HANDBOOK

HELLO

S

Hi!

I am so glad that you have decided to spend your college years at MSU. When you arrive on campus many people and organizations will stand ready to help you understand and like university life. One of these groups is the Associated Women Students. We call ourselves AWS. This handbook is one of the many ways we hope to get acquainted with you and answer some of the questions that you might have. I realize, however, no booklet can take the place of personal contact and so I want to extend an invitation for you to call on any one of your AWS officers for additional information or just a friendly chat. We are looking forward to meeting you during orientation week and working with you throughout the year in your organization—AWS.

NANCY PRESTON, AWS President

It's New to You . . .

The studies, activities and traditions that await you here are a part of MSU as you will be a part of MSU.

AWS plays an important part in MSU's activities.

It represents every woman student on campus and in turn every woman student on campus represents AWS. AWS had its beginning in 1914 as the "Women's League," it has had an active history, during which it has grown and developed into an immense organization. Today the representatives from the residences making up the Executive Board have a high degree of responsibility. The Associated Women Students — your campus government — is composed of an Executive Board, a Judicial Board, and six committees.

Executive Board is composed of the officers of AWS and a representative from each women's living group. This board meets every Monday afternoon at 4 p.m., to plan activities and to serve as your representative student government.

Judicial Board considers all infractions of hour regulations and is composed of all AWS officers and two roving representatives from Women's living groups. The council meets at 3:30 p.m. on Monday with the vice-president presiding.

Publicity Committee notifies women students of AWS events and makes posters and signs.

Faculty Relations Committee sponsors an annual student-faculty party and plans informal teas which enable faculty and students to become better acquainted.

Counselor-Counselee Committee plans the big-little sister program, including the big-little sister party during orientation week. Its goal is to help all new students feel a part of MSU campus life.

Lantern Parade Committee plans the annual Commencement week Lantern Parade honoring graduating senior women, and installs the incoming AWS officers.

Charm and Beauty Committee sponsors two style shows during the year — one in the spring and one in the fall.

Handbook Committee writes this handbook, sent out to all new women.

One of the best ways to be active in AWS and campus life is as a member of one of these committees. Applications are circulated every fall, and all women are invited to apply.

IAWS

The IAWS or Intercollegiate Association of Women students offer to the women students from all over the United States a chance to meet annually and exchange ideas. These ideas are centered around the improvement of women's governing groups.

AWS at MSU is a member of IAWS. AWS sends representatives to the IAWS national and regional convontions which are held on alternate years.

AWS Loan Fund

A loan fund was established by AWS in 1923 to help women students needing financial aid. The $2,000 fund can be borrowed from by these women with the approval of the AWS president and the Associated Dean of Students. Interest is set at 2 per cent and the maximum amount to be borrowed by one woman student is $200.00. Payments are determined individually for each loan.

AWS Scholarship

AWS offers the Cheadle-McKinley Memorial Scholarship of $50 to an outstanding sophomore woman. Any sophomore woman is eligible.

The choice of the recipient is made by the scholarship committee made up of the Associate Dean of Students, the president of AWS, a faculty member, and a member of the executive board.

This scholarship was first awarded in 1955. It is presented in memory of Jean Cheadle and Marlene McKinley, outstanding students who have died within the last ten years.

Activities Balance

In contemplating joining any MSU activities it is wise to remember the old saying, "jack of all trades and master of none." Activity work is fine in its place, but freshman or new students often become so enthusiastic that they get in too many activities. Time must be planned and budgeted at college. Activities should not over-balance the budget.

