The 2008 University of Montana volleyball team is like a divisive political issue: heavy in numbers at the polar extremes, nearly empty in the middle.

When the Grizzlies open practice Saturday morning, they will do so with both ends of the roster spectrum well-covered. Five experienced starters return, all of whom played a major role in 2007. At the opposite limit are seven players who have yet to play a single point for Montana: two players return from either redshirting or sitting out with an injury, one joins the team as a transfer and four come in as freshmen.

Twelve of the team's 13 players are at the two ends of the balance. The coach whose job it will be to bring the two groups together is third-year coach Jerry Wagner, who in a short period of time has already become one of the elders of Big Sky Conference volleyball coaches.

Wagner took over a Grizzly volleyball program after the 2005 season resulted in a fifth consecutive year without a trip to the Big Sky tournament.

In his first season (2006) Wagner led Montana to a 9-7 league mark and took the Grizzlies to their first Big Sky tournament since 2000.

In his second year (2007), Montana finished a game out of the tournament, its post-season hopes damaged by a 0-5 record in five-game matches in league play. All five matches that went the distance came against teams that finished in the top four in the regular-season standings: Eastern Washington (twice), Weber State (twice) and Portland State.

Now in his third season, Wagner is getting a program headed in the direction he envisioned while gaining 18 years of assistant coaching experience, including three with the Grizzlies from 1988 to 1990.

"I really like the strides we've been able to make in recruiting and with the team atmosphere, attitude and work ethic (since 2006)," Wagner said. "I'm very satisfied with a number of the areas in this program."

"To make the conference tournament in our first year was a real motivational thing for the direction we want to take. Last year produced some growing pains. It just wasn't our turn to have the close matches go our way. The encouraging thing was that we didn't shy away from any of the obstacles we faced. It could have affected us negatively, but we chose a different path, and everything we've done since then has closed that gap."

To continue his move up the Big Sky standings from tournament interloper to tournament regular, Wagner will rely on a strong group of returning starters in seniors Lauren Gustafson and Jade Roskam, junior Taryn Wright and sophomores Amy Roberts and Jaimie Thibeault, the 2007 Big Sky Conference Outstanding Freshman. All five played in all 26 matches in 2007, with all but Gustafson getting at least 20 starts.

The other returning letter-winner is junior Whitney Hobbs, who played in 23 matches as a

Among the seven players potentially seeing their first court time in 2008 are sophomore Stephanie Turner, who redshirted in 2006 as a true freshman and sat out 2007 with an injury, sophomore Brittney Brown, a transfer from St. Edward's, and redshirt freshman Paige Nash, the 2006 North Dakota Gatorade Girls' Volleyball Player of the Year.

The incoming freshman class is made up of Paige Branstiter of Nyssa, Ore., Karyn Mockel of Spokane, Wash., Emma Olgard of Spokane, Wash., and Brittany Quick of Richland, Wash.

"One of our keys for 2008 will be integrating the new players into the program," Wagner said. "That's going to be very important for us since we're going to need their contributions. But knowing our returning players and knowing the makeup of our newcomers, I believe that part will come along quickly."

"The new players are really going to bolster our team, not only depth-wise, but helping us create the great environment we want for both practice and competition."

Montana's senior class is small in number but big in experience and leadership.

The versatile Roskam has played in 80 career matches with 75 starts in her first three years. The outside hitter, who earned UM's prestigious President's Award for academic excellence last April, has totaled 658 kills, 540 digs and 80 blocks in her career to go along with three Academic All-Big Sky Conference selections.

After transferring from Louisiana Tech, Gustafson played a backup role as a sophomore in 2006, then became a key contributor in 2007 when she hit .273 and averaged 2.16 kills and 0.78 blocks per game to earn honorable mention All-Big Sky Conference honors.

"Jade and Lauren have set the tone that this program needs since they came to Montana," Wagner said. "To have them and their leadership together in the senior class will set a high standard for the rest of the team to follow. I've never seen them waver from expecting the best or wanting to represent not only themselves but the program and the University in the best way possible."

Montana has a two-player junior class as well, with Wright and Hobbs.

After splitting time at setter as a freshman, Wright took over the full-time role in the Grizzlies' fourth match in 2007 and never gave it back. She not only totaled over 1,000 assists (1,098) on the season, but also averaged nearly half a block (0.48/g) and full kill (0.96/g) per game.

