2006 GRIZZLY VOLLEYBALL

THE 2006 SEASON

First year Montana volleyball coach Jerry Wagner has big goals and a clear vision of where he wants to take the Grizzly program.

"We want to be one of those teams that has year-in and year-out success," Wagner said recently, "and that makes annual runs at conference championships and the program that other teams in the conference look at as the model of how to do things."

But Wagner also knows that the journey to that destination won't be an overnight process, and that it starts with the first day of practice of the 2006 season.

"It's tough to talk about long-term goals right now, because those long-term goals start with what we do right now," he continued. "We need to restore the confidence in the players and build that sense of pride that we've had in the past, not only amongst the players and coaches, but in the eyes of our fans, the coaches around the state and prospective student-athletes."

Few coaches have a better sense of the pride Griz volleyball enjoyed in the NCAA tournament days of the early 1990s than Wagner, who spent three impressionable seasons as Dick Scott's top assistant.

Wagner was hired in May to replace Nikki Best, who spent six years at Montana, but whose teams missed the Big Sky Conference tournament the final five of those seasons. The Grizzlies went 14-15 in 2005, 3-11 in league play, and graduated starting setter Diana Thompson and middle blocker Audrey Jensen.

The first step toward reaching Wagner's lofty goals is a small one: be one of the six teams to make the 2006 Big Sky tournament.

"The talent is definitely in place for us to make a push to get into the tournament," Wagner said. "Coming into the program, one of the things I thought that was needed was to diversify the offense. I think this team was a little too predictable in the past, so we hope to up the tempo and create a different atmosphere offensively."

As most first-year coaches do, Wagner will rely heavily on his senior class of outside hitter Claudia Houle, middle blocker/outside hitter Emily Sakis and middle blocker/outside hitter EvaLyn Whitehead.

"The seniors on this team are an extremely determined and physical group of players," Wagner said, "and we're going to rely on them heavily. I plan to put them in positions where they are going to have a big say in what we do this year. They are going to be the cornerstone of turning this thing around."

In her third season at Montana, Houle, who has twice earned second team all-league honors, is one of the Big Sky's top outside hitters. She has led the team in kills the last two years and her 23 double-doubles in 2005 tied for the conference lead. Houle was named the Collegiate Volleyball Update national player of the week last August after leading the Grizzlies to a title at Maine's tournament.

Sakis, one of two team captains, is entering her second year with the Grizzlies. One of the most efficient hitters in the Big Sky, Sakis led the Grizzlies in hitting percentage in her first season (.301) and her .293 hitting percentage in Big Sky play ranked seventh in the league.

Whitehead, the lone senior to have spent her entire career at Montana, provides the team with a dominant physical presence in the front court, where she is one of the team's top returning blockers at 6-4. She has played in 215 career games and recorded 441 kills and 171 blocks.

Montana's junior class is made up of setter Shelley Boyd, middle blocker Jessica Petersen and libero Jackie White.

Boyd, the team's other captain for 2006 along with Sakis, returns to the court after redshirting the 2005 season. Boyd, who has 852 career assists, was the Grizzlies' starting setter as a freshman in 2003 before splitting setting duties with Thompson in 2004. She'll contend for playing time in 2006 with freshman Taryn Wright.

Petersen started 20 matches for UM in 2005 and tied for second on the team in blocks with 66. She finished sixth on the team in both kills (1.63 kpg) and hitting percentage (.162).

White is one of the Big Sky's top liberos and Montana's most passionate on-court player. She led the team in digs (5.19 dpg) as a sophomore, and her average of 6.31 digs per game in league play led the conference. White's 46 digs at Weber State last fall broke the 18-year-old Big Sky record of 45 and the 14-year-old Montana record of 43.

UM's sophomore class includes libero Julie Faulk, outside hitter/middle blocker Lauren Gustafson, outside hitter Micaela Parker and outside hitter Jade Roskam.

Faulk and Roskam both played for the Grizzlies in 2005, with Faulk ranking fifth on the team in digs (1.92 dpg) and Roskam finishing as the team's third leading hitter at 2.26 kills per game.

Gustafson and Parker join the Griz under different circumstances. Gustafson, a Billings, Mont., native, transferred to Montana after spending the 2005 season at Louisiana Tech, where she had 78 kills and 36 blocks while playing in 26 matches for the Lady Techsters.

Parker rejoins the team after electing to sit out the 2005 season. She is an established outside hitter who led the team in service aces and was third in kills as a freshman in 2004.

