Montana Lady Griz Basketball

This Is Missoula

Known as the "Garden City" for its dense trees and lush green landscape, Missoula is nestled in the heart of the northern Rockies in western Montana. A community of approximately 85,000 residents, Missoula lies in a mountain forest setting where five valleys converge. Missoula is Montana's most culturally diverse city. It is 270 miles from Yellowstone National Park and 140 miles from Glacier National Park.

The search for gold in the West and the completion of the Mullan Road, which opened up travel from Fort Benton, Mont., to Walla Walla, Wash., brought people to the valley in 1860. Missoula began as a settlement called Hell Gate when C.P. Higgins and Francis Worden began a trading post to accommodate the travelers. The settlement was later renamed Missoula, taken from a Salish Flathead Indian word, Imisuletiku, "At the stream or water of surprise." (Missoula, the Way it Was, Lenora Koelbe, 1972)

Early settlers constructed Fort Missoula in 1877 to combat the perceived threat by Native American tribes. Today the Fort Missoula Museum remains a testament to the West.

Missoula offers a variety of recreational opportunities. Three major rivers run through the area: the famous Blackfoot River to the northeast, the beautiful Bitterroot River to the south, and the Clark Fork of the Columbia River, which flows adjacent to The University of Montana campus. Rock Creek, known for its blue ribbon trout fishing, is just a 20-minute drive from Missoula.

Fly fishermen, rafters, kayakers, and canoers thrive on the waters of western Montana. Flathead Lake, the largest natural, freshwater lake in the western United States, is just 70 miles north of Missoula. Seeley Lake, Georgetown Lake, Placid Lake and Salmon Lake are less than a few hours away.

Hiking, biking, camping and rock climbing abound in western Montana. Mount Sentinel, Mount Jumbo, Lolo Peak, and Blue Mountain offer beautiful vistas. Blue Mountain Recreation Area, Pattee Canyon Recreation Area, and the Rattlesnake National Wilderness Area are nearby. The Bitterroot-Selway Wilderness Area, the Mission Mountains, and the Seeley-Swan Range are a short drive from Missoula.

Missoula abounds with skiing opportunities. Snowbowl Ski Area is a 20-minute drive from downtown Missoula and features a continuous vertical drop of 2,600 feet, one of the steepest in the country. Marshall Ski Area, a short 10-minute drive from downtown, features night skiing and offers a good student program. Big Mountain, Discovery, Lookout, Lost Trail, and Silver Mountain provide a variety of options for skiers. Groomed cross country trails can be found at nearly every wilderness area and are especially popular at Lolo Pass.

Other area attractions include "A Carousel for Missoula" (one of the first fully hand-carved carousels to be built in America since the Great Depression), Garnet Ghost Town, the National Bison Range, the Ninemile Remount Depot and Ranger Station, the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation Wildlife Visitor Center, and the Smokejumper Visitor Center.

Missoula Parks and Recreation and the YMCA provide a variety of recreational opportunities in basketball, soccer, softball, tennis, volleyball, and ice skating. Little League baseball is popular for both boys and girls, and Missoula teams have consistently advanced to regional competition.

Missoula also serves as a center for education, medicine, retail, and the arts. The University of Montana provides educational opportunities for more than 12,000 college students, and Missoula's five high schools are among the state's best in both academics and athletics. Community Medical Center and St. Patrick Hospital, along with many clinics, make Missoula one of the state's premier health care communities.

The Missoula community supports the arts in all its forms: theater productions, dance, art, and music. The Missoula Children's Theater, which was founded in

TWO SKIERS AT SNOWBOWL SKI AREA, A 30-MINUTE DRIVE FROM MISSOULA.

1970, has recently moved into a newly renovated building at the Central School and produces plays and musicals by national and local playwrights for both adults and children. The theater also has an International Tour Project, bringing theatrical productions to audiences outside the Missoula area. The Garden City Ballet and Missoula Symphony, which is in its 44th season, bring performances and concerts to the community year around. The Missoula Museum of Arts, located in the old Carnegie Library in downtown Missoula, sponsors changing exhibits and also has a permanent collection which focuses on Western contemporary art.

One of the most desirable places to live in the United States, western Montana has become an attractive residence for those looking for pristine beauty and serenity. Even some of America's famous people, such as Liz Claiborne, Tom Cruise, Emilio Estevez, Mel Gibson, Phil Jackson, Huey Lewis and Charlie Sheen, have made western Montana their home. Missoula was recently named the 1999 Great American Place by American Heritage, a publication of Forbes Magazine.

Missoula is easily accessible by either Interstate 90 from the east and west or by highway 93 to the north and south. Missoula International Airport has several flights daily by the major airlines Delta, Northwest, and Horizon. Big Sky Airlines also lands in Missoula several times a day. It serves Montana and western Washington cities.

The University of Montana was the state's first college. Chartered on February 17, 1893, the school opened its doors to its first 50 students in what is now called University Hall. More than 100 years later, The University of Montana is the center of liberal arts education and research in the state.

The school has gone through numerous changes over the years. In 1913 the school was renamed the State University of Montana, and in 1935, it was renamed Montana State University. It wasn't until 1965 that the institution recaptured its original name, The University of Montana.

In 1988, Western Montana College in Dillon became part of UM, and in 1994, the Montana Board of Regents approved a restructuring plan to create two universities within the Montana University System.

Today, The University of Montana encompasses three other campuses: Western Montana College in Dillon, Montana Tech in Butte, and Helena College of Technology in Helena, and The University of Montana College of Technology in Missoula.

The University of Montana provides high-quality, well-rounded education to students and a wide range of services to Montanans. UM is a major source of research, continuing education, economic development, fine arts and entertainment, and serves as a driving force in strengthening Montana's ties with countries throughout the world.

