Big Sky Conference Begins Its 21st Season This Week

OK. You're 12-1. You've got a road win over Washington State and three other teams. You hosted and won your own tournament (Champion Holiday Classic IV) for the second straight year and beat nationally ranked (at that time) Fullerton for the title.

Great season that 1984, huh? Wrong.

The season starts this week, and if you have any doubt about it just ask sixth-year University of Montana basketball coach Mike Montgomery or one of his players. It's Big Sky Conference time and everyone knows what is waiting at the end of the rainbow. An automatic NCAA berth and possible NIT bid is the pot of gold that league teams will be going for as the 21st Big Sky season gets underway.

Thursday's Grizzly opponent, Boise State, comes in with an impressive 8-4 record and is off to its best start since 1972, when the Broncos had a 5-2 ledger. Add to those victories home wins over defending NIT champion Fresno State and the WAC's Wyoming, and you can see that first-year coach Bobby Dye has begun to fit the pieces of the puzzle together.

"Boise is a tough team with basically the same squad that gave us a difficult time last year, and has added a couple of good players, especially guard Frank Jackson," Montgomery said. "Everybody's starting out 0-0 and it's basically a new season for everyone," he added.

The Grizzlies don't need to be reminded that it's get down time in "The Sky" or that BSU comes to town with a decent squad.

Last year the Broncos used a tenacious overplay man-to-man defense and the uncanny shooting of guard Vince Hinchen to take Montana to overtime in the friendly confines of Dahlberg Arena. The Grizzlies prevailed 71-61 but it was a tough win for the Grizzlies who were 9-5 in league a year ago.

To beat UM at home is a feat that only 21 teams have done since the 1972 season. And those wins were in 166 games. And you wondered why Montgomery always talks so highly about his teams' sixth man? That's an 87.3 winning percentage for you folks into stats.

"Many of you might remember last year's Idaho game in Moscow. The Grizzlies beat the Vandals 80-61 and snapped a three-year, 43-game UM home winning streak. It boosted UM's record to 19-3 overall and 7-1 in league. It also boosted the Grizzlies to 18th in the nation, according to Sports Illustrated.

Enter the bad guys in the orange and blue. Boise St. knocked the Grizzlies out of the top 20 with a 52-49 home win.

All five starters from that game are back for the Broncos, led by Hinchen, who leads the league with 19 points a game. Not only can he score, but he's making 54.6 percent of his shots, compared to 43.1 percent last season.

The Grizzly-Vandal matchup has turned into one of the toughest rivalries in the Big Sky, and you know that Montgomery is not taking coach Bill Trumbo's team lightly.

Two starters are back from UM's 20-9 NIT of a season ago. Not only are the players different, but so is Trumbo, who took over for the very successful Don Monson (100-41 in four seasons), who is now the head man at the University of Oregon.

Those two starters back, guard Stan Arnold and center Pete Prigge, lead the Vandals in scoring and rebounding, averaging 14 points and 10 rebounds, respectively.

For the record, Idaho is 5-7 and has lost its last three in-a-row. However, UI has lost some close ones, including a triple overtime and two-pointer to the University of Oregon.

The Grizzlies are led by sophomore Larry Krystkowiak in scoring and rebounding, at 14.8 points and 10.2 rebounds a game. Four of Montana's five starters are averaging in double figures and those four (see below for stats) are all shooting over 50 percent from the field as well.

Guards Marc Glass and Doug Selvig rank 14th and 18th in career scoring with 872 and 812 points, respectively. They are third and fourth in career assists with 291 and 285, respectively.

Montana, which was 12-2 in preseason last year in route to a 21-8 year, is led in blocks by Larry McBride with 25, followed by Bruce Burns with 14.

Next week UM travels to Reno and Northern Arizona for two Big Sky games.
Enjoy our great home-style meals before or after the Grizzly games.

Mike Montgomery is in his sixth season as head coach at the University of Montana, and his eighth year as a Grizzly mentor. He served as an assistant coach at UM for two seasons prior to becoming the head coach.

