The University of Montana volleyball program and sixth-year head coach Nikki Best both have a similar past: a long history of successful volleyball.

After joining the Mountain West Conference in 1982 and later the Big Sky Conference, the Grizzlies ran off a streak of top-three league finishes in 13 of the next 14 seasons, including Big Sky regular-season titles in 1991, '92 and '94. But after a stretch of just one winning season over the final five years of the 1990s, the program needed new direction.

Enter Best, who was hired as Montana's fourth coach in February 2000. Who better to move the Griz back to the top of the Big Sky Conference than a player who won nearly every individual award possible at storied Nebraska while leading the Huskers to a four-year mark of 106-20? Or a coach who won a league championship at South Dakota Tech in her first year of coaching? Or who returned to Nebraska to become the legendary Terry Pettit's top assistant and recruiter for four seasons that saw two trips to the national semifinals and a four-year mark of 116-19?

In her sixth season at UM, it still remains Best's goal to return Montana to a spot atop the league and surpass even the Griz's halcyon days of the 80s and early 90s.

In five years on the Montana bench, Best has compiled a record of 43-84, 17-55 in league play.

Injuries plagued the Grizzlies in 2000 and 2001. In 2000, Montana had a 12-6 overall record and a 4-1 Big Sky mark midway through the year, but season-ending injuries to two starters took a toll and the Griz finished with a 16-14 record. The season ended on a positive note as Montana made its 11th league tournament appearance in 13 years.

In 2001, the Grizzlies never fielded their preseason starting lineup. Three key players missed extensive parts of the season, while a fourth missed the entire year as Montana struggled to a 5-16 finish.

Despite the loss of Katy Kubista for 14 matches during the 2002 season, the Grizzlies made great strides on the court, although the results did not always appear in the win-loss column. Montana finished the year with a 7-18 record, with eight losses coming in five games.

The 2003 Griz showed flashes of the level of play Best envisions for Montana volleyball, including an early-season tournament title at Missouri-Kansas City and a 3-0 victory over Montana State in November, but inconsistent play resulted in a 7-19 overall mark.

In 2004, Montana overcame a 3-14 start to win five of its final eight matches. In the process, the Grizzlies played some of their best volleyball during Best's tenure, leading to the heightened expectations for the 2005 team.

A native of Lincoln, Neb., Best remained home to attend the University of Nebraska for four stand-out seasons. After graduating in 1994, Best was named the head coach at South Dakota School of Mines and Technology in 1994. She guided the Hardrockers to a two-year mark of 53-33, including a league title in 1994.

Best then returned to Nebraska as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator.

On the court, Best coaches the middle blockers and setters, positions she played in college, as well as oversees the entire offensive attack.

Best and her husband, Dave, were married on July 30, 1994. Their first child is due in November.

Q: What are Montana's goals this season?

A: I think our goals this year are very similar to what they've been in most seasons I've coached. These girls are very competitive, and they want to go for a championship. They truly want to compete with the very best teams in the conference.

We have a smaller goal of making the conference tournament, but I think if we limit ourselves to just making the tournament that does not do this group justice.

Q: What are the requirements for this team to meet those goals?

A: First and foremost we need to stay healthy. We have a lot of experience in each of the returning starters, and we have a lot of good talent in the incoming players, so finding the right combination and the right system is one thing, but keeping them healthy so that they are all able to contribute is to me the biggest requirement.

Q: How important was last season's late-season surge?

A: It was wonderful to experience as a group. It was very telling of what this group is capable of. The girls seemed to gain a step in confidence during that portion of the season. They competed hard, and under pressure they were executing. They really kind of grew into their own as a team. It sets them up to want that feeling again, and I think we'll find that feeling earlier in the season this year.

Dave and Nikki Best, who celebrated their 11th anniversary on July 30, are expecting their first child in November.

Q: How do you see the Big Sky Conference shaping up this year?

A: Unfortunately it's extremely strong as always. We play in a very tough league. Year in and year out the teams continue to get better, so although our group may make strides, everyone else is making strides as well.

My hope is that our group, with the maturity and the experience that we're returning, gives us an added step this year. I think you'll see a jump in our placement.

Q: What do you look for in a Montana recruit?

A: We're very choosy. We like to find the very best athlete we can, the very best student, who's a great fit for our program.

When we're out searching for the right recruit we're looking for physical talent as well as maturity in their personalities. We strive to bring in people that really want to better themselves in all areas of their lives.

Q: What do you use as Montana's selling points when recruiting?

A: Obviously the scenic beauty is unmatched. It's a beautiful place, the academics are outstanding and we feel that we are in one of the very best athletic departments in the northwest. Those are the three big selling points.

The fourth thing we sell is our family atmosphere. Coaching with my husband and with my best friend from college, I truly feel like we try to create a family here so that we can push hard and get down to business with volleyball but also care about each and every one of our players.

Q: What influence did Terry Pettit and the Nebraska program have on you as a future coach?