Montana has a four-player incoming freshman class: outside hitter Theresa Bennett from Dillon, Mont., middle blocker Stephanie Stromath from Manhattan Beach, Calif., outside hitter Stephanie Turner from Dayton, Wash., and Wright, a setter from Fair Oaks, Calif.

"(Being hired in May), the freshman class is still a little bit of an unknown to me," Wagner said. "but I see them adding a lot of energy and athleticism to the team."

With the addition of Northern Colorado to the Big Sky in 2006, the Grizzlies will play a 16-match conference schedule, which will allow for pre-conference tournaments at California, Nevada and Portland.

The Big Sky schedule opens Sept. 15, with a home match against Montana State. That will also serve as Montana's home opener.

"During the non-conference season we're hoping to accomplish the goals we have of remaking ourselves and establishing a new identity," Wagner said. "It will take each one of those matches to tell us where we're at in the process."

After 18 years as an assistant coach at Montana, Oregon State, Montana State and Gonzaga, Wagner is ready to not only get his own head coaching career rolling, but getting the Griz back to where he remembers them being on an annual basis: near the top of the Big Sky standings.

"I've been preparing myself 18 years for the opportunity to come back to Montana and coach," Wagner said. "Almost all of my special volleyball memories were here."

"The success and the pride that were instilled in me during the time that I was here have never left me, and we need to return those things to the program. This is the team that I want to start establishing those things with, because I think it's capable of achieving many good things."

THE COACHES

Jerry Wagner

Head Coach • First Season
Montana State-Northern, '86

Montana volleyball coach Jerry Wagner begins his first season with the Grizzlies in 2006 after being hired on May 5. He replaces Nikki Best, who coached UM for six seasons.

Wagner becomes a head coach after spending the previous 18 seasons as an assistant coach or associate head coach at the Division I level, including three years at Montana, and his association with volleyball coaching goes back to the fall of 1979.

He has nine years of Big Sky Conference coaching experience.

Wagner's Division I experience started in 1988 when he was hired by Dick Scott to serve as an assistant with the Grizzly volleyball program. Wagner helped Montana to two 20-win seasons in his three years at Missoula (1988-90) and the program's first NCAA tournament appearance in 1990.

Wagner took an assistant job at Oregon State following the 1990 season, uniting with coaching friend Dave Gantt, who had taken the head job with the Beavers after working with the U.S. national team.

Gantt left OSU after the 1992 season, but Wagner remained on the Oregon State staff when Jeff Mozzochi was hired as the head coach. Mozzochi is now the coach at Portland State.

Wagner worked under Mozzochi and with the Beavers for six seasons (1993-98) before reuniting with Gantt, who had returned to coaching in 1994, at Montana State.

In eight seasons at Corvallis, Ore., Wagner's teams won 125 matches and earned trips to the Women's Invitational Volleyball Championship (WIVC) in 1993 and '94.

Wagner was the top assistant with the Bobcats and Gantt for four seasons (1999-2002) and was the associate head coach under current Montana State coach Miya Malauulu for the 2003 and '04 seasons.

In six seasons at Montana State, Wagner was part of teams that went 117-54 (.684).

Wagner spent the 2005 season as an assistant at Gonzaga, where he helped the Bulldogs to a six-win improvement from 2004 and the program's best record in a decade.

Born in Havre, Mont., Wagner was the youngest of four children. He was a 1979 graduate of Havre High School, where he wrestled and played tennis, football and basketball.

Wagner's coaching career started the fall of his first year in college, 1979, when he was the student (and lone) assistant coach for the Northern Montana College (now Montana State-Northern) volleyball program. He coached for two seasons (1979-80) before graduating with an associate degree in drafting.

After working as a draftsman in the private sector for two years, Wagner enrolled again at Northern Montana (NMC) in the fall of 1983, from which he would graduate in 1986 with a degree in secondary education with an extended major in physical education.

Now fully immersed in coaching volleyball, Wagner spent the next four falls (1983-86) as an assistant at NMC and spent the 1985, '86 and '87 winters as the first head coach at Havre High.

In 1987 Wagner served as the head coach at Northern Montana before joining Scott's staff at Montana in 1988.

Wagner spent the 2005 season as an assistant at Gonzaga, where he helped lead the Bulldogs to a six-win improvement from 2004 and their best finish in 10 years. Photo courtesy of Zero Gravity Photography.

Head coach, University of Montana	First season

Q: What does it mean to you to have this job?