Mike has taken the Grizzlies to the Big Sky Conference's postseason playoffs all five of his seasons as head coach. Last year his team narrowly missed advancing to the title game, bowing to Weber St. 54-53 in the first round of the playoffs.

Not only has Montgomery, who is called "Monty" by friends and players alike, qualified five times for the playoffs, but the 36-year-old has already established himself as one of the winningest coaches in the university's history.

His overall record of 88-51 gives him a winning percentage of .633 — the best in the school's 76-year history. Montgomery's 88 wins is the second most in the school's history.

Montana's 21-8 record last year was the fifth time in history a team has won 20 or more games in a season.

Montgomery has 13 years of major college coaching experience. He served as an assistant coach three seasons at Boise State before coming to UM. He has also had coaching stints at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy, Colorado State, the Citadel and the University of Florida.

He likes his teams to fast break on offense, and employs a structured, early offense, "designed for people who are disciplined and can shoot the ball. I stress high-percentage shots and tough rebounding, and patience for the good shot."

Defensively Montgomery likes his opponents “to beat themselves by playing tough and physical, forcing them to take poor percentage shots.” He added that he uses many defensive looks, depending on the opponent.

The Grizzlies have led the Big Sky in defense 10 of the last 12 seasons, and were ranked fourth in the nation in 1978-79 — Mike's first season as head coach.

Montgomery is a 1968 graduate of Long Beach State, and is a native of Long Beach, California. He played basketball at LBS for four years and volleyball and rugby for two. He earned his master's degree in Physical Education from Colorado State.

His wife's name is Sarah. They have an infant son, John Michael.

He was an assistant coach at former Big Sky Conference member Gonzaga University for three years. During those three years he was the number one coaching assistant and was the school's recruiting coordinator for two seasons. He was a graduate assistant for the Bulldogs for one season.

He was an All-Big Sky center at Gonzaga his senior year in 1973-74, and was named team captain and Most Valuable Player for the Bulldogs that season.

Bob Niehl is in his fourth season at UM. He assists in varsity coaching, along with scouting and recruiting, as well as supervising the Grizzly junior varsity program.

Before coming to Montana he served as a part-time coach for head coach George Raveling at Washington State University in Pullman. At WSU he was head coach of the JVs, and assisted in varsity scouting and recruiting in 1978-80. He has also had a lot of experience in basketball camps.

Bob also served as a graduate assistant at WSU for a season. From 1975-77 he was the head basketball and girl's and boy's track coach at Sprague High School in Sprague, Washington.

He was a standout athlete at WSU, where he was a three-year letterman in basketball and team captain his senior season. He was a seven-foot high jumper for the Cougars, and qualified for the NCAAs all four of his collegiate seasons. He is a 1970 graduate of Bethel High School in Spanaway, Washington, where he was also a basketball and track star.

Niehl, 32, is a 1975 graduate of WSU, receiving a B.S. in physical education. His wife's name is Tricia.

A Missoula product, Blaine Taylor was one of the outstanding players at the University of Montana in recent years. This is his third year as a Grizzly coach.

He is head JV coach and assists in varsity coaching. His JV team was 12-4 last season.

Taylor was a Big Sky Conference honorable mention selection as a junior and a senior. He was named to the conference post-season all-tourney team in 1980-81.

He is the No. 20 career scorer in Grizzly history with 753 points. Taylor was also known for his passing and ball-handling skills. He finished the 1980-81 season with 102 assists in 23 games, for a 4.4 average. He is the No. 2 assists man at UM with 264.

Taylor was an all-state player at Hellgate High School for three years. He was the state “AA” MVP as a senior.

Blaine’s wife’s name is Annie Marie. They have a three-and-a-half-year-old daughter, Amber Lee.

The University of Montana in Missoula is located in a mountain forest setting in beautiful Western Montana. It is halfway between Glacier and Yellowstone national parks.

Four wilderness areas are located near Missoula. The natural surroundings offer excellent opportunities for hunting, fishing, backpacking, river floating, camping and other outdoor recreational pursuits. Two excellent winter ski areas are located within minutes of the University. Several other ski areas are only a couple of hours away by car. UM owns and operates its own golf course adjacent to campus.