UM's Missoula campus is comprised of the College of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate School, the Davidson Honors College, the College of Technology, and seven professional schools: business administration, education, fine arts, forestry, journalism, law, and pharmacy and allied health sciences. The University of Montana also has an excellent physical therapy school and offers two-year programs in business, trades and industry, and technical and health occupations.

UM continues to grow, and last year's enrollment of 12,124 students broke all previous enrollment records. The student body is 53 percent female and 47 percent male. Last year Montana enrolled 266 foreign students from 52 countries.

Located at the base of Mount Sentinel and on the bank of the Clark Fork River, the 200-acre campus is one of the most beautiful in the nation.

Campus life offers a variety of choices for the UM student. Dormitory living provides nine halls with various options on campus. Elrod Hall is the male dorm; Turner Hall is the female dorm; and Aber, Craig, Duniway, Jesse, Miller, and Knowles halls are co-ed. Pantzer Hall, which provides four-person suites, was completed in 1995. Family housing can be found just three blocks south of the main campus in University Village and Toole Village. Students interested in the Greek life have four sororities and 10 fraternities from which to choose.

The University of Montana has a nine-hole golf course, located just south of the main campus. The Grizzly Pool is a seven-lane, 25-yard indoor swimming pool which features numerous classes and programs. The recreation annex, adjacent to Adams Center, features two full-length basketball courts, seven racquetball courts, a climbing wall, a weight room, and equipment checkout.

The Outdoor Program provides opportunities for the campus community to participate in recreational activities such as rafting, kayaking, climbing, hiking, backpacking and skiing.

UM owns and operates Lubrecht Experimental Forest, a 28,000-acre teaching and research forest. Located approximately 30 miles northeast of Missoula, Lubrecht Forest provides the opportunity for students to learn tree thinning and harvesting techniques in addition to forest and ecological projects.

The Flathead Lake Biological Station, located at Yellow Bay on the east side of the lake, is a year-round research facility and academic center for the ecological sciences. The freshwater research laboratory encompasses 80 acres.

UM ranks fourth among U.S. public universities with 28 Rhodes Scholars. UM also has had 37 International Fulbright Scholars, eight Truman Scholars and five Goldwater Scholars. Journalism graduates have won seven Pulitzer Prizes, and journalism student Bruce Ely won the national photojournalism championship in the Hearst Journalism Awards Program in 1998.

The University was listed among the top 50 universities and colleges in the nation for Peace Corps recruiting, was named one of the nation's best paddling colleges in Paddler magazine and was profiled in "America's 100 Best College Buys."

Grizzly Athletics

The University of Montana offers 14 intercollegiate athletic programs for student-athletes in football, men's and women's basketball, volleyball, soccer and golf, men's and women's cross country, tennis, and both indoor and outdoor track & field.

The Montana Grizzlies have always been a force to reckon with. The Grizzly football team has had unprecedented success in the 1990s, winning the 1995 I-AA National Football Championship title and advancing to the title game again in 1996. In 1998 the Grizzlies made their sixth straight appearance in the playoffs. Montana had four players earn All-American honors, and senior offensive lineman Scott Curry of Valier, Mont., was drafted by the Green Bay Packers in the seventh round.

The Grizzly basketball team has posted winning seasons in 22 of the past 23 seasons and won the Big Sky Championship in 1996. Montana has advanced to the NCAA tournament four times in school history and three times in the 1990s. The Griz own four Big Sky trophies, including back-to-back titles in 1991 and 1992. The Griz head into their second century of play.

The Lady Griz basketball team has recorded 18 20-win seasons in the 19 campaigns. The women have won 13 Big Sky titles and advanced to the NCAA tournament 13 times in its 18-year history. Head coach Robin Selvig, a 1974 UM graduate who played hoops for the Griz, has a 21-year record of 493-131 and is ranked fourth in the nation in winning percentage (.790) among active coaches.

The Lady Griz volleyball team has advanced to the Big Sky Conference Championship in 15 of the last 17 years and has made three NCAA tournament appearances in the 1990s.

The Montana women's soccer team has posted a 65-29-2 record in five years under the direction of Betsy Duerksen.

LADY GRIZ BASKETBALL CELEBRATING A BIG SKY TITLE

Karen Hardy was the 1998 Big Sky Conference Offensive MVP.

The men's tennis team placed third at the Big Sky Championships last spring, shutting out powerful Weber State 4-0 in the first round. David Froshauer (first team) and Eric Goldstein (second team) were both named to the all-conference team, and Jen Canuso and Jessica Redding from the women's team also earned first-team honors.

Both Montana cross country teams fared well in 1998. The Grizzlies climbed the national rankings as high as No. 14 and upset BYU, Oregon, and Washington State at the Mountain West Classic. The Lady Griz surprised even themselves and finished third at the Big Sky Championships. Heather Anderson and Sabrina Monro both qualified for the NCAA Championships.

The Montana track & field teams had extremely successful seasons in 1998-99, as well. Coach Tom Raunig and his assistants produced 15 Big Sky all-conference selections, seven Big Sky Champions, three NCAA qualifiers, and the first outdoor All-American since 1982. The Grizzlies broke a 12-year Bobcat winning streak in the annual dual and placed fourth at the Big Sky outdoor meet, UM's best finish in 12 years. The Lady Griz broke four school records and finished fifth at the Big Sky meet, their highest finish since 1989.

Athletic facilities at The University of Montana have improved dramatically over the last few years. The most recent improvement is a 14.3-million dollar renovation to the field house, which has created the new Adams Center, featuring two new auxiliary gyms, a major facelift for Dahlberg Arena, a new weight center, athletic treatment center, lockerrooms, and an academic center for student-athletes.

