MONTANA ADMINISTRATION

Wayne Hogan Athletic Director

Unprecedented growth and expansion have been the hallmarks of Athletic Director Wayne Hogan's tenure at The University of Montana. Serving as UM's 14th director of athletics, Hogan is in his sixth year with the Grizzlies. The success of the Montana program comes as no surprise to those who have followed Hogan's 24 years in the field of intercollegiate athletics.

In his association with three collegiate programs, the 45-year-old Hogan has known only victories and championships. He had the rare opportunity to join the Montana program just as the 1995 Grizzlies began their immortal drive to the I-AA Football National Championship, winning their last eight games en route to the title — and then 14 straight games in 1996. All of this came on the heels of a I-A football national title in 1994 while Hogan was serving at his alma mater, Florida State University, where he spent 18 years in various athletic department capacities.

At Florida State, Hogan played an integral role in that program's rise from relative mediocrity in the 70's to one of the nation's premier athletic programs today. Along the way he filled almost every conceivable role, from a volunteer student intern in 1974 to director of athletics in 1994. During that time the Seminoles won 190 football games and 14 of 16 bowl games, joined the Atlantic Coast Conference and saw its basketball teams reach the Sweet 16 and the Elite 8 during the 90's.

Since his arrival at Montana the football program has won 58 of 72 games, five Big Sky Conference Championships and has appeared in the I-AA playoffs every year. The Grizzlies won a national championship in 1995 and have appeared in the national title game an unprecedented three times in Hogan's six years at the helm. Amazingly, the three title appearances were orchestrated by three different head coaches. Perhaps the defining moment of Hogan's tenure occurred both in 1996 and 1999 when both men's and women's basketball teams won league championships along with football. A sweep of those three championships in a single year had never before been achieved in the 35-year history of the conference.

With a knack for marketing and communications, Hogan's contributions probably are best tallied by looking at the numbers. Attendance is up dramatically across the board. In football, season ticket sales, just 6,500 in 1995, topped 12,500 again this year. This provided a complete, preseason sellout of Washington-Grizzly Stadium as the new century was ushered in. Average attendance is up from 11,000 at his arrival to better than 19,000. Annual giving is up by more than $200,000, and corporate sponsorships have also seen a six-digit increase. Hogan has also fostered the University's royalty program which has seen revenues on licensed products jump from $20,000 to well over $100,000. In all, revenue generated by his department has grown from $2.8 million in 1995 to a projected $4.4 million this year.

Clearly, Hogan's most visible role has been the undertaking of a $14.7 million facility project which has converted the antiquated Harry Adams Field House into the sparkling new Adams Center. In addition to transforming the old gymnasium into a true modern-day basketball arena, the project has given Grizzly athletics a roadway to the future. Included in the project are a massive indoor practice and volleyball game facility, a new double-the-size weight-training facility, a new and expanded medical treatment facility, an academic center for student-athletes and remodeled equipment and locker rooms. The crowning jewel of the project is the new John C. Hoyt Athletic Office Complex. UM recently received a gift totaling more the $650,000 from the late Mr. Hoyt, a longtime UM supporter.

In addition, UM received a $1,000,000 gift for improvements at Washington-Grizzly Stadium, including a state-of-the-art synthetic grass playing surface. Grizzly supporters Mark and Anne Timmons of Missoula donated more than $500,000 for improvements at the Dornblaser Track and Field Stadium. These gifts pushed a current fund-raising blitz to more than $3 million in the last 18 months.

These are just a few examples of Hogan's aggressive style that have the Grizzly program on the move. Somewhat behind the scenes, Montana has received its NCAA certification, satisfied numerous gender equity concerns including the complete equalization of recruiting, travel and equipment budgets, attacked a number of salary inequities and reorganized staff duties and responsibilities. During his 2000 State of the University Address, President George Dennison called Hogan's program "the most efficient I-AA program in America."

After receiving his bachelor's degree in communications from Florida State University in 1979, Hogan worked for two minor league baseball teams as a broadcaster and public relations specialist. He spent one year in Charleston, W. Va. with the Houston Astros AAA farm team before moving to Albuquerque and a stint with the Los Angeles Dodgers AAA club in the Pacific Coast League. While in Albuquerque, Hogan was coaxed back into college athletics when he became the assistant sports information director at the University of New Mexico in 1981. He returned to Florida State in 1982 as the school's sports information director. He was promoted to Assistant Athletic Director in 1992 and served as the interim athletic director in 1994-95.

A native of Tallahassee, Fla., Hogan's father Patrick is a former sports information director and longtime college administrator at FSU. His wife Dawn is a native of Treasure Island, Fla. They have three children: Lindsay, Kelly, and J.P.

She served as the assistant women's tennis coach from 1993-95 and was a Freshman Seminar instructor from 1992-96. She currently advises on UM's Student-Athlete Advisory Board and directs the Griz A.C.E.S. life skills program.

Before arriving at UM in 1992, Porter served as an academic counselor at Washington State from 1990-92. She is a graduate of the University of Kansas, receiving her B.A. in psychology with honors (1988) and her M.A. in social psychology (1990), maintaining a 4.0 grade point average.

MEET THE 2002-03 LADY GRIZ

Years of Success*

COACHING STAFF

Robin Selvig, Head Coach

When Robin Selvig first appeared on The University of Montana campus as the women's basketball coach, the thought of coaching the Lady Griz at the turn of the century was probably the furthest thought in his mind.

But now as one of 19 active coaches with 500-or-more wins, Selvig has made Lady Griz basketball one of the nation's top teams with 16 postseason appearances in the past 19 seasons. His 24-year career record is 555-158 (.778).

While an amazing streak of 18, 20-win seasons was snapped during the 1998-99 season, the Lady Griz rebounded the next two seasons by winning at least 20 games, giving Selvig a total of 20, 20-win seasons. During his tenure, the Lady Griz have won 14 Big Sky Conference regular season titles and have advanced to the NCAA Tournament 14 times.

Born and raised in northeastern Montana, Selvig and the Lady Griz have become Montana landmarks. A number of players he has coached have gone on to emulate his style as they have become coaches themselves. He is not a complicated coach, just one with an overwhelming love of the game and a knack for working with people.

Selvig's success has brought him full circle. Although he has spent 24 seasons as head coach of the Lady Griz, his tenure at UM spans even longer. He came to campus in the fall of 1970 as a quick but gangly college freshman ready to expand his basketball knowledge and game under the tutelage of Jud Heathcote. Selvig would play with the freshmen team that season before earning three varsity letters.

Selvig earned all-conference honors as a senior, leading the Grizzlies to a 19-8 record. He was awarded the John Eaheart Award, given annually to Montana's outstanding defensive player. That emphasis on defense has been a staple of Selvig's legacy and is now a trademark of his teams.

Selvig was also the recipient of Montana's top athletic award, the Grizzly Cup, that year. He was inducted into the Grizzly Basketball Hall of Fame during a 26-4 campaign in 1982-83.

After receiving his bachelor's degree in HPE in 1974, Selvig was appointed coach of the Montana freshmen team along with Kevin Rocheleau, who would later marry Selvig's long-time assistant coach and former point guard, Annette Whitaker.