The University of Montana is one of the West's pioneers in education and was chartered February 17, 1893. The school opened in September, 1895, with 50 students enrolling the first day. Located on 201 acres at the base of Mount Sentinel, UM has grown from 50 students and seven faculty members to a present enrollment of 9,000 and approximately 450 fulltime faculty positions.

Through its history, the University of Montana has sustained a high standard of academic excellence in teaching, research and service.

UM offers associate of arts degrees in two areas and bachelor's degrees in 58 fields. It offers master's degrees in 54 programs and doctoral degrees in 13.

The College of Arts and Sciences, which is the core of the University, includes a full range of programs and courses in the life sciences, physical sciences, social sciences and humanities. The College also offers curricula in interdisciplinary fields ranging from ethnic studies to interdepartmental studies.

Seven professional schools complete the academic program — Business Administration, Fine Arts, Journalism, Education, Forestry, Law, Pharmacy and Allied Health Sciences.

The aim of the University is to provide its students with a relaxing and meaningful learning experience with the best facilities possible. The administration, faculty and staff strive for this goal.
A great shooting touch mixed with hard-nosed, hustling defense describes Rob and his contribution to the Grizzly basketball program.

He has excellent range from his forward position and is the team’s leading returning field goal percentage shooter, making 51.4 percent (89 of 173) his attempts. Two seasons ago he also led the Grizzlies in that category, hitting on 62.1 percent (59 of 95) of his field goal shots.

A starter in all 29 games last season, he is the third-leading returning scorer with an 8.1 average, as well as the third leading rebounder (3.6 a game). The 1982-83 All-Big Sky honorable mention selection scored a career-high 22 points in a Grizzly road win at Washington last season.

"Rob is a very physical player who comes to play every day," said coach Montgomery. "Rob really likes the game of basketball, and enjoys coming to practice and enjoys being physical. At 6-4½ and at forward he has had to learn to do things very fundamentally sound to be successful at this level, and he has done it.

"He’s probably the best player we’ve ever had in blocking off at the boards," Montgomery continued. "He is an excellent outside shooter. He’s a guy, that with confidence, which I’m sure he’ll have this year, could be one of our leading scorers and could be one of the leading scorers in the conference. He is another of a long line of Montana basketball players that have helped us do the things necessary to win."

Rob proved he would be a factor for the Grizzlies, when in the Big Sky playoffs two years ago, he scored a (then) career-high 19 points against Reno.

As a prep at Anaconda High School he was the Class “AA” state MVP as a senior. The Copperheads were third in the state that year, and he averaged 27.3 points and 11.3 rebounds a game.

His younger brother, Scott, is a freshman guard at Montana State.

Rob is a Health/Physical Education major.

His hobbies are fishing and hunting. His nickname is “Huddles.”

His parents are Robert and Dorothy Hurley of Anaconda.

The Big Sky Athletic Conference enters its 21st season of operation coming off another outstanding season in 1982-83. The Big Sky, last season for the second straight year, had two teams invited to play in the 12-team NCAA Division I-AA Collegiate Football Championship playoffs as league champion Montana and Idaho represented the conference in post-season play. In basketball three teams, Weber State, Montana and Idaho had 20-win seasons marking the first time in Big Sky history that three teams have reached the 20-victory plateau during the same season. Weber State was the winner of the Big Sky's Post-Season Basketball Tournament and represented the league in the NCAA Basketball Tournament. The University of Idaho became the first Big Sky member to ever receive a National Invitational Tournament (NIT) bid.

The Big Sky's success on the field and court was evident at the turnstiles during the 1982-83 season. As a league, in football, the Big Sky averaged almost 11,000 spectators per game ranking fourth among all I-AA conferences nationally. The Big Sky was third nationally (among I-AA conferences) with over 69% of stadium capacity. In basketball the conference was ranked 12th among the 29 major basketball playing conferences including cross country, football, wrestling, basketball, golf, tennis and indoor and outdoor track and field. Eight institutions are currently members of the league that has an NCAA Division I-AA affiliation in football and an NCAA Division I affiliation in all other sports including an automatic berth to the NCAA Championships to the conference champion.

