University of Montana

The University of Montana in Missoula is located in a mountain forest setting in beautiful Western Montana. It is halfway between Glacier and Yellowstone national parks.

Four wilderness areas are located near Missoula. The natural surroundings offer excellent opportunities for hunting, fishing, backpacking, river floating, camping and other outdoor recreational pursuits. Two excellent winter ski areas are located within minutes of the University. Several other ski areas are only a couple of hours away by car. UM owns and operates its own golf course adjacent to campus.

The University of Montana is one of the West's pioneers in education and was chartered February 17, 1893. The school opened in September 1895, with 50 students enrolling the first day. Located on 201 acres at the base of Mount Sentinel, UM has grown from 50 students and seven faculty members to a present enrollment of 8,500 and approximately 450 full-time faculty positions.

Through its history, the University of Montana has sustained a high standard of academic excellence in teaching, research and service.

UM offers associate of arts degrees in two areas and bachelor's degrees in 58 fields. It offers master's degrees in 54 programs and doctoral degrees in 13.

The College of Arts and Sciences, which is the core of the University, includes a full range of programs and courses in the life sciences, physical sciences, social sciences and humanities. The College also offers curricula in interdisciplinary fields ranging from ethnic studies to interdepartmental studies.

Seven professional schools complete the academic program — Business Administration, Fine Arts, Journalism, Education, Forestry, Law, and Pharmacy and Allied Health Sciences.

The aim of the University is to provide its students with relaxing and meaningful learning experience with the best facilities possible. The administration, faculty and staff strive for this goal.

Academics at UM Add Up To Success

The University of Montana was recently awarded its 24th Rhodes Scholarship. UM ranks 19th of all American colleges and universities in the number of Rhodes Scholars it has produced, and 6th among schools west of the Mississippi. Students are chosen on the basis of scholarship, community and political involvement, athletic ability and personal character.

The Flathead Lake Biological Station, located about 70 miles northeast of Missoula, is the nation's oldest inland station. Among some 70 inland units in the United States, the UM research station ranks fifth for its program facilities and student population.

KUFM, a non-commercial public radio station operated by the radio-television department of the School of Journalism, is the only National Public Radio station in Montana.

University of Montana education majors compete very successfully for jobs with 94 percent of those with bachelor's degrees and 100 percent of those with graduate degrees finding appropriate positions.

The Department of Social Work is fully accredited by the Council on Social Work Education and is the only Montana school that assures its graduates of a year of advanced standing in graduate schools of social work.

The School of Journalism has had 24 of its students selected as Sears Congressional interns — more than any other journalism school in the country. During the four-month internship, students work for a United States Congressman or Senator and also attend classes.

The Department of Art enjoys a national reputation for excellence in ceramics.

The Department of Drama/Dance has a professional theater group — the Montana Repertory Theatre — based on campus. The Montana Repertory Theatre, which tours throughout the Northwest, is the only professional Actors Equity company between Minneapolis and Seattle.

Eight University of Montana students have been chosen to receive Truman Scholarships. The national scholarship is given annually to students committed to a government career who have superior academic ability and leadership potential.

The Department of Anthropology has the largest collection of artifacts and records of pre-history in the region.

The School of Business is the only business school in Montana to be accredited by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business.

More than 55 percent of the business school's accounting graduates pass the Certified Public Accountant Exam on their first try. This is more than three times the national first-time success rate of 18 percent.

The Department of Geology has a national reputation. In cooperation with Purdue University, a field station has been set up in southwestern Montana. The department also provides hands-on experience for students in the minerals, rocks and paleontology laboratories at the University's Seismic Station and in the Earthquake Research Laboratory.

The Department of Geography has one of the region's best cartography laboratories where students learn to make maps and interpret aerial photography.

The Department of Health and Physical Education is one of a handful in the country that trains students to be athletic trainers. And it is the only program in the state to offer a Master of Science in Physical Education.

The Native American Studies program at the University of Montana is regarded by Indian educators as one of the four most outstanding in the nation.

Newly remodeled training facilities in the Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders are some of the finest in the region. People from all over the state come to the center for speech, language and hearing therapy.

The Grizzlies had four Academic All-Americans in 1988 in Mike McGowan, Rick Sullivan, Brad Salonen and John Huestis—the most by any Division 1 program in the nation. Last season the UM football team had 10 players named to the All-Big Sky Conference Academic Team. Montana has had numerous All-Americans in other sports as well.

President James V. Koch

James V. Koch (pronounced Cook) became the 15th president of the University of Montana on June 30, 1986.

Before coming to UM he had been the provost and vice president for academic affairs at Ball State University, in Muncie, Indiana, since 1980.

Koch, 45, graduated from Illinois State University in 1964 with a B.A. in economics. He earned his Ph.D. in Economics from Northwestern in 1968.

From 1972 to 1978 he chaired the economics department at Illinois State University, leaving to serve as dean of the faculty of arts and sciences at Rhode Island University from 1978 to 1980. He has also been a visiting professor at several schools.

He has written many scholarly articles and four books. Honored as Illinois University Teacher of the Year in 1977-78, he has found time since becoming president to teach an undergraduate economics class. He has also traveled widely throughout Montana lecturing to high school classes and talking to community groups about the University.

He and his wife, Donna, have two children.

Gary became athletic ticket manager at UM in 1966. In 1978 he was appointed Manager of Athletic Facilities and Revenue.

He manages all scheduling in Adams Field House, Washington-Grizzly Stadium and Dornblaser Track and Field in addition to overseeing the new TIC-IT-E-Z Ticketing System, all athletic revenue, concessions operations, all event staffing, and various other duties.

Chuck joined the Grizzly athletic department in June of 1988. As assistant to the athletic director he oversees all business affairs of the University of Montana athletic department. He also makes all departmental supply orders, manages the budget and gives budget approval. He is a 1985 graduate of UM with a B.A. degree in Business Administration, graduating with degrees in Accounting and Management. He came to work at Montana immediately after graduation from his alma mater as an accountant. In that capacity he was responsible for financial transactions in Intercollegiate Athletics and the Plant Fund accounting per state and local policies. He graduated from Anaconda High School in 1978 and was a track letterman as a prep. Maes, 29, married the former Brenda Williamson last December.

