Grizzlies Host Vandals, Broncos in Big Sky Games

The 6th man. Dahlberg Arena. Good old Missoula. The “Zoo” revisited. Call it what you want. Coach Mike Montgomery and his 14-3 University of Montana Grizzlies are happy to be home. The Grizzlies opened their 1982-83 Big Sky Conference season the hard way the past couple of weeks—on the road at Weber State, Idaho State and Montana State. However, the long bus trips home were shortened with Grizzly victories over ISU (65-58) and MSU (64-42). UM’s loss was 70-63 at WSC.

Since losing a rare game to Gonzaga in the friendly confines of 9,329-seat Dahlberg Arena, the Grizzlies have won four of their last five—with three of those victories coming on the road. “We really have played well in spurts in our last few games,” Montgomery said. “But, we still need to be more consistent in executing every phase of our game. Especially with Idaho. They are always in close ball games and make very few mistakes.”

Idaho, which has recorded back-to-back overall records of 25-4 and 27-3 enroute to two straight Big Sky Conference regular season titles, comes to Missoula with a 13-3 record. The Vandals have lost at Fresno St. (38-34), at South Carolina (56-54). UI has won 41 in-a-row at home.

There are three big reasons why coach Don Monson’s (93-35 in five-plus seasons) team is playing well again this season. They are guard Brian Kellerman, forward Phil Hopson and center Kelvin Smith. All three are returning starters off of UI’s nationally ranked (8th in both polls) team of a year ago.

Kellerman, a great shooter in the open court, needs only 15 points to become the all-time Vandal scorer. He has 1,343 points.

“Kellerman, Hopson and Smith are three of the best in the conference at their positions,” Montgomery said. “Smith and Hopson are very quick pressure situations. He had made 28 straight free throws before missing his last shot in UM’s 64-42 drubbing of Montana St. He is 16 of 17 (94%) from the line in Big Sky games.

BSU is 1-3 in league play, however the Broncos have a road breakthrough at Northern Arizona and played Reno tough on the road. “The Boise game scares me a little, because win or lose, you’re always worried about a mental letdown after the Idaho game,” Montgomery said. “Boise has good personnel and one of the best guards in the conference in Vince Hinchen.

Montana is home again next week, hosting Reno, Thursday, Feb. 3, and NAU, Saturday, Feb. 5 in a pair of conference games.

Mike Montgomery begins his fifth season as head coach at the University of Montana, and his seventh year as a Grizzly mentor. He served as an assistant coach at UM for two seasons prior to becoming the head coach.

Mike has taken the Grizzlies to the Big Sky Conference's postseason playoffs all four of his seasons as head coach. Last year his team narrowly missed advancing to the title game, bowing to Nevada-Reno 97-93 in double overtime.

Not only has Montgomery, who is called “Monty” by friends and players alike, qualified four times for the playoffs, but the 35-year-old has already established himself as one of the winningest coaches in the university's history.

His overall record of 67-43 gives him a winning percentage of .609 — the best in the school's 73-year history. Montgomery's 67 wins is the fifth most in the school's history.

Montana's 19-9 record in 1980-81 was the school's fifth winningest in 78 years.

Montgomery has 12 years of major college coaching experience. He served as an assistant coach three seasons at Boise State before coming to UM. He has also had coaching stints at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy, Colorado State, the Citadel and the University of Florida.

He likes his teams to fast break on offense, and employs a structured, early offense, “designed for people who are disciplined and can shoot the ball. I stress high-percentage shots and tough rebounding, and patience for the good shot.”

Defensively Montgomery likes his opponents “to beat themselves by playing tough and physical, forcing them to take poor percentage shots.” He added that he uses many defensive looks, depending on the opponent.

The Grizzlies have led the Big Sky in defense the 10 of the last 11 seasons, and were ranked fourth in the nation in 1978-79 — Mike’s first season as head coach.

Montgomery is a 1968 graduate of Long Beach State, and is a native of Long Beach, California. He played basketball at LBS for four years and volleyball and rugby for two. He earned his master's degree in Physical Education from Colorado State.

Mike and his wife, Sarah, are expecting their first child in April.

Stew Morrill is in his fifth season as the number one Grizzly assistant in charge of recruiting and scheduling.

He was an assistant coach at former Big Sky Conference member Gonzaga University for three years. During those three years he was the number one coaching assistant and was the school's recruiting coordinator for two seasons. He was a graduate assistant for the Bulldogs for one season.

Morrill, 30, was an All-Big Sky center at Gonzaga his senior year in 1973-74, and was named team captain and Most Valuable Player for the Bulldogs that season.

Prior to playing at the four-year level he participated in basketball at Ricks College, where he averaged 23 points a game as a sophomore and was named a JC All-American.

He played pro basketball in Europe for a Division I team in Bordeaux, France, after his graduation from Gonzaga in 1974. After a few months with the team he was named player-coach.

From Provo, Utah, Morrill earned nine letters in basketball, football and track at Provo High School.

