Joseph K. Toole.

The second person to receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from the faculty of the State University of Montana, former Governor Joseph K. Toole, died at Helena on March 11. For his work as a statesman Governor Toole was given the LL.D. degree in 1902.

Joseph K. Toole was active in the pioneer days of the state of Montana and figures prominently in its early history. He became the first governor after the state was admitted to the Union. He had served in the territorial legislature and was delegate to the forty-ninth and fiftieth Congresses. He was elected to the governorship in the election of 1889 and left the office in 1893. After a lapse of seven years he was again elected governor for two terms.

Governor Toole's services in behalf of the newly established University won him the gratitude of those interested in the welfare of the state.

Two Measures for University Support to Be Submitted to Voters in 1930

Owing to the growth of the University a budget for the State University calling for an increase of approximately $100,000 a year was requested of the last legislature for the coming biennium. The total increase requested for the entire University of Montana, which includes the State College at Bozeman, the State School of Mines at Butte, the State Normal College at Dillon, the State Normal School at Billings and the Agricultural Experiment Stations and Extension Service, was approximately $300,000 a year. These requests received the approval of the State Board of Education and, provided the state's revenues were increased, of the Board of Examiners.

Various revenue measures were proposed, principally those (1) leading toward a change in the present classification law so far as state taxes were concerned, (2) a tax upon cigarettes and (3) a measure increasing the levy by $\frac{1}{2}$ a mill, which is possibly permissible under the constitution and initiative measure No. 18. Although all of these measures passed the House, they were defeated in the Senate so that the revenues for the next biennium, although slightly more than during the past biennium were not increased sufficiently to permit the appropriation asked for the University. The actual appropriations for the University were slightly larger than during the last biennium. However, the actual appropriation per student, provided the increase in students during the next biennium is the same as that during the past biennium, will be less. In 1921-22 the state appropriation per student to the State University was \$298 and during the next biennium it will be approximately \$216.

The State University received $6300 more for each year of the coming biennium, and a special appropriation of $11,500 for urgently needed repairs and replacements in the physical plant; the entire University of Montana received $63,000 a year more for each year of the coming biennium. These figures do not, however, include the amount appropriated for the school to be established at Havre.

However, a referendum measure proposing to increase the constitutional rate of taxation by three mills was passed by the legislature and was signed by the governor; this measure will be submitted to the people at the general election of 1930 and must be passed by them before it becomes effective. It is directed in this measure that the money derived from this three-mill tax shall be used by all of the institutions of the University of Montana including the Agricultural Experiment Stations and the Extension Service. In addition, the University will be affected with the other state institutions by a bond measure of $3,000,000 for building and other permanent improvements for all the state institutions which was passed by the legislature and signed by the governor; this also was a referendum measure and is to be submitted to the people in the election of 1930.

In 1930 the present $1\frac{1}{2}$ mill tax in support of the four teaching institutions, which comprised the University of Montana in 1920, expires so that some method of financing will have to be devised and it is hoped that this will be accomplished by the passage of the three-mill tax and the bond issue. At the present time, the appropriation for maintenance for all the institutions including the new school at Havre is about $2\frac{1}{2}$ mills of the present taxable valuation so that the three-mill measure would only increase the present appropriation by approximately $\frac{1}{2}$ a mill or \$215,000 for the entire University of Montana.

The general attitude toward the University in the legislature was favorable although false rumors spread when they might easily have been refuted by almost anyone having slight acquaintance with the institution.

MONTANA ALUMNI PROMINENT IN STATE EDUCATION

Among the alumni of the State University who are holding prominent positions in the field of Montana education are Miss Elizabeth Ireland, '20, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; O. D. Speer, '16, President of the Montana Education Association, and Merle C. Gallagher, '18, newly-appointed principal of the Great Falls high school. Miss Ireland took her degree in History, Mr. Speer in Mathematics, and Mr. Gallagher in Chemistry.

MONTANA SCHOOL OF RELIGION SEEKS ENDOWMENT

For many years the State University of Montana has been the scene of an interesting experiment in public higher education. Because of constitutional provisions prohibiting religious instruction supported by state funds, no religious instruction is offered in state universities, but at Montana there has been organized a School of Religion, affiliated with the University, deriving its support from private resources. The Montana School of Religion has attracted wide attention, and similar projects have been started.

To raise money for the continuance of this project on the Montana campus an endowment is sought, and committees in various cities in the state are cooperating with the School of Religion.

Though not an organic part of the State University, since the state constitution prohibits the use of public monies in the interest of any religious enterprise, the Montana School of Religion was organized and incorporated in 1924 by a joint committee representing the State University and the Missoula Ministerial Association. It is a private institution dependent for its support upon the voluntary contributions of interested friends.

The school is non-sectarian and interdenominational.

Mr. William L. Young became the first instructor and director in the School of Religion when it was opened in 1924, and he now devotes all of his time to the work of the school. Courses are offered in History of Religions, History of the Hebrews, Beginnings of Christianity, Essentials of Religion, Christian Ethics, Social Message of the Bible, Science and Religion, Philosophy and Religion, and The Bible—Its Origin, Growth and Value.

