Grizzlies Shoot for Win Number 10 Against SE Missouri St.

The bad news is that the University of Montana lost its first basketball game of the 1983-84 season last week at Cal-Irvine. The good news is that that’s the first Grizzly setback in 10 games. Montana had reeled off eight consecutive victories before losing to Irvine, 91-83. The eight straight victories was one away from UM’s school record, set last year in its 21-8 season.

As the Big Sky Conference season rapidly approaches, sixth-year Grizzly coach Mike Montgomery thinks his team is playing well, but still has room for improvement. “Record-wise we are sure happy to be where we are,” said Montgomery, who has a 97-52 overall record at UM. “We’ve played very well both offensively and defensively at times. We are getting to the point where we have to put both together for 40 minutes.

“The Irvine loss was disappointing, but it pointed out a couple of phases of basketball we need to work on; to control tempo on the road especially,” he said. “That’s one thing we’ll need to do to compete for the conference championship.”

After tonight’s game with SE Missouri State Montana has two non-league contests remaining, playing at Eastern Washington January 5 and hosting Central Washington January 7.

And SEMO Indians from Cape Girardeau aren’t exactly a team to take lightly. Head coach Ron Shumate boasts a 51-18 record in two-plus seasons and the Indians are 5-2 (not counting a game last night at Montana State) this season.

As Montana, SEMO has had considerable success in recent years. The Indians have three starters off a team that was 25-6 last season. SEMO has been Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association champion the past two years, and NCAA Regional titlists those seasons as well. Last year’s team advanced to the NCAA quarterfinals before losing and was ranked fifth in the nation in the final Division II poll.

“Southeast Missouri is an excellent non-division I basketball team, and has a premier, blue chip player in (Jewell) Crawford, and is a typical Missouri team that really defends,” Montgomery said. “Hopefully we’ll bounce back after Christmas with enthusiasm, going into what looks like an extremely tough conference schedule.”

Forward Crawford (6-7) is one of the three returning starters and entered the season as his team’s third leading career scorer, No. 8 rebounder and ninth assists man. He leads the team in scoring at 25 points a game. The team’s leading rebounder is forward Donnie McClinton (6-3) at 7.4 a game, followed closely by Crawford (6.7) and center Tony Jones (6-6), at 6.7 per contest.

The Indians received a big boost recently with the return of guard Anthony Venson (6-0), who underwent knee surgery prior to fall practice this year. Venson has 855 career points and has been a starter since midway in his freshman season.

In preseason polls this year the Indians were ranked 9th nationally with 441 points, and received one vote for first place. They were tabbed to finish second in the MIAA by the league’s coaches. Central Missouri is the favorite.

Along with returning starters Crawford, Venson and McClinton is Jones, a transfer from Garland CC in Hot Springs, Arkansas, who was the leading scorer and second leading rebounder in Arkansas junior colleges last year. The other starter is Michael Poole (6-4), who started at guard in 13 games last year.

The Grizzlies shot extremely well on their road split, and as a team are now shooting 50.2 percent (279 of 556). Opponents are shooting 41.3 percent (246 of 595) from the field.

Another impressive fact is that all five starters are shooting above 50 percent from the floor, led by guard Doug Selvig (54.5 percent) and center Larry McBride (54.1 percent).

Sophomore forward Larry Krystkowiak continues to lead the team in scoring with a 15.0 average and scored a career-high 24 points in the 92-80 win at Loyola. However, the rest of the starters are not too far behind: Selvig (13.5), Hurley (10.9) and Glass (10.2) are all in double figures, with McBride close behind at 9.7 points a game.

Krystkowiak leads the Big Sky in rebounds with 10.1 a game, while McBride is averaging 5.4, and Selvig, 5.2. McBride has 17 blocked shots.

Selvig and Leroy Washington are tied for the team lead in steals with 10, while Glass has a team-high 52 assists.

Glass has now moved up to the No. 16 career scorer with 838 points and needs 18 points to move ahead of Ray Howard (855 points, 1969-72). Selvig is ranked 19th with 780 points.

Glass and Selvig rank third and fourth in career assists with 276 and 270, respectively.

Mike Montgomery is in his sixth season as head coach at the University of Montana, and his eighth year as a Grizzly mentor. He served as an assistant coach at UM for two seasons prior to becoming the head coach.