A: This opportunity means everything to me. It's a dream come true. I've been preparing myself 18 years for this opportunity to come back and coach at the university where it all started for me. The pride that was instilled in me during the time that I was here has never left.

Q: What is the biggest challenge to getting the program back to the success of years past?

A: We need to have some success, but we also need to build a sense of pride in what we're doing. We need to restore the confidence in the players that we can be successful if we can do certain things.

And we need to restore the pride of the program in the eyes of our fans and the coaches around the state.

How do you do that? We need to build an identity of success so that it is visible for everyone to see the direction we're going, how we carry ourselves and what our objectives are.

We also need to include and reconnect with our alumni from the past that have had a multitude of success in their volleyball careers and also in their current endeavors. It's important to me to get them connected.

Q: Talk about some of the influential coaches in your career.

A: I've learned something from every coach I've been involved with. My first experience was with Dick Scott. He brought energy, passion, desire and intensity to his coaching. That was very infectuous and a positive influence on what I would like to do.

Dave Gantt was very business-like. He knew when to pick his moments, and he was very articulate in his presentation.

Jeff Mozzochi was very good at structuring practices to involve both the game-like aspects and the individual development of players.

I hope I can take a mixture of all these experiences and create my own style.

Q: You have a reputation as a good recruiter. What makes you so and what qualities do you look for in a recruit?

A: What makes me a very good recruiter is I'm honest, I'm down to earth and I enjoy the process of getting to know not only the student-athlete but their parents and where they come from. I enjoy that part of it.

I think people can see that I'm very invested in their daughters as student-athletes.

Of course I'm able to do that because of the excellent support situation that we have at the University of Montana. I'm then able to go into a home and convince them that their daughter is going to be well taken care of and this is the place to be.

As far as what I'm looking for, I want an athletic and coachable player and somebody that's been a leader and has a court presence. I'm looking for someone who wants to get better every day and somebody that is not done learning.

Q: What is the potential for this year's team?

A: I'm going to take a very simple and easy course for us to follow. We have the potential to be in the Big Sky Conference tournament. We have a lot of experience. We have 10 players coming back to this team who have invaluable Big Sky Conference competitive experience at their positions. That's a lot of experience on a team of 14 players.

The potential of this team, without question, is making the Big Sky Conference tournament, and I want everyone associated with the program to be that single-minded.

Q: What makes it so tough to win in the Big Sky Conference?

A: First of all, there are some excellent coaches in the conference. We all have very capable players and excellent coaching, so it comes down to who can get their team to play together and who has some fortunate outcomes in some tight situations that gives a team confidence.

Q: What do your long-term goals for the program?

A: It's tough to talk about long-term goals right now, because those long-term goals start with what we do right now. We need to restore that sense of pride and that sense of accomplishment that we can have right here at Montana as early as this year.

This is the team that I want to start establishing those things with because I think they're capable of achieving many things.

My long-term goal is that we are one of those teams that on a given year, when we've done what we're supposed to as coaches and we've included and recruited those types of individuals that can excel not only here but excel at whatever they do, we have year-in and year-out success and we are the program that other teams in this conference are looking at as the model of how to do it.

Ryan Platt

Assistant Coach • First Season
Lewis-Clark State, '02

Ryan Platt is in his first year as an assistant coach with the Montana volleyball program, where his on-court duties include working with the team's outside hitters and assisting with the coordination of the team's defense. He joined the Grizzly coaching staff in May 2006 after serving as a volunteer assistant coach for one season at Gonzaga, where Grizzly volleyball coach Jerry Wagner was an assistant.

Platt had nine years (1992-2000) of successful high school and club volleyball coaching experience in Idaho before breaking into the collegiate coaching ranks in August 2000 as an assistant coach at Lewis-Clark State. In two seasons Platt helped lead the NAIA Warriors to a combined record of 48-11, one Frontier Conference regular-season championship and two trips to the NAIA Region I tournament.

Platt was the interim head coach at Lewis-Clark State from January 2002 until June 2002, when he was named head coach at Eastern Oregon University in La Grande, Ore., where he coached three seasons.

Platt played one year of basketball at Boise State before transferring to Lewis-Clark State, where he was a three-year member of the men's volleyball program. Platt earned a kinesiology degree from L-C State in 2002.

Allison Weston

Assistant Coach • Fifth Season
Nebraska, '97

Allison Weston, a former U.S. Olympic volleyball player, is in her fifth year on the Montana volleyball coaching staff, where her on-court duties include working with the team's middle blockers and assisting with the coordination of the team's up-tempo offense.