W. L. Young, Director of the Montana School of Religion.

Plans Made for Entertainment of Alumni at the Annual Commencement, June 7-10

The faculty and student committees on commencement have been in action for some time preparing in detail for the annual June commencement. Approximately 230 students will receive degrees at the exercises June 10, at 2 p. m. in the Men's Gymnasium. The exercises will be the same as in recent years, and the program for commencement week will be the same as heretofore.

The commencement festivities begin on Friday, June 7, with the annual May Fete on the oval and the recital by the students of the School of Music in the University auditorium. Saturday, June 8, is Class Day. There will be an Alumni-Senior buffet supper in the Corbin hall dining room for seniors, alumni, and faculty. The supper will be followed by a Singing on the Steps and then a band concert on the oval. At 9:30 the Associated Women Students' lantern parade will take place, which will be followed by the Class Day exercises in the Gymnasium. The exercises will include a program by the graduating class and the presenting of athletic and band awards.

The Baccalaureate service will be held in the Men's Gymnasium Sunday, June 9, and President Charles H. Clapp will deliver the address. The University Women's Glee Club and the University Symphony Orchestra will furnish the music.

Commencement Day is June 10. The annual business meeting of the Alumni Association will take place at 10 a. m., at which time the ballots in the Alumni Association elections will be counted and the results announced. The commencement exercises will begin at 2 p.

m. in the Men's Gymnasium, which will be decorated with the banners of previous classes and a special platform will be constructed. The speaker will be Dr. Henry Neumann of New York City, leader of the Brooklyn Society for Ethical Culture. After the exercises the President's Reception for Alumni will be held on the lawn.

Preparations are being made to care for alumni who visit the campus during the commencement, and there will be a special reserved seat section for alumni at the exercises. Tickets for the reserved section may be obtained at the President's office up to noon of Commencement Day.

The Impressions of a Professor of Theology at the Montana Summer Session

NOTE: Dr. James H. Snowden, Professor of Systematic Theology in the Western Theological Seminary and Editor of the Presbyterian Banner, spent six weeks as an instructor in the Montana School of Religion at the 1928 summer session. The following is a reprint of part of his remarks in "The Presbyterian Banner" regarding his visit to the State University of Montana.

It was hot in Chicago and dreadfully hot in St. Paul, but after leaving there it grew cool and no hot or unpleasant weather was experienced in Montana while the east was said to be roasting and blistering in a hot wave.

Montana is a great state, almost as big as Texas, an empire in itself, about 400 miles along each of its sides. Its eastern two-thirds is a great plateau, but in its western third it crumples up into the Rocky Mountains which are piled up and scattered around in the most tortuous and inextricable confusion.

The Chicago & Milwaukee railroad is one of the scenic routes over the Rockies and there is plenty to keep one awake and at times excited as he is whirled through gorges and tunnels and over passes. Crossing "the divide," which is the backbone of the mountain system and often for long distances presents an impassable barrier, is always an adventure, and having passed it the train emerged out of a gorge into Missoula, "the Garden City" of Montana and one of the most attractive in the state. Like Jerusalem it is verily beautiful for situation with mountains around about it, only the mountains are immensely bigger, broader-based and higher-topped, at points rising into peaks capped with eternal snow. A short range of these mountains would bury Palestine under rock a mile deep, fill up the Jordan gorge and crowd the Mediterranean out of its bed.

One of these mountains slopes right up off the University campus with a path weaving its way back and forth across its breast up which one can climb. The height is altogether deceiving and it takes much breath and brawn to make the ascent, but we did not let such little things keep us from climbing the slope and standing on a glorious height and seeing a far-flung splendid scene.

The town is situated on a large green oval, miles in diameter, and through it rushes the Hellgate river, a name you can mention as often as you please out here without profanity provided you do not omit the last syllable. Four deep gorges or canyons converge to this center and pour their waters into this river and send it on to its destination in the Columbia and Pacific. The streams come down from the melting snows in the mountains and all these lakes and rivers are crystal-clear and ice-cold.

We played truant under proper permission two days from the University to make a run up to Glacier Park in the northern part of the state. It was an automobile ride altogether of four hundred miles with plenty of grand scenery. Glacier is one of our national Aber Day, the annual clean-up day, was held April 24. As is usual, students were assigned to specific clean-up crews and the crews assigned to the various parts of the campus. The grass was raked, roads scraped, dirt hauled, weeds burnt, lamp posts painted, and a hundred other things done to make the campus more presentable. All students were required to be on the campus at eight o'clock, and those who were not were punished by the men's and women's police. All had lunch on the lawn at noon and work resumed at one in the afternoon. The band played throughout the day on the various parts of the campus. At four in the afternoon court was held to punish slackers, and the activities of the day were concluded with a dance in the gymnasium during the evening.

The Twenty-Sixth Annual Interscholastic attracted the host of high school students who invaded the campus on May 8, 9, and 10. Great Falls high school emerged the winner with 29½ points. Butte public high school with 21 points was second.

