Coach Jack Swarthout

Jack Swarthout, who came to the University of Montana to double as athletic director and head football coach in 1967, has recorded four winning seasons in his seven years at the helm of his alma mater and has compiled a 42-31 record. Only one other UM football coach has registered more than two winning seasons. Doug Fessenden posted five winning marks in his ten seasons between 1934 and 1949. Montana fans had suffered through 17 seasons without a winning team before Swarthout guided the 1967 squad to a 7-3 record. The Grizzlies were 2-7 in 1968, but rebounded with perfect 10-0 regular seasons in 1969 and 1970. Montana made postseason appearances in the Camellia Bowl in 1969 and 1970, losing to North Dakota State on both occasions. UM slipped to 6-5 in 1971, and was 3-8 in 1972 and 4-6 last year.

Swarthout was born in Prosser, Wash., on Feb. 23, 1920. He attended UM, earning a B.A. in political science in 1942, and was a starting end for the 1941 football team. He served four years in the army and was an assistant at UM during the 1946 season before coaching at Hoquiam (Wash.) until 1956. Swarthout was an assistant to Darrell Royal at Washington and Texas for three years, then coached Olympia High (Wash.) to a 50-14-2 nine-year record prior to coming to UM.

He served three years in Germany and a year in Viet Nam prior to his enrollment at UM in 1970.

1974 GRIZZLY OUTLOOK

An experienced and speedy offensive lineup will provide the impetus as the University of Montana attempts to rebound from back-to-back losing seasons. However, to complement the offense's potential, a young and untried defensive unit must develop quickly.

Montana returns 13 starters and a total of 29 lettermen. Nine of the starters and 16 of the lettermen are offensive personnel.

Offense, more precisely the lack of it, has meant trouble for the Grizzly grid squad in the last two seasons. However, a combination of old and new has injected new life into the attack.

Gene Carlson is new as coach of the backfield. Three junior college backs, Rich Jordan, Wyatt McCraw and Steve Dionas are also new. Freshmen like quarterbacks Randy Christophel and Tom Clift, fullback Ricky Lynn and halfback Mike Clark could help.

The old includes the wishbone formation, abandoned last year for a multiple set offense, and five lettermen backs, headed by two experienced quarterbacks in Rock Svennungsen and Van Troxel.

Jordan, 1,332 yards in eight games at Grays Harbor JC, McCraw and sophomore Del Spear are exceptional talents at halfback. All three are 4.6 for the 40. Letterman Dave Ponzoha is a steady performer.

Bob Smith, 1973's leading rusher despite missing five games, will be pushed by Dionas for the fullback job. And Troxel and Svennungsen have been alternately in charge at quarterback the last two seasons.

In the glory years of 1969 and 1970 (10-0 regular seasons) Montana fielded giant offensive lines. Guards Walt Brett (6-5, 235) and Dan Sullivan (6-6, 225) renew the trend and tackles Eric Manegold (6-3, 230) and Randy Lynn (6-0, 240) aren't small. Redshirt Brett and Sullivan, a growing sophomore, beat out returning starters Bill Grigsby and Kim McReynolds in spring ball.

At center, transfer James Summers (6-2, 210) or redshirt Jim Zellick (6-0, 215) will get the starting nod.

Regulars Duane Walker (6-3, 210) and Steve Carlson return at end. Greg Erickson, a starting halfback in 1973, is expected to replace Carlson at split end. Carlson suffered a dislocated hip in spring ball.

In addition to a host of newcomers, the defense has a new alignment—the 5-2.

The new alignment requiring three linemen and four linebacker-types is particularly suited to UM, which lost the starting front four, but returns plenty of linebackers.

Lettermen Terry Flowers, Greg Harris, Gig Stuart and Larry Farnam form a nucleus in the down positions. They will be joined by fall transfers Mark Plum and Rhett Thomas and freshman Randy Redwine.

Middle guards Harris (6-3, 235) and Stuart (6-1, 225) are very strong and tremendous hitters.

Farnam (6-2, 235) and Flowers (5-11, 220) are tackles. So are Plum (6-2, 235) and Thomas (6-4, 230). If they, or Redwine (6-2, 220) can come through, the defense will be strong.

Ron Rosenberg (6-3, 235) and Greg Salo (6-1, 220) are the leading candidates at middle linebacker. John Prigmore (6-0, 230) and fall transfer Jim Cedarstrom (6-2, 230) are as good.

Letterman John Buxton (6-0, 205) and transfer Bill Gulbranson (6-1, 205) are the defensive ends. Cedarstrom can play here and sophomore Rod Tweet (6-0, 195) made remarkable progress in the spring.

The secondary has numerous starting candidates.

All-Big Sky cornerback Sly Hardy is back. Transfer Greg Carter, letterman Glenn Schmasow and converted split end Greg Anderson battled throughout the spring for the other cornerback slot and the free safety position.

Returning regular Mike Ladd received a surprising challenge from Bob Eustance, a walk on, during the spring at strong safety.