Don Read

Don Read is the only coach in the history of Montana who has had winning seasons in his first three years as head mentor. He has a 20-13 record at Montana and his 20 victories already makes him the fourth winningest coach in Grizzly history.

In 1986-87-88, Read's Grizzly teams have gone 6-4, 6-5 and 8-4. In 1988 Montana had an 8-3 regular-season record and ended the year ranked 16th in Division I-AA. UM was second in the Big Sky Conference in '88 with a 6-2 mark and Read's three-year league slate is 15-9.

Read's winningest percentage of .606 entering the 1989 season is 9th best in Big Sky history.

When Read became the 31st head coach at UM in December of 1985, he promised it would be a wide open, pass-oriented team that he would put on the field. He and offensive coordinator Tommy Lee lived up to their pre-season promises as the Grizzlies broke virtually every UM passing record in 1986.

In Montana's 92-year football history, the Grizzlies have won six or more games 15 times, and Read has accomplished that all three of his years as head mentor.

Read, 55, came to UM from Portland State University, where he was head coach from 1981 to 1985 and 1968-71. Sandwiched between the PSU stints were head jobs at Oregon (1974-76) and Oregon Tech (1977-80). In his first three head coaching jobs at PSU, Oregon and Oregon Tech, he turned losing programs around. His Oregon Tech teams were nationally ranked in 1979 (9th) and 1980 (7th).

In the 1984 season, Read led PSU to an 8-3 record and was named the Division II Coach of the Year after the Vikings won the Western Conference title.

Read's overall head coaching record is 122-111-1. He has 30 years in the coaching profession, beginning in 1959 as an assistant at Placer High in Auburn, California. His first head job was at Petaluma High in California in 1962.

He lives and coaches by personal philosophies. Some of these include:

"Success is a byproduct of hard work; expect players to make a positive commitment to football and other aspects of school life; football shapes character; a team must always play with emotion and intensity."

Read has written a book, The Complete Passing Game, worked football camps in eight states and Canada, and written almost 100 articles for athletic and coaching magazines.

At Oregon, he coached former All-Pro quarterback Dan Fouts and former pro quarterback June Jones at PSU. At Montana, he coached QB Brent Pease, who is now with the Miami Dolphins. Pease led the nation in total offense in 1986. In 1987 UM QB Scott Werbelow was second in the nation in passing efficiency.

Read earned his undergraduate degree in Social Science in 1960, and his Master's degree in Health and Physical Education at Sacramento State two years later.

Don and his wife, Lois, have a daughter, Beth and son, Bruce. Bruce serves as UM's special teams coach.

Assistant Coaches

Tommy Lee

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

Montana's national ranking in offense, two of the last three seasons, was largely due to the creative mind of Tommy Lee, and Montana's pass-minded offense. He works in close proximity with the quarterbacks, and in just one season with Brent Pease helped develop him to the point where he became UM's all-time single season passer.

At Portland State he was the offensive coordinator and in charge of recruiting for two seasons before coming with Don Read to UM. He was head coach at Willamette University from 1974 to 1982 and an assistant there the previous two years. He has three years of head coaching experience at Central Catholic High School in Portland. At Willamette he was an N.A.I.A. All-American quarterback in 1962, and received his B.A. degree there in 1963 in Physical Education. He later earned his master's degree in education at Willamette. He played for Ottawa in the Canadian Football League. He served as athletic director at Willamette from 1974-82 and was an associate professor there as well.

Lee and his wife, Haunani, have three children.

"I like a pro type of offense with emphasis on the passing game, involving the running backs," Lee said. "That offense has multiple sets with motion. I like to keep things simple with the end results being sound execution."

Jerome Souers

Defensive Coordinator

Souers (pronounced Sow-Ers) has 13 years of coaching experience. He was promoted to defensive coordinator this past spring when Bill Smith left. In 1988 Montana's secondary led the Big Sky Conference in pass defense for the first time in school history. The Grizzlies had 28 interceptions for 480 yards and four touchdowns. The 28 interceptions ties a school record set in 1970. The 480 yards is a Big Sky Conference record, breaking the old mark of 469 yards set by Northern Arizona in 1985.

Before coming to UM, he was the secondary coach at Portland State for two seasons and served in a similar position at Western Washington for a season prior to the PSU job. He coached at "AAA" prep level for eight years at North Eugene and Willamette High schools. His father, Dwight, was a successful, well-known coach in Eugene. Jerome earned a B.A. in Physical Education at Oregon in 1983 and earned his master's in P.E. at PSU in 1985.

He and his wife, Paula, have a year old daughter, Anna.

"We believe in playing aggressive, hard-nosed defense. We keep it simple, work hard at technique, and keep the emphasis on execution of our coverage responsibility."

Bob Beers

Assistant Head Coach/Offensive Line

Montana's offensive line has been a focal point for the past two seasons and Bob Beers is one of the big reasons for that. Last year both Kirk Scrafford and Jay Fagan earned all-league status, and this season UM's three senior linemen are possible National Football League players. This is only Bob's second season as line coach at UM, after working with the D-line in 1986-87.

A former Grizzly football great, Beers was an inaugural member of the Grizzly Football Hall of Fame in 1982. He was an All-American at Columbia Basin Junior College and at Montana (1967-68). He has 19 years of coaching experience. Before returning to UM as a coach, he was the head coach at West Linn High School in Oregon. He began his coaching career at his alma mater, working with the linebackers for UM head coach Jack Swarthout in 1970-71. After that he was an assistant at Montana Tech from 1971-73. He coached in the prep ranks for 12 seasons, beginning at Butte Central in 1974. His record as a high school coach is 64-35. Beers, 41, is a 1970 graduate of UM with a degree in History & Health, Physical Education.

Beers and his wife, Janelle, have a son Bobby, 16, and daughter Cari, 15.

"I think coaching is like teaching and is an educational experience that you want to make as positive as you can for the young men you coach. I want to make it a positive experience playing football and going to school at the University of Montana."

