The campus of the State University of Montana, which has an area of approximately 100 acres, lies southeast of the town and at the foot of Mount Sentinel. There are thirteen buildings devoted to purposes of instruction, three freshmen residence halls, a heating plant, student store, and repair shops.

Trees, lawns, shrubbery and flowers interspersed among the walks and drives make an attractive setting for the buildings.

The library is at the disposal of students. In the main reading room are desks seating 250, and the smaller reference reading room accommodates 100 students. On the shelves are 102,000 volumes and 34,000 pamphlets. The library also receives over 600 periodicals, the current numbers of which are available in the reading room, as are newspapers and college exchanges. In addition to the main library there are departmental libraries in the various buildings and the law library.

1929 Freshman Week Begins September 24

Plans Laid to Receive Latest Candidates for Admission

After three years of experimentation the University is continuing the practice of designating the first week of the fall quarter as "Freshman Week" during which time freshmen will register and receive instruction in the form of lectures on the University, the campus life, and the methods and practices of college study.

Freshman Week grew out of the need of making the transition from high school to college as smooth as possible and the desirability of giving the freshman an idea of the proper attitude to be taken toward his college work. This is attempted by giving the freshman time to become thoroughly acquainted with the campus and the proper use of equipment before instruction begins. Upper classmen do not attend the events of Freshman Week.

The period of preliminary instruction to freshmen for the fall of 1929 begins September 24 and ends September 28; classes begin September 30. A freshman meeting the first morning officially initiates the freshman into the student life. At this meeting most of the time is taken with directions for registration although there are, of course, the usual words of welcome. The remainder of the morning after the meeting is spent completing residence arrangements. Two events are scheduled for the first afternoon—the first of the lectures in the use of the library and an inspection of the campus followed by a picnic supper.

The second day is taken up with registration including meetings with advisers, and in the evening there is a second freshman meeting at which time faculty rules, the grading system, the dormitory regulations, and social organizations are explained.

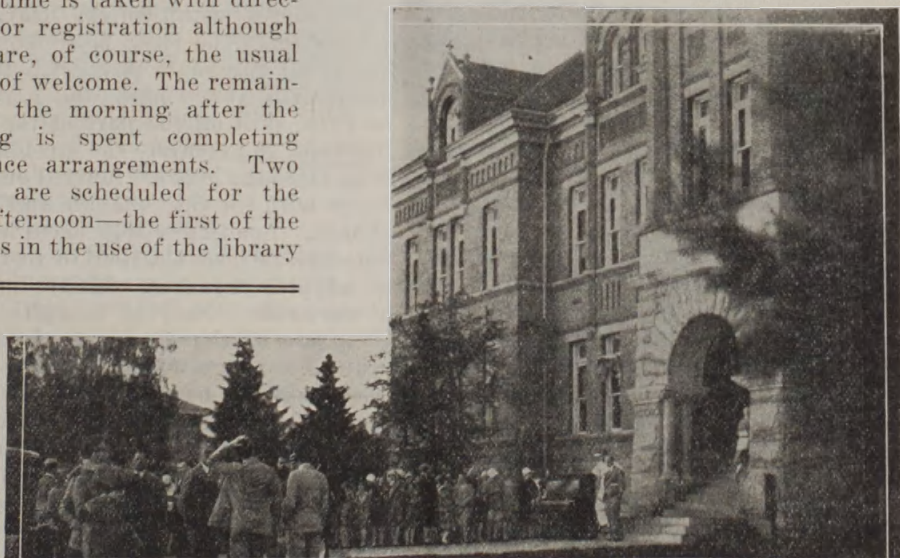

The third morning finds the newcomer listening to a second lecture in the use of the library. An Associated Students program including the freshman class organization and elections is scheduled for the afternoon, and at 7:30 p. m. the first Singing-on-the-Steps is held.

All freshmen take the aptitude tests on the fourth morning of Freshman Week, and after the tests receive further instruction in the use of the library. In the afternoon there is a men's meeting and a women's meeting. A dance in the evening for freshmen only finishes the fourth day.

