. And for outstanding dining, there’s our Edgewater Restaurant, where flambe specialties bring drama right to your table. Or, try our Coffee Garden, for casual fare. Now, shouldn’t your next Grizzly show include a great Lion act?