Hobbs, a transfer from Auburn, had a number of big matches as a first-year sophomore last fall. She finished with four double-figure kill matches, including a career-high 18 kills in Montana's four-game victory at Idaho State.

Thibeault and Roberts were both key contributors as true freshmen.

Thibeault started all 26 matches at middle blocker. She averaged 2.25 kills and a team-high

1.37 blocks per game while hitting .270 on her way to second team All-Big Sky and Outstanding Freshman honors.

Roberts led the team with 3.15 kills per game and added 196 digs (2.06/g) and matched Roskam with a team-high 16 double-figure kill matches.

Brown joins the team from St. Edward's (Texas), where she averaged a team-high 4.00 digs per game as the Hilltoppers' libero.

Montana's four freshmen all arrive with impressive prep highlights.

Branstiter (6-1, OH/MB) was a three-time all-state selection, led Adrian High to the 2007 state title match and was the 2008 Oregon Class 1A shot and discus champion; Mockel (5-11, S) and Olgard (6-3, MB) were teammates for a Mead High team that went 101-3 over the last three seasons and won three Washington Class 4A state titles (with Mockel earning Class 4A Player of the Year honors); and Quick (6-1, MB) led Hanford High to its first state championship in November and was named the 2007 Washington Gatorade Girls' Volleyball Player of the Year. Quick also gave Wagner a Class 3A/4A recruiting sweep by being named the Class 3A Player of the Year.

The Big Sky Conference will be less predictable in 2008 than past years with five of the nine teams featuring first-year coaches: Eastern Washington, Idaho State, Montana State, Northern Arizona and Sacramento State. Only Weber State's Al Givens, who is entering his 16th year, and Northern Colorado's Lyndsey Benson, who is entering her fourth, have been at their schools longer than the third-year Wagner.

"Winning in the Big Sky is going to be as daunting and challenging as ever, but at this point there are a lot of unknowns (with so many new coaches)," Wagner said. "There were a lot of five-game matches last year, and not just for us. I would expect more of the same in 2008."

"There are no lights-out, go-to players this year in the league. Winning is going to come down to which teams have been able to develop the best chemistry by the time conference matches begin."

Montana opens its season for the second straight year as host of its own tournament. Tournaments at Southern Methodist, in Dallas, Texas, and Arizona State, in Tempe, Ariz., lead up to Montana's opening weekend of Big Sky Conference play against Northern Colorado and Northern Arizona Sept. 19-20.

"I really like this group," Wagner said about his team in closing. "Our returning players are far from satisfied, even though some had great starts to their careers as freshmen last year and others had very productive years (as upperclassmen). They are hungry for more."

"The newcomers enter the program as highly successful individuals, both academically and in their playing careers."

"The outlook for the team is to be right in the thick of things and give ourselves an opportunity to do it all at the end of the year."

Coach Wagner's Thoughts on Gustafson: "Lauren is not only a steady, veteran presence on this team, but she continues to improve. She exemplifies the type of work ethic and commitment to being a student-athlete that any coach would be happy to have in their program.

"Lauren is a dominant blocker, which complements our defense very well. She is able to hit a variety of sets, and she creates a lot of different situations where she can be a dominant, attacking presence."

2007 (junior season): An honorable mention All-Big Sky Conference pick ... An Academic All-Big Sky selection ... Played in all 26 matches, getting 12 starts ... Hit .273, which ranked second on the team, and averaged 0.78 blocks per game, which ranked third ... One of five players to average over two kills per game (2.16) ... Hit .294 in 16 Big Sky matches, which ranked sixth in the league ... Had seven double-figure kills matches, with five coming in conference play ... Had a career-high 20 kills in five-game loss at Weber State (10/13) on .581 hitting (20/23) ... Hit .692 (9/0/13) in 3-0 victory at Northern Arizona (9/15) and .583 (15/1/24) in four-game home-court victory over Northern Colorado (10/20) ... Had a career-high seven blocks in five-game loss to St. Louis (9/1) at Bradley's tournament.

2006 (sophomore season): An Academic All-Big Sky Conference selection ... Played in 16 matches, getting two starts ... Totaled 44 kills (0.96/g) on .100 hitting ... Had 19 total blocks (0.41/g), with three solo blocks and 16 block assists ... Posted a season-high six kills on two occasions ... Also had three blocks on two occasions.