A year later, Selvig turned to the high school ranks, coaching the girls' basketball team at Plentywood High School from 1975-78, compiling a 38-24 record.

Returning to his alma mater in 1978 as the fourth head coach of the women's basketball team, Selvig would bring stability, success and loyalty to the program. UM's inaugural season was the 1974-75 campaign, but the Lady Griz had three coaches in four years. Looking for both success and stability, athletic director Harley Lewis hired Selvig to lead the program into the 80s. Lewis likely had no idea Selvig would also lead the program in the 21st century.

In his first year at the helm (1978-79), Selvig's team posted a 13-13 record. In his second year (1979-80), the Lady Griz posted a 19-10 record, and the wins continued to pile up over the years.

Selvig has had tremendous success with the Lady Griz. He is the all-time winningest coach in Montana history. Selvig enters the 2002-03 season ranked as the fourth-winningest coach of all-time, according to percentage (.788), behind Tennessee's Pat Summitt, Connecticut's Geno Auriemma and Stanford's Tara VanDerveer. By averaging over 23 wins per season, he ranks 13th among active Division I coaches in career victories.

Selvig has taken his teams to 16 postseason tournaments, including 14 NCAA Championships. Montana advanced to the 1984 West Region semifinals and has advanced to the second round seven times.

Montana has dominated the Big Sky Conference since its inception in 1982. The Lady Griz's record is 251-31 (.890) against conference foes during the regular season and 35-6 (.854) in league tournaments. Selvig has won 89 percent (286-37) of his games against Big Sky opponents, and his teams have gone undefeated in conference action six times since the 1986-87 season. The Lady Griz went 16-0 in league play for three consecutive seasons from 1988-91, then repeated that feat in 1996-97.

Selvig has guided his teams to 15 regular-season titles and 14 tournament titles in 20 years.

His talent and work ethic have earned him numerous awards. Selvig has been chosen the Big Sky/Mountain West Coach of the Year 13 times and the NCAA Division I District 7 Coach of the Year nine times. In addition, he was also one of three finalists for the 1991 NCAA Division I National Coach of the Year. In February 2001 Selvig was inducted into The University of Montana Athletic Hall of Fame.

And one thing has remained constant, defense. Every year Montana is ranked among the nation's top 10 teams in the defensive statistical categories. The Lady Griz have been ranked among the top three defensive teams five times in the past seven years. UM also was third in scoring defense during the 1999-2000 season.

The Lady Griz led the nation in field-goal percentage defense (.333) in the 1995-96 season. UM set the NCAA Division I record (.317) in that category in the 1992-93 campaign and kept that ranking for several seasons.

Selvig's success on the court has carried over into the grandstands. Montana has been consistently ranked among the top programs in the country in attendance since 1984. The Lady Griz were ranked 16th nationally for the 1997-98 season after finishing in the top 15 for 13-straight seasons. The team's return to the renovated Adams Center and Dahlberg Arena in 1999-2000 has put Montana once again among the nation's top schools in attendance. Last season, the Lady Griz averaged 3,468 fans, which ranked the team among the top 30 programs in the nation. When Selvig began coaching at UM, Montana averaged just over 200 fans per home game.

Selvig has served on several NCAA committees and is a member of the Women's Basketball Coaches' Association.

A native of Outcok, Selvig comes from a family of eight children. His brother, Doug, was a four-year letterwinner for the Grizzly men's basketball team from 1981-84 and currently coaches at Glendive High School. A sister, Sandy (Sullivan), played for the Lady Griz from 1978-81.

Selvig is married to the former Janie Hagan, originally from Redstone. They have two sons, Jeff and Dan.

COACHING STAFF

Annette Rocheleau, Assistant Coach

One of the most experienced assistant coaches in the country, Annette (Whitaker) Rocheleau enters her 22nd season as Robin Selvig's top assistant. She has helped bring the Lady Griz program into national prominence through her primary responsibilities of recruiting, game strategy, conditioning, scouting, and travel arrangements.

Formerly Annette Whitaker, she first came to Montana as a walk-on. She made the team and became the starting point guard and team captain that first season. Rocheleau was also the team captain as a senior and was the team's "Most Inspirational" player. In her two seasons, she recorded 132 assists.

After completing her playing days, Rocheleau turned her attention to coaching, directing the Lady Griz junior varsity team for the 1981-82 and 1982-83 seasons. She was appointed Montana's first full-time assistant coach in September 1983, and the Lady Griz have become one of the nation's top teams.

She transferred to Montana from Wenatchee Valley Junior College. Rocheleau, and fellow teammate Jill Greenfield, led Wenatchee Valley to two state junior college championship titles. She also was a team captain.

A 1977 graduate of Cashmere (Wash.) High School, she was a four-year letterwinner in both basketball and tennis from 1974 to 1977. She received her bachelor's degree from UM in health and physical education in 1982.

An outstanding golfer, Rocheleau served as the assistant golf coach from 1992-94, the first two seasons of collegiate women's golf at UM.

She is a member of the WBCA Coach of the Year committee. She also served as the assistant director of the Montana Special Olympics in both 1990 and 1991.

She is married to Kevin Rocheleau, a former Grizzly basketball player. They have three sons, Beau, Brian and Ty, and a daughter Trae.

Shannon Cate-Schweyen, Assistant Coach

Shannon Cate-Schweyen is in her 11th season as a full-time assistant coach under mentor Robin Selvig. She joined the UM coaching staff as a student assistant in 1992 and was appointed to a full-time position in 1993. Her primary responsibility is recruiting, but she also assists with conditioning, game strategy, scouting and public relations.

The Big Sky Conference's first-and-only Kodak First Team All-American, Schweyen led the Lady Griz to a 103-18 overall record. She was a three-time all-region pick, a two-time Big Sky MVP, a three-time Big Sky tournament MVP and a three-time Lady Griz MVP. She was also a four-time Big Sky all-academic pick.

Probably the Big Sky's most prolific player, Schweyen left the court as the league's all-time leading scorer among both men and women with 2,172 career points.

She still owns 12 school records and nine Big Sky Conference records, averaging 18.7 points, 7.6 rebounds and 3.6 assists per game over the course of four years and was consistently ranked among the NCAA Division I leaders in scoring, field-goal percentage and free-throw percentage during her playing days.

Schweyen was a three-time state tournament MVP for her Billings Central prep team. She was also the Montana USA Today Player of the Year in 1988.

She spent a short period of time playing basketball for a Spanish national team following college but returned after a shoulder injury. She dislocated her shoulder seven times during her senior season, requiring two surgeries.

Her No. 21 jersey was retired following her collegiate career. It now hangs in the Hall of Champions, located in the southwest corner of the upper concourse in the Adams Center.

She received a bachelor's degree in business administration in 1993. She is married to Brian Schweyen, a former Big Sky all-conference decathlete from Montana State. He is an assistant track and field coach for the Grizzlies. Shannon and Brian have three daughters, Jordyn, Shelby and Sheridan.