On the fifth day there is a general freshman meeting with lectures on

Alumnus Writes of Nicaraguan Mahogany Logging

Edward Simpkins, '17, engaged in the lumbering industry in the Central American tropics, gives the following very interesting description of his work:

"Managers of Mahogany Logging Companies here have been subject, during late years, to a very precarious life. That is their official life. Axes have been used to lop off their attachment to their respective companies, as well as in the cutting down of mahogany trees. A considerable reason for this has been the recent civil war in Nicaragua, which adversely affected every company in more or less degree. Since then all operations have been greatly curtailed.

"Normally the job holds considerable interest, as it is in the main a struggle with Old Mother Nature, from beginning to end, and with several of her Spanish-speaking sons allied with her. The first round starts with some sparring for an opening wherein can be found some nice mahogany trees located upon a nice water course that can be depended upon for later transportation for the logs. The second round is a hectic exchange, while battling for a contractor who can be relied upon (with minute supervision) to cut the trees and prepare the logs. Round three keeps the challenger busy hauling the logs to the creek banks and is a rough battle, as oxen and primitive carts do all they can to upset his calculations. This round is a crucial one as by this time he is too far in to retire and not far enough in to get out with any glory unless it is absolutely successful. You must understand, of course, that he posts a forfeit at the start of the battle, in the shape of a cash advance to the contractor, and these advances run up into very large amounts. After round three there is usually a slight respite, waiting for rains. Sometimes this amounts to a considerable delay with the 'customers' at the home office booing and shouting via telegrams and letters until the battler gets slightly unstrung as to nerves. Cases are on record where the battle ended at this point, for the lack of rains, to be resumed a year later with great loss to the promoters. However, these instances are very rare as our annual rainfall here is usually 12 feet or better, and it generally falls during the months of June to December, inclusive. Round four brings the battle to the climax, and if properly worked out results in getting the logs out of the creeks into the main rivers and to the sea coast. Here it is measured for the knockout and if the preceding rounds have been won, it is a knockout. All advances are repaid and preparations are made for the next year's battle. The logs are shipped in vessels holding from 2000 to 4000 logs and the manager then awaits the out-turn report of the sawmill to learn just how punk they sawed out. The shipping of the logs is sometimes a battle itself. The logs are made up into rafts of approximately fifty each and one to three of them are towed out to the waiting steamer, which is anchored a mile or more offshore in sufficient water. During the stormy days the river bars over which the small tug-boats pass with the logs are usually very rough, and it requires no little skill on the part of the native 'captain' to negotiate the stretch to the ship. Here the logs are hoisted out of the water with the ship's tackle and stowed aboard. Loading a ship occupies from ten days in best weather to forty days in adverse weather. Many days are unworkable. Natives un-rafting logs alongside of the vessel are frequently injured in rough water, and attain marvelous skill in handling a heavy ax on slippery logs in a shark-infested sea. The method now in vogue for rafting the logs for the tow to the ship, is credited to Paul Bischoff for its origin, he having put in several years here after leaving the University Forest School."

New Alumni Officers Chosen at June Elections

All Members of Alumni Association Vote by Mail

Maurice Dietrich, '18, of Deer Lodge was elected president of the Alumni Association and Oakley Coffee, '23, of Missoula, was elected vice-president as a result of the ballot cast at the annual spring elections of the Association. Wallace Brennan, '25, was elected three-year delegate to the Executive Board, and Gertrude Clark, '21, Carl Dragstedt, '23, and Burt Smith, '27, were elected as one-year delegates to the Executive Board.

The ballots were counted at the annual commencement meeting of the Alumni Association, June 10. Business transacted at the meeting included a consideration of the means of increasing membership in the Association, the development of an alumni Kaimin, and the advisability of promoting class reunions.

Mr. Dietrich while in the University was a member of Kappa Tau, Sigma Upsilon, won his "M" in basketball, was president of his sophomore and junior classes, a member of the A. S. U. M. central board and chairman of the budget committee. After graduation he spent a year in the Marine Corps, taught economics at the University for a year, and since 1921 has been in Deer Lodge, Mont., where he is now cashier and a director of the Deer Lodge Bank and Trust Company.