The Annual Aber Oratorical Contest was won by Robert Young who spoke on "The Great Illusion." Robert Williams, who was the winner last year, took second place.

Last work of Dr. Kirkwood, who died while in the service of the state at the University Biological Station last summer, a volume entitled "Trees and Shrubs of the Northern Rocky Mountains," is being printed by the Leland Stanford University Press.

Golf on the Garden City Golf Course, purchased last year by the Alumni Challenge Athletic Field Corporation, is becoming increasingly popular with University students. Instruction is offered and students are allowed Physical Education credit for the work. Two students were sent to the Pacific Coast Conference golf tournament at Seattle to represent the State University.

The Associated Students elections held on Aber Day resulted in the election of Gordon Rognlien of Kalispell as president, George Schotte of Helena as manager, and Harold Joyce of Butte as Kaimin editor.

Fraternity scholarship statistics show Alpha Phi leading the women's houses and Alpha Tau Omega leading the men's houses in scholarship for the winter quarter.

Associated Women Students elections resulted in the selection of Hazel Mumm of Missoula as president.

Freshman-Sophomore annual tug-of-war resulted in victory for the freshmen so that they are not required to wear the traditional green caps during the rest of the year.

"The White Headed Boy" by Lennox Robinson was the annual spring production of the Montana Masquers held in the Little Theater May 3 and 4.

Seven new alumni were added to the growing body of Montana graduates at the end of the winter quarter, 1929, when the degree of Bachelor of Arts was conferred upon the following: Edna A. Kuhl in Chemistry, Kinga E. Gayeski in Economics and Sociology, Sadie Rae Jackson and Raymond E. Olson in Education, Georgiana A. Roseman in French, Mary M. Dobrovolny in Latin and Rex T. Blom in Business Administration.

Seven faculty members were granted leave of absence for the coming year so that they may devote the time to further study and research in their respective fields. Those who are to be on leave are Mrs. Louise Arnoldson, foreign languages; Edmund L. Freeman, English; Miss Anne Platt, home economics; F. O. Smith, psychology; Mrs. Harriet R. Sedman, Dean of Women; Calvin Crumbaker, economics, and Brassil Fitzgerald, English.

Nominations for the Alumni Association offices were made at a meeting of the Executive Board of the Alumni Association on May 14, 1929. Ballots have been mailed to all alumni. For president, Maurice Dietrich, '18, a banker at Deer Lodge, Montana, and Guy Sheridan, '02, a research engineer at Butte, Montana, were nominated. For vice-president, Oakley Coffee, a druggist at Missoula, and Ted Jacobs, '25, banker of Missoula, were nominated. For three-year delegate, Wallace Brennan, '25, and Mrs. Fanny Hatheway Lucy, '08, were nominated. For one-year delegates, Merle Gallagher, '18, Gertrude Clark, '21, Margaret Sterling, '27, Burt Smith, '27, Mrs. Fay Murray Gillie, '06, and Carl Dragstedt, '23, were nominated.

Special Track Meet Arch at Entrance to Campus.

Dornblaser Field Alive With Spring Athletics

By Clarence J. Powell

Although track has held the lime-light in major sports at Montana this season, an unusual degree of sport activity has been in full swing on Dornblaser field since the beginning of this quarter. Major Milburn has been giving his prospective 1929 football squad a hard workout every afternoon for the past six weeks, preparatory for a heavy schedule next fall. Prospects are looking good, despite the loss of eight valuable lettermen.

Intra-mural sports have come into popularity this season, especially is this true in baseball. The interclass round robin series closed with the seniors taking the championship from the juniors by a close score. Inter-school baseball started immediately following Inter-scholastic week. The juniors won the interclass track meet by a substantial lead in points.

The Grizzly track squad has been seriously handicapped by inclement weather. But despite the handicap, most of the Grizzly veterans have been turning in good time in both the sprints and distance runs.

In the annual relay carnival with the schools in the Northern division of the Pacific Coast Conference at Seattle Montana placed second in the medley race and took third in the 880.

The Grizzlies won the Montana Inter-collegiate meet despite the fact that they were without the services of seven members of the team. The results of the meet were: University 81, State College 46, Mt. St. Charles 4, Intermountain 2, and School of Mines and Dillon Normal 1 each.

With the experience gained in these meets and a good break in the weather the Montana Grizzly squad is expected to duplicate past seasons' performances.

parks and is one of the show places of the country as it is a vast unbroken wilderness with glacial lakes and rivers and towering, snow-capped mountains. It falls into two parts with "the divide" running up through its middle which cannot yet be crossed, but a road is being cut along the mountain slope and winding far up and will run over so that in time the whole park will be available from the entrances at either side. One of the sights was to see mountain streams come foaming down the slopes and flashing in the sunlight, bedecking them with silver ribbons and coming out at the base as roaring rivers.

Only a few words can be added as to this young but vigorous and promising University. It has a magnificent campus and eight or ten modern buildings (nineteen buildings including twelve for instructional purposes), its property mounting up to several million dollars.

Class Secretary, Mrs. Charles Abbott, (Inez Morehouse) 205 Woodford St., Missoula, Montana.