Weston is one of the premier players in NCAA and U.S. volleyball history. At Nebraska she opened her career by earning 1992 Big 8 Conference Newcomer of the Year honors. She closed her career being named the 1995 AVCA co-National Player of the Year after leading the Cornhuskers to a 32-1 record and the national title.

In between she was a three-time AVCA All-American, a two-time Big 8 Conference Player of the Year, a three-time All-Big 8 Conference selection and a two-time Big 8 Conference tournament MVP.

Also a success in the classroom, Weston was a two-time Academic All-American and a three-time Academic All-Big 8 Conference selection.

After earning a bachelor's degree in natural resources from Nebraska in 1997, Weston joined the U.S. National Team in May 1997. Named team captain in January 1999, Weston led the squad at the 2000 Olympics in Sydney, Australia, and helped the U.S. advance to the bronze medal match. In 2000, Weston left the national team and played professionally in Italy for one season.

Weston is a native of Papillion, Neb.

Allison Weston led Nebraska to the 1995 national championship and was named the AVCA co-National Player of the Year.

The Big Sky Conference enters its 44th year of athletic competition in 2006-07, preparing to expand its footprint across the West. The University of Northern Colorado accepted an invitation to join the Sky in July of 2005 and officially became a member in July of 2006.

The Big Sky Conference was established in 1963 by six charter members – Idaho, Idaho State, Gonzaga, Montana, Montana State and Weber State. Those six schools formed the foundation of the Big Sky before the league expanded in 1970 by adding Boise State and Northern Arizona. Gonzaga left the Sky in 1979 and was replaced by Nevada, which gave the league eight members. The conference grew to nine schools in 1987 with the addition of Eastern Washington.

The 1990s saw change in the makeup of the league, beginning in 1992 when Nevada departed and put the Big Sky back at eight teams. In 1996 Boise State and Idaho left and at the same time the conference added Portland State, Sacramento State and Cal State Northridge. The Big Sky maintained nine teams for five years before Cal State Northridge departed in the spring of 2001.

With the addition of Northern Colorado, the Big Sky will spread across seven states spanning from the Pacific Ocean to the Rocky Mountain Front. The Big Sky is represented along the entire west coast with schools in Washington, Oregon and California. League schools also range up and down the Rocky Mountains with institutions in Montana, Idaho, Utah, Arizona and Colorado. Of the eight western-most states in the contiguous United States only one, Nevada, is not represented in the Big Sky.

The Big Sky sponsors championships in 14 sports, including men's and women's cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field, basketball and tennis. In addition, there are also championships in football, and women's volleyball, golf and soccer.

The 2006-07 season will mark the 19th year that the Big Sky Conference will sponsor championships in women's sports. The former Mountain West Conference existed from 1982-88, sponsoring championships for women's sports at the same institutions the Big Sky had men's programs. The Big Sky merged with the Mountain West in 1988, forming one league for both men and women.

Doug Fullerton, the fifth commissioner of the Big Sky Conference, will enter his 12th year at the helm in 2006-07. Fullerton took over the Big Sky on July 1, 1995, replacing long-time commissioner Ron Stephenson, who had served the league for 14 years.

Big Sky Conference Coach of the Year

1991 Dick Scott

AVCA Regional Coach of the Year

1992 Dick Scott

1991 Dick Scott

Former Montana coach Dick Scott was named the Big Sky Conference Coach of the Year in 1991 and the AVCA Regional Coach of the Year in both 1991 and 1992. Scott's teams won 406 matches during his 21+ seasons, with the Grizzlies winning Big Sky regular-season championships in 1991 and 1992 and a league postseason title in 1991. Montana advanced to the NCAA tournament three times during Scott's tenure, 1990, '91 and '94.

The University of Montana

THIS IS UM

Hike a mountain...

The University of Montana is the only university in the U.S. that owns its own mountain. The trail to the "M" zigzags to 612 feet above campus and is popular with both students and non-students alike.

Follow in the footsteps of the Lewis & Clark expedition...

Captain Merriwether Lewis and a party of the famed Lewis & Clark expedition came through Missoula close to where the UM campus sits in 1806 on their return trip.