Oakley Coffee, the new Alumni Association vice-president, while in the University was a member of Silent Sentinel, Bear Paw, Kappa Psi, Scabbard and Blade, and the Trowel Club. He was a member of the debate team for two years, a member of the glee club for three years, and manager of the A. S. U. M. for one year. He is at present in the wholesale and retail drug business in Missoula.

Wallace Brennan, elected three-year delegate to the Executive Board of the Alumni Association, was a member of Alpha Kappa Psi, Masquers, and Press Club while in the University, and he was active in football and track. For a while he was a boxing instructor. At present he is running a garage and machine shop in Missoula.

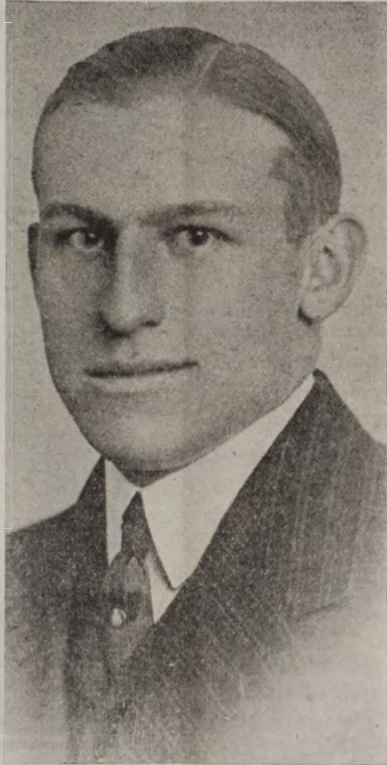

Gertrude Clark, elected one-year delegate to the Executive Board, was a member of Pi Mu Epsilon, Mortar Board, and Kappa Tau while in the University, as well as being treasurer of the Women's Association and president of the Math Club. At present she is a teacher in Missoula County High School at Missoula.

Carl Dragstedt, elected a member of the Executive Board for the year, was a member of Alpha Kappa Psi and Trowel Club while in the University. He is now in the retail clothing business in Missoula.

Burt Smith, the third new one-year delegate to the Executive Board, while in the University was a member of Silent Sentinel, Kappa Tau, Alpha Kappa Psi, and Bear Paw (of which he was Chief Grizzly). He was for one year A. S. U. M. business manager, was class treasurer during his freshman and

Publication of Alumni Directory Postponed

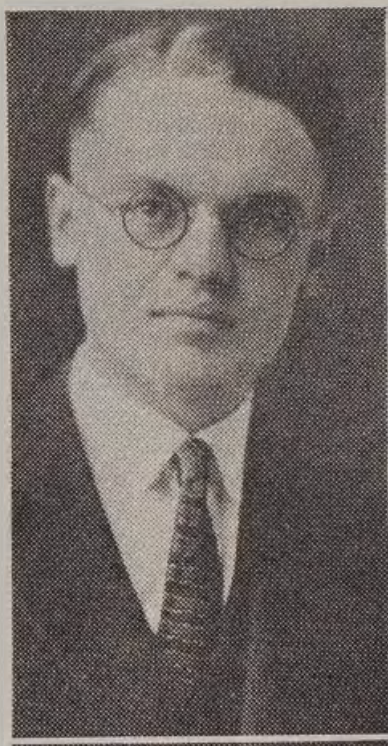

Issue of Directory of All Alumni Planned for First of Year

As announced in previous numbers of The Alumnus it was hoped that the long-awaited alumni directory would be published this summer. However, the returns on requests for addresses of "lost" alumni were not complete so that further efforts must be made to bring the files up to date. The work of bringing the address records reasonably up to date will take several months, but the publication of the directory is assured before this time next year.

The directory is planned to consist of three sections: a directory by classes (which will be the largest section), a geographical directory, and an alphabetical directory. Considerable interest has been shown in the project of printing a directory, and it is planned that after this directory is printed the Alumni Association will issue new directories at regular intervals.

RETIRING ALUMNI PRESIDENT

WM. J. JAMESON, JR., '19

After serving for several terms as president of the State University Alumni Association, "Bill" Jameson is retiring from the office, the duties of which he has well and faithfully performed for so many years. The work of the Alumni Association was strengthened and expanded under his guidance, and the University was greatly assisted by his work in the Montana legislature, of which body he has been a prominent member for the last two sessions. He is a member of the law firm of Johnston, Coleman and Jameson in Billings, Montana.