Washington-Grizzly football stadium was finished in 1986, and two years ago endzone seating was added to accommodate a total of 18,845 fans.

Dornblaser Stadium, located on the UM South Campus, was refurbished in 1990 and is one of the nicest outdoor track facilities in the Big Sky Conference. The UM South Campus Soccer Stadium was completed in 1996 and features a fully fenced venue, a new scoreboard, remodeled lockerrooms, and seating for 1,000. The University also has its own swimming pool, golf course, racquetball courts, several soccer fields and several other amenities.

Grizzly athletes receive outstanding support services in the areas of academics, athletic treatment, equipment, financial aid, and sports information.

The University of Montana has had 28 Rhodes Scholars. UM ranks 15th of all American colleges and universities in the number of Rhodes Scholars it has produced, fourth among public universities.

School of Education graduates compete very successfully for jobs. A high percentage of those with bachelor's degrees and graduate degrees find teaching, administrative and other education-related positions in Montana and many other states.

The Department of Social Work is fully accredited by the Council on Social Work Education, making UM the only Montana public school that prepares its graduates to apply for advanced standing in graduate schools of social work.

The Department of Drama/Dance has a professional theater group — the Montana Repertory Theatre — based on campus. The Theatre, which tours throughout the Northwest, is the only touring professional actors equity company between Minneapolis and Seattle.

KUFM, a noncommercial public radio station operated by the Broadcast Media Center, reaches an estimated 400,000 Montanans in central and western Montana. KUFM-TV is a noncommercial public television station operated by the Broadcast Media Center. It is the western partner in the Montana Public Television network that serves more than 106,000 Montana households.

The Department of Geology has a strong nationally known program in traditional geology and environmental geoscience.

The Department of Geography has one of the Northwest's best cartography laboratories, where students learn to make maps and interpret aerial photography.

The Flathead Lake Biological Station, located about 80 miles north of Missoula, is the oldest biological station west of the Mississippi. The UM research station is one of the finest facilities in the country for ecological studies and freshwater research.

The Department of Health and Human Performance is one of a handful in the country that prepares students to be athletic trainers.

The School of Journalism has had seven Pulitzer Prize winners. UM journalism student Bruce Ely won first place in the national 1997 competition for the Hearst Journalism Awards Program.

UM's graduate creative writing program, started in 1919 by H.G. Merriam, is the second oldest program of its kind in the country. Well-known Montana writer and poet James Welch, is a graduate of the program.

Another significant sign of UM's commitment to academics came in 1993 when former faculty athletic representative Dr. Robert O. Lindsay developed a program at UM to honor student athletes who excel in the classroom. Since then, UM has recognized student-athletes who earn a 3.0 grade point average or higher. Last year 109 Montana student-athletes were invited to the banquet.

George M. Dennison

George Dennison, the 16th president of The University of Montana since August 15, 1990, has been very supportive of athletics. He serves on the NCAA Division I Board of Directors and chaired the Big Sky Conference Presidents' Council in 1992-93.

Dennison came to Montana from Kalamazoo, Mich., where he served as the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs of Western Michigan University from 1987-90.

In earlier years, he spent time at the Universities of Arkansas and Washington prior to 18 years at Colorado State University in Fort Collins.

At Colorado State, he started as a history professor then served in numerous other positions. He simultaneously held the positions of Associate Dean of the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences and Associate Dean of the Graduate School for International Development Studies. He also served as Acting Academic Vice President, Associate Academic Vice President, and Director of Admissions and Records.

An historian by training, Dennison received his Bachelor's degree with high honors in history from UM in 1962. He received his Master's degree from UM in 1963, then earned his Ph.D. in history from the University of Washington in 1967. He has written numerous publications and made several professional presentations in both history and higher education.

Dennison serves on several boards. —President Dennison

Wayne Hogan

Athletic Director

Unprecedented growth and expansion have been the hallmarks of Athletic Director Wayne Hogan's tenure at The University of Montana. Serving as UM's 14th director of athletics, Hogan is in his fifth year with the Grizzlies. The success of the Montana program comes as no surprise to those who have followed Hogan's 22 years in the field of intercollegiate athletics.

In his association with three collegiate programs, the 43-year-old Hogan has known only victories and championships. He had the rare opportunity to join the Montana program just as the 1995 Grizzlies began their immortal drive to the I-AA Football National Championship. All of this came on the heels of a football national title in 1994 while Hogan was serving his alma mater, Florida State University, where he spent a total of 18 years in various athletic department capacities.

Since his arrival, the Griz football program has won three Big Sky Conference Championships and appeared in the I-AA playoffs every year. Perhaps the defining moment of Hogan's tenure came in 1996 when both men's and women's basketball teams won league championships as did football. A sweep of those three championships in a single year had never before been achieved in the 35-year history of the conference.

With a knack for marketing and communications, Hogan's contributions probably are best tallied by looking at the numbers. In football, average attendance is up from 11,000 at his arrival to better than 18,000. Annual giving is up by more than $100,000 and corporate sponsorships have also seen a six-digit increase. Hogan has also fostered the University's royalty program which has seen revenues on licensed products jump from $20,000 to well over $100,000. In all, revenue generated by the department has grown from $2.8 million in 1995 to a projected $4.1 million this year.

Clearly, Hogan's most visible role has been the undertaking of a $14.7 million facility project known as the Adams Center.

After receiving his Bachelor's Degree in communications from Florida State in 1979, Hogan worked for two minor league baseball teams as a broadcaster and public relations specialist. He served as the assistant sports information director at the University of New Mexico in 1981 before going to Florida State in 1982 as the school's sports information director. He was promoted to Assistant Athletic Director in 1992 and served as the interim athletic director in 1994-95.