UM QUICK FACTS

- State's first college, chartered Feb. 17, 1893
- Fall 2005 enrollment of 13,602
 - 11,727 undergraduate students
 - 1,875 graduate students
 - 54% female; 46% male
 - 73% Montana, 27% out-of-state residents
 - 60 countries represented
- Eighteen club sports and more than 30 intramural sports
- One-hundred and fifty clubs dedicated to academics, volunteer service, diversity, recreation, Greek life, politics, religion and many other interests
- Street & Smith's magazine named UM seventh on its list of all-time best womens' basketball programs in 2005

- The University of Montana -

The University of Montana provides a high-quality, well-rounded education to students and a wide range of services to Montanans. UM is a major source of research, continuing education, economic development, civic engagement, fine arts and entertainment and serves as a driving force in strengthening Montana's ties with countries throughout the world.

UM's Missoula campus comprises the College of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate School, the Davidson Honors College and seven professional schools: business administration, education, fine arts, forestry and conservation, journalism, law, and pharmacy and allied health sciences. The University also has an excellent physical therapy department. The University of Montana also includes The University of Montana-Western in Dillon; Montana Tech in Butte; The University of Montana-Helena College of Technology; and The University of Montana College of Technology in Missoula.

UM owns and operates Lubrecht Experimental Forest, a 28,000-acre teaching and research forest 30 miles northeast of Missoula which provides the opportunity for students to learn tree thinning and harvesting techniques in addition to working on forest and ecological projects.

The Flathead Lake Biological Station, located at Yellow Bay on the east side of the lake, is a year-round research facility and academic center for the ecological sciences. The freshwater research laboratory encompasses 80 acres.

Located at the base of Mount Sentinel and on the banks of the Clark Fork River, the 200-acre campus of The University of Montana is one of the most beautiful in the nation and was named among the top "schools with the most beautiful campus in an urban setting" by Kaplan's "Unofficial, Unbiased Guide to the 328 Most Interesting Colleges" in 2004.

Campus life offers a variety of living choices for the UM student. Dormitory living provides nine halls with various options on campus: a men's dormitory, a women's dormitory, and six co-ed dorms. Pantzer Hall provides four-person suites. University Villages, family housing, can be found just three blocks south campus. Multi-student apartments were completed for the 2004-

05 school year and are located minutes from campus. Students interested in the Greek life have nine chapters from which to choose.

The University of Montana has a nine-hole golf course, located just south of campus. The Grizzly Pool is a seven-lane, 25-yard indoor swimming pool that features numerous classes and programs and has been recently upgraded. The Fitness and Recreation Center, adjacent to the Adams Center, has undergone a major renovation also. It provides the campus community with three levels of state-of-the-art exercise equipment, racquetball, handball and basketball courts, and a two-story glass-enclosed climbing wall.

KBGA-FM is UM's student-run radio station and features seven-day-a-week, 24-hour programming of contemporary and alternative music programs including news forums pertinent to campus life.

The Outdoor Program provides opportunities for the campus community to participate in recreational activities such as rafting, kayaking, climbing, hiking, backpacking and skiing.

Birthplace and hometown of author Norman Maclean, who wrote A River Runs Through It, Missoula is nestled in the heart of the Northern Rockies in western Montana and is 3,210 feet above sea level. A community of approximately 66,000 residents, Missoula is located where five valleys converge. It is 140 miles from Glacier National Park and 270 miles from Yellowstone National Park. In 2004 Missoula was selected as the No. 1 small town in the nation by Men's Journal magazine.

The Lewis and Clark Expedition, the Corps of Discovery, passed through the Missoula area 200 years ago. There are many interpretive sites in the area, and bicentennial celebrations continue throughout the area.

The search for gold in the West and the completion of the Mullan Road, which opened up travel from the Missouri River to the state of Washington, brought people to the valley in 1860. Missoula began as a settlement called Hell Gate when C.P. Higgins and Francis Worden began a trading post to accommodate the travelers. The settlement was later renamed Missoula, taken from a Salish Flathead Indian word, Imisuletiku, "At the stream or water of surprise." (Missoula, the Way It Was, Lenora Koelbe, 1972).

Early settlers constructed Fort Missoula in 1877. Today the Fort Missoula Museum remains a testament to the West.

Because of its location on the Mullan Road, Missoula became a trading and commercial center, which it remains to this day. For many years Missoula's main industry was logging, sawmills and related activities. The Aerial Fire Depot Smokejumper Center is strategically located as the nation's largest training base for smokejumpers.

"Out to Lunch" in Caras Park downtown attracts thousands of visitors on Wednesdays in the summer for food, entertainment and fun.

its 53rd season, bring performances and concerts to the community year round. The Art Museum of Missoula, located in downtown Missoula, sponsors changing exhibits and also has a permanent collection that focuses on Western contemporary art and has been recently renovated.