"How to Study," "Use of Time," "The University Health Service," etc. The freshmen paint the "M" on Mount Sentinel early in the afternoon, there is a football game with Mt. St. Charles College in the latter part of the afternoon, and Freshman Week closes Saturday evening with fraternity pledging and an Associated Students' Mixer and Dance in the big gymnasium.

On Sunday there are special programs at all churches, permanent residence arrangements at all the dormitories are completed, and the Big Sister Tea is held for the new co-eds.

Second Year for New Campus Publication

By Jessie M. Cambron, '29

THE WRANGLER, newest campus publication at Montana, started out just about this time last year with Professor E. L. Freeman as the guiding spirit. It was felt that there was a place on the campus for intelligent criticism, and it was hoped that such criticism would extend in its ramifications to a much wider scope than campus life. Neither the feeling nor the hope became much more than just that this past year; but the feeling became more definite as the months went by, and the hope, more profound. It was found that there most certainly was a place for such an organ, and THE WRANGLER is about to enter its second year as a University publication.

THE WRANGLER meetings were more of a source of inspiration to its writers than the publication itself was to its readers. This is neither a fear nor an apology, but a sad truth. Those who looked for burning rebellion were disappointed; those who looked for fiery criticism were disillusioned. It was found, however, at the close of the year that THE WRANGLER in its various pages had at one time or another touched a number of questions that have been vital in campus life for some years past—the value of the R. O. T. C., the future of athletics, the question of women's smoking, the futility of A. W. S. laws for women, the disadvantages of the cut system, the questionable side to Hi-Jinx, what constitutes a good alumnus.

The first fine spark aroused by Mr. Freeman did not die down at the close of the past year, and this coming year finds the paper with all its former editors returning, and one or two new ones added to its writing list. Its organization and aims are more definite; its plan of distribution more clearly worked out. Paul Treichler, a major worked out.

The WRANGLER board is hoping to reach a number of alumni through this page and interest them in subscribing. The subscription price is only $1 a year, and each alumnus who sends this amount to Covell Skeels at Missoula by the first of October will receive almost immediately his first issue with its important articles. The board not only suffers contributions; it begs them. If there breathes an alumnus with soul so dead that never within himself has he had to suppress a yearning to expose his innermost feelings to cold print, then that alumnus will feel no interest. But there are those who believe in intelligent criticism still, and who believe in the worth of an undergraduate soul—and it is to those that the board looks with hope in its heart and a tiny bit of a mercenary gleam in its eye.

UNIVERSITY NOTES

Golf became a recognized minor sport at the University last spring when two men were sent to Seattle to represent Montana at the annual Pacific Coast conference golf tournament.

First Montana Intercollegiate Track Meet resulted in victory for the Grizzlies. Almost all Montana colleges participated. Montana State College was second, St. Charles third, Intermountain fourth, and the School of Mines and Dillon Normal tied for fifth place.

Senior Convocation, a new commencement feature, was held May 21 so that the graduating class could discuss the details of commencement, the senior memorial, and alumni association organization.

Kirkwood Memorial Grove was dedicated by the forestry students on May 30. A bronze tablet inscribed to the memory of Dr. J. E. Kirkwood, chairman of the Department of Botany and Montana's first professor of forestry, was unveiled as a tribute from the Forestry club.

"The Gypsy Parade" was the title and theme of the annual May Fete given last spring which opened the events of Commencement Week.

Summer School opened on June 17 with students registered from nearly every state in the union. Western Montana's excellent summer climate continues to appeal to summer students.

President's Report to the State Board of Education, submitted by Dr. Charles H. Clapp for the year 1928-29, indicated that the enrollment for the year was 2,352—the largest in the history of the institution, although there were few changes or improvements over previous years.

A Student Union Building to be paid for out of a special dollar a quarter fee received a favorable vote of the students last spring. The fee will go into effect in the fall of 1930; construction will be started when there are sufficient funds. The project received the sanction of the State Board of Education on July 8.

J. M. Keith, Missoula banker and for many years a member of the Local Executive Board of the State University, died at his home in Missoula after an illness of less than a week.