From E. R. Sanford we have the following: "Strictly, I am not a real member of the 1918 class, since I did my University work while teaching at the County High School and summer sessions, and I did not finish my work until August 1918, some time after the others had finished and gone.

In 1921 I entered the department of Business Administration as an instructor in accounting which "job" I have held down since.

In 1924-25, I took a leave of absence in order to do advance study at the University of California, at the same time acting as a teaching fellow in accounting. There I made my M. A. and C. P. A. in one year filling out the Summer Session at Stanford University, teaching accounting.

Returned to the University of Montana in the fall of 1925 where I have been since. Scouted about a good deal for a suitable text book for our beginning accounting and failing to find what we wanted concluded to prepare something myself. We are at present using mimeographed copies of this material for the first year of work in accounting with, we think, better results than we had heretofore been able to secure.

The above contains the principal "low down" on my after-graduation."

"Sandy" Sanderson, ex-'18, is located on the west side of Nicaragua with the United States Marine corps. His fellow officers credit him with being one of the most skillful pilots living.

Ferd S. Wolpert writes from St. Louis as follows:

Dear Mrs. Abbott—Your recent appeal for news of the Class of 1918 does not find me with much news. This is my seventh year at this institution, a private junior college. I hold down the chair of Botany and find that it is a real job.

I have an antiquated Essex, and hope to go back to Montana this summer. A good deal of the time spent there will be near Judith Gap enjoying a summer's experience on a ranch.

I have three children—9, 6 and 3. The middle one is a boy who loves football; the other two are girls.

Living in this distant land, I have not any direct news of any Montana people. Most sincere wishes to the class.

Ferd S. Wolpert.

There is another "U" student living here in Plains now, Albert Cramer, from the forestry department. He did not quite finish ex-'23, I think. He and family came to Plains last fall. He is the new forest ranger stationed here. He has three boys, ages, 6, 5, and 3, Albert, Bobby and Johnnie."

Flora McLaughlin has resigned from her position in the Tacoma General Hospital and is now doing special dietetic work in Santa Barbara, California, where her address is 20 San Ysidro Road. C. J. Moore writes from 3860 34th St., S. W., Seattle, Washington "Still with Bartell Drug Company serving as manager of No. 6 store. Still single and with no prospects of being otherwise. Glad to see any Alumni when they are in Seattle. Just drop in Bartell No. 6, 631 Pine St.

Samuel S. Maclay is taking some work at the University. He says, in part, "I am finishing some work that I did not take before I graduated. I find conditions much the same as they were in my undergraduate days. Competition is somewhat keener and the standard of achievement a little higher. It takes more effort to stay in school now than it did ten years ago.

In Seattle, about the first of the year, I saw Helen Adams, '25, and Isobell Skelton, '24 as well as Herb Onstad. They are all busy and happy. I talked to Evan Reely, ex-'24 by phone, but did not see him. He was departing for California next day to recover from a hard case of "flu". In Tacoma I saw Edna Russell, ex-'24. She is a nurse in the Mountain View Sanitarium."

From Nona Hyde we have the following: "News is rather scarce as we are beginning the last hectic six weeks of school. Between sponsoring a most lively Sophomore class, helping Mother clean house and playing "John" in the "Man in the Bowler Hat", my life has been one mad rush. I had a letter from Neva Rutledge Jacobsen ex-'22 saying she was leaving March 29 to join her husband who is in Australia and that she was looking forward to a most exciting trip."

Kathyn Broadwater sent in the following news from Long Beach: "I have spent the winter in Long Beach with my parents. We will motor up to Montana in May going via Grand Canyon, National Park, and Denver.

I spent a week with Beatrice Deschamps in Oakland this spring. We had a great time recalling old times at the U in 1918-19. "T" teaches kindergarten in the Oakland schools. I visited her classes and think she is a splendid teacher.

Mrs. M. E. Rhoades (Ann Skylstead) and I have had some splendid times together this past winter. She has a lovely new home here in Long Beach.

Ann Wilson will spend two months in Havre this summer. Her work is with the Community Chest in San Francisco. She lives there among the Italians and French on Telegraph Hill.

I had luncheon with Mrs. Clyde Murphy (Katherine Donohue, ex-'19) in San Francisco one day. Clyde's business takes him north rather often and "Tubbs" accompanies him. I expect to see her again in Los Angeles.

We like California so very much and have spent most of our time this winter motoring in this state. Montana will look pretty good to me as that is always Home.

Please send my Alumnus to Havre, Montana, after this as that will be my permanent address. Good luck to the Alumnus. I always enjoy reading it."

Carl Wellman writes of himself and two other pharmacists, one of whom, Walter Clark, was on the "lost" list. He says that he is still running his drug store in "The Market" at Salem; Jay H. Allison is still operating "The Drug Shop" at Tenino, Washington; and Walter Clark is dispensing pills at one of the Bartell Drug stores in Seattle.