Coach Wagner's Thoughts on Hobbs: "We need Whitney to assume the role on this team that was intended for her when she transferred from Auburn. She has the experience and the ability to be a mainstay at the outside hitter position, but it's up to her to establish what she wants to bring to the program.

"She's got a variety of shots and is capable of hitting a high percentage. She's a threat offensively, which got her into the starting lineup (last season) from time to time. Now she needs to come in and be a big part of what we're trying to accomplish. It's an important time for Whitney.

"Whitney has a lot of abilities and adds some high-level experience. We need those things to come out."

2007 (sophomore season): An Academic All-Big Sky Conference selection ... Played in 23 of 26 matches, getting seven starts at outside hitter ... Taryn WRIGHT

Junior • 5-10 • S
Fair Oaks, Calif. (St. Francis H.S.)

*An honorable mention All-Big Sky Conference pick as a sophomore ...
Opens a season as Montana's No. 1 setter for the first time in career ...
One of the Big Sky's top returning setters and one of the league's top servers ... The Grizzlies' leader in service aces in 2006 and '07*

Coach Wagner's Thoughts on Wright: "Taryn is one of the most volleyball-savvy players we have on the team, and because of that she's a steadying presence on the court for us. She can run anything offensively we want to try and she'll put the ball where it needs to be. Her ability to make plays is irreplaceable.

"I believe she is the best server in the conference, bar none. Not only does Taryn have a potent serve, she has a variety of them, from a dominant spin serve to a jump floater.

"We're going to be a very good defensive team this year, and it's because of Taryn's ability to block and defend her position. She's also a high-level attacker, which opens things up for our hitters."

2007 (sophomore season): An honorable mention All-Big Sky Conference pick ... Played in all 26 matches, getting 24 starts ... Amy
ROBERTSSophomore • 5-10 • OH
Eureka, Mont. (Lincoln County H.S.)

Made an immediate impact as a freshman, leading the team in kills ... Also among the team leaders in service aces and digs ... The Big Sky Conference's top-scoring freshman in 2007 and one of the league's top returners in kills per game

Coach Wagner's Thoughts on Roberts: "Amy brought in the type of enthusiasm, attitude and abilities last fall that I want to have in every player, and it allowed her to grow by leaps and bounds. She's very coachable, and she's developing the habits and attitudes that it's going to take to be a dominant left-side hitter."

"She had matches as a freshman — just like every young hitter is going to have — when she hit extremely well and others that didn't go so well. But the matches where she was effective and showed an ability to be a dominant attacker far outweighed the others. Her ability to hang in there when everything didn't go her way set her apart. Plus she went from not passing at all to being one of our top three passers by the end of the season."

"Amy is a very good athlete for us, but she is also someone who can be counted on to come through because she's been doing it her entire career. In volleyball and other sports, she's been counted on to get the team where it needs to be in order to win. And that's a skill that can't be taught."

2007 (freshman season): Played in all 26 matches, getting 20 starts ... Led the team in kills with 299 (3.15/g) ... Averaged 3.38 kills per game in Big Sky Conference play to rank eighth in the league, the only freshman in the top 10 ... Finished with double-figure kills on 16 occasions, including 12 of 16 Big Sky matches ... Fourth on the team in digs (2.06/g) and fifth in service aces (0.20/g) ... Named to the South Dakota State all-tournament team after averaging 3.36 kills and 2.36 digs per game in three tournament matches ... Had a season-high 27 kills and 19 digs in five-game loss at Eastern Washington (10/25) ... Hit a season-best .480 (18/6/25) in three-game home sweep of Montana State (11/2) ... Had eight double-figure digs matches and six double-doubles ... Twice finished with a season-high three blocks.

Prep: A 2007 graduate of Lincoln County High ... A four-time all-conference and three-time all-state selection ... Averaged 5.3 kills per game as a senior and had over 1,500 for her prep career ... Led the Lions to the 2006 Montana Class A state tournament ... Also earned all-state honors in basketball and softball.

Personal: Born June 10, 1989, in Whitefish, Mont. ... The daughter of Jim and Linda Roberts ... Has an older brother, Jay ... Has a 3.39 GPA as a mathematics major.

Jaimie THIBEAULT

Sophomore • 6-2 • MB
Red Deer, Alberta (Lindsay Thurber H.S.)