A: I owe a lot to Coach Pettit. He gave me an opportunity to play in a program that had experienced great success. Being chosen gave me a lot of confidence in my abilities to play the game of volleyball and also to understand how to win matches.

The second thing Terry did was offer me a coaching job. I feel very grateful for that opportunity as well. He put me in charge of recruiting and gave me every single resource I could ever need to be successful. All he told me was to go out and find a national championship team.

I think if I learned anything from that, it was not to put limitations on your staff or your players. Let them decide how good they are going to be. My hope is that I'm doing that for my program as well.

Nikki Best led Nebraska to a four-year record of 106-20. She was a three-time Big 8 All-Conference selection and the 1993 Big 8 Player of the Year.

Q: What part of coaching do you most enjoy?

A: My favorite part is when you've worked with somebody on something that they've struggled with, and then one day they come to practice or you see it in a match and it worked for them and they turn and they look at you and they smile because you know they got it and they know they got it. No one else in the room even had to know what it was, but they knew. To me that connection, that intimacy between a coach and a player, is pretty special.

Q: What can the Montana volleyball program become?

A: My hope is that it becomes a very consistent and stable program. When we came in (prior to the 2000 season) things were very unstable. My hope is that we as a staff present a consistent message so that the kids know first of all what they are getting into when they come here and then as they gain experience they can grow in confidence because they know what they are going to get as feedback.

We also want to be the top. We want to be the best in the Big Sky. There is no question. Year in and year out, that would be our ultimate goal.

Griz History

Dave Best

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH • SIXTH SEASON

Dave Best is in his sixth season on the Montana volleyball coaching staff. He has been coaching at the collegiate level since 1994.

Best's on-court coaching duties include working with the outside hitters and primary passers and serving as the team's defensive coordinator. Off the court Best works on marketing the program and directing the Grizzly volleyball camps.

Best began his collegiate coaching career in 1994 as an assistant coach at South Dakota Tech, guiding the Hardrockers to a two-year record of 53-33 and a league title.

He then spent three seasons at Nebraska as a volunteer coach from 1997 to 1999. During that time the Cornhuskers won two Big 12 championships and posted an overall mark of 86-15. Nebraska made a trip to the NCAA semifinals in 1998 and advanced to the NCAA tournament regional level three times.

Since arriving in Missoula, Best has started the Montana Volleyball Club, an organization dedicated to the continued training of coaches and players in western Montana, and the Missoula Juniors Volleyball Club.

Best has also added international coaching to his resume during his time at Montana. In the spring of 2001 and the spring of 2002

Best coached

U.S. teams in the Spring European Cup.

A native of Dodge, Neb., Best played club volleyball at Nebraska for three seasons. He earned a bachelor's degree in recreation administration (1994) as well as a masters degree in athletic administration (1999) with an emphasis in team psychology, both from Nebraska.

Allison Weston

ASSISTANT COACH • FOURTH SEASON

Allison Weston is in her fourth year on the Montana volleyball coaching staff. Weston, a former U.S. Olympic volleyball player, played collegiately at Nebraska where she was a two-year teammate of Nikki Best.

Weston's on-court duties include working with Montana's middle blockers while off the court she breaks down video and handles home events.

Weston is one of the premier players in NCAA and U.S. volleyball history. At Nebraska she opened her career by earning 1992 Big 8 Conference Newcomer of the Year honors. She closed her career being named the 1995 AVCA co-National Player of the Year after leading the Cornhuskers to a 32-1 record and the national title.

In between she was a three-time AVCA All-American, a two-time Big 8 Conference Player of the Year, a three-time All-Big 8 Conference selection and a two-time Big 8 Conference tournament MVP.

Also a success in the classroom, Weston was a two-time Academic All-American and a three-time Academic All-Big 8 Conference selection.

After earning a bachelor's degree in natural resources from Nebraska in 1997, Weston joined the U.S. National Team in May 1997. Named team captain in January 1999, Weston led the squad at the 2000 Olympics in Sydney, Australia, and helped the U.S. advance to the bronze medal match. In 2000, Weston left the national team and played professionally in Italy for one season.

Weston is a native of Papillion, Neb.

Kyle Erickson

ASSISTANT COACH • FIRST SEASON

Kyle Erickson is in his first year as a volunteer assistant coach with the Montana volleyball program. His primary responsibilities include on-floor coaching and playing during practice, home-match preparation and in-game statistic taking.

Erickson's previous coaching experience has been as an assistant at Loyola High in Missoula in 2004, as a coach for the Montana Volleyball Club for the past three years and as a clinician at the 2005 Montana summer volleyball camps.

Erickson, a Santa Barbara, Calif., native, is a 1999 graduate of Carpinteria (Calif.) High, where he played outside hitter for the 1999 Frontier League champions, earning first team all-league honors.

He continued his playing career at Santa Barbara City College as an outside hitter in 2000 and '01. Erickson helped guide the Vaqueros to the California state junior college final four both years.