Montana's kicking game will be handled by freshman Bruce Carlson. He was 41 of 45 on PATs, kicked a 44-yard FG and averaged 40.6 punting as a high school senior.

Glenn Schmasow 6-1 185 Junior

Has above average quickness and is a probable starter. Was all-league selection at Grays Harbor (Aberdeen, Wash.) in 1973. Loss of Jerry Cooley, the expected starter, with head injury makes center position vulnerable, but Summers is highly thought of.

Dan Sullivan 6-6 225

Offensive guard. Has everything needed for greatness. Is big, quick, hardworking and intelligent. Will be a starter after a strong showing in the spring. Is working weights over the summer and is expected to be bigger in the fall. Has three years of productive football ahead of him. Rhett Thomas 6-4 230

Junior

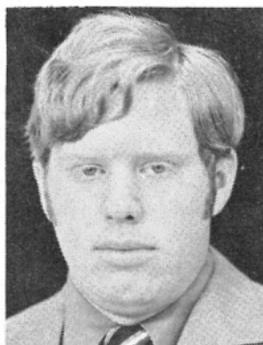

Defensive tackle. Transfer from Arizona Western (Yuma, Ariz.). Was not on hand for spring ball. Defensive interior lacks depth and it is hoped that Thomas can step in as a starter or be first-rate reserve. Could provide pleasant boost to Montana's hopes of a winning season.

Tweet

Walker

Zellick

*Van Troxel 5-10 170

Junior

Quarterback. Showed improvement in spring drills, as did Rock Svennungsen, who has been battling with Troxel for the starting spot the last two years. Troxel is adept at running the option. Scoring - Lui Passaglia (74 pts)

Simon Fraser's unique system of two head coaches paid immediate dividends when the Clansmen bounced back from a season opening thumping by the Grizzlies to post a 6-2 record. Another winning season is in store for the returnee laden Canadians. The Clansmen will be without the services of first-rate fullback Terry Bailey (866 yards rushing in 1973), but have a do-everything athlete in Lui Passaglia and an experienced quarterback in Nelson Ryan. Big Sky Conference teams have manhandled SFU in each of the last two seasons and the Clansmen will be bent on making amends when Montana visits beautiful Burnaby the first weekend of the 1974 season.

The Coyotes have a spectacular 17-4 record to show for their efforts during the last two seasons. The replacement of 1973's high-powered trio of running backs will be the key to how many wins go on the ledger in 1974. Mark Jenkins is back to direct the wishbone attack. He will be operating behind a veteran line. USD kept winning despite a large number of injuries last year. The result of USD's first post-season appearance ever will provide incentive in 1974. Boise State humbled the Coyotes 53-10 in the first round of the Division II playoffs.

Passing - Mike Pry (28 of 69, 481 yds, 6 TDs)

Receiving - Jesse Roberts (12, 225 yds, 3 TDs)

Scoring - Mike Thomas (128 pts)

Giving UNLV fire power is All-America tailback Mike Thomas and his 1,741 rushing yards and 21 touchdowns. Thomas may also return punts and kickoffs in 1974. The backfield will also have 9.6 sprinter Derek Cardwell. Enough said about the attackers! The defenders are experienced and capable. Eight starters return from a unit that yielded only 248 yards and 13.7 points per game. Nine home games are in store for the Rebels and a perfect season seems attainable.

Graduation took 10 starters, however the Wildcats have no where to go but up after a 3-8 season. Defensively, all-conference end Dave Benson heads the returnees. Two freshman starters provide experience at linebacker and the defensive secondary returns intact. Another all-conference pick, fullback Brian Gladwell, heads the offensive lineup. Quarterback, a sore spot for WSC the last two seasons, will be solid with sophomore Rod Bockwoldt back and redshirt Ross Goddard ready. Cats must play four of six conference games on the road.

The Lumberjacks made progress last year, and 1974's young team is being counted on to continue the upward trend. The offense will be without the exciting running of Jim Smith (1252 yards), but the backfield has good depth and the line has four starters back. The line play will highlight the defense's efforts, but to make the unit solid overall the secondary has to be developed. Coach Peasley is pleased with the squad's cohesiveness, and a team that plays together can often be a winner. Six home games won't hurt either.

Scoring - Steve Tanner (62 pts by kicking)

New coach Ed Troxel inherits a team with a great deal of potential. Offense will be the strong suit, with a host of running backs in the fold and a veteran line returning for them to run behind. Marshall Brantley and Mark Fredback racked up 1200 yards and six yards per carry between them in 1973. A new face at center is the only change in the line. Defensively, holes must be plugged in the line and the secondary. Linebacking and defensive end play is bound to be strong with talented veterans returning. Vandals must survive tough opening road trips.