Gordon Rognlien of Kalispell and Hazel Mumm of Missoula and the new presidents of the Associated Students of the University of Montana and the Associated Women Students respectively.

Thirty-Second Commencement Held June 10

Over Two Hundred Bachelor's and Master's Degrees

Men's Gymnasium

Over two hundred candidates marched in the procession on June 10 at the annual commencement exercises to receive bachelor's or master's degrees. The final exercises were held in the big gymnasium. Dr. Henry Neumann of the Brooklyn School of Ethical Culture gave the commencement address on "Making a Living and Making a Life."

Commencement festivities began on June 7 with the May Fete and Music Recital, June 8 was Class Day, the Baccalaureate Service was held on June 9, and the final Commencement Exercises were held on June 10 followed by the President's Reception for Alumni.

Students who completed the requirements for degrees in previous quarters have been listed in other issues of The Montana Alumnus. Those who completed the requirements for degrees at the end of the spring quarter are as follows:

CLASS NOTES

Information for this section should be sent to:
Mrs. Carrie E. Gilham, Editor of Class Notes
State University, Missoula, Montana

1900

Class secretary, Charles Avery, Durston Bldg., Anaconda, Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Avery attended the Commencement exercises in June. Artie Dawes, a member of the graduating class, is Mrs. Avery's niece.

Class secretary, Claude Marceyes, 614 Harrison St., Missoula, Montana.

The two daughters of Mrs. Sedman (Harrington Rankin) are spending the summer vacation with her. Virginia has just been graduated from Wellesley. Elizabeth has completed a year of graduate work at Radcliffe, where she received her bachelor of arts degree last June. She will go to Boston next fall to be an instructor in English at the Chandler Secretarial school.

1905

Class secretary, Mrs. Frank Borg (Blanche Simpson), 321 Daly Ave., Missoula, Mont.

Dr. Herbert Hughes of Gresham, Oregon, visited his father, Elmer Hughes, in Missoula, during the summer. He had previously made a trip through Yellowstone park.

1906

Class Secretary, Fred Buck, State Capitol, Helena, Montana.

John D. Jones, assistant district forester in charge of public relations for the Southern district, with headquarters at Albuquerque, New Mexico, spent a few days in Missoula in June. He said that Albuquerque has shown a remarkable growth in the last few years.

1907

Class secretary, King Garlington, 630 Eddy Ave., Missoula, Montana.

Sue Garlington (Mrs. Edwin O. Cole) visited in Missoula in July, at the homes of her two brothers, O. C. Garlington and King Garlington, and her sister, Mrs. Nellie V. Hill. Sue's home is in Marion, North Carolina, and this is her first trip West in about eight years.

Dr. J. J. Moore, better known to his classmates as "Si More," accompanied by his wife (Florence Johnson), and two boys, visited in Missoula in July. They came by car from their home in Chicago, Illinois.

Class secretary, Winnifred Feighner, care State University, Missoula, Montana.

Winnifred Feighner and her mother, Mrs. D. R. Feighner, are now in Seaside, Oregon, after having spent the winter in California. They will remain there during the month of August, returning to Missoula about September first.

Class secretary, Mary Henderson, 502 South Fourth St., Missoula, Montana.

Frank E. Bonner, ex-'10, has been appointed secretary of the federal power commission at Washington, D. C. This commission has supervision of power development through the United States. Its members are James W. Good, secretary of war, as chairman; Ray Wilbur, secretary of interior; Arthur Hyde, secretary of agriculture, with Major Glen Edgerton of the United States army as chief engineer, and Lewis W. Call, United States army, as chief counsel.

Thayer Stoddard writes in part as follows: "Since coming to the south central section of the United States, I have been very busy, as our construction season is twelve months each year. At present I have two hundred miles of concrete pavement under my supervision as well as fifty miles of bituminous paving and one hundred sixty miles of grading and structures. There are thirty-five projects in all, and each one is to be visited at least twice per month until completed. We long for the cool Montana evenings and the good cold water from the Rattlesnake. As I write the mercury stands at 106°, and we swelter."