In order to regulate extracurricular participation, the AWS Executive Board has approved a system whereby no more than one of the offices listed can be held at the same time by any woman student attending MSU. This list is called the "Permanent A" system. These positions are held by the following students:

PERMANENT A

President of AWS — Nancy Preston

President of ASMSU — Larry Pettit

Editor of Kaimin — Ted Hulbert

Business Manager of Kaimin — Anne Thomas

Editor of Sentinel — Jack Upshaw

Secretary of ASMSU — Jan Tustison

Business Manager of ASMSU — Jerry Beller

Vice-President of ASMSU — Sharon Stanchfield

President of Spur — Willene Gough

President of any living group

A university woman can, however, hold a "Permanent A" position and at the same time carry out the duties of any number of other student officers, committee appointments, and club memberships.

Around the Campus and Town

The campus and town will be your temporary home for the next four years, we hope. To enjoy your "home away from home" to the fullest, it is important that you become acquainted with it. This section is especially written to help you find your way around MSU and Missoula.

The buildings on the campus combine both the old and the new — the oldest being Main Hall built in 1897, and the newest being the newly completed swimming pool. The majestic Main Hall is located in the center of campus at the foot of Mt. Sentinel and overlooks both the green grass oval and the new concrete oval. The carillon and clock tower of Main Hall can be seen from all parts of the campus.

Among the newer buildings, besides the new pool, is the Health Center, which was completed in the spring of 1956. It is here that medical services and nursing care are provided and health excuses are issued. The health facilities are sufficient to house an epidemic of ailing students as was clearly shown during last fall's flu epidemic.

When it comes to studying, you will find that the Library, with its large new addition, is the ideal spot. Librarians and student assistants are always on hand to help you find any book and to show you how to find your way around among the open stacks on the four new floors.

Those of you who are freshmen will live in either Brantley or Corbin Hall or in the new addition connecting the two, North Corbin. Supervising these dorms are the Head Residents and the junior sponsors, who will help you get acquainted with the dorm and the campus. They will willingly give you information about MSU government, study facilities, and social life. Those of you who are upperclass transfer students will live in Turner Hall, formerly called New Hall.

Synadelphic House, a coop, is the place to live for those who like to share expenses and housework and have fun at the same time. It is open to either freshmen or upperclass women. Women interested are chosen by the residing Synadelphics.

Many of you will no doubt pledge one of the six sororities, but freshman pledges are required to live in the dorm. You can move into your sorority house when you are a sophomore. To live off campus, university women must be 21 years of age or be Missoula girls.

All students residing in dorms, both boys and girls, eat their meals at the Lodge. The spacious modern food center in the new west wing is equipped with the latest cafeteria equipment for your good eating pleasure. The food center, however, is only one part of the Lodge. The gathering spot for the coffee hour crowd is the grill room in the basement, where meals may also be bought. The Yellowstone and Cascade Rooms, used for banquets and dances, are located upstairs, along with Committee and Conference rooms. The student bookstore is also located upstairs in the Lodge. The Room, in the basement of the Lodge, is another spare-time spot where you can enjoy coffee or coke.

Wherever you stay, you will find living with others lots of fun. You will soon get acquainted with the others in your hall and make many new friends. Missoula girls living at home can enjoy the halls' social activities by paying a fee to be a full-fledged dorm affiliate.

For recreation, the campus offers the new swimming pool, the Glacier Ice Skating Rink, the bowling alleys in the Women's Center, and the new golf course, located eight blocks south of campus.

"Your home away from home" — Missoula — is today known as the "Garden City." It is a busy little city, located at the crossroads of the five great valleys, and is the center of traffic between Montana and Idaho. It was not too long ago, however, that Missoula was a rip-roaring western community known as Hellgate. It was an Indian settlement and a pioneer stop-off. You might be interested in knowing that the old Mullan Road ran through Missoula on what is now Front Street.

Missoula is an Indian name meaning "near the cold, chilling waters," not particularly because of the coldness of the water, but because of the fear the Flathead had for the spot where the warring Blackfeet once ambushed them.

The river that divides Missoula is known as the Missoula River. North of town at Bonner the same river is called the Blackfoot, and to the south it is called the Bitterroot, named for the areas through which it flows. To the east and west this same river is known as the Clark's Fork of the Columbia.