Mildred Himes Grawe writes from Kalispell where she is on the high school faculty, "Just returned from the Inland Empire Education Association held in Spokane, last week. At the Montana breakfast had a short visit with Anne Reely, '20, Dramatic Director at Lewis and Clark, and Violet Flannigan '24, in the Commercial Department at Cheyenne, Idaho.

Payne Templeton, '16, Principal of Flathead County high school was elected chairman of the Retirement Fund Committee, also Secretary for Vocational Guidance for the Inland Empire Education Association.

Olive McKay, '24, is teaching in Teaneck, New Jersey, and also attending Columbia University."

Robert MacHatton writes that he has been with the Red Cross since last September, at first writing publicity for the annual Roll Call, and now as assistant editor of the Red Cross Courier. His address is now 412 Warwick Place, Somerset, Chevy Chase, Maryland.

Florence Klammer arrived in San Francisco from Hawaii on April 17, going on to Chicago the next day, to visit with her mother and sister, Mrs. Myrtle K. McGowan, '26, at 902 Grace Street of that city. Florence will represent the Library Association of Hawaii, and is also a delegate of the Hawaii Public Library, at the meeting of the American Library Association in Washington, D. C., May 13-20, after which she will visit in New York City for a short time. Upon returning west she will visit Missoula, and intends to sail from Vancouver, B. C. on June 26, returning to Hawaii where she is Librarian of the Stations Department. She spent some time while in the coast city visiting with Winnifred Feighner, '08, who is still at school in the University of California at Berkeley.

Henry Kumnick who is now Dean of Students at Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Indiana, writes as follows: "This concludes my second year at Valparaiso University. This school raised its endowment and was accredited last March; the board of regents is now working on an expansion program involving millions of dollars. That means we continue to put in some hard licks.

Our Registrar attended the Registrar's Convention in Seattle last week. En route he passed through Missoula and shook hands with Montana's congenial Registrar. I don't know what Mr. Speer did to him, but our own Registrar claims Missoula is the only city in the world in which to live."

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Spencer (Inez Tiedt) have left Lima, Montana, and are now living in Douglas, Arizona. Their address is 836 Eighth Street. In a letter to the class secretary, Mrs. Spencer says "I see that you are in need of a little news for the "Montana Alumnus". We have always intended to write you something of our whereabouts, but for some reason never got to it.

Here we are on the "Border of Hot Tamales and Revolution". And, believe me, we are having a very interesting time. Sunday afternoon we drove over to Naco, Sonora to see how things were progressing in the Federal camp. We drove right up to the trenches and gave them a thorough inspection. Last evening we went across the line to our border town of Agua Prieta, Sonora. About 1400 rebel troops had just arrived from the south. One of these days we expect to witness a real battle and I don't think it's very far off. Eighteen U. S. army planes arrived here last Wednesday to patrol the border. Each plane is equipt with two machine guns.

Now I must tell you why we are here. We "sort of" tired of Montana scenery for a while and decided to make a big leap into a new type of country. My husband, '21, resigned as principal of the school at Lima, Montana, and accepted a position here as head of the Science department in the Douglas high school. There are 21 teachers on the faculty, 10 of whom are men. Because we have been reelected with a good substantial raise in salary and because we like our work and location we are remaining for at least another year. With greetings to all, Inez Tiedt Spencer.

Lucille Jameson recently attended the Seventeenth Convention of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars, held in Seattle April 16, 17, and 18.

Margaret Johnston visited Missoula in March, before returning to her home in Billings. She was in Helena during legislature as secretary of the Livestock and Public Range Committee.

Harriet Taft who received her M. A. at Columbia last year, gave a very interesting and instructive talk at the annual meeting of Home Economics Association in Pocatello, Idaho, March 30. Her subject was "Education in the Lincoln Schools".

Dear Aluminum:

Today happens to be the deadline for my usual apple sauce. Having the reputation of always getting my letter in late, I really don't see why I should be in such a rush, but I met the editor the other day and she reminded me the epistle was due.

This masterpiece is being written in the library. If I concentrate as well here as I used to it's needless to say that this letter will be a grand flop.

If I could take each of you aside individually I could tell you more "dirt". But as it is, you'll just have to keep thinking the best of everyone and try to keep from losing your minds thinking over what said "dirt" may be.

They had Aber Day here yesterday. It was an unusual Aber Day in that it didn't have to be postponed. The sun shone all day until evening and then the moon went on shift. I didn't get to see much of the doings but did see "Prexy" Clapp come out on his roof to greet the band in his bathrobe. I also saw a little of high court. It's just as well we're through school. Punishment was tame in our day. Now if a person blows his nose it seems he is due to receive a ducking, be hung or just gently electrocuted. There were no casualties this year but by next year I'm sure there will be. Being opposed to dancing I went on a picnic and ate raw meat.

Well, so much for that. Now to manufacture news. As I said before I really haven't anything printable this time so it's bound to be an arduous task (whatever that is).

I'm telling you right now that if some of you don't let me know where you are I'm going to cease corresponding. Every time I have to write about the same people. If you enjoy it—that's O. K. If not, please, please, please come across.

Madge McRae who taught in Alaska for several months is back here. She was forced to return because of her mother's illness. Madge is all for Alaska and hopes to be able to sail back some day.