The 2007 Big Sky Conference Outstanding Freshman ... Also a second team All-Big Sky pick, the Grizzlies' first freshman to earn first or second team All-BSC honors ... Ranked in the Big Sky's top 10 as a freshman in both hitting percentage and blocks

Coach Wagner's Thoughts on Thibault: "We expected Jaimie to play well as a freshman, yet she came in and exceeded those expectations. And not only did she perform on the court, but her positive, upbeat and encouraging attitude developed a contagious atmosphere among her teammates. Jaimie plays the game with emotion and joy and just has a passion for whatever she's doing. She has something you hope the entire team catches.

"Jaimie went out last year and proved she's a very instinctive and dominant blocker who can hit at a high percentage. She is quickly becoming one of the top threats in the Big Sky Conference, not only in blocking but attacking as well.

"Jaimie should once again be a mainstay for us and someone we continue to count on."

2007 (freshman season): The Big Sky Conference's Outstanding Freshman ... A second team All-Big Sky pick ... One of two players to start all 26 matches ... Led the team in blocking (1.37/g) and was third in kills (2.25/g) and hitting percentage (.270) ... Stephanie TURNER

Sophomore • 5-9 • OH
Dayton, Wash. (Dayton H.S.)

11

Third year in the program ... Still seeking first court time after sitting out 2006 as a redshirt and missing 2007 with an injury

Coach Wagner's Thoughts on Turner: "Stephanie was able to practice with us consistently through the spring, which was the first time she was able to put in an extended period of training. That allowed us to expose her to the things she needs to develop into an outside hitter in this program ... Any time you're coming back from an injury, you've got to make some breakthroughs. Stephanie has been doing that ... I think she can help us quite a bit as she gets comfortable and her instincts get back to where they can be."

2007 (freshman season): Sat out the season with an injury

2006: Redshirt season

Prep: A 2006 graduate of Dayton High ... A two-time Washington Class B All-State volleyball selection ... Named all-conference and all-region four times and was league MVP on two occasions ... Placed sixth in the high jump at the 2003 Washington Class A state track and field.

Personal: Born July 11, 1988, in Walla Walla, Wash. ... The daughter of Jeff and Shannon Turner ... Has an older brother, Ryan, and a younger brother, Garrett ... Has a 3.19 GPA as a communications major.

Brittney BROWN

San Antonio, Texas (St. Edward's)

Transferred after playing freshman season at St. Edward's, an NCAA Division II school in Austin, Texas ... Expected to compete for the starting libero position

Coach Wagner's Thoughts on Brown: "Brittney has spent a lot of time playing the libero position, and she's suited for it. Physically she has the ability to get to a lot of balls and the tools to control and better the ball. Her mental makeup allows her to get to a lot of balls that otherwise would fall to the floor. She'll take the mentality of our defense in the direction we want to go."

2007 (freshman season): Played in all 30 matches and 109 games for the Hilltoppers ... Led the team with 436 digs (4.00/g) and finished third in service aces with 25 ... St. Edward's finished 16-14 and placed third in the Heartland Conference with an 8-6 league record ... Named to the HC all-tournament team after posting an 18-dig, two-service ace performance in the semifinals.

Prep: A 2007 graduate of Churchill High ... A member of the Centex volleyball club ... A member of the Centex 18 team that placed 13th in the 18 Open division at the 2007 USA Junior Olympic Girls' Volleyball Championship.

Personal: Born December 19, 1988, in San Antonio, Texas ... The daughter of David and Annie Brown ... Has an older brother, Taylor ... A biology/pre-medicine major.

Paige NASH

Freshman • 6-1 • OH/MB
Dickinson, N.D. (Dickinson H.S.)

Second year in the program ... Redshirted as a true freshman in 2007 ... The 2006 North Dakota Gatorade Girls' Volleyball Player of the Year and a two-time state champion at Dickinson High Coach Wagner's Thoughts on Nash: "Paige spent a bulk of her time last fall, probably for the first time in her career, in one particular position as she transitions into being a full-time middle in this program. She had stretches when she came along very, very nicely, and she had a solid spring, which is important because you're playing against some outside competition.

"Paige is someone we're really counting on to step in and make the middle a solid position for us. She is going to excel at that position because of her athletic ability. And what allows you to show your athletic ability in the middle is being more instinctive and reacting more quickly. I think that part of her game came a long way last spring."