Trish Duce, Assistant Coach

Trish (Olson) Duce is in her ninth year as an assistant coach under Robin Selvig. She is responsible for video exchange and conditioning. In addition, she helps organize the summer camps by assisting with camper registration. This season, Duce will take a more active role in recruiting. During the season, she will be recruiting Montana and other nearby areas.

Duce had a successful basketball career with the Lady Griz, despite being plagued by broken bones in her right foot. The former Trish Olson came to UM from Missoula's Big Sky High School in 1989 and played in 28 games as a true freshman. She started in 29 games as a sophomore and was a Big Sky Conference all-tournament selection after leading the Lady Griz to a 77-49 victory over Montana State in the championship game.

In 1991-92, she broke a bone in her foot and was granted a medical redshirt season after competing in only three games. The following season she missed nine games due to another broken bone in her foot. However, she was named to the Western States Showdown all-tournament team after tallying a school-record eight blocks against Western Carolina, a record that still stands. As a fifth-year senior in 1993-94, Duce started 24 games and finished her career ranked 11th with 89 blocked shots.

Duce received her bachelor's degree in mathematics in 1993 and her master's degree in computer science in 1995. She was a four-time Big Sky all-academic selection during her career.

She is married to Kirk Duce, a former Grizzly football kicker who ranks second on the school's career scoring chart with 280 career points. He also holds the school records for field goals in a game (4), season (18) and career (48). They have a daughter Lexi and a son River.

2002-03 SEASON OUTLOOK

When University of Montana head women's basketball coach Robin Selvig examines his 2002-03 roster, he might get the impression that he is staring at a jigsaw puzzle. All the pieces are there on the table. The challenge is putting the pieces together.

If Selvig, who enters his 25th season on the Lady Griz bench, is able to put the pieces together, the finished product would be an 11th Big Sky Conference championship and a 15th appearance in the NCAA Tournament.

Montana is looking to return to the "Big Dance" following a two-year absence, the program's longest drought between tournament appearances.

If the Lady Griz are to return to the NCAA Tournament, they will do so with a very young roster. While the roster features eight returning letterwinners, including four starters, 11 of the 15 players are either freshmen or sophomores. With such a youthful, unproven roster, playing time is up for grabs at several positions.

"We have a tremendous amount of competition going on in terms of roles and playing time," Selvig said. "We are going to have a mixture of veterans with some younger players contributing. We have some talented young players, but putting it all together is going to be a process during the preseason and the early season games. We're developing roles, finding out where different kids fit in and having the kids show me where they fit in. We have a chance to be an outstanding basketball team, but a lot of things need to come together."

In order for everything to come together, Selvig will rely on his veterans — seniors Julie Deming, LeAnn Montes and Jill Henkel, along with junior Brooklynn Lorenzen — to lead the way.

Deming, a key reserve in her first two seasons in the program, joined the starting lineup last year and was the team's third-leading scorer and rebounder, averaging 10.1 points and 4.7 rebounds per game. She also shot a team-high 87.5 percent from the free throw line, was second on the club with 25 3-pointers and was third in assists with 71.

According to Selvig, he is hoping for similar results this season from his starting small forward.

"Her role this year is going to be a little different in terms of leadership," Selvig said. "With as many young players as we have, she needs to be steady for us. I think she will be."

Who will back up Deming at small forward is uncertain. Sophomore Juliann Keller is the most experienced. She was injured early and late last season, but is fully healthy heading into the 2002-03 campaign.

Two freshmen, Darci Sandoval and Michele VanDyke, will also compete for playing time, although VanDyke might redshirt this year.

Two other two returning upperclassmen, junior Brooklynn Lorenzen and senior LeAnn Montes, will handle the point guard duties for the third straight season.

"One of the nice things about where we're at is we're experienced at point guard," Selvig said. "That not only helps in games, but it helps in practices as well. With the things we're running, the people who are triggering them are experienced. It helps everyone learn at a faster rate. That's a real plus."

Lorenzen has started all 59 games in her career. Last year Lorenzen led the Big Sky Conference in assists (5.66 apg) and assist-to-turnover ratio (3.04). Although she averaged 5.6 points per game, she averaged 8.0 points per game and shot over 50 percent from the field over the final 14 games of the season.

"I am very pleased with her progress," Selvig said. "In the last half of last season, I thought she played great. She had good offensive stats in the conference season. She's improved her ability to score, now she looks to score, and she's gotten better defensively as well."

Montes is a more than adequate backup for Lorenzen. She averaged 2.90 assists per game last season, which ranked her ninth in the Big Sky. In addition, she had a 2.71 assist-to-turnover ratio and she was fourth on the squad with 26 steals.

The center position is in the capable hands of a pair of sophomores. Hollie Tyler and Crystal Baird alternated starts in the middle last year and both enjoyed strong seasons. Tyler led the Lady Griz in scoring and rebounding last year, averaging 12.9 points and 7.9 rebounds per game. Named the Big Sky's Freshman of the Year, Tyler posted nine double-doubles and blocked a team-high 41 shots.

Baird was equally effective. She was fourth on the team in scoring (8.1 ppg) and rebounding (4.0 rpg). She also shot nearly 48 percent from the floor, which was eighth in the conference.

While Selvig knows who is going to see the majority of the playing time at three positions, the same cannot be said at shooting guard and power forward.

Three players are battling for the starting shooting guard job vacated by all-conference performer Cheryl Keller. Senior Jill Henkel, who missed the past year-and-a-half due to injury, returns to the lineup this season. Sophomore Lynsey Monaco, a defensive stopper, saw action in 22 games last season and is off to a good start in 2002-03. Then there is freshman Katie Edwards. An excellent outside shooter, Edwards finished her high school career second on Montana's all-time scoring chart.

The power forward spot is just as wide open with four freshmen battling for playing time. Redshirt freshman Jody McLeod might have the inside track, but true freshmen Sara Gale, Corrie Villegas and DeLayne Johnston, are making the race interesting.

"This is an extremely young team no two ways about it," Selvig said. "That's why I feel it's important for our older players to be strong leaders in many ways. The trick will be blending the youth and the experience we have together and growing rapidly. We don't have a lot of games to beat up on people and develop. We're jumping right into the fire."

The Lady Griz's non-conference schedule is one of the toughest schedules that Selvig can remember, filled with seven teams that have advanced to postseason play in the past two seasons. Drake reached the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament last season, while Mississippi State advanced to the second round. Two other teams participated in the 2002 WNIT Tournament. San Francisco lost in the first round, while Oregon won the WNIT championship.

In addition, Utah was a Sweet 16 participant in the 2001 NCAA Tournament, while St. Mary's advanced to the NCAA Tournament last year. Finally, Montana State-Billings won 23 games last season and advanced to the NCAA Division II Regional Championships.

The schedule also includes games against Portland and Gonzaga, both of which beat UM last season, as well as Pac 10 member Washington State and Western Michigan.

"I don't know if we've ever had a difficult non-conference schedule as we have this year," Selvig said. "It's a real challenging schedule, but we're excited about it. We have an opportunity to get some huge wins, and we have an opportunity to learn our weaknesses and grow during the non-conference portion of our schedule."