Robin Pflugrad

Wide Receivers/Running Backs

Pflugrad (pronounced Flew-Grad) wears several hats as he coaches the wide receivers/running backs, and is the academic coordinator, which involves eligibility for all of UM's football players. He is also in charge of compliance rules for the NCAA and the Big Sky Conference.

He was a standout wide receiver at Portland State during the Neil Lomax era and was team captain and a second team Academic All-American in 1979. For three seasons at PSU he coached the wide receivers and was also director of football promotions. His Mt. Hood Junior College teams were 20-2 in 1976-77 and first in the nation in '77 when he was all-conference. He was receiver and secondary coach at South Eugene High School in 1982 and has served as a coach and counselor in football camps since 1981. He received his B.S. degree at PSU in Business Administration in 1980 and his Oregon Teachers Certificate in Business Education in 1984. He and coach Jerome Souers played high school football together at North Eugene High.

Pflugrad, 31, and his wife, Marlene, have a daughter Amanda, 2, and an infant son, Aaron.

"I feel it's important for the receivers and running backs to have a very positive experience in football. Within our offensive system, they have the ability to stand out, while also having fun, because they're so involved in our pass-oriented offense."

Assistant Coaches

Kraig Paulson
Linebackers

Paulson begins his second season as a full-time Grizzly assistant coach and his third season at UM.

He is a four-year letterman for the Grizzlies, from 1982-86. This will be his second year working with the linebackers.

In 1987 he served as a graduate assistant working with the secondary and special teams.

His sophomore season at UM he was named the Outstanding Sophomore. As a prep at Plentywood High School, he was a two-time all-state pick in football and lettered four times in football and track.

Three brothers, Kevin, Kerry and Keith, all ran track for the Grizzlies, and another brother, Kent, ran track at Western Montana College. Kent is the current head boy's basketball coach at C.M. Russell High in Great Falls.

He is a 1987 graduate of UM, earning a B.A. in Education.

Kraig, 25, is single.

"We have a lot of talent and depth, the most in some time. Mike Rankin is an outstanding leader. We're excited about this season based on good leadership and depth. We have a combination of proven players and excellent potential in our younger linebackers."

Joe Klucewich
Defensive Line

Former University of Montana standout Joe Klucewich begins his first season as a full-time coach this year as the defensive line coach. Last year he served as a graduate assistant coach working with the D-line.

"Kluey" began his coaching career at Rocky Mountain College, where he served as secondary coach from 1985-87.

He lettered for the Grizzlies from 1980-84 and played fullback. He rushed for 619 yards and 9 touchdowns in his career, and caught 40 passes for 3 TDs.

At Granite Hills High School in El Cajon, California, he rushed for 1,930 yards as a junior and senior. His senior year he was a Los Angeles Times second team All-Star selection and second team All-San Diego pick as well.

He earned a B.A. in Health & Physical Education at Montana in 1985. He earned his Master's in Education at UM in 1988.

His brothers, Josh and Jim, were star football players at local Big Sky High and Missoula Sentinel High Schools. Josh lettered in football for the Grizzlies in 1983 and 1984.

Joe, 28, is single.

"In the pass-oriented Big Sky the defensive front needs to put pressure on the quarterback, and that will be one of our top priorities. I'm looking for steady improvement, and hope we can maintain the consistency that has been established by the Grizzly defensive line the last couple of seasons."

Bruce Read
Special Teams

Bruce is beginning his second season as a special teams coach at Montana and his fifth overall. He served as a part-time assistant coach in 1986-87 and a graduate assistant in 1985 at Portland State, working with the special teams. He graduated from PSU with a B.S. degree in Social Science. As a player at Henley High school in Klamath Falls, Oregon, he was an honorable mention all-state wide receiver/punter, captain of the football team, team MVP and led the state in punting as a senior. He is also an accomplished photographer and was a free lancer at PSU and for the Portland Breakers of the United States Football League.

The Grizzlies have excelled in special teams the last couple seasons. Last year they were ranked first in the nation in net punting (39.8 yards). In the last two seasons the Grizzlies have 13 blocks. In 1987 UM set a Big Sky record with four blocks in a game against intra-state rival, Montana State.

He and his wife Christina have a three-year-old son, Justin.

"There is no other phase of the game more exciting or big-play oriented than special teams," Read said. "Our players know this, and we place a lot of emphasis on the kicking game."

1989 Grizzly Football Outlook

The 1989 University of Montana Grizzly football team returns 14 starters off of last year's 8-4 team that finished the season ranked 16th in the nation and participated in the Division 1-AA national playoffs for the second time in school history. UM's eight victories were its third most in history.

Last season Montana was second in the Big Sky Conference with a 6-2 record. UM received an at-large berth in the national playoffs, losing to top-ranked Idaho, 38-19 in Moscow. Earlier in the year the Grizzlies gave the Vandals their only league loss, 26-17 in Missoula.

Four of UM's six All-Americans are back from last season, including the conference's Defensive Player of the Year, safety Tim Hauck. Hauck was also a first team Associated Press All-American.

Other 1988 All-Americans returning for their senior seasons include second team pick Jody Farmer at punter, third team selection Mike Rankin at linebacker, and honorable mention offensive guard Kirk Scafford. All four of those players were first team All-Big Sky choices.

Eight of the Grizzlies' 14 returning starters received all-league recognition. Other all-leaguers back are guard Jay Fagan, kicker Kirk Duce, outside linebacker Mike McGowan and cornerback Dwayne Hans.

Junior quarterback Grady Bennett is back after starting the last nine games of the season. Last year he passed for 1,682 yards and 11 touchdowns and ran for three TDs.

Other returning starters on offense are honors candidate Tim Polich at tackle, and wide receivers Matt Clark, Mike Trevathan and Lorenzo Glenn.

"I feel real good about our offense," said Read, who has records of 6-4, 6-5 and 8-4 at UM. "We have two talented quarterbacks in Grady and (redshirt freshman) Brad Lebo. "This will be the first year we have been here that we have two quarterbacks we have a lot of confidence in.