Erickson is currently a senior anthropology major at Montana.

The 2005 Season

It seemed innocuous enough at the time, Montana's 3-1 win over Idaho State last October. After going winless through the first half of the Big Sky Conference schedule, the Grizzlies rallied from a 1-0 hole to come back for a 3-1 victory over the Bengals.

The win improved Montana to just 4-14 overall and 1-7 in league play, but it was the small step forward for her team that UM coach Nikki Best had been patiently waiting for. She knew her team was better than 4-14, it just needed a kick-start to get it rolling.

The win over Idaho State proved to be just the spark the Grizzlies needed.

The next night Montana again rallied for victory, coming back from a 2-1 deficit to beat Weber State in five games. It was the Grizzlies' first win streak of the year and their first back-to-back Big Sky Conference victories since 2000.

Momentum was gathering.

A 3-1 loss at Sacramento State followed, but UM represented itself well in defeat. For the season, the Hornets lost just five games total in 14 home matches, including only two in league play.

The positive steps continued at Northern Arizona two nights later, when Montana snapped a 27-match league road losing streak with a five-game victory over the Lumberjacks. UM had now won three of four.

In their final home matches of the season, the Grizzlies showcased their improved play for one of the largest home crowds in years. Against eventual BSC regular-season champion Eastern Washington, Montana fell in five games, a nail-biter that was watched by a season-high 1,009 fans.

Though its postseason-less fate was sealed with the loss to the Eagles, UM closed conference play with a 3-2 victory over Portland State, then followed that up with a four-game defeat of Gonzaga in the regular-season finale.

All told, the Grizzlies ended 2004 with five wins in their last eight matches.

The 2005 Grizzlies return a bulk of the roster that closed last year so successfully, which is why Best is so anxious for practice to begin.

"That stretch (of wins to close the 2004 season) was wonderful to experience as a group," Montana's sixth-year coach said a week prior to the opening of the 2005 season. "It was very telling of what this group is capable of. They really grew into their own as a team.

"It sets them up to want that feeling again, and I think we'll find that feeling earlier in the season this year."

At the heart of Best's expectations is a core of five returning starters, plus last season's full-time libero.

Among those returning starters will be junior outside hitter Claudia Houle, who was named the Big Sky's Top Newcomer in 2004 and voted second team All-BSC after leading Montana with 4.34 kills per game in her first year in a Griz uniform.

Houle, who had 10 matches last year in which she had at least 20 kills, will miss the first two weeks of practice as she wraps up a summer of competing for Canada B, the training squad for the Canadian national team. The Ste. Anne du Sault, Quebec, native will join Montana for the first time in Orono, Maine, site of UM's season-opening tournament.

"I believe Claudia is the best hitter in the conference," Best said without hesitation when asked about Houle. "She has a maturity in her play that is just a step above most of the other outside hitters in our conference."

Joining Houle in the starting lineup will be two seniors with 468 games played between them.

Setter Diana Thompson finished fifth in the league in assists in 2004 with 11.05 per game. The San Clemente, Calif., native ranks seventh all-time in career assists and with a comparable season in 2005 would move up to third on the UM career list.

"The thing I like most about Diana is that her decision-making under pressure is unbelievable," Best said. "That's when she's at her best. When the team needs her to step up, she does every time."

Middle blocker Audrey Jensen is a three-year letterwinner and two-year starter. The Minden, Neb., native led the team in blocks last year with 106 and was second in kills with 2.77 per game. She has a career hitting percentage of .261, which would rank third on the Montana career list (she is 250 attempts shy of having enough attacks to qualify).

"Audrey is probably one of our most experienced starters, and she is a winner," Best said. "She wants to win matches, and that helps to drive and push her. We'll count on her for a lot of leadership this year."

The other two returning starters are both 6-3 middle blockers.

Junior EvaLyn Whitehead saw a diminished role on the team late in the 2004 season due to injury, but the Hyrum, Utah, product still finished third on the team in blocks with 48 and fifth in kills with 120.

"I think this year EvaLyn is going to come into her own," Best said. "I feel strongly that she's ready to become a major player in the conference and that her progress will be the most drastic of the girls you'll see in our program this year."

Sophomore Jessica Petersen started her redshirt freshman season slowly in 2004, but came on strong late in the season. The Helena, Mont., native averaged nearly 10 kills and over four blocks per match over the final seven matches of the conference schedule.

"(Since joining the program), Jessica has developed into a very fine middle," Best said. "She has become confident in her ability, she works extremely hard and I think she's going to have a great year."

In addition to five returning starters, sophomore libero Jackie White is also back. The 5-7 Bellevue, Wash., native averaged a team-high 4.20 digs per game while playing in all 25 matches and all 100 games as a freshman.

"Last year Jackie stepped into a very important role in our program as the libero," Best said. "and she showed our team how to make great effort defensively. You need a libero who's tough as nails, and Jackie is just that."