Once the Lady Griz reach Big Sky Conference action, Selvig hopes all of questions surrounding roster spots and roles have sorted themselves out so the team can focus on winning its 11th Big Sky Conference championship.

"By the time you get to league play with this young of a team, you want to feel comfortable as coaches as to who's going to give you what and where. How fast the freshmen come along is going to be real important.

"I think we're going to be a deep team," added Selvig. "You always want to play as many players as you can and still be as good as you can."

According to Selvig, the Big Sky title race is wide open. He said all eight teams lost key players, but he added that all eight teams have a strong core of returning players.

"There are a number of good teams this year," Selvig said. "The six teams that were in the conference tournament last year should all be good again this year. Then you have a new coaching staff at Idaho State, so you figure they will be better. Sacramento State had a hard time fielding a team last year because they were decimated with injuries, so they should also be better this year. It's awfully difficult to pick a favorite. There's going to be an awfully tough ballgames in the league this season."

Gonzaga 57, Montana 50
Jan. 5, 2002 • Spokane, Wash.

The Lady Griz suffered through its second straight poor shooting night as they lost 57-50 at Gonzaga Saturday night.

Montana shot only 32 percent (21-for-66) from the field for the contest, including 27 percent in the second half. However, it was the first half which hurt the Lady Griz. While UM made 11 of 29 shots in the first 20 minutes, Gonzaga was even hotter, connecting on 14 of 26 attempts. The Bulldogs raced to a 19-4 lead midway through the half and led by double figures for much of the game.

The Lady Griz did make a late charge. Trailing 51-37 with 7:40 left, Montana went on a 10-3 run to close within five points at 52-47 with four minutes to play. Crystal Baird fueled the rally with a pair of 3-point baskets. Gonzaga, however, hit five of seven free throws down the stretch to preserve the win.

Baird paced the Lady Griz by scoring 14 points and grabbing 10 rebounds, both career highs. It was Baird's first career double-double.

Game 17

Montana 72, Idaho State 61
Jan. 19, 2002 • Pocatello, Idaho

Montana completed an impressive road sweep and vaulted to the top of the Big Sky standings with a 72-61 win over Idaho State.

The Lady Griz again relied on balanced scoring and their stifling defense. UM shot 57 percent from the field in the first half to open up a 38-27 lead.

Idaho State mounted a second-half comeback, pulling within one point on four occasions. UM led 58-57 with 4:10 remaining, but the Lady Griz made 12 straight free throws to hold off the Bengals. Julie Deming sank six of those free throws as she finished with a team-high 15 points.

Cheryl Keller scored 13 points, while Hollie Tyler and Simarron Schildt came off the bench to score 12 and 10 points, respectively.

UM's defense did a good job containing ISU's inside tandem of Mandi Carver and Ashley Toner. The pair finished with 27 points and 11 rebounds, but they had only four points and four rebounds in the first half.

Turnovers were also a factor. ISU turned the ball over 17 times, while Montana committed a season-low of six.

The 2002-2003 athletic season marks the 40th year of the Big Sky Conference and, although still youthful in the world of NCAA Division I athletic conferences, The Big Sky has solidified itself as one of the strongest leagues in the West as well as the nation.

With its roots established in 1963, the Big Sky Conference began with six charter members: The University of Idaho, Idaho State University, Gonzaga University, The University of Montana, Montana State University and Weber State University.

On July 1, 1970, the league experienced its first expansion, adding Boise State University and Northern Arizona University to the fold to create an eight-member league. On July 1, 1979, charter member Gonzaga left the league and was replaced by the University of Nevada. In 1987, Eastern Washington was admitted to the league to create the first version of a nine-member Big Sky Conference. The University of Nevada's departure in 1992 moved the league to eight members until July 1, 1996 when both Boise State and Idaho left the Big Sky, but the three additional institutions moved the league into a nine-member scenario for the second time. However, the league went back to eight members in the spring of 2001 when Cal State Northridge left the league.

The Big Sky conference sponsors championships in 15 sports, including men's and women's cross country, golf, basketball, tennis, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, in addition to football, women's volleyball and soccer. The Big Sky is a NCAA Division I member in all sports, with member institutions classified as I-AA in football.

The 2000-2001 athletic season also marks the twelfth year in which the Big Sky Conference will sponsor championships in women's sports. Twelve years ago the Big Sky Conference merged with the Mountain West Athletic Conference, forming one league for both men's and women's athletics. The Mountain West had been in existence since 1982, sponsoring championships for women's athletics at the same institutions the Big Sky had sponsored men's programs.

The eight Big Sky Conference member institutions are located in seven states that span from the Pacific Ocean to the Rocky Mountains and from the Canadian to the Mexican borders. The entire west coast is now represented by the Big Sky with members in Washington, Oregon and California, and of the eight western-most states in the contiguous United States, only one (Nevada) does not contain a Big Sky member. League members can be found in Arizona, California, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington and Utah.

The name BIG SKY originated in a novel written in 1947 by the late A.B. (Bud) Guthrie of Great Falls, Mont., entitled The Big Sky. Jack Hollowell, former Montana advertising director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State, and Harry Missildine of the Spokane (Wash.) Spokesman-Review called for the newly formed league to be named "The Big Sky Conference" in his column dated Feb. 20, 1963. Five days later, on Feb. 25, the name Big Sky was adopted by the six presidents of the newly formed league.

On July 1, 1995, Doug Fullerton became the fifth commissioner of the Big Sky Conference and was given the reins to lead the league into the changing world of intercollegiate athletics. Fullerton replaced longtime commissioner Ron Stephenson, who retired after 14 years in the position. The first commissioner of the Big Sky was Jack Friel, who served from the league's inception until 1971. After Friel, John Roning directed the conference for six years until 1977 when Steve Belko assumed the commissioner's role. Belko was with the league for five years.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MONTANA

President George Dennison

George Dennison, the 16th president of The University of Montana, begins his 13th year at the University. He served on the NCAA Division I Board of Directors from 1997-2000, and chaired the Big Sky Conference Presidents' Council in 1992-93.

Dennison, a native Montanan, came to UM from Kalamazoo, Mich., where he served as the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs of Western Michigan University from 1987-90. In earlier years, he spent time at the universities of Arkansas and Washington prior to 18 years at Colorado State University in Fort Collins.

At Colorado State, he started as a history professor then served in numerous other positions. He simultaneously held the positions of Associate Dean of the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences and Associate Dean of the Graduate School for International Development Studies. He also served as Acting Academic Vice President, Associate Academic Vice President and Director of Admissions and Records.

An historian by training, Dennison received his bachelor's degree with high honors in history from UM in 1962. He received his master's degree from UM in 1963, then earned his Ph.D. in history from the University of Washington in 1967. He has written numerous publications and made several professional presentations in both history and higher education.

Dennison serves on several boards. He chairs the Montana Commission on Community Service and serves on the Board of the International Heart Institute of Montana, the Community Medical Center Advisory Committee, the Campus Compact Executive Committee, the Board of Directors of the International Student Exchange Program, and the Maureen and Mike Mansfield Foundation.