"Our offensive line is big and experienced," Read continued. "We have two all-conference guys (Scafford and Fagan) and another (Polich) the pros are looking at," Read said. "It's our best group in four years. They are extremely cohesive, and the fact that they are all Montana kids means they take tremendous pride in each other and in Grizzly football."

The other two starters on the line will be Chad Germer at center and Rick Erps at guard. Fellow sophomore Scot Engler is expected to start at tight end. Junior redshirt Joe Farrish, JC transfer Craig Whitney and sophomore letterman Shannon Cabunoc will all see action at wide receiver.

"Our wide receivers are a solid group with more speed, depth and talent than in our previous three seasons," Read said.

Defense was Montana's forte last season, as UM led the Big Sky in pass and rush defense for the first time in school history and was 12th in the nation overall, allowing 279.9 yards a game. UM was third in the nation against the rush, giving up just 97.8 yards a game.

UM led the nation and the league in net punting (39.8) in 1988. It was only the second time in Big Sky's 26-year history a team has led the league in every defensive category. In the Grizzlies' 11 regular-season games the defense held opponents to under 250 yards in total offense six times, and held them to under 200 total yards twice.

"On defense we need to find players to fit into some of the positions opened up by graduation, but we certainly have the nucleus to have another quality defense," Read said.

Hauck led the "D" with 101 tackles, four interceptions and four blocked punts. Rankin, a first team all-leaguer the last two seasons, added 87 tackles, eight for losses, and forced three fumbles. McGowan was next with 78 tackles.

There is a bevy of talented linebackers vying for playing time with Rankin, including sophomore letterman Paul LeProwse, JC talent Bryan Tripp, and veteran lettermen Steve Collins and Alex Hunter.

"Our linebacker core is talented and versatile with speed and strength, led by Mike Rankin, a three-year starter and thought of as one of the premier linebackers in the Big Sky Conference," Read said.

UM lost All-American J.C. Campbell to graduation, but, said Read, "with the exception of J.C. we're the same there as we were a year ago. We're experienced, but still young. Between them this group had 11 sacks last year."

At ends are senior Dan Edwards and sophomores Kirk Murphy and Gregg Smerker. At tackles are sophs Thad Huse and Nels Kludt, and junior Joe Kalafat.

Honors candidate Hans leads the way at cornerback, and along with senior letterman Marcus Bowen gives UM two very good one-on-one defenders. Junior redshirt Broyce Batchan had a very good spring, and a couple of talented JC transfers could make this a very solid position.

Hauck played both strong and free safety in the spring and may end up playing both positions, depending on the team UM is playing.

Sophomore kicker Duce kicked a school record 18 (of 28) field goals and was a second team All-Big Sky pick. Farmer was first team all-league at punter, averaging 43.3 yards a kick, which placed him second in the nation.

UM's kickoff returners will be Farmer, Cabunoc, Farrish and redshirt freshman Tony Rice. Senior letterman Todd Gorman has the inside track as punt returner.

"We were blessed with outstanding specialists last year," Read said. "Both are good under pressure, as indicated by their 1988 performances."

Read and his staff and players are hoping that Montanans have more to celebrate this season than their state's Centennial.

All-American Candidates

TIM HAUCK/SENIOR STRONG SAFETY 6-0, 185, from Big Timber, Montana

The 1988 Defensive Player of the Year in the Big Sky Conference and first team Associated Press All-American, Hauck was the leader on Montana's nationally ranked defense in 1988 with 101 tackles.

"Tim is the best instinctive football player I've had a chance to coach," said Grizzly head mentor Don Read, who begins his 19th year as a head college coach this season. "He is always where the ball is. He is extremely intelligent, competitive, and aggressive. He has improved his speed each year and now runs a 4.5 in the 40."

"We feel Tim is the best safety the Big Sky Conference has seen in recent years," Read said.

Of Hauck's 101 tackles, 51 were unassisted. He also had four interceptions, four blocked punts, five tackles for losses, three fumble recoveries and three sacks in '88.

Nicknamed "Hitter," he was Montana's MVP last season and also voted the Golden Helmet Award winner for the second straight year, an honor that goes, appropriately enough, to the team's hardest hitter.

In the past two seasons he has 176 tackles, eight interceptions and has blocked six punts. As a sophomore he was an honorable mention all-league choice.

He opened the '88 season in a big way with a team-high 12 tackles in a home win over Eastern New Mexico. He also had two interceptions in that game. In UM's 8-3 regular season he had eight or more tackles in nine of 11 games, and more than 10 tackles in five games.

A versatile player in the secondary, he started at cornerback in 1987 and was moved to strong safety/outside linebacker in the spring of '88. This past spring he played both strong and free safety.

Hauck walked on at UM after transferring from Pacific University in Oregon, where he earned all-conference honors at strong safety as a freshman.

As a star at Big Timber High School he was a four-year letterman in football and lettered three times in basketball and track. He was an all-state quarterback and defensive back. He was also all-state in basketball and track, and the state pole vault champion as a senior. His prep grid coach was his father, Bob Hauck, Sr. He has a 3.11 GPA in Business Education and has made the All-Big Sky Academic team the last two years.

KIRK SCRAFFORD/SENIOR OFFENSIVE TACKLE 6-7, 278 from Billings, Montana

In the past the University of Montana has been blessed with its share of linemen who have had outstanding careers in the National Football League, with the likes of Steve Okoniewski, Barry Darrow, Terry Falcon, Guy Bingham, and others. It appears Kirk Scrafford is headed in that direction too.

At 6-7, 278 pounds with 4.9 speed in the 40 and a 410-pound bench press, he definitely has the tools it takes to make it in the NFL. He runs the 20 in 2.81 seconds and has a 33-inch vertical jump.

"Kirk is the best pass-blocking lineman we've had at Montana in our four-year tenure," said UM head coach Don Read. "He possesses excellent technique, has good feet, and is extremely strong. Add to that the fact that he is coachable, hard-working and very competitive, and you can see why we think he is something special."