One of the most desirable places to live in the United States, western Montana has become an attractive residence for those looking for pristine beauty and serenity. Some of America's famous people, such as Liz Claiborne, Tom Cruise, Emilio Estevez, Phil Jackson, Huey Lewis, and Charlie Sheen, have made western Montana their home.

Missoula also serves as a center for education, health care, retail and the arts. The University of Montana provides educational opportunities for more than 13,000 college students. Two major hospitals, along with many clinics, make Missoula one of the state's premier health care communities.

The Missoula community supports the arts in all its forms: theater productions, dance, art and music. The Missoula Children's Theater, founded in 1970, is located close to campus and produces plays and musicals by national and local playwrights for both adults and children. The theater also takes theatrical productions to audiences outside the Missoula area. The Garden City Ballet and Missoula Symphony, which is in

- Favorite activities in western Montana include fly fishing, rafting, kayaking and canoeing. Flathead Lake, the largest natural freshwater lake in the western United States, is close by.

- Hiking, biking, camping, rock climbing and hang gliding are a few activities enjoyed in and close to Missoula. Many trails are within minutes of Missoula.

- "A Carousel for Missoula," located downtown, is one of the first fully hand-carved carousels to be built in America since the 1930s. Other area attractions include Garnet Ghost Town, the National Bison Range and the Smokejumper Visitor Center.

- Missoula Parks and Recreation and the YMCA provide a variety of recreational opportunities in basketball, soccer, softball, tennis and volleyball. The Missoula Osprey professional baseball team is an affiliation of the Arizona Diamondbacks and play their home games in a new downtown stadium easily accessible to UM.

Missoula is easily accessible by either Interstate 90 from the east and west or by Highway 93 to the north and south. Missoula International Airport has a number of flights daily in and out by the major airlines Delta, Northwest, United and Horizon, along with Big Sky Airlines, Sky West and Allegiant Air.

UM'S PROGRAMS

The University of Montana has had 28 Rhodes Scholars and ranks 17th among American colleges and universities in the number of Rhodes Scholars it has produced, fifth among public universities.

School of Education graduates compete very successfully for jobs. Those with bachelor and graduate degrees find teaching, administrative and other education-related positions in Montana and many other states.

KUFM, a non-commercial public radio station operated by the UM Broadcast Media Center, reaches an estimated 400,000 Montanans in central and western Montana. KUFM-TV is a non-commercial public television station also operated by the Broadcast Media Center. It is the western partner in the Montana Public Television network that serves more than 106,000 Montana households.

Ten UM students have received Truman Scholarships. The national scholarship is given annually to students committed to a government career who have superior academic ability and leadership potential.

The Department of Anthropology has the largest collection of artifacts and records of prehistory in the region, while UM's Montana Museum of Art and Culture has the largest art collection in the state.

The School of Business is one of only 480 business schools accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB International). The school has partnered with Microsoft to outfit three computer labs as a beta site, so the computers are constantly updated.

The Department of Geology has a strong nationally known program in traditional geology and environmental geoscience.

The Department of Geography has one of the Northwest's best cartography laboratories where students learn to make maps and interpret aerial photography.

The Flathead Lake Biological Station, located about 80 miles north of Missoula, is the oldest biological station west of the Mississippi. The UM research station is one of the finest facilities in the country for ecological studies and freshwater research.

The Department of Health and Human Performance is one of a handful in the country that prepares students to be athletic trainers.

The School of Journalism has had eight Pulitzer Prize winners. For the sixth consecutive year the school placed in the top 10 of the 2004 Hearst Journalism Awards Program.

UM's graduate creative writing program, started in 1919 by H.G. Merriam, is the second oldest program of its kind in the country and is consistently ranked among the top 10 programs nationwide.

These are only a few of the many academic fields The University of Montana offers. Additional programs can be found on UM's web site: www.umt.edu.

UM'S ATHLETES

A significant sign of UM's commitment to athletes' academic pursuits was initiated in 1993 when former faculty athletic representative Dr. Robert O. Lindsay developed a program to honor student-athletes who excel in the classroom. Since then, UM has recognized student-athletes who earn a 3.0 grade point average or higher at the annual Lindsay Academic Awards Banquet.

Last year 159 student-athletes were recognized at the 14th annual banquet. Of the 159 athletes honored at the banquet, 70 of them maintained a GPA of 3.50 or above, and 9 had a perfect 4.0.