As usual the Big Sky had its share of All-America selections. In wrestling Weber State's Gary Scriven was selected as was Boise State's Jake Jacoby (high jump) in indoor track and field along with Weber State's Farley Gerber (3,000-meter steeplechase) and Nevada-Reno's Derrick May (10,000-meters) in outdoor track and field.

The Big Sky Conference conducts championships in eight sports, including cross country, football, wrestling, basketball, golf, tennis and indoor and outdoor track and field. Eight institutions are currently members of the league that has an NCAA Division I-AA affiliation in football and an NCAA Division I affiliation in all other sports including an automatic berth to the NCAA Championships to the conference champion.

Charter members of the Big Sky are the University of Idaho, Moscow; Idaho State University, Pocatello; University of Montana, Missoula; Montana State University, Bozeman; and Weber State College, Ogden, UT. Boise State University, Boise, ID; and Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, joined the league in July 1970. The University of Nevada-Reno was admitted to the league July 1, 1979. The Big Sky has member schools in five states and covers more than 220,000 square miles (or almost 1/12th of the total square miles in the continental United States). The five states included in the Big Sky Conference (Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Nevada and Utah) span from the Canadian to Mexican borders.

The name "Big Sky" originated in a novel authored by A.B. (Bud) Guthrie of Great Falls, Montana in 1947 entitled The Big Sky. Jack Hollowell, former Montana Advertising Director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State. Harry Missildine of the Spokane Spokesman Review called for the conference to be named "the Big Sky Conference" in his column of Feb. 20, 1963. On Feb. 25, 1963, the conference name was adopted by the presidents of the newly formed league during a meeting in Spokane, WA.

Ron Stephenson, 39, is only the fourth commissioner in the 20-year history of the Big Sky Conference with all of his 18 years of experience as an administrator coming at member institutions. The personable Stephenson has had the unique experience of witnessing the evolution of the league since its inception in 1963 as a student, coach and athletic administrator. He replaced Steve Belko who retired as commissioner on July 1, 1981. Belko succeeded John Roning as the Big Sky's third commissioner in 1977. Roning served with the league from 1971-77 assuming the duties from Jack Friel who served as the Big Sky Commissioner from its inception in 1963 to 1971. The conference offices were located initially in Pullman, WA until Roning moved the headquarters to Boise on July 1, 1971, where they have been ever since.

A native of Idaho, Stephenson came to the Big Sky from Boise State University where he served as assistant athletic director since February of 1971. He attended Twin Falls, Idaho High School and is a 1965 graduate of Idaho State University with a B.S. in business administration. He received his masters of business administration degree from the University of Idaho in 1971. While at the University of Idaho he served as the institution's ticket manager and head tennis and wrestling coach before becoming an assistant athletic director. During his four seasons as Idaho’s tennis mentor (1967-1970) he guided the Vandals to a 74-23 overall record including four Big Sky titles and four Big Sky "Coach-of-the-Year" awards.

He is married to the former Patti Judy of Twin Falls, ID and they are the parents of two sons, Mike, 17, and Mark, 15.

Arnie Sgalio is currently serving as the league’s information director, entering his fifth year with the Big Sky since his arrival in 1979. Prior to that he was the sports information director at Montana State University for three years. Barbara Schenk begins her second year as the administrative assistant for the Big Sky.

WE INSURE THE TOUGH GUYS.

Mark Welander began with a dream; to own his own business. One that would produce a quality product. Something he could be proud of.

That was eight years ago. Today, Blue Star Canvas Products skillfully sews everything from tarp and tote bags to boat covers and truck tarps.

We’re Western States Insurance Agency and we’ve been with Blue Star from the beginning, providing Mark with the right insurance protection at the best possible price.

That’s our job, and we work hard at it. After all, it’s one thing to insure a business, it’s another to protect a dream.