A native of Tallahassee, FL, Hogan's father, Patrick, is a former sports information director and longtime college administrator at FSU. His wife, Dawn, is a native of Treasure Island, FL. They have three children: Lindsay, Kelly and J.P.

Head Coach

493-131, 22 Years

When Robin Selvig first appeared on The University of Montana campus as the women's basketball coach, the thought of coaching the Lady Griz at the turn of the century was probably far from the farthest thought on his mind.

But 21 years and 493 wins later, Selvig will guide Lady Griz basketball into the next century. And the program is in good hands.

While the amazing streak of success was snapped last season, the Lady Griz return a number of veterans this season and will attempt to restore Montana to the heights of the Big Sky Conference and a possible berth in the NCAA Tournament. If that happens, Selvig's 500th career victory will occur along the way.

Born and raised in the northeastern part of the state, Selvig has become a Montana landmark. The players he has coached have gone on to emulate his style as they have become coaches themselves. He is not a complicated coach, just one with an overwhelming love of the game.

Selvig's success has brought him full circle. Although he has spent his 21 seasons as head coach of the Lady Griz, his tenure at UM spans even longer. He came to campus in the fall of 1970 as a quick, but gangly college freshman ready to expand his basketball knowledge and game under the tutelage of Jud Heathcote. Selvig would play with the freshmen team that season before earning three varsity letters.

As a senior in 1973-74, he led the Grizzlies to a 19-8 record and earned Big Sky all-conference honors as a guard. He was awarded the John Eaheart Award, given annually to Montana's outstanding defensive player. That emphasis on defense has been a staple of Selvig's legacy and is now a trademark of his teams.

Selvig was also the recipient of Montana's top athletic award, the Grizzly Cup, that year. He was later inducted into the Grizzly Basketball Hall of Fame during a 26-4 campaign in 1982-83.

- ✓ 13-Time Big Sky Coach of the Year
- ✓ 8-Time District 7 Coach of the Year

After receiving his bachelor's degree in health and human performance in 1974, Selvig was appointed coach of the Montana freshmen team, along with Kevin Rocheleau, who would later marry Selvig's long-time assistant coach and former point guard, Annette Whitaker.

A year later, Selvig turned to the high school ranks, coaching the girls' basketball team at Plentywood High School from 1975-78. He compiled a record of 38-24 as a prep coach.

Selvig returned to his alma mater in 1978 as the fourth head coach of the women's basketball team. The program's inaugural season was the 1974-75 campaign, but the Lady Griz had three coaches in four years. Looking for both success and stability, athletic director Harley Lewis hired Selvig to lead the program into the 80s. Lewis likely had no idea that Selvig would also lead the program into the 21st century.

In his first year at the helm (1978-79), Selvig's team posted a 13-13 record. In his second year (1979-80), the Lady Griz posted a 19-10 record, and from that time until last season, Montana recorded 18 consecutive 20-win seasons.

Selvig has had tremendous success with the Lady Griz. He is the all-time winningest coach in Montana history, posting a phenomenal 21-year record of 493 wins and 131 losses. He is currently the third winningest coach of all-time, according to percentage (.807), behind Leon Barmore of Louisiana Tech and Pat Summitt of Tennessee. He has averaged 23.4 wins per season since his arrival.

Selvig has taken his teams to 16 postseason tournaments, including 13 NCAA Championships. Montana advanced to the West Regional in 1984 and has advanced to the second round seven times.

Montana has dominated the Big Sky Conference since its inception in 1982. The Lady Griz' record is 227-25 (.901) against conference foes during the regular season and 30-4 (.882) in league tournaments. He has won 89 percent (257-29) of his games against Big Sky opponents, and his teams have gone undefeated in conference action six times since the 1986-87 season. The Lady Griz went 16-0 in league play for three consecutive seasons from 1988-91, then repeated that feat in 1996-97.

Selvig has guided his teams to 14 regular-season titles and 13 tournament titles in 18 years.

His talent and work ethic have earned him many awards. He has been the Big Sky/Mountain West Coach of the Year 13 times (1983, 84, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 94, 95, 96, 97) and the NCAA District 7 Coach of the Year nine times (1984, 85, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 94, 97). In addition, he was also one of three finalists for the 1991 NCAA Division I National Coach of the Year.

And one thing has remained constant, defense. Every year Montana is ranked among the nation's top 10 teams in the defensive statistical categories. The Lady Griz were ranked third in the country in field-goal percentage defense (.352) for both the 1996-97 and 1997-98 seasons. In 1995-96, Montana led the nation in field-goal percentage defense (.333), after setting a NCAA Division I record (.317) in that category in 1995.

Selvig's success on the court has carried over into the grandstands. Montana has been consistently ranked among the top programs in the country in attendance since 1984. The Lady Griz were ranked 16th nationally for the 1997-98 season after finishing in the top 15 for 13-straight seasons. Last year, despite playing games off-campus at Sentinel High School, Montana finished 43rd in attendance with an average of 2,170. Those numbers are sure to rise to back among the nation's best with the Lady Griz' return to the newly-renovated Adams Center and Dahlberg Arena, possibly challenging Montana's school-record 5,235 fans per home game set during the 1994-95 campaign. When Selvig began coaching at UM, Montana averaged just over 200 fans per home game.

Selvig has served on several NCAA committees and is a long-time member of the Women's Basketball Coaches' Association. He also votes on the USA Today Top 25 Poll.

Outside of Grizzly Athletics, Selvig has served as the Director of the Montana Special Olympics and has been a spokesperson for Missoula Youth Homes.