"He is a strong leader on our team and is looked up to by coaches and players alike," Read said. "He is highly respected in the Big Sky Conference and should be playing in the NFL in 1990."

An honorable mention All-American and first team All-Big Sky Conference pick as a junior, "Scraffy" will be starting his fourth straight season in 1989. He has started at offensive guard the past three years and was moved to tackle this past spring. He was selected as the UM's "Outstanding Junior" in 1988.

A two-year letterman in track at UM, in 1988 he was third in the Big Sky Track & Field Championships in the discus.

"Kirk Scrafford is going to be one of the finest offensive linemen to ever play at the University of Montana, no doubt about it — and I've seen a lot of them," said O-line coach Bob Beers, an All-American linebacker at UM in 1967-68. "He has great upper body strength and is a tremendous pass blocker."

The Geology major also has the brains to go with his athletic ability. He will be an Academic All-American nominee, and maintains a 3.31 GPA in Geology. As a prep at Billings West High he was an all-conference guard and the state champion in the discus as a senior.

MIKE RANKIN/SENIOR INSIDE LINEBACKER 6-0, 245 from Edmonds, Washington

Another big reason why Montana's defense was ranked 12th in the nation last season was Mike Rankin, who has been a first-team All-Big Sky Conference selection the last two seasons.

"Mike Rankin is said by many to be the best linebacker Montana has ever produced," said Grizzly head coach Don Read. "He is quick and fast, and more than that, he is agile and tough."

"Mike has a burning desire to excel and be a dominant player in every game," Read said. "He is one of the strongest players I've coached in recent years and delivers tremendous impact every time the ball is snapped."

"This young man not only has the physical attributes to be very special, but he has also developed into a leader on and off the field," Read continued. "His 4.6 speed in the 40, his 245 pounds and his 435-pound bench press tells the Mike Rankin story."

He was a third team AP All-American in 1988 and an honorable mention pick the year before. He was UM's Outstanding Sophomore in 1987 and Freshman of the Year in 1985, starting in six games as a "true" freshman. He did not play in 1986 because of a knee injury, and has started in 22 straight games since that season.

Last year he tied for the team lead in tackles for losses with eight for - 18 yards, had a team-high three forced fumbles and had three sacks. He was UM's leading tackler as a sophomore with 78 stops, and second leading tackler as a frosh with 71. He is one of the all-time tacklers in Grizzly history with 236.

At Woodway High School he was twice named all-conference both ways at fullback and noseguard. He was player of the Year in the Western Conference as a senior. He was the state champion in wrestling at 190 pounds in 1984.

1989 Honors Candidates

Jay Fagan, Offensive Guard

6-3, 280, Senior from Butte, Montana

Beginning his third year as a starter, Jay was a second team All-Big Sky Conference selection last season. He is one of three Grizzly offensive linemen National Football League scouts are looking at as a possible pro player.

"Jay Fagan continues to improve and is one of the steadiest, most complete players I've coached at Montana," said Grizzly head coach Don Read. "Perhaps his most outstanding trait is his raw toughness. He is a hard-nosed, hard-working, tough-minded footballer (sic).

"Jay is extremely strong, a good technician and a versatile lineman," Read said. "He can play guard and center equally well. Many feel he is one of the best players ever to come out of the city of Butte, which has produced many outstanding athletes."

Last season he was named the Paul Weskamp Award winner, given annually to UM's "Outstanding Offensive Lineman."

"Jay is a great trap blocker with great field awareness, has good speed, and just a dang tough Butte kid," said O-line coach Bob Beers; "and we look to him for leadership on the offensive line."

At Butte High he was an all-conference and an all-state pick.

He is an all-conference academic nominee with a 3.0 GPA in Business.

Jody Farmer, HB/P>Returns

6-0, 200, Senior from Libby, Montana

One of the most versatile football players ever at Montana, Jody was a second team All-American punter last year and was second in 1-AA with a 43.3-yard average. He was first team all-league at punter and second team at running back.

He enters the season as the eighth ranked scorer in Grizzly history with 108 points and is 14th ranked in career rushing with 1,168 yards.

"Twenty years ago Jody would have been a Heisman Trophy candidate, because he can do so many things well," Read said. "Jody has great quickness, tremendous balance and agility, and is super competitive.

"His ability to catch and run with the ball equally well make him one of the top players in the Big Sky Conference," Read said. "When you add to that the other assets he possesses, such as being one of the best punters in the United States, plus he's a top-flight returner, you have a very, very special football player.

"Jody loves to win, is very durable, and leads by influence," Read continued. "He may well lead the Big Sky in two or three statistical categories in the 1989 season. Pro scouts think he is a pro punter, while others say he may make it to the pro ranks as a running back."

Not only did Farmer average 43.3 yards a punt, but 28 of his 73 punts were inside the opponents' 20-yard line. In a game at Nevada-Reno, he set a 1-AA and UM record, averaging 55.7 yards on nine punts, including a 74-yarder.

At Libby High he was the state "A" MVP on offense as he rushed for over 1,500 yards. He was the MVP of the Montana Shrine Game, scoring three touchdowns.

Dwayne Hans, Cornerback

6-1, 180, Senior from Pasco, Washington

One of the leading interceptors in the Big Sky Conference with five last season, Dwayne also had 13 pass deflections in 1988. He was an honorable mention all-leaguer in 1988 and 1986.

"Dwayne Hans is a legitimate NFL prospect," said UM head coach Don Read. "His 4.4 speed, height and ability to jump put him in an athletic category with few others. I compare him to Mario Clark, who I coached at Oregon and played 12 years with the Buffalo Bills and three with the 49ers.

"Dwayne is the best one-on-one defender I've coached in a long time," Read continued. "He's a big-play guy and is at his best under pressure."

Two of Hans' biggest plays came in the 1988 season.

In UM's double overtime, 33-26 victory over Northern Arizona, he made a game-ending interception, beating NAU All-American Shawn Collins for the ball. That was his second interception of the game. He set a 1-AA national playoff record against Idaho with a 99-yard interception return for a touchdown.

He has started in 21 straight regular-season games. He redshirted in 1987.