Two letterwinners from 2004 return in senior outside hitter Ashley Gorham and junior setter Shelley Boyd.

Gorham, a Billings, Mont., native, played in 20 matches in 2004, averaging 0.66 kills and 1.45 digs per game. Boyd, a Missoula, Mont., native who will possibly redshirt in 2005 in order to compete for the starting setter position the following two seasons, played in 19 matches last fall, averaging 1.72 digs per game and totaling 12 service aces.

Montana lost just one player to graduation, Alice Myers. Opting not to return to the program in 2005 were Leah Wissing, who averaged 0.76 kills per game while seeing action in 14 matches in 2004, and Micaela Parker, who led the team with 28 service aces in 2004 and was third with 2.35 kills per game.

Seven newcomers dot the 15-player roster, including six freshmen and junior transfer Emily Sakis.

Sakis, from Palmer, Alaska, played her first two collegiate seasons at Northeastern (Colo.) Junior College. The middle hitter earned NJCAA second team All-America honors in 2004 after leading the Plainswomen to a 37-8 record, averaging 4.81 kills and 1.1 blocks per game while hitting .430.

Among the six freshmen, three come from the state of Montana. Jade Roskam is an outside hitter from Helena. Katie Swindall is a setter from Kalispell and Jessica Luckay is a defensive specialist from Bozeman.

Out-of-state freshmen include Shanele Means, a defensive specialist from Gillette, Wyo., Season Reynolds, an outside hitter from Citrus Heights, Calif., and Julie Faulk, a defensive specialist from Vancouver, Wash.

With a blend of experience and fresh faces, Best has high expectations in 2005.

"I think our goals this year are very similar to what they've been in most seasons I've coached," Best said. "These girls are very competitive, and they want to go for a championship. They truly want to compete with the very best teams in the conference. We have a smaller goal of making the conference tournament, but I think if we limit ourselves to just making the tournament, that does not do this group justice."

PSYCH./CREATIVE WRITING

Ashley was our first true Montana recruit. She's shown a lot of leadership in her career, unfortunately physically her body won't allow her to finish out her senior year. I feel fortunate to have had her in the program for three years. When I think of her I think of the pride she had in this program.

Cochs Best

2005: Will miss senior season due to injury.

2004 (junior season): Played in 20 matches, getting 10 starts ... finished with 38 kills (0.66 kpg) to rank eighth on the team ... also had 84 digs (1.45 dpg) to rank sixth ... had a season-high nine kills in five-game match with Northern Colorado (9/4) ... had at least three kills in seven matches ... finished with double-figure digs in three matches, with career-high 16 against Northern Arizona (10/1) ... had two blocks on two occasions and two service aces once.

2003 (sophomore season): Saw action in 16 matches, getting two starts ... averaged 0.92 kills and 0.74 digs per game ... totaled 13 blocks on the season, with three solo and 10 block assists ... had a career-high 10 kills against Weber State (9/25) ... finished with a season-high eight digs against No. 11 UCLA (9/6) ... had a career-high six blocks against Weber State (9/25).

2002 (freshman season): Appeared in 21 matches, starting 11 times ... tied for team lead with 0.19 service aces per game ... seventh on the team with 0.73 digs per game ... registered a season-high 16 attacks against Idaho State (10/5) ... had three blocks in a match three different times.

2001: Redshirt season.

High School: A three-year letterwinner at Billings Skyview High ... twice earned first team All-Eastern Conference honors ... named first team Class AA All-State as a senior after earning second team honors as a junior ... led SHS to a 22-4 record and a conference title with an undefeated league record as a senior ... a three-time academic all-state pick.

Personal: Born April 21, 1983 ... daughter of Buzz Gorham and Denise Gorham ... has a 3.43 GPA as a psychology and creative writing major.

The 2005-06 athletic season marks the 43rd year of the Big Sky Conference and although still youthful in the world of NCAA Division I athletic conferences the Big Sky has solidified itself as one of the strongest leagues in the West as well as the nation.

Established in 1963, the Big Sky Conference began with six charter members: Idaho, Idaho State, Gonzaga, Montana, Montana State and Weber State.

On July 1, 1970, the league experienced its first expansion, adding Boise State and Northern Arizona to the fold to create an eight-member league. On July 1, 1979, charter member Gonzaga left the league and was replaced by Nevada. In 1987, Eastern Washington was admitted to the league to create the first version of a nine-member Big Sky Conference. Nevada's departure in 1992 moved the league to eight members until July 1, 1996, when both Boise State and Idaho left the Big Sky, but the three additional institutions moved the league into a nine-member scenario for the second time. Cal State-Northridge entered the conference in 1996 and left it in the spring of 2001.

The Big Sky Conference sponsors championships in 15 sports, including men's and women's cross country, golf, basketball, tennis, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, in addition to football, women's volleyball and soccer. The Big Sky is an NCAA Division I member in all sports, with member institutions classified as I-AA in football.