I took a run up to Stevensville a couple of weeks ago—in the car of course. While in a drug store for candy—not a perscription—one of the St. John twins was the person with whom I closed the deal. I have a hunch it was Morris St. John but of course wouldn't want to be quoted as to that. Which ever twin it was he was thinner than ever.

Mattie Grace Sharpe is back here Girl Reserving. At present she's putting on a Girl's week proram and will in all probability be a nervous wreck when she's through. If she isn't she should be.

I see where Persis Mathews was in Ronan for the wedding of Gertrude Lemire and Harold Kuehn. She's evidently teaching in Helena. She must be off on this place as I haven't seen her since the day we all commenced.

Theodore Jacobs went on a month's vacation trip the other day—can't remember where but believe it was South.

Marian Fitzpatrick quit her playground work for the "Y" in Butte and is now doing similar work in Helena. Haven't heard how she's getting along.

Anne Webster has just come back from a couple month's stay in California. She made the trip with her mother. She saw Elizabeth Rowe Maudlin and "Wee" and Margaret Rutherford Gault and "Mack" and a lot of others I guess.

Kirk Badgley is still running the financial end of the U. He also seems to have considerable to do with the golf course as a side-issue.

Golf, by the way, is one of the best patronized courses here now. More woodticks are being dug up on Sentinel this spring than ever before in the history of the golf grounds. Being as how I'm now beginning to get old and decrepid I guess I'll have to go and learn the game too.

I don't know whether I pipe-dreamed this or not but believe that Virgil Wilson and Ellen Garvin Wilson have left Billings and gone to California. I'm probably wrong as I usually am.

Vincent Crimmins was one of the ring leaders in the painter's strike here recently. They didn't do much striking but got what they wanted—$50 or $75 a day—can't remember which.

Roger Flemming is getting to be quite the hotel operator. He and his father now have the Palace hotel. Seldom see Roger on the street so take it he's more than settled down.

Jimmy O'Connor was chairman of the Junior prom at the St. Louis Medical college this year. Guess it was some affair. From what Jimmy told me I thought everyone there just hibernated with the skeletons but evidently they do take time out to relax once a year anyway.

Milton Ritter is Guy Stegner's right hand man in the Missoula high school, as far as coaching is concerned. As an added feature Milt has a girl to look after and Guy has a family.

At last Morris McCullom broke down and hung his pin. Gertrude Dahlke is the victim. He must be Scotch the way he has hung on to it all these years.

Well this is sure the best I can do this time. I know there are so many you'd like to hear about. All I can say is that you haven't a thing on me. I'd give a lot to know where everybody is but it's a cinch I haven't time to scour the country to find out.

A lot of the young sisters and brothers of members of our class are now in school. Just another little reminder that I'm nigh unto 40.

Before closing might say I'm now with the Daily Northwest. Instead of having a definite beat I'm Jack of all trades. Sure am learning lots too.

Wish some of you would write me before the heat gets you down. This may be my last letter unless someone throws out the life line.

—Sol.

Delbert Cawley is now with the Harvester International Company. His address is 711 Highland Avenue, Helena, Montana.

Audrey Allen of Seattle visited in Missoula recently en route to Chicago and New York. At New York she will join a students tour for a three months trip to Europe. While in Paris she plans to study styles.

1925

Class Secretary, Mrs. V. E. Wilson (Ellen Garvin) 1041 N. 31 St. Billings, Montana

Virginia McGuire of Anaconda, who has been practicing law in Anaconda since her graduation, has recently become associated with Senator William E. Keeley in law practice in Deer Lodge.

Marian Fitzpatrick of Butte has been appointed Camp Fire executive for Helena.

Mrs. H. L. Tenney (Doris Oliver, ex-'25) visited in Missoula and on the campus in February. Her home is in Long Beach, California, where she quite often sees former students and graduates of the University.

Jack Powell is at present employed by the Fuller Drug Company of Anaconda. He is taking the place of Arthur Longpre, who has resigned to take up sales duties on the coast.

Rev. Gustave Adolphus Mertz of Missoula, was elected chairman of the Montana group of Lutheran pastors of the Missouri synod at its closing session held in Anaconda April 20.

Helen Jones of Missoula has resigned her position in the Registrar's office and has gone to Seattle. After spending a couple of months in the coast city, she plans to drive to California with her parents.

Class Secretary, Anna Nilson, Box 320, Great Falls, Montana.

Dear Alumni of 1926:

This is an ideal day to write an Alumnus letter. This morning I saw a blue bird, heard a meadow-lark, and discovered a large patch of bright green grass. Vacation time seems just around the corner.

Alva Larson is sailing from Quebec on June 25th for an extensive tour of Europe, and expects to be gone until September. The tour will include most of the continent. Harriet Larson (Scoop), who has been attending the University of Washington, is now in Hawaii visiting friends on the Islands.