Mike has taken the Grizzlies to the Big Sky Conference's postseason playoffs all five of his seasons as head coach. Last year his team narrowly missed advancing to the title game, bowing to Weber St. 54-53 in the first round of the playoffs.

Not only has Montgomery, who is called "Monty" by friends and players alike, qualified five times for the playoffs, but the 36-year-old has already established himself as one of the winningest coaches in the university's history.

His overall record of 88-51 gives him a winning percentage of .633 — the best in the school's 76-year history.

Montgomery's 88 wins is the second most in the school's history.

Montana's 21-8 record last year was the fifth time in history a team has won 20 or more games in a season.

Montgomery has 13 years of major college coaching experience. He served as an assistant coach three seasons at Boise State before coming to UM. He has also had coaching stints at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy, Colorado State, the Citadel and the University of Florida.

He likes his teams to fast break on offense, and employs a structured, early offense, "designed for people who are disciplined and can shoot the ball. I stress high-percentage shots and tough rebounding, and patience for the good shot."

Defensively Montgomery likes his opponents "to beat themselves by playing tough and physical, forcing them to take poor percentage shots." He added that he uses many defensive looks, depending on the opponent.

The Grizzlies have led the Big Sky in defense 10 of the last 12 seasons, and were ranked fourth in the nation in 1978-79 — Mike's first season as head coach.

Montgomery is a 1968 graduate of Long Beach State, and is a native of Long Beach, California. He played basketball at LBS for four years and volleyball and rugby for two. He earned his master's degree in Physical Education from Colorado State.

His wife's name is Sarah. They have an infant son, John Michael.

14 Leroy Washington 6-0, 177, Guard Junior from Long Beach, California

Quick-on-quick is the best way to describe Leroy, who was brought in as a press breaker and in the three-guard offense last season, playing in 20 games. He played in 13 games as a freshman.

Last season he averaged 1.7 points and 1.2 assists a game, averaging nine minutes a contest. He scored a career-high nine points as a freshman in a home victory over Augustana, SD.

“Leroy has to contribute for us to be successful,” Montgomery said. “He is without a doubt our quickest player and immune to pressure. He understands his role, getting the ball to other players and doesn’t need to be a scorer to be successful.

“I think Leroy is going to have a real good year for us and surprise some people,” Montgomery said. “He’s come back with a lot of confidence.”

He scored 996 points during his career at Flathead County High School. He was team MVP as a senior, an “AA” All-Tournament choice as a junior and senior and was the point guard for the Braves his junior year when they won the state title. He was in the Montana-Wyoming All-Star Game. He was the starting quarterback for his prep team and a state placer in three events in track since his sophomore year.

His brother, Craig, was an All-Big Sky guard for the Grizzlies in 1980-81. His brother Rick was also a letterman in basketball at UM.

He is a Secondary Education major.

His hobby is fishing. His nicknames are “Elwood” and “Elroy.”

His parents are Levi and Martha Washington of Long Beach.

10 Scott Zanon 6-0, 160, Guard Freshman from Kalispell, Montana

One of the best athletes in recent Montana history, Scott was All-State in football, basketball and track.

He has excellent lead guard skills and outstanding court vision.

“Scott is an excellent athlete and we’re not sure how long it will take him to become a pure point guard,” Montgomery said. “One of the things we have been very excited about is Scott’s progress to this point. He learns very quickly. He shoots the ball very well when he concentrates, is a good jumper and ball-handler. I think Scott will be a very good player in our program.”

He scored 996 points during his career at Flathead County High School. He was team MVP as a senior, an “AA” All-Tournament choice as a junior and senior and was the point guard for the Braves his junior year when they won the state title. He averaged 19.3 points and 6.3 assists a game as a senior. He was in the Montana-Wyoming All-Star Game. He was the starting quarterback for his prep team and a state placer in three events in track since his sophomore year.

WE INVEST OUR TIME BEFORE WE INVEST YOUR MONEY

Not all investments are right for all people at all times. At Piper, Jaffray & Hopwood, we understand this.

Our brokers take the time to get to know you and your personal investment needs before they make any recommendations.

That's because our brokers know that listening to you is the first step towards developing an investment program that's right for you.

Only then will a Piper broker make specific investment recommendations. Listening, understanding, investing. That's the way it's always been at Piper Jaffray.

9-10—Big Sky Tournament

GET THE BUG?