A native of Outlook, Mont., Selvig comes from a family of eight children. His brother, Doug, was a four-year letterman for the Grizzly hoop team from 1981-84, and he currently coaches at Glendive High School. A sister, Sandy (Sullivan) was a member of the Lady Griz basketball team from 1978-81.

Selvig is married to the former Janie Hagan, originally from Redstone, Mont. They have two sons, Jeff and Dan.

Assistant Coaches

Annette Rocheleau Assistant Coach

One of the most experienced assistant coaches in the country, Annette (Whitaker) Rocheleau enters her 19th season as the top assistant. She has helped bring the Lady Griz program into national prominence through her primary responsibilities of recruiting, game strategy, conditioning, scouting, and travel arrangements.

Formerly Annette Whitaker, she first came to Montana as a walk-on. She made the team and became the starting point guard and team captain that first season. Rocheleau was also the team captain as a senior and was the team's "Most Inspirational" player. In her two seasons, she recorded 132 assists.

After completing her playing days, Rocheleau turned her attention to coaching, directing the Lady Griz junior varsity team for the 1981-82 and 1982-83 seasons. She was appointed Montana's first full-time assistant coach in September, 1983, and the Lady Griz have become one of the nation's top teams, winning 366 games.

She transferred to Montana from Wenatchee Valley Junior College. Rocheleau, and fellow teammate Jill Greenfield, led Wenatchee Valley to two state junior college championship titles. She also was a team captain.

A 1977 graduate of Cashmere (Wash.) High, she was a four-year letterwinner in both basketball and tennis from 1974 to 1977. She received her bachelor's degree from UM in health and physical education in 1982.

An outstanding golfer, Rocheleau served as the assistant golf coach from 1992-94, the first two seasons of collegiate women's golf at UM.

She is a member of the WBCA Coach of the Year committee. She also served as the assistant director of the Montana Special Olympics in both 1990 and 1991.

Annette is married to Kevin Rocheleau, a former Grizzly basketball player who played with Robin Selvig, then coached the UM freshmen team with him. They have two children: daughter Trae and son Ty.

Shannon Schweyen Assistant Coach

Shannon (Cate) Schweyen is in her eighth season as a full-time assistant coach under mentor Robin Selvig. She joined the UM coaching staff as a student assistant in 1992 and was appointed to a full-time position in 1993. Her primary responsibility is recruiting, but she also assists with conditioning, game strategy, scouting and public relations.

Schweyen, the Big Sky Conference's first and only Kodak All-American, led the Lady Griz to a 103-18 overall record from 1988-92. She was a three-time District 7 All-American, a two-time Big Sky MVP, a three-time Big Sky tournament MVP, and a three-time Lady Griz MVP. She was also a four-time Big Sky all-academic pick.

Probably the Big Sky's most prolific player, Schweyen left the court as the league's all-time leading scorer among both men and women with 2,172 career points.

She still owns 12 school records and nine Big Sky Conference records, averaging 18.7 points, 7.6 rebounds and 3.6 assists per game over the course of four years. She was consistently ranked among the top Division I players in the country in scoring, field-goal percentage and free-throw percentage during her playing days.

Schweyen was a three-time state tournament MVP for her Billings Central prep team. She was also the Montana USA Today Player of the Year in 1988.

She spent a short period of time playing basketball for a Spanish national team following college but returned after a shoulder injury. She dislocated her shoulder seven times during her senior season, requiring two surgeries.

Her jersey number, 21, was retired following her collegiate career. It hangs in the Lady Griz trophy case, along with her Kodak All-American award. She became just the third woman inducted into The University of Montana's Hall of Fame in her first year of eligibility.

She received a bachelor's degree in business administration in 1993. She is married to Brian Schweyen, a former Big Sky all-conference decathlete from Montana State, who now serves as an assistant track & field coach at UM. They have a daughter, Jordyn.

Trish Duce
Assistant Coach

Trish (Olson) Duce begins her sixth year as an assistant coach under Selvig. She is primarily responsible for computer support and administration. However, Duce also wears another hat, serving as the Webmaster for Grizzly Athletics. She has designed an extravagant web site for all UM athletic programs, which can be found at:

<http://www.grizzly.umt.edu>

Duce had a successful basketball career with the Lady Griz, despite being plagued by broken bones in her right foot. The former Trish Olson came to UM from Missoula's Big Sky High School in 1989 and played in 28 games as a true freshman. She started in 29 games as a sophomore and was a Big Sky Conference all-tournament selection after leading the Lady Griz to a 77-49 victory over Montana State in the championship game.

In 1991-92, Trish broke a bone in her foot and was granted a medical redshirt season after competing in only three games. The following season she missed nine games due to another broken bone in her foot. However, she was named to the Western States Showdown all-tournament team after tallying a school-record eight blocks against Western Carolina, a record that still stands. As a fifth-year senior in 1993-94, Olson started 24 games and finished her career ranked 11th with 89 career blocked shots.

Duce received her bachelor's degree in mathematics in 1993 and her master's degree in computer science in 1995. She was a four-time Big Sky all-academic selection during her career.

Trish is married to Kirk Duce, a former Grizzly football kicker who still holds the career scoring record (298 career points). They have a daughter, Lexi.

Season Preview

There will be a lot of new things associated with The University of Montana women's basketball program this season.

The Lady Griz will have:

- A new look in uniforms for the 1999-2000 season,
- A new arena for home games as the Adams Center opens,
- A new streak of success to start and
- A new enthusiasm by staff and players alike for the game

The Lady Griz suffered through their first-ever losing season under head coach Robin Selvig, who enters his 22nd year. The 12-16 record last year snapped an impressive streak of 18 20-or-more win seasons to go with 13 Big Sky Conference championships and 13 berths in the NCAA Tournament.