George and his wife Jane have two sons, Rick and Robert. Rick played college football at Colorado State then joined the Denver Broncos. He played linebacker for Denver for nine years and now serves as the offensive coach. Robert teaches math and computer programming in Tecumseh, Kansas, and coaches football, wrestling, and track. The Dennisons have four grandchildren.

The University of Montana was the state's first college. Chartered on February 17, 1893, the school opened its doors to its first 50 students in what is now called University Hall. More than 100 years later, The University of Montana-Missoula is the center of liberal arts education and research in the state.

The school has gone through numerous changes over the years. In 1913 the school was renamed the State University of Montana, and in 1935, it was renamed Montana State University. It wasn't until 1965 that the institution recaptured its original name, The University of Montana. In 1988 Western Montana College in Dillon became part of UM, and in 1994, the Montana Board of Regents approved a restructuring plan to create two universities within the Montana University System. The University of Montana also includes The University of Montana-Western, Montana Tech in Butte; The University of Montana-Helena, College of Technology; and The University of Montana College of Technology in Missoula.

The University of Montana provides a high-quality, well-rounded education to students and a wide range of services to Montanans. UM is a major source of research, continuing education, economic development, civic engagement, fine arts and entertainment, and serves as a driving force in strengthening Montana's ties with countries throughout the world.

UM's Missoula campus comprises the College of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate School, the Davidson Honors College, the College of Technology, and seven professional schools: business administration, education, fine arts, forestry, journalism, law, and pharmacy and allied health sciences. The University of Montana also has an excellent physical therapy department and offers two-year programs in business, trades and industry, and technical and health occupations.

UM continues to grow with 13,058 students. The student body is 52 percent female and 48 percent male. Last year Montana enrolled 215 foreign students from 60 countries.

Located at the base of Mount Sentinel and on the bank of the Clark Fork River, the 200-acre campus is one of the most beautiful in the nation.

Campus life offers a variety of choices for the UM student. Dormitory living provides nine halls with various options on campus. Elrod Hall is the male dorm; Turner Hall is the female dorm; and Aber, Craig, Duniway, Jesse, Miller, and Knowles halls are co-ed. Pantzer Hall, which provides four-person suites, was completed in 1995. Family housing can be found just three blocks south of the main campus in University Villages and Toole Village. Students interested in the Greek life have four sororities and seven fraternities from which to choose.

The University of Montana has a nine-hole golf course, located just south of the main campus. The Grizzly Pool is a seven-lane, 25-yard indoor swimming pool which features numerous classes and programs and has been recently upgraded. The Student Recreation Center, adjacent to the Adams Center, has undergone a major renovation. Finished in Fall 2001, it provides students with three levels of state-of-the-art exercise equipment, racquetball, handball and basketball courts, and a two-story glass enclosed climbing wall, "the wall with a view."

The Outdoor Program provides opportunities for the campus community to participate in recreational activities such as rafting, kayaking, climbing, hiking, backpacking and skiing.

UM owns and operates Lubrecht Experimental Forest, a 28,000-acre teaching and research forest. Located approximately 30 miles northeast of Missoula, Lubrecht Forest provides the opportunity for students to learn tree thinning and harvesting techniques in addition to working on forest and ecological projects.

The Flathead Lake Biological Station, located at Yellow Bay on the east side of the lake, is a year-round research facility and academic center for the ecological sciences. The freshwater research laboratory encompasses 80 acres.

UM also has had 47 international Fulbright Scholars, eight Truman Scholars, five Goldwater Scholars and 28 Rhodes Scholars.

The University was listed among the top 25 universities and colleges in the nation for Peace Corps recruiting, was named one of the nation's best paddling colleges in Paddler magazine and is profiled in America's 100 Best College Buys and Barron's Best Buys in College Education.

GRIZZLY ATHLETICS

The University of Montana offers 14 intercollegiate athletic programs for student-athletes in football, men's and women's basketball, women's volleyball, soccer and golf, men's and women's cross country, tennis, and both indoor and outdoor track and field.

Montana is a charter (1963) member of the Big Sky Conference, which consists of eight teams: Cal State-Sacramento, Eastern Washington, Idaho State, Montana, Montana State, Northern Arizona, Portland State and Weber State.

The Montana Grizzlies have always been a force to reckon with, particularly in the revenue sports. The Grizzly football team has had unprecedented success in the 1990s and early 2000's, winning the NCAA Division I-AA National Football Championship title in 1995 and 2001, and advancing to the title game in 1996 and 2000.

Montana's gridders have registered 16 winning seasons in a row, and set a Big Sky record by making their ninth straight appearance in the playoffs in 2001.

The Griz had 19 players named to the All-Big Sky team in 2001, and senior safety Vince Huntsberger was named the MVP on defense. Montana had eight different players named to All-American teams last season.

The Grizzly basketball team has posted 23 winning seasons in the past 25 years. Guard David Bell was a first team all-conference selection following the 2001-2002 season, while forward Dan Trammel was an honorable mention pick for the second year in a row.

Adam Bork (above) earned All-America honors by placing sixth in the decathlon at the NCAA Championships, while Lizzie Wertz received All-Big Sky Conference honorable mention recognition.

Montana won the Big Sky's post-season tournament in Bozeman last season, beating Eastern Washington 70-66 in the title game and advancing to the NCAA tournament for the fifth time in school history, losing 81-62 to Oregon in a first round game played in Sacramento, California's ARCO Arena.

The Griz hoop teams own five Big Sky trophies, including back-to-back titles in 1991 and 1992.

Lady Griz head coach Robin Selvig (UM 1974), who played hoops for the Griz, has a 24-year record of 555-158. In 1999-2000 he became the seventh coach in NCAA Division I women's basketball to win 500 games at one school.

Last season, senior guard Cheryl Keller and freshman center Hollie Tyler were named to the all-conference first team, with Tyler also garnering the Outstanding Freshman Award.

The Lady Griz basketball team was ranked 26th in the nation in attendance in 2001-02 with an average of 3,468 fans and has been among the top 20 for 17 of the past 19 years.

McKenzie Zajonc was named the 2001 Big Sky Conference Defensive Player of the Year.

The Lady Griz basketball team recorded their 20th 20-win season in the past 22 years in the 2000-01, going 21-9. They have won 14 Big Sky titles and advanced to the NCAA tournament 14 times.

The 2001 Grizzly volleyball team of second-year head coach Nikki Best was decimated with injuries. Last year sophomore outside hitter Lizzie Wertz was an honorable mention all-conference pick. Montana has advanced to the Big Sky Championships 11 times in the 15-year history of the tournament.

UM's women's soccer team has gone 101-47-4 since head coach Betsy Duerksen took over the inaugural program eight seasons ago.

Last season, defenders Kerri Houck and Elisa Scherb were chosen first team all-conference, along with mid-fielders Nikki Boldstad and Liz Roberts. Midfielder Mackenzie Zajonc was tabbed the league's "Defensive MVP."

In 2000, Montana's women's soccer team advanced to the NCAA Championships and made it to the second round before losing to second-seed Washington in Seattle.

Coach Kris Nord led the men's and women's tennis teams to the 2002 Big Sky Championships, where they faced tough competition. Freshman Lindsey Torgerson was an honorable mention all-league selection last season.