2007: Redshirt season

Prep: A 2007 graduate of Dickinson High ... The Gatorade Girls' Volleyball Player of the Year for North Dakota as a senior ... Led DHS to a 32-4 record and its second straight Class A state title in 2006 ... A 5-7 high jumper who graduated with a 4.00+ GPA.

Personal: Born July 13, 1989, in Dickinson, N.D. ... The daughter of Mike and Terri Nash ... Has two younger brothers, Scott and Sean, and a younger sister, Tracy ... Has a 4.00 GPA as a biology major.

Paige BRANSTITER

Freshman • 6-1 • OH/MB
Nyssa, Ore. (Adrian H.S.)

22

A four-sport (volleyball, basketball, softball, track and field) standout at Adrian High ... A three-time all-state volleyball selection ... The Oregon Class 1A shot put and discus champion

Coach Wagner's Thoughts on Branstiter: "A veteran coach recommended Paige to us and we saw the same things he saw: not only her athleticism, but her demeanor as well. We could tell she is very coachable. Whatever she is asked to do, she does it with everything she has. We're going to train her as an outside, but with her attitude, we'll be able to shape and mold her into whatever position we need her to play.

"We're just coming to know Paige, but what we've learned is that she is going to develop into a heck of a player in this program. She is not only going to factor into what we do this year, but she's going to be a big part of this program down the road."

Prep: A 2008 graduate of Adrian High ... A standout for the Antelopes in volleyball, basketball, softball and track & field ... Led AHS to three straight appearances in the Class 1A state tournament, with a runner-up finish in 2007 ... A three-time all-state selection and district MVP as a senior ... All-league in basketball and softball ... Scored 23 points at the 2008 Class 1A state track and field meet, winning the shot and discus and placing sixth in the javelin.

Personal: Born August 22, 1990, in Newport, Ore. ... The daughter of Steve and Trudy Branstiter ... Has an older brother, Logan ... A health and human performance major.

KarynMOCKELFreshman • 5-11 • S
Spokane, Wash. (Mead H.S.)2

The 2007 Washington Class 4A Player of the Year ... A PrepVolleyball.com All-American and a PrepVolleyball.com All-America Academic selection ... The starting setter on three straight Class 4A state championship teams

Coach Wagner's Thoughts on Mockel: "Karyn is cool, calm and collected on the court as a setter. She's had success in whatever program she's been involved in, and she's consistently been singled out as the person who kept things together on the court and allowed those teams to have the success they did."

"Players with her type of successful background learn what it takes to achieve that type of success. She brings that experience and winning mentality to this team."

"She'll bring in a steady hand. She keeps everybody in rhythm and sets a nice ball."

Jerry WAGNER

Head coach • Third season
21st year of Division I coaching
22-31 overall • 15-17 Big Sky

Montana volleyball coach Jerry Wagner enters his third season with the Grizzlies in 2008. Hired on May 5, 2006, Wagner has led the Grizzlies to a two-year record of 22-31 (15-17 in Big Sky Conference matches).

Wagner led an immediate turnaround of the Montana volleyball program's fortunes in his first season.

In his first year as a head coach after 18 as an assistant coach or associate head coach, including three with Montana (1988-90), Wagner guided UM to a 9-7 Big Sky Conference mark in 2006. The Grizzlies finished fourth in the league and advanced to their first Big Sky tournament since 2000.

Montana's 9-7 conference record (12-15 overall) was its best since 1999, and its fourth-place league finish was its highest since 1996. The Grizzlies had gone 12-58 in five seasons of Big Sky play between 2001 and '05, then nearly matched that win total in Wagner's first season.

Wagner coached Claudia Houle to first team All-Big Sky Conference honors in his first season. Houle became the first Grizzly to receive first team honors since Dana Bennish in 1996.

Montana went 10-16 in Wagner's second season (2007), missing the final Big Sky Conference tournament spot by a game after finishing 6-10 in league play. Wagner's young squad's tournament hopes were hurt by a 0-5 record in five-game matches. All five losses came at the hands of teams that finished in the top four in the Big Sky.

Despite missing the tournament, the team had numerous individual accolades.