With only eight lettermen gone from last year's young squad, the Vikings and Coach Stratten are looking optimistically to 1974. PSU relied heavily on freshmen in 1973 and dividends are expected from that talented group this year and in the future. Six of the first-year men were starters. More help will come from newcomers and the Vikings expect to improve upon last year's poor record. Running back Gene Woodard is a breakaway threat. The schedule is tough, including three games with Big Sky teams and trips to Nevada-Reno and Santa Clara.

MSU's Bobcats and Boise State will be regarded as the favorites in the chase for the Big Sky title in 1974. MSU, with four of six league games at home, will have an excellent shot at reversing the outcome of last year's league race which was won by Boise's 6-0 mark. The Cats were 5-1. Plenty of starters and a host of lettermen return. Halfback Wayne Edwards heads the return of everyone in the backfield. Eight defensive starters return, but All-American Bill Kollar has departed at defensive tackle. However, Wayne Hammond (6-5, 252) may be as good.

Injuries destroyed the Bengals hopes of a title shot in 1973. A season-opening bombardment in a showdown with Montana State was also damaging in 1973. A number of reasons are cited for the optimistic look at 1974. Injured offensive linemen John Roman (guard) and Wil Grant (center) are back. First-rate receivers return in Tom Hofmann and Craig Norby. Running backs are plentiful and all-conference tailback Rene' Garnett is now a defensive back. Newcomers will be counted on to bolster the defense which returns only three regulars.

The Broncos ability to put points on the scoreboard has not been questioned the last few years, and 1974 does not appear to be an exception. Quarterback Jim McMillan accounted for 172 yards each game last year and hit on 61 per cent of his pass attempts. He and the return of the backfield means instant offense. The loss of 1973's big and talented offensive line could prove troublesome. BSU has good size, including 6-9, 260-pound Ron Franklin, in the defensive line. Experienced linebackers and capable secondary personnel complete the defense.

The Big Sky Conference

The Big Sky Conference was formed in February, 1963, when the presidents and athletic directors of six Rocky Mountain universities met in Spokane. The original conference members were Gonzaga, Idaho, Idaho State, Montana, Montana State and Weber. Gonzaga entered the conference as a non-football playing school.

The conference derived its name from a pair of Montanans and a Washington sports editor. A. B. Guthrie, Great Falls, Montana, wrote a novel entitled "The Big Sky" and Jack Hallowell, former Montana State Advertising director, promoted the Big Sky theme as a nickname for the state. Harry Missildine, Spokesman-Review sports editor, picked up the name and in a sports column promoted the name Big Sky as the name of the conference. On February 25, 1963, the conference adopted the name—Big Sky Athletic Conference.

In 1970 the conference expanded to include Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, Ariz., and Boise State College, Boise, Idaho. Both entered as football playing schools.

Jack Friel became the first commissioner in 1963, and the offices were established in Pullman, Wash., Friel's home. Following Friel's retirement last July, the offices were moved to Boise, Idaho, and John Roning was named commissioner.

The Commissioner

John Roning was named Big Sky Commissioner to replace Jack Friel, who retired July 1, 1971. Friel was commissioner since the Big Sky Conference's inception in 1963. Not only was there a change at the helm, but the league offices were moved to Boise and a conference sports information director, Dan Peters, appointed. Roning first entered the collegiate athletic picture at the University of Minnesota as an end for Bernie Bierman's Golden Gophers from 1932-34. Bierman also coached at Montana from 1919-21. Roning coached in Minnesota high school leagues before a three-year stint at Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, Minn., before returning to Minnesota for graduate work. Following naval service during World War II, Roning joined the Utah State University football staff and served four years as head football coach and athletic director for the Aggies. He was twice named Skyline Conference "Coach of the Year." Roning then became head football coach at the University of Denver and was the Pioneer headman for six years. He then moved to the University of South Dakota in 1960.

The Grizzly Cup

Initiated in 1921, the Grizzly Cup is the University of Montana's oldest athletic award. Dr. W. E. Schreiber, a long time head of the UM physical education department, began the award which is usually given to a senior. It is awarded to the athlete who best represents the University on and off the playing field.

The latest recipient is Robin Selvig, a senior guard on last season's fine Grizzly basketball team. A product of tiny Outlook High School in eastern Montana, Selvig overcame a knee operation to lead UM to 19 wins against only eight losses in his final season. He was given second team all-conference recognition and voted UM's outstanding defensive player at the close of the 1973-74 campaign.

Grizzly Awards

Each year three outstanding University of Montana football players are recipients of awards.

The Terry Dillon Award, honoring the outstanding back, was established in 1964 following the accidental death of former Grizzly Terry Dillon. Dillon played defensive and offensive halfback for UM from 1960 to 1962. He started at defensive halfback for the National Football League Minnesota Vikings.

The Paul Weskamp Award was established in memory of Paul Weskamp, a tackle on Ed Chinske's 1954 Grizzlies. The award honors UM's outstanding lineman and was established by the citizens of Ronan, Montana.

The Golden Helmet Award honors the hardest hitter on the team. It was set up on a nationwide basis by the Coca Cola Company in 1967.