Class secretary, Mrs. Wm. Ferguson (Mary Elrod), 510 Madison, Helena, Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Davis of Portland visited Mrs. Davis' mother, Mrs. F. Hughes in Missoula, in July. Mrs. Davis was formerly Ethel Hughes.

The address of Mrs. Chas. Pierre (Lucia I. Rolfe) is R. R. 2, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

Class Secretary, Mrs. Nina Gough Hall, Potomac, Montana.

Fred Thieme, president of the Missoula Rotary club, attended the convention of Rotary International, at Dallas, Texas, in June.

Mrs. Dudley Richards (Helen McLeod) of Chicago, and her daughter, Jean, are spending the summer in Missoula, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McLeod. Dud Richards will come later to join her and spend his vacation in Montana.

1913

The Associated Press recently published a story which contained a statement concerning prohibition by Justin Miller, which is as follows: "Failure of the national prohibition law is proof that legislation will not accomplish social reforms." Justin Miller, who was one of the first graduates of the law school of the University, is Dean of Southern California university. He is referred to as a "nationally-known criminologist."

Mildred Ingalls Stone, assistant to the Dean of Women, is spending her vacation in New York and other eastern cities.

The address of Mrs. E. Higgin (Cornelia McFarlane) is Winnifred, Alberta, Canada.

Class secretary, Mrs. H. L. Rounce (Alice Hardenburgh), Box DD, Sidney, Montana.

Mrs. H. L. Rounce (Alice Hardenburgh) visited at the home of her parents in Missoula, in June. She was accompanied by her three children, Dick, Gail and Barbara.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth G. Smith were Missoula visitors during the summer from their home in Detroit.

1916

Class secretary, Mrs. G. F. Turman, 630 Higgins Ave., Missoula, Montana.

Mrs. Irene Lansing (Irene Murray) of Seattle is spending the summer in Missoula with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lansing and at the Lansing summer home on Flathead lake.

Three people on the "lost" list belonging to this class have been located. Morris L. Bridgeman may be found at 460 East 38th street, North, Portland, Oregon; Dales A. Dunbar is at 1935 Huntington Drive, South, Pasadena, California, and Kathryn J. Sutherland is at 205 West Nevada, Urbana, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Baird and children of Los Angeles are guests of Mrs. Baird's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morris at Potomac. They made the trip by auto.

Farmer, ex-'23, of Great Falls, plan to visit here also, to enjoy a family reunion.

The following letter from the class secretary was sent in for the April issue, but was accidentally overlooked—not that we have so many letters that we can't keep track of them, but it slipped behind some papers, and was not discovered until it was too late to put it in; so if it seems a bit antiquated, please remember that it is not the fault of the class secretary, but of the editor of class notes.

"Possibly we can convince some more of you alums to come to California, especially after such a long, severe winter in Montana, when you read some more items of great interest concerning those who are now in California.

The Los Angeles Examiner for March 22 contained the following item of news; Mrs. Ray Lamont entertained at her home in Ash street with a bridge luncheon announcing the engagement of Miss Gladys Blake to Leo R. Mallory of Missoula, Montana. Just as the guests were seated at the table the announcement was made over the radio. Miss Blake is a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles and a member of the Delta Zeta sorority. Mr. Mallory attended the University of Montana and is an Alpha Tau Omega. The romance had its inception on board a ship en route to Alaska and will culminate in a June wedding.

Edna Scheibal, ex-'24, recently came to Los Angeles from San Francisco—for some reason they eventually come South—where she now has a very good position with the Texaco Oil company on South Broadway. Edna and Peggy Keough, '23, are living at the Leemont apartments, 3071 Leeward Ave., Los Angeles, Calif. You can be expecting to hear some further news about Peggy in June—that's the month for what—cannot understand how she escaped these sheiks this long. You know they are so handsome in Hollywood, they take police dogs along for protection—whoopee!"

—Elsie Thompson Guy.

FRESHMAN WEEK---

An Introduction to University Life

The transition from secondary school to University is, under the most favorable circumstances, difficult. To prevent the mistakes and misconceptions so frequently made on entrance into the University the faculty has instituted a "Freshman Week." A program has been arranged for the first five days of the autumn quarter which will be supervised by the faculty, the administration, and the upperclass students.