Montana's women's golf coach, Joanne Steele, has consistently put together competitive teams for the past six years. This past year, the Lady Griz placed second in the Big Sky championships, their highest finish ever. Montana sophomore Katie Jacobson won the individual title, also a first for the Griz.

The Grizzly cross country women and men's teams both finished fourth in the conference championships last season.

The Griz track and field teams had a solid 2002 season, with coach Tom Raunig and his assistants sending 39 athletes to the outdoor Big Sky championships, which was hosted by Montana. The men's team had a lofty second-place finish, while the women's squad finished fourth.

UM's mascot Monte was named to the 2002 Capital One All-America Mascot Team.

For the second year in a row Adam Bork earned All-America honors at the outdoor championships by placing sixth in the decathlon. He is UM's fourth All-America decathlete in five years. Junior Scott McGowan earned All-America honors in the outdoor 1500 meters after earning All-America honors in the indoor mile.

Athletic facilities at Montana have improved dramatically over the last few years. One of those improvements was a $14.3 million renovation to the field house, which created Adams Center. The Adams Center features two new auxiliary gyms, a major facelift for Dahlberg Arena, a new weight center, an athletic treatment center, locker rooms, and an academic center for student-athletes.

Washington-Grizzly football stadium was completed in 1986 and can accommodate a total of 19,005 fans. The natural-grass stadium gave way to SprinTurf for the 2001 season. A million dollars was given by an anonymous donor for the new playing surface, which is named "John Hoyt Field."

Dornblaser Stadium, located on the UM south campus, recently went through a complete refurbishing and is now one of the nicest outdoor track facilities in the conference.

UM's South Campus Soccer Stadium was completed in 1996 and features a fully fenced venue, scoreboard, remodeled locker rooms, and seating for 1,000.

The University also has its own golf course, several soccer fields, and a newly remodeled swimming pool.

A renovated state-of-the-art campus recreation facility, which is adjacent to Adams Center, opened in the fall of 2001. It features racquetball and basketball courts, aerobic/cardio-vascular workout rooms, expanded weight room, locker rooms, a climbing wall, and a place to buy sandwiches, salads, juice and coffee. The facility is located on four floors.

Grizzly athletes receive outstanding support services in the areas of academics, athletic treatment, equipment, financial aid, and sports information.

David Bell was an All-Big Sky Conference selection and helped lead the Grizzlies to the 2002 Big Sky Conference Tournament championship and a berth in the NCAA Tournament.

Cheryl Keller was named to the 2001-02 All-Big Sky Conference First Team.

The Grizzly football team won its second NCAA 1-AA national title in 2001.

The University of Montana has had 28 Rhodes Scholars. UM ranks 15th among American colleges and universities in the number of Rhodes Scholars it has produced, fifth among public universities.

UM's School of Education graduates compete very successfully for jobs. A high percentage of those with bachelor's degrees and graduate degrees find teaching, administrative and other education-related positions in Montana and many other states.

The Department of Social Work is fully accredited by the Council on Social Work Education, making UM the only Montana public school that prepares its graduates to apply for advanced standing in graduate schools of social work.

The Department of Drama/Dance has a professional theater group—the Montana Repertory Theatre based on campus. The Rep, which tours throughout the nation, is the only touring professional actors equity company between Minneapolis and Seattle.

KUFM, a non-commercial public radio station operated by the UM Broadcast Media Center, reaches an estimated 400,000 Montanans in central and western Montana. KUFM-TV is a non-commercial public television station also operated by the Broadcast Media Center. KBGA Radio is a student-run campus radio station.

Nine UM students have received Truman Scholarships. The national scholarship is given annually to students committed to a government career who have superior academic ability and leadership potential.

The Department of Anthropology has the largest collection of artifacts and records of prehistory in the region.

UM's Museum of Fine Arts has the largest art collection in the state.

The School of Business is the only business school in Montana to be accredited by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business at the graduate level. Year in and year out, a high percentage of the school's accounting graduates pass the Certified Public Accountant Exam on their first try.

The Department of Geology has a strong nationally known program in traditional geology and environmental geoscience.

The Department of Geography has one of the Northwest's best cartography laboratories, where students learn to make maps and interpret aerial photography.

The Flathead Lake Biological Station, located about 80 miles north of Missoula, is the oldest biological station west of the Mississippi. The UM research station is one of the finest facilities in the country for ecological studies and freshwater research.

The Department of Health and Human Performance is one of a handful in the country that prepares students to be athletic trainers.

The School of Journalism has had seven Pulitzer Prize winners. UM journalism student Bruce Ely was named College Photographer of the Year in the 1998 national competition for the Hearst Journalism Awards Program.

UM's graduate creative writing program, started in 1919 by H.G. Merriam, is the second oldest program of its kind in the country and is consistently ranked among the top 10 programs nationwide. Well-known Montana writer and poet James Welch is a graduate of the program.

A significant sign of UM's commitment to academics came in 1993 when former faculty athletic representative Dr. Robert O. Lindsay developed a program at UM to honor student athletes who excel in the classroom. Since then, UM has recognized student athletes who earn a 3.0 grade point average or higher at the annual Lindsay Academic Awards Dinner. Last year, a record 140 student-athletes were recognized at the awards function.

The Big Sky Conference has had 47 NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship selections since 1965, and of those players, 13 have been Grizzlies.

Last season, football player Vince Huntsberger received an NCAA postgraduate scholarship, becoming the 11th Montana student-athlete so honored in the last 11 years. During the 2001-02 season, 81 UM athletes from all sports earned Big Sky All-Academic honors.

The Lady Griz basketball team has enjoyed its share of academic success as well. Six members of the Lady Griz were selected to the Big Sky Conference All-Academic Team for the 2001-02 season. They included Cheryl Keller, Juliann Keller, Brooklynn Lorenzen, Lynsey Monaco, Simarron Schildt and Hollie Tyler. It was the fourth time Schildt and Cheryl Keller earned a spot on the team, becoming the 12th and 13th players to be four-time honorees.

A total of eight Lady Griz have earned the Big Sky Conference Scholar-Athlete Award. Linda Cummings is the last UM player to earn the award, receiving it in 2001.

Six UM women's basketball players have earned the NCAA Woman of the Year Award for the state of Montana. Megan Harrington was the last recipient, earning the honor in 2000.

Shannon Cate is not only the program's all-time leading scorer, but also one of the top academic performers. A four-time academic all-conference pick, she also was the Big Sky Scholar-Athlete in 1992.

Simarron Schildt was named to the Big Sky Conference All-Academic Team for the fourth time in her career during the 2001-02 season. She is one of 13 Lady Griz players to earn academic all-conference honors four times.

Jacobson Academic Center

The latest addition to academic services for student athletes is the Jacobson Academic Center. Thanks to the generous contributions of Curt and Lanni Jacobson, student-athletes now have a computer lab/study room to use during the day.

The Jacobson Academic Center has six computers and a laser printer. In addition, there are five additional spaces for individual studying. A small conference room is available for group studying.