In addition to the recreational facilities provided for the students on campus, Missoula residents are happy to be able to supply "U" students with plenty of recreational facilities, both indoor and outdoor. Missoula claims five theaters, numerous city parks, tennis courts, picnic areas, horseback riding academies, two bowling centers, a roller skating rink, and a miniature golf links.

For skiers there is Snow Park, Diamond Mountain, Lost Trail, Marshall Canyon, and Big Mountain at Whitfeish. Swimming areas near Missoula are Lolo, Sleeping Child, Giogli and Medicine Hot Springs.

The major industries in Missoula include lumber mills, a pulp mill, construction companies, meat packing plants, and a sugar beet factory. Regional headquarters for the U.S. Forest Service are also located in Missoula.

"U" students are cordially welcome to attend the services of Missoula. You will have an opportunity to get acquainted with the church of your choice at the all church picnic that is held during Orientation Week.

For those of you who enjoy good music, the Community Concert Association holds a series of concerts on campus for Missoulians and students, and the Music School offers the Little Concert series. In addition to these two concert series, the Wilma Theatre holds the Greater Artists Series. In the past the Wilma Theatre has presented such well-known persons as William Warfield, Marion Anderson, Jose Greco and others.

When parents visit, you will have no trouble finding a comfortable place for them to stay. The Missoula Chamber of Commerce is always ready to help you with any questions you may have about the city. You will find the townspeople friendly and willing to serve you in any way possible. And don't be stumped when you hear such terms as Pattee Canyon, Mts. Jumbo and Sentinel, the Rattlesnake, Farviews — before long you will have mastered these names as well as the Missoulians.

Looking Back

A fun-packed beginning known as Orientation Week starts your college career. Besides taking entrance exams, freshmen are shown the campus buildings and introduced to the university's rules and the social organizations.

During this week, AWS sponsors a get-acquainted style show for big and little sisters, who have corresponded during the summer. Here the coeds learn what to wear at campus doings. Presidents and representatives introduce social and honorary organizations and explain the talents required for each.

Throughout the week freshmen wear the traditional Frosh Beanie which serves as the admission fee for the "Beanie Bounce," a dance climaxing the week's activities.

Another highlight is the fun-filled hike up Mt. Sentinel to paint the "M." Spurs and Bear Paws supervise the event which usually leads to a noverflow of both enthusiasm and whitewash. After whitewashing the "M" and other, freshmen climb down to the foot of Mt. Sentinel for refreshments from the Spurs and Bear Paws. The victory bell must also be painted and polished.

The freshmen are responsible to keep it in top condition and to see that it is rung to hail MSU victories.

Homecoming is one of the most exciting week-ends of the year. It is dedicated to alums and features a football game, queen and parade including floats from every living group. The night before the game between MSU and MSC the freshmen sponsor a huge bonfire symbolizing the expected Grizzly victory over the Bobcats. This game is played on alternate years at Bozeman and Missoula and climaxes their rivalry spirit.

Inspiring moments in a collegiate's life are spent on the step of Main Hall when students gather here for Singing On the Steps. Before the chimes strike 8 o'clock everyone sings Montana's state song and campfire spirituals. As the gong strikes, everyone remains silent and then disperses humming "College Chums." This is the setting for Spur, Bear Paw, Mor-tor Board, and Silent Sentinel tappings.

Preceding important events at MSU, everyone assembles at the University Theatre for an enteraining hour by students, faculty or guests.

A football game honoring all fathers is part of the Dad's Day celebration. Awards are made to the dad traveling the greatest distance for the occasion and to the oldest dad.

There is a sidewalk between the Liberal Arts building and the University Theatre which is dedicated to to friendliness. Because traditionally everyone exchanges greetings here, it is known as "Hello Walk."