Give us a call!
The Big Sky Athletic Conference enters its 21st season of operation coming off another outstanding season in 1982-83. The Big Sky, last season for the second straight year, had two teams invited to play in the 12-team NCAA Division I-AA Collegiate Football Championship playoffs as league champion Montana and Idaho represented the conference in post-season play. In basketball three teams, Weber State, Montana and Idaho had 20-win seasons marking the first time in Big Sky history that three teams have reached the 20-victory plateau during the same season. Weber State was the winner of the Big Sky’s Post-Season Basketball Tournament and represented the league in the NCAA Basketball Tournament. The University of Idaho became the first Big Sky member to ever receive a National Invitational Tournament (NIT) bid.

The Big Sky’s success on the field and court was evident at the turnstiles during the 1982-83 season. As a league, in football, the Big Sky averaged almost 11,000 spectators per game ranking fourth among all I-AA conferences nationally. The Big Sky was third nationally (among I-AA conferences) with over 69% of stadium capacity. In basketball the conference was ranked 12th among the 29 major basketball playing conferences including cross country, football, wrestling, basketball, golf, tennis and indoor and outdoor track and field. Eight institutions are currently members of the league that has an NCAA Division I-AA affiliation in football and an NCAA Division I affiliation in all other sports including an automatic berth to the NCAA Basketball Championships to the conference champion.

Charter members of the Big Sky are the University of Idaho, Moscow; Idaho State University, Pocatello; University of Montana, Missoula; Idaho State University, Bozeman; and Weber State College, Ogden, UT. Boise State University, Boise, ID; and Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, joined the league in July 1970. The University of Nevada-Reno was admitted to the league July 1, 1979. The Big Sky has member schools in five states and covers more than 220,000 square miles (or almost 1/12th of the total square miles in the continental United States). The five states included in the Big Sky (Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Nevada and Utah) span from the Canadian to Mexican borders.

The name “Big Sky” originated in a novel authored by A.B. (Bud) Guthrie of Great Falls, Montana in 1947 entitled The Big Sky. Jack Hollowell, former Montana Advertising Director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State. Harry Missildine of the Spokane Spokesman Review called for the conference to be named “the Big Sky Conference” in his column of Feb. 20, 1963. On Feb. 25, 1963, the conference name was adopted by the presidents of the newly formed league during a meeting in Spokane, WA.

Ron Stephenson, 39, is only the fourth commissioner in the 20-year history of the Big Sky Conference with all of his 18 years of experience as an administrator coming at member institutions. The personable Stephenson has had the unique experience of witnessing the evolution of the league since its inception in 1963 as a student, coach and athletic administrator. He replaced Steve Belko who retired as commissioner on July 1, 1981. Belko succeeded John Roning as the Big Sky’s third commissioner in 1977. Roning served with the league from 1971-77 assuming the duties from Jack Friel who served as the Big Sky Commissioner from its inception in 1963 to 1971. The conference offices were located initially in Pullman, WA until Roning moved the headquarters to Boise on July 1, 1971, where they have been ever since.

A native of Idaho, Stephenson came to the Big Sky from Boise State University where he served as assistant athletic director since February of 1971. He attended Twin Falls, Idaho High School and is a 1965 graduate of Idaho State University with a B.S. in business administration. He received his masters of business administration degree from the University of Idaho in 1971. While at the University of Idaho he served as the institution’s ticket manager and head tennis and wrestling coach before becoming an assistant athletic director. During his four seasons as Idaho’s tennis mentor (1967-1970) he guided the Vandals to a 74-23 overall record including four Big Sky titles and four Big Sky “Coach-of-the-Year” awards.

He is married to the former Patti Judy of Twin Falls, ID and they are the parents of two sons, Mike, 17, and Mark, 15.

Arnie Sgalio is currently serving as the league’s information director, entering his fifth year with the Big Sky since his arrival in 1979. Prior to that he was the sports information director at Montana State University for three years. Barbara Schenk begins her second year as the administrative assistant for the Big Sky.

The Village Red Lion puts on quite a show — pre-game, post-game, anytime! First, there's our Edgewater Lounge, a great gathering place that also features Missoula's liveliest live entertainment. And for outstanding dining, there's our Edgewater Restaurant, where flambe specialties bring drama right to your table. Or, try our Coffee Garden, for casual fare. Now, shouldn't your next Grizzly show include a great Lion act?