Montana saw a staggering five players, two of whom had earned all-Big Sky Conference honors, fall to season-ending injuries last year and had three others miss at least 10 games due to injuries.

This season will be a challenge for Selvig and his staff to devise a plan to incorporate a large number of experienced players, headlined by five seniors, into a successful unit. Those decisions will have to be made early as the schedule starts tough and only gets tougher.

Schedule

The Lady Griz will get their first chance at the season against Idaho to open the Adams Center, the first of four home games to open the season.

Following the Vandals will be Nebraska, which is ranked 19th in one preseason poll and has made the NCAA Tournament the past two seasons.

After the Cornhuskers, Utah comes to Missoula. The Utes qualified for the 1999 WNIT and have won the past three meetings with Montana. Carroll College rounds out the four-game homestand.

Montana hits the road for a pair of games against Portland and Gonzaga before returning home against Brigham Young. A road trip to San Diego State occurs before the Lady Griz Classic, featuring Central Connecticut State, Maryland-Baltimore County and Pacific, rounds out the 1999 part of the season. A game at former league member Boise State closes the non-conference action.

Then comes the Big Sky Conference season. A perennial Big Sky Conference power, this season the Lady Griz will attempt to regain their reign on league play. Montana has posted a dominating 149-19 record in league play.

And conference action will have the Lady Griz hitting the road for the first three games before back-to-back games against Northern Arizona and CSU Northridge. Another three-game roadstand awaits the Lady Griz before they are home for three games. A final two-game road swing greets Montana before three home games close the regular season.

"We have a very tough early schedule," said Selvig. "Hopefully, we can get some things put together early because we could get some wins that could really help us and be good for us. How quickly all of our kids come back and get up to snuff is important. I do think this team is going to need some time to figure out roles and grow. The main thing, which you always want to do in the non-conference schedule, is to get ready to go for conference play. By the time we get to the league, I think we'll have everything figured out and be an outstanding club."

The Players

The 1998-99 season might have been doomed from the start as all-conference forwards Lauren Cooper and Krista Redpath went down with injuries during the preseason as did Jill Henkel.

Point guard Megan Harrington suffered a season-ending knee injury (ACL) in the 11th game of the year and running mate Meggan Thompson suffered a dislocated shoulder but continued to play.

But all are expected to return this season. Cooper had foot surgery in August, 1998, while Redpath tore her right ACL twice in the past 12 months.

Selvig expects Redpath, who suffered a second tear in June, to return near the start of the season.

Also back is Henkel, who tore her left ACL prior to last season.

However, the injury bug has already hit Montana. Linda Cummings will sit out the season after foot surgery in May to alleviate pain from chronic plantar fasciitis.

Guard

A pair of seniors in Megan Harrington and Meggan Thompson headline the point guard spot.

Harrington played only 11 games last season but still ranked among the team leaders in steals. She possesses outstanding speed and quickness and is expected to run the offense.

Pushing her for playing time will be Thompson, who underwent postseason shoulder surgery for the second time in two years. Thompson took over at point guard following the loss of Harrington and performed well.

Amy Phillips saw action in 26 games as a true freshman and could see action in a backup role.

At the off-guard spot, Cheryl Keller started 21 games last season and was the squad's third-leading scorer and rebounder. Keller, a top defensive player, had a team-high 31 steals.

Jill Henkel appears ready to return. An active defender, Henkel also is an outside shooting threat. Cooper could see action at the off-guard or small forward roles, depending on the lineup.

A trio of true freshmen, Julie Deming, LeAnn Montes and Cami Schenk, could also figure into the guard mix. Deming might also see action at forward.

Forward

There is an abundance of talent here as three all-conference players return in Linda Weyler, Lauren Cooper and Krista Redpath. Cummings would have given the Lady Griz four returning all-league players but will redshirt this season. Redpath and Weyler have seen action at center in the past and could again this season.

ALL-CONFERENCE AND ALL-REGION PICK LINDA WEYLER RETURNS FOR HER SENIOR SEASON. SHE LED THE LADY GRIZ IN SCORING AND REBOUNDING IN 1998-99.

"She's another one of the people who can play on the perimeter and in the post," said Selvig. "She just needs to get on the floor to show us what she can do."

Center

Center is another position where depth is plentiful. Weyler and Redpath could see action here and Laura Valley, a part-time starter last season, is back. Jamie Farris was injured parts of last year and will also provide depth.

Both Valley and Fariss are 6-3 sophomores.

"Jamie is finally getting healthy," said Selvig. "She's looking good in the preseason in terms of conditioning and individual work and is an outstanding scorer."

"Laura is tall and very athletic," said Selvig. "She has the athletic ability to play both the 4 and the 5. She has a lot of tools. If she keeps getting better, keeps gaining confidence with experience, she has a chance to be an outstanding player."

Overall Comments

The Lady Griz appear to be talented and experienced on paper and ready to eliminate last season from their minds.

"I know we have determined kids who are anxious to come back and turn things around from last year," said Selvig. "Frankly, I don't think we should be disappointed in last year because of the circumstances. We have kids who want to get to the NCAAs — that's where they want to be and that's where we're trying to get to. I think we'll have great leadership in that way. We have a bunch of hard workers and the young kids will learn from them. The seniors will bring the competitiveness and confidence that when we step on the floor, we think we can win the ballgame."

The talented and deep squad should allow Selvig and his staff a number of options on offense and defense.

"Defensively, we should have great depth, should be quicker and have more options," said Selvig. "I'm looking for us to step things up defensively as compared to last year. We didn't play zone (the traditional 2-3 matchup) much last year as the year went on as we were young and limited to what we could do.