Pine trees and sawdust are part of the woodsey flavor given to the most rugged dance of the year, the Foresters' Ball. The boys from the forestry school honor Paul Bunyan and in lumberjack fashion, race to grow the healthiest beard.

The lawyers honor J. Learned Brow at their big Barristers Ball.

The Night Club dance, presented by the Music School, spotlights a fascinating floor show in the midst of a glittery setting.

Stars, stripes and the spotless uniforms of the R.O.T.C. units stand out at their Military Ball where the military queen is selected.

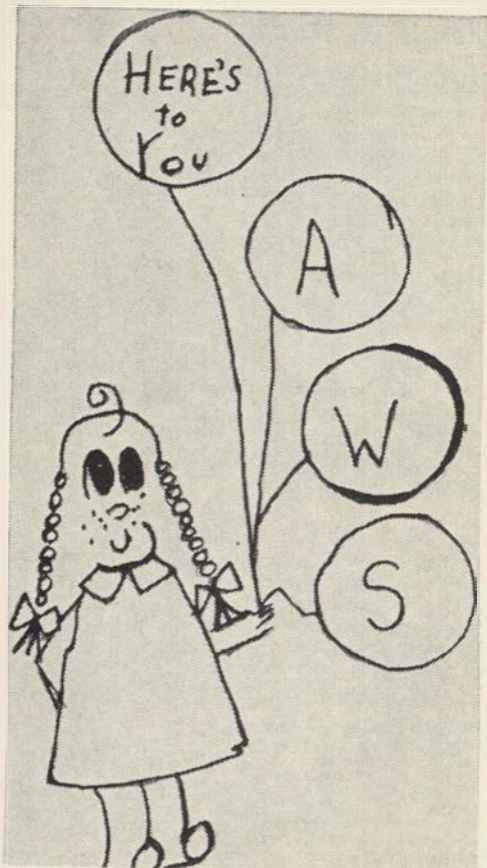

Every Daisy Mae gets a chance to catch her Li'l Abner at the Sadie Hawkins dance given by the Spurs.

High school students visit the campus in the spring to participate in the journalism, debate, athletic and drama competition for the Interscholastic Meet. Mortorboard, Spurs and Silent Sentinel tap new members and the university living groups compete in a Song Festival which is held on the Oval.

The Senior Bench, donated by the class of 1910, is reserved for seniors only. It is located just to the right of the Oval. Underclass women honor the seniors with a Lantern Parade preceding Commencement. It is also under the direction of AWS. The co-eds surround the oval with lighted lanterns while the seniors, in their caps and gowns, form an "M" in the center. From the tower of Main Hall, "Montana, My Montana" is sung and MSU women respond with "Old College Chums."

Here's To You

First Impressions Count

Many times it is true that first impressions are lasting ones. From the time you first enter into your college life, you will want to be attractive, pleasant, and likeable—the kind of person others will like and want to know better. You'll be meeting many new people, so here are some hints to make that first impression a good one.

Look Your Best

Be clean and neat. An unclean or unpressed dress or blouse is inexcusable. Stringy, unkept hair has never been known to receive compliments, and too much make-up won't make a good impression. It's you they're meeting, not Max Factor. Remember, scrub in time, and you'll look fine. Wear outfits suitable to the occasion, and remember, it is better to be Plain Jane than Fancy Nancy.

Sound Your Best

Your voice is one of the first things people notice when they meet you. A pleasing voice and good grammar will do a lot toward making that good first impression. Forget that high school lingo if you've acquired one, and talk in plain ordinary English so we can understand you. Also, profanity is something we can all get along without, as well as gossiping. There may be a time and a place for everything, but for these two, there is neither.

Meeting New People

When you are at college, you will always be introducing "so and so" to "so and so." The Emily Post form is, "May I present.....," which you will want to say at teas and other informal gatherings, but more often you'll be saying, "This is.....," or "Have you met.....?" Try to mention something about each person you introduce to give the conversation a start.