Jaimie Thibeault was named the 2007 Big Sky Conference Outstanding Freshman. Montana's first recipient of that award since 1989. Thibeault was also a second team All-Big Sky pick, the Grizzlies' first freshman to earn first or second team All-BSC honors.

Wagner also coached two honorable mention All-Big Sky players and placed four on the 2007 Academic All-Big Sky Conference team.

Wagner's Division I coaching experience began in 1988 when he was hired by Dick Scott to serve as an assistant with Montana. Wagner helped UM to two 20-win seasons in his three years with the Grizzlies (1988-90) and the program's first NCAA tournament appearance in 1990.

Wagner took an assistant job at Oregon State following the 1990 season. He spent eight years as an assistant with the Beavers, working for Dave Gantt in 1991 and '92 and Jeff Mozzochi from 1993 to '98.

In eight seasons at OSU, Wagner's teams won 125 matches and earned trips to the Women's Invitational Volleyball Championship (WIVC) in 1993 and '94.

Following the 1998 season, Wagner reunited with Gantt at Montana State. Wagner was the top assistant with the Bobcats for four seasons (1999-2002), then became the associate head coach under current MSU coach Miya Malauulu for the 2003 and '04 seasons.

In six years with the Bobcats, Wagner was part of teams that went 117-54.

Wagner spent the 2005 season as an assistant at Gonzaga, where he helped the Bulldogs to their best record in a decade.

Born in Havre, Mont., Wagner was a 1979 graduate of Havre High School.

Wagner earned an associate degree in drafting from Northern Montana College (now MSU-Northern) in 1981 and a bachelor's degree in secondary education and an extended major in physical education from NMC in 1986.

Wagner spent seven years coaching in the Havre area, including the 1987 season as the head coach at NMC before joining Scott's staff at Montana in 1988.

“We just sort of clicked”

Twenty years ago Montana volleyball coach Dick Scott hired a young workaholic as his assistant – the dynamic result of their coaching relationship is still impacting the Grizzly program two decades later

To what length would you go to spend three years learning your trade under the person you considered to be the best in the business in your chosen line of work? Would you go so far as to work for a stipend that kept you well below the poverty level? Would you do it if it meant getting a job watering flowers and pulling weeds in the summer to make ends meet? What if it meant cleaning public bathrooms?

You would if you were current Montana volleyball coach Jerry Wagner and the sacrifice meant you'd have the opportunity to work under then-Grizzly head coach Dick Scott.

“Hiring Jerry is the best thing that ever happened to the program.”

The year was 1988 and Scott's coaching staff was undergoing some personnel and financial changes. His former assistant, a graduate assistant, was moving on to a full-time teaching position, and Scott was finally given a pittance of a salary to attempt to attract his first full-time assistant.

Wagner was coming off his first year as a collegiate head coach at Northern Montana College and knew an opportunity when he saw it.

“Dick was an educator and mentor of mine and of a lot of coaches in Montana,” Wagner says today.

Having learned from Scott over the years as a young coach in some informal conference settings, Wagner was ready for an intense graduate-level education.

“I was doing volleyball (in Havre) year-round and enjoying every minute of it,” Wagner says, “but there was an opportunity at Montana working for Dick, and I wanted to step up a level and work for a fantastic coach who I could learn from.”

Scott was in his 10th season at Montana and reaching his 20th year in the sport. He had coached the U.S. junior national team for three years in the late 70s and assisted with the Olympic team in 1981 during a non-Olympic-year international competition.

Wagner had one year of head coaching experience at Northern Montana, six years as an assistant with the Skylights and three seasons coaching the Havre High team.

Neither could predict the dynamic relationship that would ensue when Wagner joined Scott and the Montana volleyball program for three seasons between 1988 and 1990. Each coach had his strengths and together they made each other better. The Grizzly volleyball program was the beneficiary.

“Dick Scott is the best game and practice coach I've ever been around,” Wagner says, a strong statement from someone who has been around the game since 1979, the last 20 at the Division I level. “Nobody could train a team better than Dick Scott, and I was trying to learn everything I could.

“I'm sure I bugged the heck out of him because I was in his office every second of the day. There was just so much to learn.”

While Wagner was learning the Xs and Os from Scott, Scott started feeding off of Wagner's relentless work ethic and the recruiting skills he brought to the program.