Twice last season he was in the right place at the right time, scoring a 24-yard touchdown on a blocked punt against South Dakota State. He repeated the feat with a 23-yard TD on a blocked punt in a 17-3 win over Montana State.

He was an all-conference receiver and defensive back at Pasco High and was team MVP on defense as a senior. He also lettered in basketball as a prep.

Tim Polich, Offensive Tackle

6-5, 288, Senior from Great Falls, Montana

Another one of Montana's talented senior linemen, Tim is the returning starter at right tackle for the Grizzlies. He has steadily improved during his career and added size and strength every season as well.

"Tim is the most improved offensive player on our football team," praised UM head coach Don Read. "He has run a 5.3 in the 40 for the pros. He is an excellent drive blocker and a very competent pass blocker.

"His size and strength earmark him as one of the top linemen in the Big Sky Conference," Read said. "He is a very physical player who gets a lot out of himself."

A three-year letterman, Polich has seen considerable action at UM since joining UM in 1985 after earning all-state honors at C.M. Russell High School in football. He was also a basketball and track standout at CMR.

"Tim has come a long way since his sophomore season," said offensive line coach Bob Beers. "His pass blocking has really improved, along with his speed and strength. He is what you would classify as Mr. Solid and Dependable. Technically, he's probably our best blocker."

Grizzly Trivia

Raul Allegre

This October will mark the 25th anniversary of the Grizzlies' first Big Sky Conference win on the gridiron. On October 17, 1964, Weber State came to Missoula for Montana's Homecoming game and the league opener for the teams. Quarterback Bob Benzly passed for a pair of touchdowns and Ed Ferris ran 81 yards for the clinching TD in a 20-12 victory. . . .

On consecutive Saturdays this fall the Grizzlies will face a pair of former Montana assistant coaches. On September 16th in Missoula Pokey Allen will bring his Portland State Vikings to Missoula. Allen spent three seasons as a member of Gene Carlson's staff (1977-79). The following Saturday Montana heads to Moscow, Idaho and the Idaho Vandals coached by John L. Smith, who spent four years with the Grizzlies (1973-76) working with Carlson and Jack Swarthout. . . .

Kirk Duce's 84 points last season tied the Montana single season scoring record. He shares the record with Greg Iseman (1982). Duce also smashed the freshman scoring record set by current New York Giant kicker Raul Allegre. Allegre had 51 points as a freshman in 1978 at UM. . . .

Duce's 15 kicking points in last season's game against Eastern New Mexico is even more impressive, considering that in 1966 the Grizzlies had nine kicking points the entire season. . . .

Former Grizzly defensive end J.C. Campbell is the first ex-Montana player who signed for Grizzly all-time great Bob O'Billovich. O'Billovich is the head coach of the Toronto Argonauts of the CFL who signed Campbell to a free agent contract last spring. O'Billovich played quarterback and defensive back for Montana from 1959-61 and is an inaugural member of the Grizzly Football Hall of Fame in 1982. . . .

Bob O'Billovich

This year marks the 20th anniversary of the Grizzlies' first undefeated regular season as they went 10-0 in 1968 (Montana would duplicate the feat the following season). The 1969 team had an explosive offense out of a wishbone attack, but its defense proved to be the key late in the season. In the final three regular season games no team scored a touchdown on Montana. In the final two games the Grizzly "D" recorded a pair of shutouts, the first time since 1947 Montana had accomplished that feat. Leading that defense was Karl Stein and Roy Robinson in the secondary with Larry Miller, Tim Gallagher and Tuufuli Uperesa on the defensive line. A grad assistant with that 1969 team was Bob Beers, now the Grizzly assistant head coach. . . .

After playing only one football opponent with a dog mascot in the last 19 years, the Grizzlies open the 1989 season facing K-9ers in their first two games. Last year's meeting with the Greyhounds of Eastern New Mexico marked the first time since 1970 that Montana had faced a team with a dog mascot. This year Eastern New Mexico returns to Missoula followed by a trip to Fresno, to take on the Bulldogs of Fresno State. . . .

The back-to-back openers against Eastern New Mexico marks the first time in 12 years that Montana has opened against the same opponent two straight years. In 1976 and 1977 it was the Rebels of Nevada-Las Vegas who opened the Grizzlies' season. Each year the Rebels won come-from-behind two-point decisions. . . .

The win over the Bobcats last year would mark the first time in 17 years that the Grizzlies have beaten the Bobcats three years in-a-row. The Grizzlies did that in their "wishbone" years of 1969-71, when they didn't allow the Bobcats to score a touchdown for three straight years. . . .

The win over the Bobcats also made Don Read the first Grizzly head coach to beat the Bobcats his first three years since Ed Chinske pulled the "Hat Trick" from 1952-54. . . .

The Grizzlies' season opener against Eastern New Mexico will be Montana's third meeting with a school from the Lone Star Conference. The Grizzlies opened the 1984 season by defeating Abilene Christian of the Lone Star, 42-28, and defeated ENM 35-6 last year. . . .

South Dakota State was the last non-Big Sky opponent the Grizzlies shut out, by a 24-0 decision in 1970. . . .

Grizzly Trivia

Heading into the 1979 season Tom Kingsford's single season passing record of 1,361 yards had stood for 29 years. As a matter of fact only one other Grizzly had passed for more than 1,000 yards in a season by the start of the season 10 years ago. Now Kingsford's mark stands seventh on the single season list for Grizzly passers. As a matter of fact six of the top 10 single season passers in the Grizzly record book have played in the 1980's. . . .

It appears likely that for the first time since the 1940's the Grizzlies will have more football wins in a decade than the MSU Bobcats. Heading into the 1989 season the Grizzlies have won 45 games during the 80's while the Bobcats have won 36. (A third of MSU's wins came in their national championship season in 1984). . . .

Since moving into Washington-Grizzly Stadium in October, 1986, the Grizzlies have posted an 11-3 record. Heading into the 1989 campaign the Grizzlies have won their last seven home games, closing in on the modern record of eight straight home victories set in 1969-70. . . .