The woman's name comes first if you're introducing members of the opposite sex; the married woman's, if introducing her to an unmarried woman; the most important person if he is really important.

If someone is introducing you, smile and say, "How do you do?" Should you shake hands? Here's the formula. Two women may or may not shake hands. You usually won't offer to shake hands with a man unless you are the hostess. If you do shake hands, make the handshake a good firm one. Don't use a wrestler's grip or the dead fish type. Never refuse an extended hand.

What about when you leave? Well, Mr. Gentleman may say, "I'm glad to have met you," at least let's hope he does. If he says this, you should say, "Thank you," or "It's been a pleasure," (if it has). But be smart and don't gush all over him. Let him make the first comment.

Dating

A big part of your college life is dating. But remember, if you want some dates, instead of just one, that fellows like girls with manners. You don't want to be considered as "not too smooth" so just follow these simple rules.

1. Will you accept blind dates? Sure you will. Don't forget that he's taking a chance, too. Just check with whoever arranges the date, and no doubt you will have a good time.

2. But — don't break one date to take another. Your popularity will be short-lived if Date One finds out, and Date Two won't be too happy about it either.

3. "Coke Dates" mean just that. Maybe your date only has a dime, so don't order a hamburger, malt, or French fries. Stick to just a coke or coffee, unless your date asks you if you'd care for something more.

4. Make like the helpless female. Hand him your coat; hesitate before doors. He'll get the idea, and probably like it.

5. Rumor has it that "love is a many-splendored thing." That's all very good, but you needn't be a smooching proof of this for the whole campus or for the head resident.

What To Wear

Whenever there are places to go or things to do, you'll find women asking, "What shall I wear?" The chart should assist you in choosing your apparel for most occasions, but before you check it over, here are a few hints.

If you plan to buy many new clothes before coming to MSU, try to plan your wardrobe around two or three basic colors. This will cut down on accessories, give you more mix-and-match outfits, and in general make for a more stylish you. If you are budget conscious, don't buy in a hurry. Wait until you're sure what you will want and will use.

If in doubt of what to wear, be simple and conservative. A plain coat can be worn anywhere; the same for a simple, tailored suit. A basic dress is smart too because it can easily be changed with scarves or beads. Choose plain pump heels over dressy sandals because they're always in style and can be worn with more things. However, a nice pair of dressy sandals are perfect for dressy parties and formals. A raincoat is almost a must, and when the snow flies, you'll want galoshes or snow boots for those cold, wet trips to classes. Blue-jeans are in style for picnics, intramural sports, the Foresters' Ball and barn dance, but are never worn downtown.

To Keep You in the Know . . .

Now and Thens

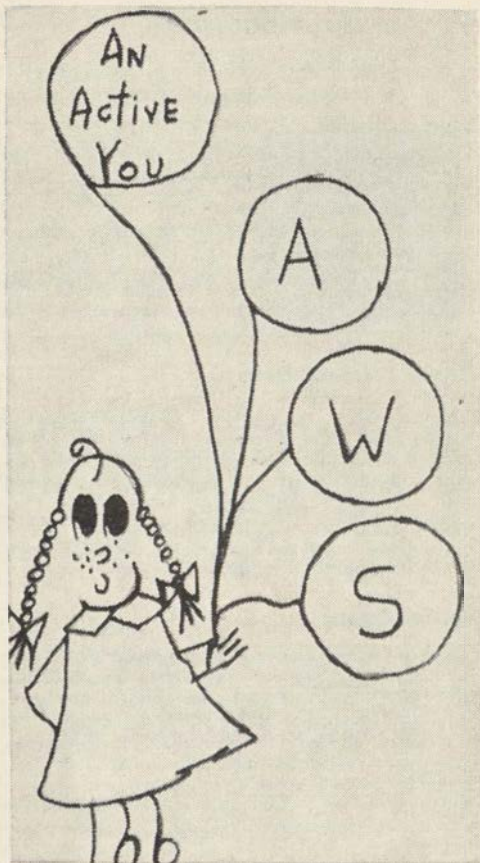

Now that you've read over your chart, you're probably discovering that many of the clothes you wore for high school activities fit into your college wardrobe just fine. In addition to the clothes on the chart, there are some outfits that you won't be wearing every day, or even once a week, but will be just the thing now and then.