“There were a lot of coaches out there who were able to X and O, so I knew we needed to recruit at a higher level than we were doing if we wanted to get beyond where we were.” Scott recalls. “Jerry really motivated me to go after a higher-level player in our recruiting. He refused to sit back and say we couldn't get a particular kid.

“Between the two of us, we got really good. But it was easy with Jerry. He knows how to talk to people, and he won't ever give up, so he's a great recruiter. Plus his work ethic was just incredible, so I knew we were going to succeed.

“I guess we just sort of clicked.”

Scott points to his and Wagner's recruitment of Jennifer Moran, of Spokane, Wash., and Tricia Lake, of Oak Harbor, Wash., both freshmen in 1989, as the linchpins that turned Montana into an NCAA tournament regular in the early 90s. The Grizzlies would make four trips to national tournaments (three of which were the NCAA) during the five seasons between 1990 and '94.

“With Jerry's help, we were able to bring in some excellent athletes like Moran and Lake,” Scott says. “They helped take the program up a step.”

With a shake of the head, Wagner defers to the recruiting efforts Scott made well before Wagner's arrival as the key.

“Dick brought in some great athletes — Ann Schwenke, Angie Bellinger, Colleen Jantz, Kathy Young, Dawn Bjorklund. They were all freshmen my first year (in 1988), recruited before I ever got here. They were all Dick's doing.

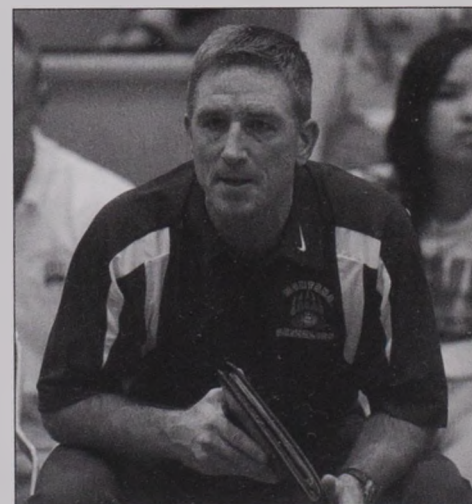

“It was that class which really brought us a lot of energy and put a spark into the program. It was easy to build some momentum in recruiting with those players already in the program.”

Wagner's stay at Montana as an assistant would last through 1990 before he moved on to Oregon State. Those three seasons (61 victories, three top-three Big Sky Conference finishes, one NCAA tournament appearance) would set the foundation for Montana's two other NCAA tournament teams of 1991 and '94 and Big Sky Conference championship teams of 1991, '92 and '94.

The first two teams after Wagner's departure, 1991 and '92, with the players he helped Scott recruit, would go 29-1 in Big Sky play, the program's only two outright league titles in Montana's 20 years of Big Sky Conference volleyball affiliation.

To make things work financially, Wagner turned to summer work for the Missoula Parks and Recreation Department. He cleaned bathrooms, weeded at the Memorial Rose Garden and watered at Fort Missoula. It was all worth it.

“I would have done anything to work under Dick and be a part of this program,” he says. “It wasn't about the money. I had the greatest job around, and I was having the time of my life. I got to go to work every day and learn from the best there is.”

Twenty years later, the respect continues to flow both ways.

After 15 years away from the place his heart never left, Wagner was hired as Montana's coach in May 2006. His commission was short and to the point ... and came with a memory he had no problem recalling: Get Montana back to the level Scott had it for over two decades.

After seeing the program he built hover near the bottom of the Big Sky Conference for the first half of this decade, no one was more excited than Scott to see Wagner finally get his chance to return to Missoula.

“Jerry's hiring was the best thing that ever happened to this program,” Scott said recently from his retirement home in Polson, Mont. “There couldn't have been a better selection. He knows better than anyone how to run the program at the University of Montana. It's finally in great hands.”

Gina SCHMIDT

Assistant coach
First season
Oregon State '02

The 2008 season marks Gina Schmidt's first year as an assistant coach with the Montana volleyball program. It is also the first year of collegiate coaching for Schmidt, who recently concluded a six-year professional playing career in Europe.

Schmidt's association with head coach Jerry Wagner dates back to the late 1990s when Schmidt was recruited to Oregon State when Wagner was an assistant with the Beavers.