The 2005-06 athletic season also marks the fourteenth year in which the Big Conference will sponsor championships in women's sports. Thirteen years ago the Big Sky Conference merged with the Mountain West Athletic Conference, forming one league for both men's and women's athletics. The Mountain West had been in existence since 1982, sponsoring championships for women's athletics at the same institutions the Big Sky had sponsored men's programs.

The name Big Sky originated in a novel written in 1947 by the late A.B. (Bud) Guthrie of Great Falls, Mont., entitled The Big Sky. Jack Hollowell, former Montana advertising director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State, and Harry Missildine of the Spokane (Wash.) Spokesman-Review called for the newly formed league to be named "The Big Sky Conference" in his column dated Feb. 20, 1963. Five days later, on Feb. 25, the name Big Sky was adopted by the six presidents of the newly formed league.

On July 1, 1995, Doug Fullerton became the fifth commissioner of the Big Sky Conference.

1991Dick Scott

Former Montana coach Dick Scott was named the Big Sky Conference Coach of the Year in 1991 and the AVCA Regional Coach of the Year in both 1991 and 1992. Scott's teams won 406 matches during his 21+ seasons, with the Grizzlies winning Big Sky regular-season championships in 1991 and 1992 and a league postseason title in 1991. Montana advanced to the NCAA tournament three times during Scott's tenure, 1990, '91 and '94.

The University of Montana

THIS IS UM

Hike a mountain...

The University of Montana is the only university in the U.S. that owns its own mountain. The trail to the "M" zigzags to 612 feet above campus and is popular with both students and non-students alike.

Follow in the footsteps of the Lewis & Clark expedition...

Captain Merriwether Lewis and a party of the famed Lewis & Clark expedition came through Missoula close to where the UM campus sits in 1806 on their return trip.

UM QUICK FACTS

- State's first college, chartered Feb. 17, 1893
- Fall 2004 enrollment of 13,558
 - 10,958 undergraduate students
 - 1,887 graduate students
 - 54% female; 46% male
 - 75% Montana, 25% out-of-state residents
- Eighteen club sports and more than 30 intramural sports
- One-hundred and fifty clubs dedicated to academics, volunteer service, diversity, recreation, Greek life, politics, religion and many other interests
- Street & Smith's magazine named UM seventh on its list of all-time best women's basketball programs in 2005

- The University of Montana -

The University of Montana provides a high-quality, well-rounded education to students and a wide range of services to Montanans. UM is a major source of research, continuing education, economic development, civic engagement, fine arts and entertainment, and serves as a driving force in strengthening Montana's ties with countries throughout the world.

UM's Missoula campus comprises the College of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate School, the Davidson Honors College and seven professional schools: business administration, education, fine arts, forestry and conservation, journalism, law, and pharmacy and allied health sciences. The University also has an excellent physical therapy department. The University of Montana also includes The University of Montana-Western in Dillon; Montana Tech in Butte; The University of Montana-Helena College of Technology; and The University of Montana College of Technology in Missoula.

UM owns and operates Lubrecht Experimental Forest, a 28,000-acre teaching and research forest 30 miles northeast of Missoula which provides the opportunity for students to learn tree thinning and harvesting techniques in addition to working on forest and ecological projects.

The Flathead Lake Biological Station, located at Yellow Bay on the east side of the lake, is a year-round research facility and academic center for the ecological sciences. The freshwater research laboratory encompasses 80 acres.

Located at the base of Mount Sentinel and on the banks of the Clark Fork River, the 200-acre campus of The University of Montana is one of the most beautiful in the nation and was named among the top "schools with the most beautiful campus in an urban setting" by Kaplan's "Unofficial, Unbiased Guide to the 328 Most Interesting Colleges" in 2004.

Campus life offers a variety of living choices for the UM student. Dormitory living provides nine halls with various options on campus: a men's dormitory, a women's dormitory, along with six co-ed dorms. Also, Pantzer Hall provides four-person suites and was completed in 1995. Family housing can be found just three blocks south of the main campus in University Villages. Multi-student apartments were completed for the 2004-05 school year and are located minutes from campus. Students interested in the Greek life have nine chapters from which to choose.

The University of Montana has a nine-hole golf course, located just south of campus. The Grizzly Pool is a seven-lane, 25-yard indoor swimming pool that features numerous classes and programs and has been recently upgraded. The Fitness and Recreation Center, adjacent to the Adams Center, has undergone a major renovation also. It provides the campus community with three levels of state-of-the-art exercise equipment, racquetball, handball and basketball courts, and a two-story glass-enclosed climbing wall.

KBGA-FM is UM's student-run radio station and features seven-day-a-week, 24-hour programming of contemporary and alternative music programs.

The Outdoor Program provides opportunities for the campus community to participate in recreational activities such as rafting, kayaking, climbing, hiking, backpacking and skiing.