- Montana Academics -

The Athletic Director's Award, which recognizes the athletic team that had the highest GPA over the previous two semesters, was given to the women's golf team for the second straight year. The team had a combined GPA of 3.46.

The President's Award recognizes the male and female student-athletes with the highest GPA over the previous two semesters. This year's recipients were senior Kevin Criswell from the men's basketball team with a 3.88 GPA in health and human performance; sophomore Hanna Richtner-Ahlin, women's track and field, with a 4.00 GPA in environmental studies; and junior Krista Swanson, from the golf team, who earned a 4.00 GPA in elementary education. This was Swanson's second straight year to win the award.

The 2005-06 Academic All-District VII selections on the first team were Jasi Acharya and Krista Swanson from golf, and the 2005-06 Academic All-District VII selections on the second team were Jas Gill of track and field and Dustin Dlouhy, Shane MacIntyre and Mike Murphy (all from football).

The 2005 six-year graduation rate at UM for student-athletes was 63% compared to the general student population at 45%.

Seniors Jasi Acharya, golf, and Shane MacIntyre, football, were both selected by the Big Sky Conference as UM's scholar athletes in 2005-06.

Krista Swanson, golf (with UM President George Dennison), earned the President's Award for 2006.

2005-2006 BIG SKY CONFERENCE SCHOLAR-ATHLETES

Jasi Acharya

Shane MacIntyre

Seniors Jasi Acharya (golf) and Shane MacIntyre (football) were named 2006 Big Sky Conference Scholar-Athletes based upon their athletic and academic achievement during the school year.

To qualify, student-athletes must have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.2, be a member of the graduating class and/or have completed their last year of intercollegiate athletic eligibility, have completed at least two years of intercollegiate competition at the institution and be a letter winner.

Acharya has a 3.78 GPA in business, and MacIntyre has a 3.31 GPA in biology.

JACOBSON ACADEMIC CENTER

A welcome addition to academic services for student athletes is the Jacobson Academic Center. Thanks to the generous contributions of Curt and Lanni Jacobson, student-athletes now have a computer lab/study room to use during the day.

The Jacobson Academic Center has 10 computers and a laser printer. A small conference room is available for group studying.

The Jacobson Academic Center is a key component in the success of Grizzly student-athletes in the classroom. In addition to student-athletes independently using the Jacobson Academic Center, Athletic Academic Services uses the facility for several of its programs.

Under the guidance of coordinator Laura Hickey, Athletic Academic Services offers tutoring and advising at the center and at the UM Mansfield Library. The Jacobson Academic Center is located on the Adams Center's ground floor, down the hall from the Athletic Performance Center.

ADAMS CENTER

• Basketball court and track at Campus Fitness and Recreation Center

- The renovated Adams Center, hub of The University of Montana Intercollegiate Athletic Department, features two auxiliary gyms, remodeled Dahlberg Arena, new weight center, athletic treatment center, locker rooms, academic center and the John Hoyt Athletic Complex, which houses the athletic staff.

RHINEHART ATHLETIC TRAINING CENTER

- The Rhinehart Athletic Training Center (RATC) boasts 7,200 square feet of space and includes an enlarged rehabilitation area. The primary goal of the athletic training staff is to provide quality care for student-athletes while helping them safely return to competition. The RATC provides numerous ways to treat injuries: electrical stimulation units, whirlpools, free weights and balance boards.

ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE CENTER

- As part of the renovation to the Adams Center, a 7,000-square foot Athletic Performance Center was created. The new center, which is home to the Griz student-athletes, is geared to enhance the overall athletic performance of the teams.

CAMPUS FITNESS AND RECREATION CENTER

- UM's state-of-the-art Campus Fitness and Recreation Center opened in 2002 and is located next door to the Adams Center. The 79,000 square foot facility features free weights, cardiovascular machines, fitness classes, indoor running track, climbing wall with a 50' climbing column, basketball, volleyball and racquetball courts, equipment rentals, sauna and a juice and snack bar.

- The Athletic Performance Center is as sport specific as possible, and the program is scientifically based and intended to increase one's athleticism, as well as decrease an athlete's susceptibility to injury.

WASHINGTON-GRIZZLY STADIUM • JOHN HOYT FIELD

- The expanded Washington-Grizzly football stadium accommodates 23,183 fans. The field is SprinTurf. A 26'x36' screen and message center, "Griz Vision," is on the south end of the stadium.

DORNBLASER FIELD

- The track & field venue also saw a recent upgrade with refurbished lanes and new seating for fans.