Schmidt, originally from Beaverlodge, Alberta, would become a four-year letter-winner at Oregon State (1998-2001) and was an All-Pac-10 selection as a junior in 2000. She currently ranks No. 3 in OSU history in career kills (1,366) and No. 7 in career digs (1,142).

Schmidt, who graduated in 2002 with a 4.00 GPA in business administration, was a CoSIDA first team Academic All-American in 2000 and '01 and named the NCAA Woman of the Year for the state of Oregon in 2002.

In addition to having nine years of experience in the Canadian national program, including four with the senior women's team, Schmidt spent the last six years playing professionally as an outside hitter and setter in the top divisions in France, Germany, Holland, Switzerland and Finland.

Kandice KELLY

Assistant coach
Second season
Montana State '07

Kandice Kelly is in her second year with the Montana volleyball program, her first as a full-time assistant coach. Kelly was an interim assistant coach in 2007.

Kelly is a 2007 graduate of Montana State where she was a four-year member (2003-06) of the Bobcat volleyball program. She is the MSU single-season (495) and career (1,720) leader in digs and helped the Bobcats to three Big Sky Conference tournament appearances.

An honorable mention All-Big Sky selection as a senior in 2006, Kelly ranks second in Big Sky Conference history in career digs.

The 2002 Montana Gatorade Girls' Volleyball Player of the Year, Kelly led Roundup High School to four Class B state titles while starring for the Panthers as a setter and outside hitter.

Kelly was a three-time state tournament MVP and a four-time academic all-state selection.

She was recruited to Montana State by Wagner, who was an assistant and associate head coach with the Bobcats for six seasons (1999-2004).

Kelly's mother, Laurie, is the head volleyball coach at Rocky Mountain College in Billings, Mont.

UM Athletic Facilities

DORNBLASER STADIUM

The Rhinehart Athletic Training Center (RATC) boasts 7,200 square feet of space and includes an enlarged rehabilitation area. The primary goal of the athletic training staff is to provide quality care for student-athletes while helping them safely return to competition. The RATC provides numerous ways to treat injuries: electrical stimulation units, whirlpools, free weights and balance boards.

WASHINGTON-GRIZZLY STADIUM AT JOHN HOYT FIELD

Washington-Grizzly football stadium accommodates 25,203 fans.

DAHLBERG ARENA

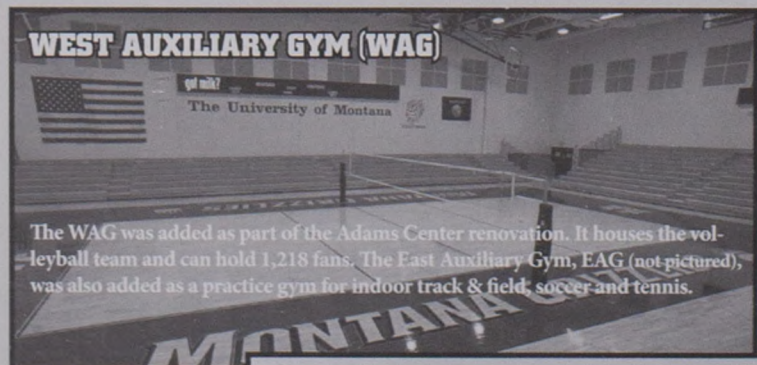

Dahlberg Arena has a capacity of 7,321.

ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE CENTER

As part of the renovation to the Adams Center, a 7,000-square foot Athletic Performance Center was created. The new center, which is home to the Griz student-athletes, is geared to enhance the overall athletic performance of the teams.

The Athletic Performance Center is as sport specific as possible, and the program is scientifically based and intended to increase one's athleticism, as well as decrease an athlete's susceptibility to injury.

WEST AUXILIARY GYM (WAG)

The University of Montana

The WAG was added as part of the Adams Center renovation. It houses the volleyball team and can hold 1,218 fans. The East Auxiliary Gym, EAG (not pictured), was also added as a practice gym for indoor track & field, soccer and tennis.

ADAMS CENTER

The renovated Adams Center, hub of The University of Montana Intercollegiate Athletic Department, features two auxiliary gyms, remodeled Dahlberg Arena, new weight center, athletic treatment center, locker rooms, academic center and the John Hoyt Athletic Complex, which houses the athletic staff.

The South Campus Soccer Stadium features a fully-fenced venue, scoreboard, locker rooms and seating for 1,000 fans.