Defensive back Kurt Ursich is the only player on the Grizzly roster who was born on the day of a Grizzly football game. Ursich was born on November 1, 1969, the same day the Grizzlies beat the MSU Bobcats 7-6 in Bozeman to end a seven-year drought against their archrivals. . . .

The Grizzlies will face a former nemesis on September 9th when they take on the Fresno State Bulldogs and head coach Jim Sweeney. Sweeney posted a 5-0 record against Montana as the head coach at MSU. However, he sported a losing record against Montana in two other capacities. As a player Sweeney was 0-1 with Montana when he played for a University of Portland team that lost 21-0 to the Grizzlies. As a Bobcat assistant Sweeney saw Montana win two of three games against the 'Cats. . . .

The Grizzlies have beaten Idaho State the last five times the two teams have met. The last time the Grizzlies beat an opponent more than four consecutive times was a string of eight straight defeats of Weber State from 1969-76. . . .

Grizzly fans will be treated to six home football games this fall for only the fourth time in modern Grizzly football history. Having bountiful home games at Montana has not always been the case with UM playing only four home dates in 1982 and a mere trio of home appearances as recently as 1973. . . .

It was 26 years ago this season that Montana began Big Sky Conference play, but their 1963 schedule was still heavily dotted with their former Skyline conference foes. The 1963 season saw Montana play schools like BYU, New Mexico, Colorado State and Wyoming for the last time. . . .

Speaking of BYU, Montana was the last team to hold the Cougars to "0" passing yards when the two teams met in 1960 (Montana's pass defense ranked second in the nation that year in fewest yardage allowed). . . .

History, Statistics

Roy McPhail, a Grizzly quarterback from New Chicago, Montana, has the distinction of holding the longevity record as far as football participation is concerned. He was UM's QB from 1901 through 1906. He was also a member of Montana's first basketball team in 1904-05. He also lettered in track and held the school records in the long jump (19-8½) and pole vault (11-1½).

Former tight end Brian Salonen is Montana's all-time receiver with 1,882 yards. He had a school record 68 catches in 1983 and scored nine TDs. He holds the school record for receptions with 151 (1980-83). He is the last UM player to play in the East-West Shrine Game (1983) and was named to several All-American teams that season and was an Academic All-American as well. He was a member of the Dallas Cowboys from 1984-87.

One of the best ever at Montana, William "Wild Bill" Kelly scored 31 touchdowns for the varsity during his career from 1924-26, including at least one TD against every Pacific Coast team that UM played. The Missoula native started at quarterback for the West in the first East-West Shrine Game in 1926. He was also a strong basketball and baseball player at UM. He is the only Montana player selected to the National Football Hall of Fame (1969). Also, in 1971 he was selected as the all-time quarterback in the history of the Shrine Game. He died in 1931 in New York of what was reported as "acute indigestion and a heart condition."

Tailback Greg Iseman was the Grizzlies' last 1,000-yard rusher, gaining 1,075 in 1982 and scoring a school record (he's tied with Kirk Duce) 84 points. He set a school record with five touchdowns in a 42-20 win at Weber State in '82, breaking "Wild Bill" Kelly's 1926 record of 26 points.

Big Sky Conference

The Big Sky Athletic Conference is currently in its 27th season of operation with championships being conducted in 12 sports including men's and women's cross country, basketball, indoor track and field, tennis, outdoor track and field, women's volleyball and men's football. The Big Sky Conference has nine member institutions and is affiliated with NCAA Division I in all sports. In football the league competes in Division I-AA.

The 1988-89 athletic season in the Big Sky Conference was the first in which the league will sponsor championship competition in women's sports. On July 1, 1988, the Mountain West Athletic Conference, located in Cheney, Washington, merged with the Big Sky, moving and combining office staffs in Boise, Idaho. The Mountain West Conference had been in existence since 1982.

The Big Sky Conference consists of Boise State University, Boise, Idaho; Eastern Washington University, Cheney, Washington; University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho; Idaho State University, Pocatello, Idaho; University of Montana, Missoula, Montana; Montana State University, Bozeman, Montana; University of Nevada, Reno, Nevada; Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, Arizona; and Weber State College, Ogden, Utah. Formed in 1963, the Big Sky Conference consisted of charter members Idaho, Idaho State, Gonzaga (Spokane, Washington), Montana, Montana State and Weber State. Boise State and Northern Arizona joined the league July 1, 1970, in the Big Sky's first expansion. Nevada-Reno was admitted to the league July 1, 1979, replacing former charter member Gonzaga. On July 1, 1987, Eastern Washington became the Big Sky's ninth member. When all nine members of the Mountain West Conference and Big Sky Conference were parallel the way was paved to merge the two leagues.

The Big Sky Conference has member institutions in six states and covers more than 220,000 square miles (or almost 1/12th the total square miles in the continental United States). The six states included in the Big Sky Conference (Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Utah and Washington) span from the Canadian to Mexican borders. The Big Sky Conference is one of two major conferences located in the Rocky Mountain region.

The name BIG SKY originated in a novel authored in 1947, by A. B. (Bud) Guthrie, of Great Falls, Montana, entitled THE BIG SKY. Jack Hollowell, former Montana Advertising Director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State. Harry Missildine, of the Spokane SPOKESMAN-REVIEW, called for the Conference to be named "The Big Sky Conference" in his column of February 20, 1963. On February 25, 1963, the Conference name was adopted by the presidents of the newly formed league during a meeting in Spokane, Washington.

Ron Stephenson is the current Conference Commissioner, taking over the post July 1, 1981, from Steve Belko, who had served since 1977. John Roning was the league's second Commissioner, serving from 1971 until 1977. Jack Friel was the Big Sky's first Commissioner, serving from 1963 to 1971.

Dr. Sharon Holmberg currently serves as Co-Commissioner of the Big Sky Conference after guiding the Mountain West Athletic Conference from its beginning in 1982 until its recent merger with the Big Sky.

Arnie Sgalio serves as the Big Sky's Information Director beginning his 11th year in that position. Dale Kile is an Assistant to the Commissioner, coming to the Big Sky from the Mountain West Athletic Conference.

