Re: Minges, Ralph V.: Petition to substitute credits in major department of geology for 3 credits in Military Science. Petition granted.

On the recommendation of the Curriculum Committee the faculty noted that a committee of three be appointed to investigate the arrears annuity and insurance plan for teachers, and report to the faculty the results of the investigation. (The President subsequently appointed the following as members of the committee: Underwood, Colvin, Colvin.)

On the recommendation of the Curriculum Committee the faculty approved the following new courses:

I. That the following schedule be the general aim of the various departments in grading:

General University average about 17.3

II. That a standard be maintained from year to year such as will produce results in accordance with the above schedule, (rather than fitting particular classes to the schedule).

III. That in case a department departs considerably from the norms indicated in the above, and particularly in case a department continues several points (3 or 4, say) above or below the 17.3 shown above for a period of several quarters, the Budget and Policy Committee should call for an explanation of that fact; should such explanation not prove satisfactory, the department shall be required to submit rankings instead of grades for its classes. Appeal may be had in such a case to the Curriculum Committee.

The recommendation was adopted by the faculty.

5. A report of the special committee on examinations, appointed at the meeting of the faculty January 26th, was presented by the Chairman, Mr. Leaphart, as follows:

"Your Committee, believing that no decided changes be made in the conduct of examinations at the end of the winter quarter from that of the examinations of the fall quarter but that arrangements be made more complete, recommends that student proctors be again used; that the proctoring should be secret at least in the sense that no student proctors should be walking up and down the aisles; that in addition to appointed proctors all students be urged to act as proctors and report, under signature, to the Student Committee on Discipline any individuals seen cheating; that the necessary material be furnished to each student for the purposes of reporting cheating; that all this material be handed in to the member of the Committee as the student leaves the examination room; that the proctors be nominated by the Presidents of the A.S.U.M., A.W.S., Senior Class, and Junior Class; that the proctors be selected from the nominees by this Committee; that the Committee of Students who are to weigh the evidence and recommend the penalty to the Deans' Conference in case of finding students guilty should consist of three (3) Seniors and two (2) Juniors and should be selected by this Committee. The Committee further recommends that it be instructed to make the necessary preparations for conducting the examinations along these lines."
After discussion Shallenberger seconded by Rowe, moved to amend the recommendation by stipulating that the "proctors should be publicly known." The amendment was lost, and the recommendation in the report approved.

6. There being no further business before the Faculty the meeting adjourned.

"That the final examinations in June, 1926, be conducted in the same manner as the March examinations, with each student acting as a proctor, but with this exception; that there be no specially appointed proctors.

"That a student discipline committee of five, with power to pass upon the guilt or innocence of persons accused of cheating and to fix the penalty therefor in case of guilt, be appointed by a joint faculty and student committee on examinations. That a student found guilty of cheating shall have the right to appeal to the joint committee on examinations, which shall have power to review the case and affirm or mitigate the penalty, or adjudge the accused "Not Guilty", as the evidence shall appear to warrant.

"That this joint committee on examinations shall consist of five faculty members to be appointed by the President, and of five students to be chosen by the President of the A.S.U.M., subject to the approval of the Central Board.

"That this joint committee on examinations shall take charge of the June examinations in accordance with these recommendations, and shall thereafter be continued as a functioning committee with the duty of working out such alterations of this system and such extensions of it to other matters concerning the honor of University students as may appear wise, and of submitting the same to the faculty and the student body for approval or rejection."
"That the present committee be discharged from further duty when these recommendations, if approved by the faculty, shall have been submitted to the student body for approval."

Mr. Leaphart explained that the Committee assumed that the proposed committee, if these recommendations were approved, would assume the obligations inherent in the proposal of the Schedule Committee in holding the examinations.

After discussion, Kirkwood moved to amend the recommendation by adding the provision that the adoption of the above report by the faculty is subject to a majority of all students in actual attendance voting to assume the obligations inherent in the proposal of the committee, viz. (1) to agree neither to give nor to receive aid and (2) to report acts of infringement of these obligations by other students; that such a vote of the students should be by signed ballot with "yes" or "no" or as a third alternative declining to vote; also that every student now in attendance should be required to sign a ballot indicating one or another of the alternatives.

The amendment was seconded and unanimously adopted. The recommendation of the Committee as amended was then unanimously approved by the faculty.

   Secretary.
Resolved: that in the death of Professor Joseph Harding Underwood we have lost a friendly, critical, and loyal colleague, who has for years worked with us with devotion to education, with sympathetic understanding of young people, with belief in the fulness of life; who has rallied our spirits when faint, encouraged them when strong; who has seen through futile plans and deeds and suggested in their stead wiser thought and action; who has taught out of increasing wisdom, seeing life with his own eyes and interpreting it with his own mind; who patterned and lived his life with high courage after his honest convictions, no matter what the difficulty of realization;

Resolved: that in his death the University of Montana suffers a grave loss of one who for nineteen years gave himself unspiringly, body and mind, to its purposes; who watched its progress, criticized it courageously, and aided it by discriminating thought and deeds; who represented it abroad, in his wise scholarship, his trenchant wit, his kindly personality, with distinction;

Resolved: that these resolutions be conveyed to his family, with our strong sympathy in their grief and our appreciation of their loss; but also with expression of joy that their son and brother was our friend and colleague while he walked so helpfully among us;

And Finally

Resolved: that these resolutions be recorded in our faculty minutes as testimonial to our grief and our appreciation.