The Jacobson Academic Center is a key component in the success of Grizzly student-athletes in the classroom. In addition to student-athletes independently using the Jacobson Academic Center, Athletic Academic Services uses the facility for several of its programs.

Under the guidance of coordinator Jean Cornwall, Athletic Academic Services offers tutoring and advising at the center.

The Jacobson Academic Center is located on the Adams Center's ground floor, down the hall from the Athletic Performance Center.

Jean Cornwall

Coord. of Athletic Academic Services

Jean Cornwall has been UM's Coordinator of Athletic Academic Services for three and a half years. She oversees UM student-athletes in academic progress, advising on course curriculum, tutoring, referring to campus support services, overseeing completion of general education requirements, and upholding NCAA academic regulations. Cornwall previously served as UM's Coordinator of the Four Bear Four-Year Graduation Program from 1995-99. She served as an academic advisor, program assistant, assistant to the director and receptionist since she began work at UM in 1991.

A native of Lewistown, Cornwall received a B.A. in psychology from UM in 1995 and is pursuing a master's degree in public administration.

ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE CENTER

As part of the recent renovation to the Adams Center, a 7,000-square foot Athletic Performance Center was created. The current facility is approximately twice as large as the previous weight room used in the Adams Center over the years.

The new center, which is home to the Griz student-athletes, is geared to enhance the overall athletic performance of the teams.

The Athletic Performance Center staff designs, implements and evaluates strength and conditioning programs for all Grizzly athletes.

Chris Wieseman, director of the Athletic Performance Center, oversees the women's basketball team's training efforts.

Sport-specific weight training, coupled with movement-specific conditioning results in a greater overall training effect that transfers to the court during the season.

Lifting is also a focus during the season. The student-athletes focus on several core lifts to maintain their strength levels during the long and grueling season.

The Lady Griz also take part in an extensive off-season program during the summer. The 10-week program focuses on increasing overall, full-body strength to form the foundation in which the sport-specific exercises and drills are built upon during the preseason conditioning program.

"This comprehensive approach to training provides the athletes with the stimuli they need to maximize their performance on the court," said Wieseman.

The University of Montana's Athletic Performance Center was renovated during the 1998-99 academic year. Now approximately twice as large, the Athletic Performance Center features numerous free-weight stations and several weight-training machines.

Wieseman said the goal of the Athletic Performance Center is to be as sport specific as possible. He added the program is scientifically-based and intended to increase one's athleticism, as well as decrease an athlete's susceptibility to injury.

"Training for basketball has become a 12-month endeavor," Wieseman said. "The program evolves through several cycles over the course of the calendar year, building towards the climax of the season."

"Our goal is not to make them world class weightlifters, but to provide the athletes the tools they will need to excel in the game of basketball," added Wieseman.

Chris Wieseman

Director of Athletic Performance Center

Chris Wieseman is in his fourth season at The University of Montana as the director of the Athletic Performance Center. He holds a Bachelor's Degree in community health education from the University of Nebraska.

He spent three years at Nebraska as a student assistant strength coach, developing and implementing various strength and conditioning programs with the Cornhuskers' athletic teams.

A native of Stromsburg, Neb., Wieseman's wife's name is Tara.

Lacey Degnan

Asst. Dir. of Athletic Performance Center

Lacey Degnan is in his fourth year as the Assistant Director of the Athletic Performance Center.

An Athens, Ga., native, Degnan earned a Bachelor's Degree in psychology from Barry College in Rome, Ga., in 1996. He then completed an internship with the Miami Dolphins, in addition to spending two summers as a volunteer at the University of Georgia.

Degnan worked as a graduate assistant at the University of Nebraska in its athletic performance center from 1998-99 before coming to Montana.

RHINEHART ATHLETIC TRAINING CENTER

The Rhinehart Athletic Training Center has expanded as part of the Adams Center renovation.

Naseby "Doc" Rhinehart came to Missoula in 1931 from Milwaukee, Wis., to play football and basketball. He also competed in track and field where he had bests of 23 feet in the long jump and 140 feet in the discus.

After graduating in 1935 from The University of Montana, Rhinehart was asked if he was interested in becoming the UM head certified athletic trainer. He did and stayed at the University for 47 years, retiring in 1982. He was one of the first people in the nation to develop an athletic training curriculum (1971) at a university.

Preventative maintenance occurs in the form of injury-screening processes, flexibility, taping and strengthening exercises.

Montana has a well-established athletic training curriculum which allows instructors to work directly with the student-athletes.

Completed in the fall of 1999, the newly-remodeled Rhinehart Athletic Training Center boasts 7,200 square feet of space and includes an enlarged rehabilitation area. Also included are athletic trainers' offices, six hydrotherapy units and a consulting office where nutritionists and doctors can meet with athletes. There are also classrooms for the athletic training curriculum.

Jennifer Mason, an assistant certified athletic trainer, serves as the primary contact for the Lady Griz. She is in her fourth year at Montana.

The RATC provides numerous ways to treat injuries: electrical stimulation units, whirlpools, free weights and balance boards. The primary goal of the athletic training staff is to provide quality care for student-athletes while helping them safely return to competition.

When a student-athlete is injured, an athletic trainer evaluates the severity of the injury and renders whatever care is needed. Depending on the extent of the injury, the student-athlete visits the center daily, at least two to three times, for treatment and rehabilitation exercises. The athletic training staff works together with the Athletic Performance staff to monitor the student-athlete's strengthening exercises. Once student-athletes have regained strength and function, they are allowed to return to the playing field or court.

Although athletic trainers provide injury care, they also promote injury prevention.

Dennis Murphy

Head Certified Athletic Trainer

Dennis is in his 21st year as head athletic trainer at UM. He oversees the Rhinehart Athletic Treatment Center, serves as the primary athletic trainer for men's basketball, and serves as an instructor for the Department of Health and Human Performance.

"Murph" received his B.S. degree from UM in HPE with a specialization in athletic training and adaptive physical education in 1975.

He has been certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association since 1975. He served as the assistant athletic trainer and lecturer at the University of Arizona from 1978-80 prior to his appointment at UM.

Murphy has taught numerous training-related classes, has been a guest speaker at sports clinics and has written articles for athletic training publications. Murphy is a native of Ovando.

Jennifer Mason

Assistant Certified Athletic Trainer

As an assistant certified athletic trainer, Jennifer Mason's responsibilities include primary athletic training duties for volleyball and women's basketball in addition to teaching various athletic training courses.

Mason spent a year as an assistant athletic trainer at Vanderbilt from 1997-98. She received a B.S. in kinesiology and biology from Colorado in 1995 and earned a Master's Degree in physical education and kinesiology from Cal State-Hayward in 1997. While working on her M.S. degree, she served as a graduate assistant athletic trainer at Cal-Berkeley from 1995-97. She also served as a student athletic trainer at Colorado from 1992-95.

A native of Genoa, Nevada, Mason was a middle hitter for the Colorado women's volleyball team in 1990 and 1991. She received a NACDA Sears Directors' Cup Postgraduate Scholarship in 1995. She has been certified by the National Athletic Trainers' Association (NATA) since 1995.