Bermuda shorts and socks, pedal pushers, and tapered pants are "en vogue" for picnics, biking, or casual wear. Don't forget your swimming suit. You won't use it much during fall and winter quarter (except for Wednesday night swimming), but come spring and sun, you'll be glad you brought it.

Skiers — don't forget your ski togs for the Friday afternoon ski classes during winter quarter and the big ski weekends. Shorts and blouses are tennis garb for spring quarter. Come prepared for golf, hiking, and horse-back riding, too.

One last hint: Many of the functions you will no doubt be attending will be costume parties. There are circus parties, Hawaiian parties, the big Sadie Hawkins Dance, and many more. Come well prepared with costumes and lots of ideas. You'll never regret having them.

If you're still a little confused about what to bring or buy, wait 'til you see what you'll need. Spend wisely.

Try for An Honorary

Your grades and your activities both count towards being admitted into an honorary. In order to get good grades and still have time for extra-curricular activities, plan a good study schedule—and follow it. If you do your best in both studies and activities, chances are you will not only have tried for an honorary, but but will have succeeded in being admitted into one or more.

Alpha Lambda Delta

Winter and spring quarters, the active members of this honorary present roses to the freshman women who have earned a 3.5 (B+) grade point index during the previous quarter. Those freshman women who have maintained this average both quarters are elected into ALD. It is a national honorary which was instituted here by MSU's Mortar Board, a senior women's scholastic honorary.

Mortar Board

Mortar Board's members are seniors chosen in their junior year by the active members. The basis for selection is high scholarship, leadership, and service. They are tapped at an SOS in the spring. The activities of Mortar Board are varied. It sponsors the local chapter of Alpha Lambda Delta, and a training workshop for all officers on campus. It gives a "Smarty Party" for those girls who have earned the highest grades in each class for fall quarter, and also helps plan Orientation Week.

Spur

Tanan-of-Spur is a sophomore women's honorary. The members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, dependability, spirit, neatness, willingness to work, pep, personality, co-operation, and participation in activities. The Spurs usher at Drama productions, athletic events, debates; they help with registration. A "no drinking" rule is in effect at MSU for active Spurs and is a qualification for selection. During Interscholastic, new members are tapped at the SOS.

Phi Kappa Phi

Phi Kappa Phi is composed of students and faculty. Members include those in the upper five per cent of the junior class and the upper ten per cent of the senior class. Activities include the publication of the "Grizzly Guide," a campus guide booklet, and the annual offering of a scholarship to an outstanding junior.

Phi Chi Theta

The main qualification for membership in this women's business honorary is a 2.5 grade average in business administration. The honorary works with the men's counterpart, Alpha Kappa Phi, on the annual business administration banquet and the yearly job clinic. Other activities include the giving of a $25 scholarship to the junior girl with the highest grade index in business administration. A key is awarded to the most outstanding senior girl in business administration.

Beta Gamma Sigma

This honorary, based entirely on scholarship, is composed of women in the top ten per cent of all senior business students and the top three per cent of all junior business majors. New members are initiated preceding the yearly business administration banquet.

Eta Epsilon

Eta Epsilon is an honorary which includes junior women with 24 credits, a 2.7 grade average in the Home Ec. department, the University average for her complete stay in schools, no F's, and a vital interest in the Home Arts Club. The honorary promotes home economics on the campus.

Theta Sigma Phi

To be a member of this women's journalism honorary, a B average in journalism and a C average in all other fields is necessary. Theta Sigma Phi brings well-known women journalists to the campus and sponsors the Matrix Table dinner, during which an outstanding girl from each class is honored.