- Missoula -

Birthplace and hometown of author Norman McLean, who wrote A River Runs Through It, Missoula is also known as the "Garden City" for its dense trees and lush green landscape. Missoula is nestled in the heart of the Northern Rockies in western Montana and is 3,210 feet above sea level. A community of approximately 66,000 residents, Missoula is located where five valleys converge. It is 140 miles from Glacier National Park and 270 miles from Yellowstone National Park.

The search for gold in the West and the completion of the Mullan Road, which opened up travel from the Missouri River to the state of Washington, brought people to the valley in 1860. Missoula began as a settlement called Hell Gate when C.P. Higgins and Francis Worden began a trading post to accommodate the travelers. The settlement was later renamed Missoula, taken from a Salish Flathead Indian word, lmisuletiku, "At the stream or water of surprise." (Missoula, the Way It Was, Lenora Koelbe, 1972).

The Lewis and Clark Expedition, the Corps of Discovery, passed through the Missoula area 200 years ago. There are many interpretive sites in the area, and bicentennial celebrations continue throughout the area.

Early settlers constructed Fort Missoula in 1877. Today the Fort Missoula Museum remains a testament to the West.

For many years Missoula's main industry was logging, sawmills and related activities. Because of its location on the Mullan Road, it also became a trading and commercial center, which it remains to this day. The U.S.D.A. forest service's northern regional headquarters is located in Missoula, and the Aerial Fire Depot Smokejumper Center is strategically located as the nation's largest training base for smokejumpers.

Missoula also serves as a center for education, health care, retail, and the arts. The University of Montana provides educational opportunities for more than 13,000 college students. Two major hospitals, along with many clinics, make Missoula one of the state's premier health care communities.

The Missoula community supports the arts in all its forms: theater productions, dance, art, and music. The Missoula Children's Theater, founded in 1970, is located close to campus and produces plays and musicals by national and local playwrights for both adults and children. The theater also takes theatrical productions to audiences outside the Missoula area. The Garden City Ballet and Missoula Symphony, which is in its 52nd season, bring performances and concerts to the community year round. The Art Museum of Missoula, located in downtown Missoula, sponsors changing exhibits and also has a permanent collection that focuses on Western contemporary art and is being renovated.

One of the most desirable places to live in the United States, western Montana has become an attractive residence for those looking for pristine beauty and serenity. Some of America's famous people, such as Liz Claiborne, Tom Cruise, Emilio Estevez, Phil Jackson, Huey Lewis, and Charlie Sheen, have made western Montana their home.

In 2004 Missoula was selected as the No. 1 small town in the nation by Men's Journal magazine.

"Out to Lunch" in Caras Park downtown attracts thousands of visitors on summer Wednesdays for food, entertainment and fun.

"A river runs through it," fly fishing on one of western Montana's many streams.

White water rafting, an exciting way to spend an afternoon.

Missoula Attractions and Activities...

- Favorite activities in western Montana include fly fishing, rafting, kayaking, and canoeing. Flathead Lake, the largest natural freshwater lake in the western United States, is close by.

- Hiking, biking, camping, rock climbing, and hang gliding are a few activities enjoyed in and close to Missoula. Many trails are within minutes of Missoula. Hiking in Glacier National Park is also popular.

- Other area attractions include "A Carousel for Missoula" (one of the first fully hand-carved carousels to be built in America since the 1930s), Garnet Ghost Town, the National Bison Range, and the Smokejumper Visitor Center.

- Missoula Parks and Recreation and the YMCA provide a variety of recreational opportunities in basketball, soccer, softball, tennis, and volleyball. The Missoula Osprey professional baseball team is an affiliation of the Arizona Diamondbacks and play their home games in a new downtown stadium easily accessible to UM.

Missoula is easily accessible by either Interstate 90 from the east and west or by Highway 93 to the north and south. Missoula International Airport has a number of flights daily in and out by the major airlines Northwest, United, and Horizon, along with Big Sky Airlines, Sky West and Allegiant Air.

- Named among the top "schools that attract high school class presidents" by Kaplan's "Unofficial, Unbiased Guide to the 328 Most Interesting Colleges" in 2004

- Montana Academics -

The University of Montana has had 28 Rhodes Scholars and ranks 15th among American colleges and universities in the number of Rhodes Scholars it has produced, fifth among public universities.

School of Education graduates compete very successfully for jobs. Those with bachelor's and graduate degrees find teaching, administrative and other education-related positions in Montana and many other states.

KUFM, a non-commercial public radio station operated by the UM Broadcast Media Center, reaches an estimated 400,000 Montanans in central and western Montana. KUFM-TV is a non-commercial public television station also operated by the Broadcast Media Center. It is the western partner in the Montana Public Television network that serves more than 106,000 Montana households.

Ten UM students have received Truman Scholarships. The national scholarship is given annually to students committed to a government career who have superior academic ability and leadership potential.

The Department of Anthropology has the largest collection of artifacts and records of prehistory in the region, while UM's Montana Museum of Art and Culture has the largest art collection in the state.