"Now we have options to look at," continued Selvig. "We could look to put on more pressure as we have pretty good quickness at 2 and at 1 and have depth at those spots, too."

And then there are the options to be made on offense — a little more up-tempo or be conservative and look for the high percentage shots.

"Offensively, here's where decisions are to be made," continued Selvig, pondering the possibilities. "We could have a number of different looking lineups. We can go big but not be as quick with a lot of scorers in there or can put in a quick/fast lineup and get after people more, too ... The kids are going to have to show me in the preseason what our looks are going to be and who's going to take what roles."

Whatever the choices will be, look for a Lady Griz team that will be more explosive on offense and remain one of the nation's toughest on defense.

Having so many options this season can be both a blessing and a curse.

"It will be a challenge but it's certainly a better challenge than last year which was not having enough players and trying to figure things out," said Selvig. "This year we should have enough players at all positions. We'll get in practice and the players will start showing us who's performing and winning spots and roles. But it's going to be some time into the season before that all happens. And you throw in the fact some of those kids are coming off of injuries and you're never sure how they're going to be — are they going to step in and not miss a beat ..."

But it all should add up to be another exciting season of Lady Griz Basketball.

Weyler, the Big Sky's leading scorer last season, earned Kodak All-American honorable mention honors while scoring 530 points and also leading the team in rebounds.

"Linda's coming off of a great year," said Selvig. "She emerged as one of the best players in the region. Linda can also score on the perimeter and is very tough in the post."

Redpath, who's back for her fifth year, was one of the team's top scorers and rebounders before suffering the knee injuries. She had also started 59 straight games.

"She's a proven player," said Selvig. "She can provide leadership and experience which are so important if you're going to have a championship team."

Simarron Schildt, who appeared in every game last season as a true freshman, will see action at either forward spot. She also could sit out the season as a redshirt.

Leah Meier was hampered by injuries last season after seeing extensive action the year before as a true freshman.

#-Montana Record

Lady Griz Were in Unfamiliar Territory

Aberration.

Webster's Dictionary defines it as "a deviation from the norm."

That could be one way to describe the 1998-99 season encountered by The University of Montana women's basketball team. The Lady Griz suffered through a rash of season-ending injuries — three before the season started with another coming in the 11th game — and a number of other injuries which limited players when they did hit the floor.

Montana, which did not have a returning starter on the court when the season opened, finished with a 12-16 record and a 7-9 mark in Big Sky Conference play. The sub-.500 record was the first in head coach Robin Selvig's phenomenal career at UM. The record also snapped a streak of 18 consecutive seasons of winning 20-or-more games.

The injuries, along with a different home court, caused a few of the Lady Griz traditional looks to change. With the renovation of the Adams Center, UM played its home games at Sentinel High School. The injuries also caused a change in defenses as Selvig used a man-to-man defense instead of the trademark 2-3 zone.

While the season did not meet the normal Montana standards — 20 wins and a berth in the Big Sky Conference Tournament championship — the year had its own successes.

- Linda Weyler emerged as a go-to player, topping the 500-point mark and earning first-team Big Sky Conference honors. Weyler, who lead the team in scoring and rebounding, was also a selection to the Big Sky Conference all-tournament team. She tripled her scoring average from the year before and became the fifth Lady Griz to be named to the Kodak All-Region 7 squad.

- Linda Cummings was a scoring threat inside and outside and joined Weyler on the all-Big Sky Conference team. She set a school record by making all seven of her attempts from beyond the three-point field goal arc in a win over Montana State-Billings.

- Cheryl Keller stepped into the playing rotation and eventually into the starting lineup. She became one of the team's top scorers and rebounders from her off-guard spot.

- Simarron Schildt also saw a great deal of time on the floor, appearing in all 28 games.

- Amy Phillips, another true freshman, appeared in 26 games at either guard spot or at small forward.

- A total of six players (Linda Cummings, Allison Gardner, Megan Harrington, Cheryl Keller, Simarron Schildt and Meggan Thompson) were named to the Big Sky all-academic team.

- Closing the regular season by winning four of last six games, including a win over Big Sky champ Cal State-Northridge.

- A first-round win over Weber State in the Big Sky Conference Tournament.

- Led the Big Sky in field goal percentage defense (37.9%) — the 11th-straight time UM has led the Big Sky in that statistical category.

The season did start out strong as the Lady Griz won three of their first four. However, the next four games saw Montana end up on the short end of the scoreboard.

Montana rebounded with a win over Cal State-Fullerton in the Lady Griz Classic but fell to Arkansas, the 1999 WNIT champ, in the championship game of the tournament.

The start of the Big Sky Conference season did not bring a change of luck as the Lady Griz dropped four of the first games. Things got turned around by winning six of the next eight and gave the squad some momentum heading into the postseason tournament. It helped as Montana downed Weber State behind Weyler's 21 points and 13 rebounds. The season came to a close the next night in a loss to Portland State.

KRISTY LANGTON

Although still youthful in the world of NCAA Division I athletic conferences, the 37-year-old Big Sky Conference has solidified itself as one of the strongest leagues in the West as well as the nation. The Big Sky begins its fourth year of the current nine-institution league membership after adding CSU-Northridge, CSU-Sacramento and Portland State to the family in 1996.

With its roots established in 1963, the Big Sky Conference began with six charter members: the University of Idaho, Idaho State University, Gonzaga University, the University of Montana, Montana State University and Weber State University. On July 1, 1970, the league experienced its first expansion, adding Boise State University and Northern Arizona University to the fold to create an eight-member league. On July 1, 1979, charter-member Gonzaga left the league and was replaced by the University of Nevada. In 1987, Eastern Washington was admitted to the league to create the first version of a nine-member Big Sky Conference. Nevada's departure in 1992 made the Big Sky an eight-member league. On July 1, 1996, both Boise State and Idaho left the Big Sky, but the three additional institutions moved the league into a nine-member scenario for the second time.