DAHLBERG ARENA

- Dahlberg Arena underwent a remodel with over 6,000 theater-style seats, with a capacity of 7,321, replacing bleachers. A center electronic scoreboard was added for the 2003-04 season.

WEST AUXILIARY GYM (WAG)

- The WAG was added as part of the Adams Center renovation. It houses the volleyball team and can hold 1,218 fans. The East Auxiliary Gym, EAG (not pictured), was also added as a practice gym for indoor track & field, soccer and tennis.

SOUTH CAMPUS SOCCER STADIUM

- The South Campus Soccer Stadium features a fully-fenced venue, scoreboard, locker rooms and seating for 1,000 fans.

President George M. Dennison

George Dennison, the 16th president of The University of Montana, begins his 17th year at the University. Dennison came to UM from Western Michigan University where he served as the provost and vice president for academic affairs from 1987 to 1990. He spent time at the Universities of Arkansas and Washington before working 18 years at Colorado State, where he served as acting academic vice president, associate academic vice president and director of admissions and records, among other positions.

Dennison received his bachelor's degree from UM in 1962 and his master's degree, also from UM, in 1963 and earned a Ph.D. in history from Washington in 1967.

Dennison serves on a number of boards. He chairs the Montana Commission on Community Service and serves on the Board of the International Heart Institute Foundation of Montana, the Community Medical Center Advisory Committee, the Montana Campus Compact Executive Committee, the Board of Directors of the International Student Exchange Program, the Neuroscience Institute and the Maureen and Mike Mansfield Foundation. He has been the longest acting president in the history of UM.

George and his wife Jane have two sons, Rick and Robert. The Dennisons have four grandchildren.

Jim O'Day, Athletic Director

Jim O'Day became The University of Montana's athletic director in June 2005. He was most recently the athletic department's director of development for five years and prior to that the assistant director of the Grizzly Athletic Association for two years. As director of development, he was responsible for major gift development as it pertained to UM athletics and The University of Montana Foundation.

The concept of the National Advisory Board for Grizzly Athletics (NABGA) was developed during O'Day's tenure as director of development. Since its inception, NABGA has been instrumental in establishing the Grizzly Sports Hall of Champions, the north end zone expansion project in Washington-Grizzly Stadium, and spearheading numerous other fund-raising efforts for UM athletics.

Prior to returning to his alma mater in 1998, O'Day was the owner and publisher of the family-owned Western Breeze newspaper in Cut Bank, Mont., for 10 years. During the period from 1982-87, he was a reporter and editor of the bi-weekly publication. From 1980-82 he was the sports editor of the Daily Interlake newspaper in Kalispell, Mont.

O'Day was a charter member of the Cut Bank Education Foundation and Alumni Association. He was Cut Bank's Citizen of the Year in 1992. He organized the Golden Triangle Chapter of the GAA in 1992 and served as president until his appointment at UM. He was the 1991 recipient of The University of Montana Service Award.

A 1980 Montana graduate, O'Day received a bachelor of arts degree in journalism.

Jim and his wife, Kathy, have three sons: Chris, Kevin and Brian.

Editor's note: Montana's basketball, football, and track hall of fames have all been replaced with the Grizzly Athletic Hall of Fame, inaugurated in the fall of 1993.

- Montana Tradition -

UM MASCOT - MONTE

From a real bear in the 1940s to national mascot of the year in 2002 and 2004, the Montana Grizzlies have had this namesake since 1912 when a Salt Lake City sportswriter called the Montana football team the "Grizzlies" when they played a Utah team.

UM teams were called "Grizzlies," "Bruins" or "Bears" until the 1920s when the name "Grizzly" stuck. They were sometimes referred to as the "Silvertips" all the way through the 1970s.

Although the Grizzly mascot's features might have changed over the years, the Grizzlies still remain a sporting powerhouse throughout the state.

FIGHT SONG - UP WITH MONTANA

The UM fight song "Up with Montana" was written by Richard Howell of the UM law school in 1914. In 2002 the New York Times singled out UM's fight song in an article about humorous college fight songs, saying, "At (UM), fans expect their team to devour its enemies while still alive."

Up With Montana...

"Up with Montana, boys, down with the foe, Old Montana's up for a victory; She'll shoot her backs around the foe men's line; A hot time is coming now, oh, brother mine. Up with Montana, boys, down with the foe. Good old Grizzly'll triumph today; And the squeal of the pig will float on the air. From the tummy of the Grizzly Bear."