J.C. Weida

Assistant Certified Athletic Trainer

J.C. Weida is in his seventh year as assistant athletic trainer for Grizzly Athletics. His primary responsibility is the treatment of UM football players, but he also assists in all daily activities in the athletic training center.

Weida returned to Montana after spending the 1995-96 school year as the assistant athletic trainer at Pepperdine University in Malibu, Calif.

A native of Deer Lodge, Weida is a double graduate of The University of Montana. He received his B.S. degree in health and human performance with an emphasis in athletic training in 1992 and his M.S. degree in exercise sciences in 1995. He was certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) in June of 1992.

J.C. and his wife Renn have three children: twins Ezra and Isabella and newborn Maggie.

Birthplace and hometown of author Norman McLean, who wrote A River Runs Through It, Missoula is also known as the "Garden City" for its dense trees and lush green landscape. Missoula is nestled in the heart of the northern Rockies in western Montana. A community of approximately 57,000 residents, Missoula lies in a mountain forest setting where five valleys converge. Missoula is Montana's most culturally diverse city. It is 140 miles from Glacier National Park and 270 miles from Yellowstone National Park.

"Out to Lunch" is a popular summer pastime in downtown Missoula every week from early June through the last Wednesday in August. It features food venues and live music. (Photo by Mark Gorseth, courtesy of Missoula Downtown Association)

The search for gold in the West and the completion of the Mullan Road, which opened up travel from Fort Benton, Mont., to Walla Walla, Wash., brought people to the valley in 1860. Missoula began as a settlement called Hell Gate when C.P. Higgins and Francis Worden began a trading post to accommodate the travelers. The settlement was later renamed Missoula, taken from a Salish Flathead Indian word, imisuletiku, "At the stream or water of surprise." (Missoula, the Way It Was, Lenora Koelbe, 1972).

Early settlers constructed Fort Missoula in 1877 to combat the perceived threat by Native American tribes. Today the Fort Missoula Museum remains a testament to the West.

Missoula offers a variety of recreational opportunities. Three major rivers run through the area: the famous Blackfoot River to the northeast, the beautiful Bitterroot River to the south, and the Clark Fork of the Columbia River, which flows adjacent to The University of Montana campus. Rock Creek, known for its blue ribbon trout fishing, is just a 20-minute drive from Missoula.

Fly fishermen, rafters, kayakers, and canoers thrive on the waters of western Montana. Flathead Lake, the largest natural freshwater lake in the western United States, is just 70 miles north of Missoula. Seeley Lake, Georgetown Lake, Placid Lake and Salmon Lake are less than a few hours away.

Hiking, biking, camping, rock climbing, and hang gliding are a few activities enjoyed in western Montana. Mount Sentinel, Mount Jumbo, Lolo Peak, and Blue Mountain offer beautiful vistas. Blue Mountain Recreation Area, Pattee Canyon Recreation Area, and the Rattlesnake National Wilderness Area are nearby. The Bitterroot-Selway Wilderness Area, Bob Marshall Wilderness Area, the Mission Mountains, and the Seeley-Swan Range are a short drive from Missoula.

Missoula abounds with skiing opportunities. Snowbowl Ski Area is a 20-minute drive from downtown Missoula and features a continuous vertical drop of 2,600 feet, one of the steepest in the country. Marshall Ski Area, a short 10-minute drive from downtown, features night skiing and offers a good student program. Big Mountain, Discovery, Lookout, Lost Trail, and Silver Mountain provide a variety of options for skiers all within close proximity to western Montana. Groomed cross-country trails can be found at nearly every wilderness area and are especially popular at Lolo Pass, about 40 miles southwest of Missoula.

Other area attractions include "A Carousel for Missoula" (one of the first fully hand-carved carousels to be built in America since the Great Depression), Garnet Ghost Town, the National Bison Range, the Ninemile Remount Depot and Ranger Station, the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation Wildlife Visitor Center, and the Smokejumper Visitor Center.

Missoula Parks and Recreation and the YMCA provide a variety of recreational opportunities in basketball, soccer, softball, tennis, volleyball, and ice skating. Little League baseball is popular for both boys and girls, and Missoula teams have consistently advanced to regional competition.

Missoula serves as a center for education, medicine, retail, and the arts. The University of Montana provides educational opportunities for more than 13,000 college students, and Missoula's five high schools are among the state's best in both academics and athletics. Community Medical Center and St. Patrick Hospital, along with many clinics, make Missoula one of the state's premier health care communities.

The Missoula community supports the arts in all its forms: theater productions, dance, art, and music. The Missoula Children's Theater, founded in 1970, moved into a newly renovated building near campus and produces plays and musicals by national and local playwrights for both adults and children. The theater also has an International Tour Project, bringing theatrical productions to audiences outside the Missoula area. The Garden City Ballet and Missoula Symphony, which is in its 50th season, bring performances and concerts to the community year round. The Missoula Museum of Arts, located in the old Carnegie Library in downtown Missoula, sponsors changing exhibits and also has a permanent collection which focuses on Western contemporary art.

One of the most desirable places to live in the United States, western Montana has become an attractive residence for those looking for pristine beauty and serenity. Even some of America's famous people, such as Liz Claiborne, Tom Cruise, Emilio Estevez, Phil Jackson, and Charlie Sheen, have made western Montana their home.

American Heritage Magazine selected Missoula as the 1999 Great American Place, and Sunset Magazine selected Missoula as the "Best Community" in the West in 1999. In September 2001, Outside Magazine ranked Missoula as one of 10 so-called "dream towns." CNN Money selected Missoula as one of the 10 best places to live in 2002. In addition, The Associated Press reported that a weather forecasting company ranked Missoula No. 1 on its list of 10 U.S. cities with the best summer weather.

Missoula is easily accessible by either Interstate 90 from the east and west or by Highway 93 to the north and south. Missoula International Airport has a number of flights daily in and out of Missoula by the major airlines Delta, Northwest, United, and Horizon. Big Sky Airlines also lands in Missoula several times a day. It serves Montana, Spokane, Wash., North Dakota and Denver.

DAHLBERG ARENA

The Lady Griz have found tremendous success in the confines of Dahlberg Arena, which was named after the great George "Jiggs" Dahlberg, who was an athlete, a coach and an athletic director at The University of Montana.

Dahlberg earned six varsity letters at UM in football and basketball in the early 1920s. He was the Grizzly basketball coach for 22 years (1937-54) and then became athletic director (1954-70). Dahlberg passed away in September of 1993, just two weeks after he was inducted into the Grizzly Sports Hall of Fame. He will be remembered for his success at Montana, and the Lady Griz basketball team continue to carry on that tradition.

Over the last 21 years, the Lady Griz have posted a 308-27 record in Dahlberg Arena for a .919 winning percentage.

Montana has had 20 crowds with more than 6,000 fans in attendance, and annually ranks among the national leaders in attendance. The Lady Griz program averaged 3,468 fans per home game last season, ranking 26th nationally.

Montana has ranked in the nation's top 18 in 14 of the past 16 seasons the Lady Griz have played at Dahlberg Arena. Seven times the Lady Griz have ranked among the top 10 in attendance.