The School of Business is the only business school in Montana to be accredited at the graduate level by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business. Year in and year out, a high percentage of the school's accounting graduates pass the Certified Public Accountant Exam on their first try.

The Department of Geology has a strong nationally known program in traditional geology and environmental geoscience.

The Department of Geography has one of the Northwest's best cartography laboratories where students learn to make maps and interpret aerial photography.

The Flathead Lake Biological Station, located about 80 miles north of Missoula, is the oldest biological station west of the Mississippi. The UM research station is one of the finest facilities in the country for ecological studies and freshwater research.

The Department of Health and Human Performance is one of a handful in the country that prepares students to be athletic trainers.

The School of Journalism has had eight Pulitzer Prize winners. The school ranked seventh overall in the national 2003 Intercollegiate Hearst Journalism Competition.

UM's graduate creative writing program, started in 1919 by H.G. Merriam, is the second oldest program of its kind in the country and is consistently ranked among the top-10 programs nationwide.

UM'S ATHLETES

A significant sign of UM's commitment to athletes' academic pursuits was initiated in 1993 when former faculty athletic representative Dr. Robert O. Lindsay developed a program at UM to honor student-athletes who excel in the classroom. Since then, UM has recognized student-athletes who earn a 3.0 grade point average or higher at the annual Lindsay Academic Awards Dinner.

- Montana Academics -

Last year 153 student-athletes were recognized at the 13th Annual Dr. Robert O. Lindsay Academic Awards Banquet. Of the 153 athletes honored at the banquet, 64 of them maintained a GPA of 3.50 or above, and 10 had a perfect 4.0.

Last season the President's Award, which is given annually to the most outstanding student-athletes at Montana, was presented to Greg Burfeind, track and field, and to Krista Swanson, golf. Both student-athletes had a perfect 4.0 GPA, Greg in sociology and Krista in elementary education. Swanson also was awarded the Elaine Murray Award from the Copper Connection for academic excellence.

The Athletic Director's Award, presented every year to the Griz athletic team(s) with the highest overall grade point average, was earned by the women's cross country and golf teams with a 3.32 average GPA.

In the 2004-05 season, there were four Academic All-District VII selections, all from football: Jefferson Heidelberger, first team; Dustin Dlouhy, Matt Lebsock, Craig Ochs, all second team selections.

The 2004 six-year graduation rate at UM for student-athletes was 70% compared to the general student population at 45%.

JACOBSON ACADEMIC CENTER

A welcome addition to academic services for student athletes is the Jacobson Academic Center. Thanks to the generous contributions of Curt and Lanni Jacobson, student-athletes now have a computer lab/study room to use during the day.

The Jacobson Academic Center has 10 computers and a laser printer. A small conference room is available for group studying.

The Jacobson Academic Center is a key component in the success of Grizzly student-athletes in the classroom. In addition to student-athletes independently using the Jacobson Academic Center, Athletic Academic Services uses the facility for several of its programs.

Under the guidance of coordinator Laura Hickey, Athletic Academic Services offers tutoring and advising at the center.

The Jacobson Academic Center is located on the Adams Center's ground floor, down the hall from the Athletic Performance Center.

ADAMS CENTER

- The renovated Adams Center, hub of The University of Montana Intercollegiate Athletic Department, features two auxiliary gyms, remodeled Dahlberg Arena, new weight center, athletic treatment center, locker rooms, academic center and the John Hoyt Athletic Complex, which houses the athletic staff.

RHINEHART ATHLETIC TRAINING CENTER

- The Rhinehart Athletic Training Center (RATC) boasts 7,200 square feet of space and includes an enlarged rehabilitation area. The primary goal of the athletic training staff is to provide quality care for student-athletes while helping them safely return to competition. The RATC provides numerous ways to treat injuries: electrical stimulation units, whirlpools, free weights and balance boards.

ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE CENTER

- As part of the renovation to the Adams Center, a 7,000-square foot Athletic Performance Center was created. The new center, which is home to the Griz student-athletes, is geared to enhance the overall athletic performance of the teams.

CAMPUS FITNESS AND RECREATION CENTER

CAMPUS FITNESS AND RECREATION CENTER

- UM's state-of-the-art Campus Fitness and Recreation Center opened in 2002 and is located next door to the Adams Center. The 79,000 square foot facility features free weights, cardiovascular machines, fitness classes, indoor running track, climbing wall with a 50' climbing column, basketball, volleyball and racquetball courts, equipment rentals, sauna and a juice and snack bar.

- The Athletic Performance Center is as sport specific as possible, and the program is scientifically based and intended to increase one's athleticism, as well as decrease an athlete's susceptibility to injury.

- UM Athletic Facilities -

WASHINGTON GRIZZLY STADIUM • JOHN HOYT FIELD

- The Washington Grizzly football stadium underwent an expansion prior to the 2003 football season and now accommodates 23,183 fans. A SprinTurf field was added in 2001, while a 26'x36' screen and message center, "Griz Vision," was added in 2002.