Mu Phi

Qualifications for belonging to this music honorary are a 3.5 grade index in music and an over-all average of 3.0. Membership is also based on music participation, campus activities, and character. The activities of Mu Phi include the presentation of a musical convocation to the student body, helping at music meets, and taking care of publicity for programs given by women music students.

Selective Groups

Masquers

In order to be eligible for this drama honorary for men and women, one must earn 20 points (put in 200 hours) in two fields of endeavor. The highest title is Masquers Royale and is received by students with 100 points. The activities of Masquers are, in addition to their main productions, variety shows, the Little Festival during Interscholastic, and an all-school musical and an operetta with the music school in the spring.

Aquamaid

Aquamaid is composed of superior women swimmers and new members are chosen by the old members after tryouts in the fall. Besides presenting an annual spring water pageant, they sponsor intramural and intercollegiate women's meets.

Women's "M" Club

Members of this honorary are junior women with a C grade average and ten participation credits which have been earned in three team sports, three individual sports, and four elective sports, of which not more than two may be interseasonal. Other bases for membership are character and leadership. Among the activities of M Club, which works with WRA, is the sponsoring of social get-togethers and play days. At the annual "Santa Party" new members are tapped.

Jubileers

Singing talent, a very great amount of poise, personality, and stage character are necessary to be a Jubileer. Members of this singing ensemble are 20 of the top singers in the A Cappella Choir. This group provides entertainment for different campus events and makes a yearly state tour.

Angel Flight

The girls in Angel Flight march in reviews, forming an efficient drill team. They are sponsored by ROTC. The ROTC members choose 20 girls from the freshman class each fall. Selection is based upon personality and attractiveness. Girls must be at least five feet four inches tall.

Junior Sponsor

About 15 sophomore girls are selected annually to live in the freshman dorms and act as counselors to the freshman girls during the next year. Selections are based on personality, activities, interest in the University, scholarship, and counseling ability.

Kams and Dregs

Juniors and seniors are eligible for this honorary. They are noted for their promotion of school spirit at sporting events, by means of their witty yells. Old members choose new ones by electing them in the fall.

CLUBS

A church youth group is probably one of the first with which you will become acquainted. Many worthwhile activities are enjoyed by the participants of these church organizations. These groups include: Roger Williams Fellowship, Newman Club, Christian Science Organization, Canterbury Club, Lutheran Student Association, Wesleyan Foundation, Deseret Club and Westminster Foundation.

Grizzly Growlers is the pep club composed of freshmen. During football season especially, a lot of fun is in store for those who don't mind putting in a little work, for the return in play is great.

Anyone who can ski, or enjoys trying, is welcome to join the Ski Club. The main activities of this club are Ski Carnival, a yearly trip to Big Mountain, and ski weekends packed with fun.

Like to talk? Then the Debate Organization is for you. It sponsors the debates at Interscholastic and enters its own teams in tournaments.

The Montana Forum is a faculty-student discussion group which discusses various subjects in which the members are interested. It meets at a weekly luncheon. For information and interesting bits of this 'n' that, look in on the Montana Forum.

Musically minded students will be pleased at the variety of music organizations: symphony orchestra, concert band, marching band, twirlers, A Cappelle choir, wind ensemble, brass choir, freshman sextette, and the University choir.

Do you like to sell ads? To report? To write stories? To read copy? Try a job with the Sentinel, MSU's yearbook, the Kaimin (pronounced Ki'meen), MSU's paper, published weekly Tuesday through Friday, or Venture, a magazine composed of outstanding literary work by students, and put out each quarter. There is much opportunity in working for any of these, whether or not you are a journalism major.