Marcia Patterson times her letter 2:30 a. m. from the Massachusetts General hospital in Boston. She's in nurses' training, and burning the midnight oil, as if she had never heard of A. W. S. rules. In fact, I think she's using Paul Revere's lamp to study by. Massachusetts General Hospital is internationally known as the place where anaesthesia was first administered in 1846.

She reports that several Montanans are continuing their education in Boston, among them being Mary Elizabeth and Virginia Sedman, Marge Ryan, and Bob McKenzie.

Gid Boldt is practicing law with the firm of Reynolds, Ballinger and Hutson, 1503 Hoge bldg., Seattle. Gid says there are so many Montanans in Seattle that it seems like an in-between class stroll to walk down the streets there. Eloise and Gid hold open house at 408 Bellevue Avenue North. Both are satisfied that Seattle is one of the nicest places in the world to live, even if they don't own any banks or have immediate prospects of being called into conference on national problems, like the family budget.

Helen Rothwell Haig is living at 508 S. 4th St. W. Missoula, where her husband is employed by the U. S. Forest Service. She will spend the summer at the Priest River Experiment Station, and reports that camping will be de luxe with all the modern conveniences.

Mrs. Genevieve Murray has finished a manuscript on Marias Pass which the Anaconda Standard is printing in four Sunday supplements. Mr. and Mrs. Murray will leave this fall for Cambridge, where Mr. Murray will enroll in the law school.

Great Falls is becoming a home for several Montana graduates. After awhile our alumni club might make money on a dance. The latest arrival is Eddie Reeder, who is employed by the Tribune. Carl Martinson and Mrs. Martinson (Patti Duncan) are living at 200 Blackstone Apartments, and are getting on famously. Carl is employed by the Tribune Supply Co.

Last Saturday there was a Pan-Hellenic luncheon, and the Montanans present included Margaret Vogel, Zelma Hay, Margerie McCrear, Elizabeth Irwin, Vivian Bruneau, Anne Cromwell Needham, Dorothea Rector, Francis Danaher and Ruth Gonser Lease. Several of us began reminiscing about Montana, until we are all convinced that it is quite an institution.

A. D. Hunter is principal of the Antelope, Mont. high school. He reports a family of two future foot-ball players which aren't twins.—Ann Nilson.

Agnes Getty of Missoula, who now is teaching at Noxon, Montana, has had a paper on Chaucer accepted by the publications of the Modern Language association of America. "Chaucer's Changing Conception of the Chivalric Lover" is the title of the paper, which was begun by Miss Getty as independent work at the University before she received her degree.

Ruth Miller Hoyt writes from Hot Springs, South Dakota, as follows: "We have been here since last March. Harrison, '23, is in charge of the Wind Cave Game Preserve—one of the big game reservations. It is most interesting work and affords contact with a great many tourists. It is under the Department of Agriculture in the Bureau of Biological Survey. Last winter we spent in Valentine, Nebraska, Havre's rival for low temperatures. Harrison was in charge during the absence of the Protector of the Niobrara Cave Preserve. Last summer I spent in Montana with the two children. I had a most delightful visit with Ruth and Gene Harpole in Superior and saw several of the Alumni in Mineral County—Gene and Frank Murray, Ralph Crowell, L. Walker Brown and others. Wish I had some real news, but South Dakota doesn't quite come up to California as an attraction for Montana graduates. Very sincerely yours, Ruth Miller Hoyt."

Class Secretary, Heloise Vinal Wickes
440 Edith Street, Missoula, Montana
Dear Alumnae:

There are two reasons why I haven't sent in any class notes for the past two issues; the first in that twelve to fifteen answers from a class of 212 are hardly worth mentioning, the second, myself. I just didn't get them in.

About the only information I have now is about class members seen during the year about town. During the Christmas vacation I saw Edith Dawes, and Helen Chaffin—Christmas shopping—and on their way to their homes up the valley. You may find out more about Helen under "Marriage". Stella Skulason Moe and Peder spent the holidays in Missoula with the Skulason's. Stella is still interested in physical education, is active in Girl Scout work in her little town, and may be at one of the camps this summer. Fern Johnson also was visiting her folks from Livingston or Billings, where she teaches in the high school. I also saw Gladys Price and Isabel Lentz. Gladys teaches English and Music in the Spokane junior high school. Isabel was also in town the past week end to attend the Druids formal dance, first one they have given.

recently. Mrs. Jay Loveless, formerly Margaret Orr, and daughter have been visiting at the home of her parents in Dillon. Lieutenant Jay Loveless is stationed at Fort George Wright out of Spokane.

We have also read in the news columns that Otho McLean is now in one of the Helena banks. Dick Davis has been advertising man for the Westland Oil Company of Minot, North Dakota—which prairie country he describes as the "wilds". But lately we hear that Dick has started an agency of his own. Kenneth Davis has been a Missoula visitor several times on his way to and from rangers' meeting, and attended the Durids dance Saturday. Charles Bloom was also down over the week end from Thompson Falls.

Then the Sunday Missoulian carried news of Kathleen O'Donnell's engagement to Lieutenant James D. O'Brien of Fort Missoula; of Gertrude Lemire's marriage to Howard Keuhn of Helena, and of Marie Louise Heyfron's coming marriage to Heman G. Stark.