The Big Sky Conference sponsors championships in 15 sports, including men's and women's cross country, golf, basketball, tennis, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, in addition to football, volleyball and soccer. The Big Sky is an NCAA Division I member in all sports, with member institutions classified as I-AA in football.

The 1999-2000 athletic season is the 12th straight year the Big Sky Conference will sponsor championships in women's sports. Twelve years ago, the Big Sky Conference merged with the Mountain West Athletic Conference, forming one league for both men's and women's athletics. The Mountain West had been in existence since 1982, sponsoring championships for women's athletics at the same institutions the Big Sky had sponsored men's programs.

The Big Sky Conference member institutions are located in seven states spanning from the Pacific Ocean to the Rocky Mountains and from the Canadian to the Mexican borders. The entire west coast is now represented by the Big Sky with members in Washington, Oregon and California, and of the nine western-most states, only two (Hawaii and Nevada) do not contain Big Sky members. League members can be found in Arizona, California, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Utah and Washington.

The name BIG SKY originated in a novel written in 1947 by the late A.B. (Bud) Guthrie of Great Falls, Mont., entitled The Big Sky. Jack Hollowell, former Montana Advertising Director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State, and Harry Missildine of the Spokane Spokesman-Review called for the newly formed league to be named "The Big Sky Conference" in his column dated Feb. 20, 1963. Five days later, the name Big Sky was adopted by the newly-formed league's presidents.

On July 1, 1995, Doug Fullerton became the fifth commissioner and was given the reins to lead the league into the changing world of intercollegiate athletics. Heather Kennedy is in her fourth year as the league contact for women's basketball.

Adams Center

A $15-million dollar, two-year renovation has transformed The University of Montana's Harry Adams Field House and Dahlberg Arena into a sports and special events center, and the sparkling new Adams Center is now the home of the Montana Grizzlies and Lady Griz.

"We have become increasingly excited about the possibilities for serving the entire Missoula and Western Montana communities with our virtually new arena and associated facilities," said UM President George Dennison. "What we'll have will serve the athletic and cultural needs of the University while also serving the community."

Construction of the original Adams Field House began in 1952 and cost $955,000. The facility opened for the 1953-54 basketball season and was dedicated on December 18, 1953.

Based on advice from consultants, University leaders decided in 1995 to gut the 46-year-old Field House and turn it into an arena that would be an attractive, comfortable place for athletes, entertainers and spectators. Athletic Director Wayne Hogan was charged with completing the monumental task which took four years from conception to completion.

In early planning stages for the renovation, Hogan and his team of architects and engineers attempted to develop a plan such that the construction could be done in phases to avoid disrupting sports and other arena events. However, it was concluded that to do so would not be safe or cost effective.

The Field House was closed for good on July 14, 1998. The men's and women's basketball teams, in addition to the volleyball squad, called a number of different venues "home" last season.

Now re-opened as the Adams Center, the Missoula community will have its own multiuse facility to accommodate all types of various events, from athletic competitions, to conferences, trade shows, concerts, and lectures.

"The completion of the Adams Center and its myriad of athletic support facilities is vital for us as to remain competitive," said Hogan. "The athletics world is changing rapidly. Our opponents are racing to catch us. This commitment to growth and improvement clearly shows our desire for continued success."

The renovation includes a replacement of seating and services in Dahlberg Arena. Among the amenities are 5,500 theatre seats and 2,000 bleacher seats on the north end, plus 13 new restrooms and eight different service areas for food and beverage.

THE RHINEHART ATHLETIC TREATMENT CENTER HAS EXPANDED AS PART OF THE ADAMS CENTER RENOVATION.

The membership-only Grizzly Sky Club is a 4,000 square-foot lounge and club overlooking the arena floor, complete with restrooms, elevator access and upscale food and beverage services. The Sky Club will provide access to 250 fully-padded 22-inch theatre seats for members and their guests.

The Adams Center also houses a 7,000-square foot athletic performance center, new space for the Rhinehart Athletic Treatment Center, a new athletic equipment center, new locker rooms for women, and the Jacobson Academic Center for student-athletes.

In addition, the new West Auxiliary Gymnasium features a volleyball venue with seating for 1,300 and a practice facility for men's and women's basketball with a new maple wood surface. The East Auxiliary Gymnasium will serve as a practice facility for all 14 athletic programs at UM.

The final phase of the renovation will focus on the athletic department office complex, which will be expanded and improved. New arena management offices will be added.

The Adams Center meets all ADA guidelines in every area, including location of seating, restrooms, snack bars, elevators and other facilities.

A 7,000-SQUARE FOOT ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE CENTER IS NOW IN PLACE FOR GRIZ STUDENT-ATHLETES.

Dahlberg Arena

The Lady Griz have found tremendous success in the confines of Dahlberg Arena, which was named after the great George "Jiggs" Dahlberg, who was an athlete, a coach and an athletic director at The University of Montana.

Dahlberg earned six varsity letters at UM in football and basketball in the early 1920s. He was the Grizzly basketball coach for 22 years (1937-54) and then became athletic director (1954-70). Dahlberg passed away in September of 1993, just two weeks after he was inducted into the Grizzly Sports Hall of Fame. He will be remembered for his success at Montana and the Lady Griz basketball team continue to carry on that tradition. Over the last 20 years, the Lady Griz have posted a 283-22 record in Dahlberg Arena for a .928 winning percentage.