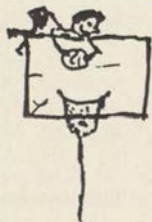

For an abundance of exercise and good times, the University Saddle Club is the organization to join. It plans pack trips and Sunday rides in the mountains and put on horse shows fall and spring quarters.

The Royaleers are the square-dancers on campus. The organization makes tours and exhibitions throughout the state.

If you are over 15 years of age and enjoy flying, you will be welcomed into the Flying Club.

Almost every school on campus has a club for majors. Among these organizations are the Liberal Arts Club, Future Teachers of America, Forestry Club, Math Club, History Club, Chemistry Club, Home Arts Club, Pharmacy Club, Bacteriology Club, Press Club, and Wildlife Club.

Women's Recreational Association is for all girls interested in sports. Every University woman is automatically an associate member of WRA, but to be an active member and to take part in social events and voting of the club, you must earn one participation credit. These are given for each hour of intramural sports. Outstanding girls who have been chosen to direct the sports in which they excel comprise the intramural board. WRA annually sponsors the play day for high school in this district, and participates in the college play day.

The Independents are all non-frat students. They have exchange dinners, firesides and social meetings.

The Student Christian Association is a non-denominational Christian fellowship which sponsors faculty firesides, Interchurch Council, and Freshman Camp.

These Are Your Rules

For You — Abide By Them

Hours. As a student at MSU, you will be subject to certain rules formulated by AWS. On Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights, Freshman women are to be in their living centers by 10:30 p.m. On Friday and Saturday nights, hours are extended to 1:00 a.m., as well as on Thursday nights of final week, all University Holidays such as Thanksgiving, Memorial Day, and Trackmeet. Upperclass women, Sophomores and above, must be in their living centers by 10:30 p.m., on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, and by 1:00 a.m. on Friday and Saturday nights. They must be in by 11:00 p.m. on Sunday night.

Concert hours may be given to students attending concerts, plays, ball games, etc., on school nights, if these events last longer than regular hours. Students must return home directly after these affairs.

Late per is permission to stay out on Tuesday, Wednesday, or Thursday nights one hour past closing time. Senior per may be taken only twice a week. It is granted to all seniors who have 135 credits plus 6 Physical Education credits and passed the University swimming test. Students with a junior standing having passed the University swimming test, with an over-all 3.0 average and a 3.0 average the previous quarter, may take Junior per Autumn quarter. Juniors with a 2.5 overall average and a 2.5 average the previous quarter may take late per Winter and Spring quarters. A girl may take a serenade late on the night of her serenade. This is permission to stay out one hour past 10:30 or up until 12:00. The girl must check with Miss Clow and the housemother before this. In all Late per occasions have consideration for your housemother. Let her know when you will be taking Late per by 6:00 p.m .that night.

Traditional MSU Songs

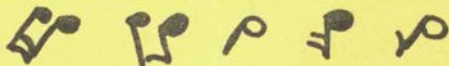

UP WITH MONTANA

Up with Montana, boys, down with the foe,
Old Montana's out for a victory;
She'll shoot her backs around the foeman's line;
A hot time is coming now, oh brother mine.
Up with Montana, boys, down with the foe,
Good old Grizzly'll triumph today;
And the squeal of the pig will float on the air,
From the tummy of the Grizzly Bear.

HAIL, COPPER, SILVER, GOLD

Hail, copper, silver, gold borne by our warriors bold
It's the flag of the Grizzly Bear.
See those Bruins tearing their way down the field,
We know they never will yield, Montana,
On they go and trample down the foe.
Let's go, Montana, we love the fray,
The Grizzly fight, fight, fight will bring victory
Let's go Montana, we'll win today.

OLD COLLEGE CHUMS

Old College chums, dear college chums,
The days may come, the days may go;
But still my heart to mem'ries cling,
To those college days of long ago;
Thru youth, thru prime, and when the days
Of harvest time to us shall come,
Thru all we'll bear the mem'ries dear,
Of those college days of long ago.