Kathleen's marriage was announced for May 24 at a military luncheon given by her sister, Mrs. Milton A. Wallis, in Billings last week. After the marriage the couple will leave for Manila, where Lieutenant O'Brien will be stationed. For the past year Kathleen has been attending the National Recreation school in New York city.

Marie Louise Heyfron's announcement party was given at the Heyfron home in Los Angeles. Heman Stark was graduated with this class. After leaving the University, Marie Louise attended Mills college for a year, and then went to the University of Southern California for her degree.

The following items were in our mail last fall but are still in effect, we hope. Mary Kistle is teaching English, history, dramatics and music at Charlo.

Dorothy Taylor, 28, teaches near Biddle, Montana, and Bea Forkenbrock teaches in Challis, Idaho.

John L. Geraghty is in Washington D. C. with the department of justice. He went to Washington D. C. after his first year here as a law student, and enrolled in Georgetown University, from the law school of which he was graduated last spring.

Helen Gorton has had charge of the normal training department of the Wibaux county high school this year. Last summer she attended the University of Colorado summer school, and toured Colorado at the close of the term.

Nora Arthur has been teaching at Circle, Montana. Nora spent last summer with a married sister who lived about 50 miles from Boston on Cape Cod. Nora wrote that the country was beautiful with many interesting places. Plymouth Rock, the John Alden house and the Miles Standish graveyard, were among others which she had seen. Elsie Eminer you know is on the languages faculty. Elsie says she spent all last year talking Spanish at the Casa Cervantes in Madison, Wisconsin. She found Madison huge, beautiful, lively and friendly. Marjorie Jones has also been on the faculty teaching Latin, but had to leave recently for her home in Hamilton to undergo a major operation.

Then last fall we had a letter from Dolores Milkwick. She was studying pipe organ in the American Conservatory at Chicago. Bernice Evans was there with her, and planned to embark August 22 for Honolulu to teach in the Washington junior high school. Dolores said she had seen Art Yensen on the street, that he was much interested in his work at the Art Institute, and had had some encouragement in his cartooning. (Most of us have a Sentinel illustrated by him). —Heloise Vinal Wickes.

Sammie Graham who has been University cashier for the past two years, resigned her position and left about the first of April for the East.

Word has been received from Alex McIver stating that he is field manager in central India, for the Standard Oil Company. His headquarters are at Bombay, India.

Alexander Stepanstoff who has been attending school in Paris, has left France for a two months trip which will include Egypt, Palestine, Australia, Japan, India and China. He will stop for the summer at his home in Harbin, Manchuria.

Walter Burrell, ex-'27, is now a member of a large southern high school faculty. He writes that he receives many queries concerning the University of Montana. His address is 116 Flora street, Tampa, Florida.

Jack Wheatly has recently been elected secretary-treasurer of the Butte-Anaconda Alumni association of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

the "Alumnus." You see, I received "official" notice of my duty three days ago, so all the notes I can send in this time are gained from my own erratic correspondence. Next time I'll try to do much better, providing of course some kind class members write and tell me all the news they know about everybody else.

First, I'll report on the 1928 members now living here in Great Falls.

Leslie Vinal is director of women's athletics at the local Y. W. C. A. She is kept very busy with her work, and seems to be always rushing to or from a gym class.

Helen Leach Warden is a busy and popular member of the young married set. I see her occasionally, but haven't had a talk about school or other class matters.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martinson (Patti Duncan) are living in Great Falls. Carl is working for the Tribune, and I see him quite often when taking copy over there. I've seen Patti drive past several times but as yet haven't seen her to say hello.

Violet Watters Swihart is now married and lives here. Her husband works in one of the drug stores.

Jimmie Hatfield came up to the office the other day, but being as I was supposed to be working, I couldn't find out his accomplishments.

Had a letter from Claudine Christy a while ago. I hope she'll excuse me for quoting a portion of it:

"Florence Montgomery is in the advertising department of the Spokane Chronicle in Spokane * * * Martha Dunlap has a responsible position as private secretary to the 'big boss' of some manufacturing concern in Chicago * * * Did you know Edna Foster was in Salt Lake working in the "U" of Utah library? * * * You undoubtedly know that Spot Sanford and Tom Regan are on the Daily Northwest staff and enjoy their work immensely, so they tell me * * * Dante Hansen is running a mimeograph daily in Glendive, and Chad Shaffer says he's more than coining money on it."

Kathleen Hainline is doing bacteriology work for a group of doctors in Chicago.

The Kaimin carries the story of Mildred Ammer receiving a teaching fellowship in French from the University of Wisconsin. She was teaching in Ryegate high school until the beginning of the winter quarter, when she returned to the University as an instructor in French.

Virginia Griffith is teaching in the Richey high school and finds the profession both interesting and instructive.

Doris Weatherill of the class of '26, and Donald Shaw, of the class of '27, were married the 17th of December, 1928, at Missoula. After a wedding trip to Massachusetts, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are now living in Leadville, Colorado, where Mr. Shaw is employed in the Forest service.