DORNBLASER FIELD

- The track & field venue also saw a recent upgrade with refurbished lanes and new seating for fans.

DAHLBERG ARENA

- Dahlberg Arena underwent a remodel with over 6,000 theater-style seats, with a capacity of 7,321, replacing bleachers. A center electronic scoreboard was added for the 2003-04 season.

WAG (WEST AUXILIARY GYM)

- The WAG was added as part of the Adams Center renovation. It houses the volleyball team and can hold 1,218 fans. The EAG, East Auxiliary Gym (not pictured) was also added as a practice gym for indoor track & field, soccer and tennis.

SOUTH CAMPUS SOCCER STADIUM

- The South Campus Soccer Stadium was completed in 1996 and features a fully-fenced venue, scoreboard, locker rooms and seating for 1,000 fans.

UM GOLF COURSE

- 9-hole golf course in a beautiful setting close to campus.

ROBERT O. LINDSAY TENNIS CENTER

- Located south of the Adams Center and near the University Center, the Lindsay Tennis Center includes nine courts.

President George M. Dennison

George Dennison, the 16th president of The University of Montana, begins his 16th year at the University. Dennison came to UM from Western Michigan University where he served as the provost and vice president for academic affairs from 1987 to 1990. He spent time at the Universities of Arkansas and Washington before working 18 years at Colorado State, where he served as acting academic vice president, associate academic vice president and director of admissions and records, among other positions.

Dennison received his bachelor's degree from UM in 1962 and his master's degree, also from UM, in 1963 and earned a Ph.D. in history from Washington in 1967.

Dennison serves on a number of boards. He chairs the Montana Commission on Community Service and serves on the Board of the International Heart Institute Foundation of Montana, the Community Medical Center Advisory Committee, the Montana Campus Compact Executive Committee, the Board of Directors of the International Student Exchange Program, the Neuroscience Institute, and the Maureen and Mike Mansfield Foundation. He has been the longest acting president in the history of UM.

George and his wife Jane have two sons, Rick and Robert. The Dennisons have four grandchildren.

Jim O'Day, Athletic Director

Jim O'Day became The University of Montana's athletic director in June 2005. He was most recently the athletic department's director of development for five years and prior to that the assistant director of the Grizzly Athletic Association for two years. As director of development, he was responsible for major gift development as it pertained to UM athletics and The University of Montana Foundation.

The concept of the National Advisory Board for Grizzly Athletics (NABGA) was developed during O'Day's tenure as director of development. Since its inception, NABGA has been instrumental in establishing the Grizzly Sports Hall of Champions, the north end zone expansion project in Washington-Grizzly Stadium, and spear-heading numerous other fund-raising efforts for UM athletics.

Prior to returning to his alma mater in 1998, O'Day was the owner and publisher of the family-owned Western Breeze newspaper in Cut Bank, Montana, for 10 years. During the period from 1982-87, he was a reporter and editor of the twice-weekly publication. From 1980-82 he was the sports editor of the Daily Interlake newspaper in Kalispell, Montana.

O'Day was a charter member of the Cut Bank Education Foundation and Alumni Association. He was Cut Bank's Citizen of the Year in 1992. He organized the Golden Triangle Chapter of the GAA in 1992 and served as president until his appointment at UM. He was the 1991 recipient of The University of Montana Service Award.

A 1980 Montana graduate, O'Day received a bachelor of arts degree in journalism.

Jim and his wife Kathy have three sons: Chris, Kevin and Brian.

Editor's note: Montana's basketball, football, and track hall of fames have all been replaced with the Grizzly Athletic Hall of Fame, inaugurated in the fall of 1993.

- Montana Tradition -

UM MASCOT - MONTE

From a real bear in the 1940s to national mascot of the year in 2002 and 2004, the Montana Grizzlies have had this namesake since 1912 when a Salt Lake City sportswriter called the Montana football team the "Grizzlies" when they played a Utah team.

UM teams were called "Grizzlies," "Bruins" or "Bears" until the 1920s when the name "Grizzly" stuck. They were sometimes referred to as the "Silvertips" all the way through the 1970s.

Although the Grizzly mascot's features might have changed over the years, the Grizzlies still remain a sporting powerhouse throughout the state.

FIGHT SONG - UP WITH MONTANA

The UM fight song "Up with Montana" was written by Richard Howell of the UM law school in 1914. In 2002 the New York Times singled out UM's fight song in an article about humorous college fight songs, saying, "At (UM), fans expect their team to devour its enemies while still alive."

Up With Montana...

"Up with Montana, boys, down with the foe, Old Montana's up for a victory; She'll shoot her backs around the foe men's line; A hot time is coming now, oh, brother mine. Up with Montana, boys, down with the foe, Good old Grizzly'll triumph today; And the squeal of the pig will float on the air, From the tummy of the Grizzly Bear."