His wife's name is Vicki. They have two sons, Jesse and Allan.

Bob Niehl is in his third season at UM and joined the basketball program in August of 1980. He assists in varsity coaching, along with scouting and recruiting, as well as supervising the Grizzly junior varsity program.

Before coming to Montana he served as a part-time coach for head coach George Raveling at Washington State University in Pullman. At WSU he was head coach of the JVs, and assisted in varsity scouting and recruiting in 1978-80. He has also had a lot of experience coordinating in basketball camps.

Bob also served as a graduate assistant at WSU for a season. From 1975-77 he was the head basketball and girls' and boys' track coach at Sprague High School in Sprague, Washington.

He was a standout athlete at WSU, where he was a three-year letterman in basketball and team captain his senior season. He was a seven-foot high jumper for the Cougars, and qualified for the NCAAs all four of his collegiate seasons. He is a 1970 graduate of Bethel High School in Spanaway, Washington, where he was also a basketball and track star.

Niehl is a 1975 graduate of WSU, receiving a B.S. in physical education.

The 31-year-old is single.

Larsen Plays Key Role for Grizzlies

By GARY GREEN
Sports Information Intern

University of Montana center Craig Larsen is a model college basketball player on and off the court.
The 6-11, 222-pound Larsen is a team leader, hard worker and fine student. His dedication is unwavering.

"What's really important to me is to do well at whatever I do," Larsen explained. "I just want to keep improving. I've set some goals as a person, not just as a basketball player, and I'm on my way to accomplishing them."

Larsen, a fifth-year senior who redshirted his freshman year, spent last summer playing in the Urban Coalition League in Washington, D.C. to improve his basketball skills. Larsen said he gained much experience while playing in the "run and gun" league, which was organized by universities in the Washington, D.C. area.

No one appreciates Larsen's off-season efforts more than Montana coach Mike Montgomery.

"He's worked very, very hard to be a good basketball player," Montgomery praised. "I think that's all you can ask of a player."

Larsen's efforts have paid off. Although he missed two games with a recurring ankle injury, Larsen leads the Grizzlies with 15 blocked shots on the season. He is second in Grizzly team rebounding with a 5.8 average. His .549 field goal percentage ranks second on the squad, and he's averaging 7.5 points an outing.

Perhaps Larsen's finest performance this year came during Montana's 49-46 overtime victory over the University of Portland in the finals of the Champion Holiday Classic III. Larsen led Montana with 14 points and intimidated the Vikings on defense to help the Grizzlies capture the first place trophy of their own tournament.

Larsen, who is known for his intense, physical play, is the epitome of a role player.

"My role on the team is to offer an inside threat, to clog the middle on defense and to board," he explained. "I've gotten a few shots the last couple of games, but that really doesn't bother me. I've got to play my role and play as hard as I can every night."

"Craig's the enforcer for us," Montgomery said. "He's the most physical player on the team."

Larsen, a team co-captain, provides the Grizzlies with all-important leadership.

"I have a role to play in giving the team a focus," Larsen explained. "The 22-year-old Larsen excels in the classroom as well as on the court. He is majoring in geology and carries a 3.0 grade point average. Larsen, who married this fall, has his eye on pursuing a graduate degree in geology.

Larsen was an All State player in his senior year at Aurora (Colo.) Central High School. Several Colorado schools recruited Larsen, but he fell in love with the University of Montana and the area on his recruiting trip to Missoula.

"The people supported the basketball program," Larsen said. "I liked that a lot. Everything felt right, everything."

Larsen has been plagued throughout his college career with nagging ankle injuries. Each year he has been forced out of action with a bad ankle.

"It's been really frustrating for me," Larsen disclosed. "Right when I've been feeling really healthy and moving well, it's hit me again. I have no explanations. I have no excuses."

But after recovering from each injury, Larsen has come on strong during the thick of Big Sky Conference play.

And that should be good news to Montana fans with conference play currently underway.

A versatile player, Brian has the size to play quick forward and the shooting touch to play big guard. He will get an opportunity to play both those roles this season. He started 8 games last year and made two clutch baskets against Northern Arizona in Flagstaff for a key road win in '81-82.

He was the team's number five scorer with 140 points. He is also one of the team's outstanding free throw shooters and made 79.4 percent of his charity tosses a year ago.

"Brian played a vital role in some key victories last year," Montgomery said. "He is a great shooter and has a very good knowledge of the game."

"I hope that with last year's experience Brian will relax and have a great senior year," Montgomery said. "As a 6-7 guard he gives us a good height advantage especially from a defensive standpoint."

He was a two-time All-State player for coach Bob Luoma at Missoula's Sentinel High School. As a senior he was selected to the high school coaches All-American team, the Montana All-Star team, and averaged 19.3 points and 12.7 rebounds a game.

He was a three-year letterman for the Spartans, team captain, and the state "AA" scoring leader that season too.

He is a Business Administration major.

His hobbies are water skiing and fishing. His nickname is "Merc."

Brian's parents are Charles and Patricia Morris of Missoula.