Art Mendini is in his second year with the Big Sky as the league's first full-time Supervisor of Officials while Kay Johnson is in her second year as the Conference Administrative Assistant.

Grizzly Awards

Each year seven outstanding University of Montana football players are recipients of awards.

The Terry Dillon Award, honoring the outstanding back, was established in 1964 following the accidental death of former Grizzly Terry Dillon. Dillon played defensive and offensive halfback for UM from 1960 to 1962. He started at defensive halfback for the National Football League Minnesota Vikings.

The Paul Weskamp Award was established in memory of Paul Weskamp, a tackle on Ed Chinske's 1954 Grizzlies. The award honors UM's outstanding lineman and was established by the citizens of Ronan, Mont.

The Golden Helmet Award honors the hardest hitter on the team. It was set up on a nationwide basis by the Coca-Cola Company in 1967.

The Larry Miller Award is given in memory of the great Grizzly lineman and wrestler who competed for UM in 1969 and 1970. Miller died in an automobile accident in 1974. The award honors the teams' outstanding defensive lineman.

The Steve Carlson award is given to the teams' most valuable player in memory of the former Grizzly football player who died in 1977.

Pat Norwood was a four-year starter at offensive tackle for the Grizzlies 1978-82 from Billings, who died of cancer in 1983. This award is given to the Most Inspirational Player, who often times had to overcome an injury.

The Tom Barbour award is given in memory of a Loyal Grizzly Fan. It is presented annually to a UM player, "who best exemplifies outstanding practice habits and makes an unselfish contribution to the betterment of the Grizzly Football Team. Enthusiasm, dedication and commitment are the key factors sought in the person receiving this award."

Stan "The Ram" Renning had a school record 470 tackles in 27 varsity games. He was an All-American in 1957-58, three times All-Skyline, and Grizzly MVP three times. A tremendous linebacker, the Great Falls native was also an all-league guard. He was selected for the 1958 East-West Shrine Game, but could not participate because of a knee injury suffered against Montana State. He was team captain in 1958 (with Charles Moore).

The Grizzlies enter the field against Texas Tech in 1938, eventually losing the game, 19-13. Captain that season was John Dolan (see page 41), but he was one of many players injured that season in which UM went 5-3-1. Other injured standouts that year included Bill Matasovic, Aldo Forte, Jack Hoon and "Rolly" Lundberg. Matasovic broke his leg against Tech (the fourth game of the season), ending his career. Other notables on this team included halfbacks Fred Jenkins and Bill Lazetich, along with lineman Bob Thornally. San Francisco University became the first California school to play in Missoula that year, in a 0-0 stalemate.

Football/track standout Roy Robinson was inducted into Montana's Track Hall of Fame in 1979 and the inaugural Grizzly Football Hall of Fame in 1982. He was a football standout in 1967-68-69. The Glasgow product was a member of UM's 440-yard relay team (Dick Koontz, Bob and Bill Zins) which qualified for the NCAA's in 1969 and still hold the school record of 40.2. He was one of 11 Grizzly gridders named first team All-Big Sky in 1969 on UM's 10-0 team. He was team captain in track in 1970, and that season he set the high hurdles standard of 14-flat which still stands (Tim Fox tied it in 1980).

Washington-Grizzly Stadium

In August of 1985 Missoula entrepreneur Dennis R. Washington and the employees of the Washington Corporations made the largest corporate gift in the history of the state of Montana — $1 million, answering the University of Montana's prayers for a top-flight football facility.

In recognition of Washington and his companies' gift, the facility was named Washington-Grizzly Stadium.

Stadium namesake Dennis Washington

Born in Spokane, Dennis Washington began work in the construction business the summer of his 15th birthday for his maternal uncle, Hugh (Bud) King, and by the time he was 23 he was running the largest highway project in the state up to that time. On his way up to the Vice Presidency of the King-McLaughlin Construction Company he had numerous positions, including foreman and project superintendent.

At the age of 29, in 1964, he resigned and started his own highway construction company with a $30,000 loan from the local Caterpillar dealer, who also sold him a bulldozer and a motor grader on credit.

There were lots of state and federally funded highway projects at that time. His business was too small to compete on major federal road jobs, but he received some forest industry contracts — one of the first being a new road through Glacier National Park. Then the federal work began to flow, and by the late 1960s Washington was the largest contractor in Montana.

The Washington Corporations have since diversified into mining and dam building, along with other ventures.

In 1986 he put together a deal to buy the Anaconda Co. and its rich copper mines, which was owned by Atlantic Richfield (Arco), and had been closed in 1983. Since Washington reopened the company, thanks to much improved copper prices, he has cleared more than $100 million. He recently sold 49.9 percent of the century-old, open pit mine for $100 million.

Two years ago Washington bought the Burlington Northern Railroad's southern Montana rail system. He since renamed it Montana Rail Link. The line came with 1,000 miles of track, 54 locomotives and 570 railcars.

He also reopened a railroad facility in Livingston that had been shut down since 1982. Today the Washington Corp. subsidiary, Livingston Rebuild Center, is thriving, with 100 workers rebuilding locomotives and railroad cars for railroads around the country.

As with the improvement in copper prices, Washington's timing in venturing into the railroad business was perfect.

Montana Rail Link's profits alone are estimated as high as $33 million a year on revenues of some $120 million — which ranks among the highest returns in the railroad business.

Washington was recently featured on the cover of Forbes Magazine and the article depicted him as one of the nation's most successful entrepreneurs, estimating his holdings at about $500 million.

Last year his construction division produced about $100 million in revenue. Other Washington Corp. holdings include Washington Equipo Corp., which rebuilds construction equipment, and Modern Machinery, which sells equipment around the world, including China.

The corporate headquarters of Washington's business ventures are in Missoula. Washington Corporation's heavy highway construction operation is one of the nation's leaders.

Dennis and his wife, the former Phyllis Jean Petersen, have two sons, Kyle (19) and Kevin (15). Phyllis was Montana's Homecoming queen in 1962.

Washington is a 1952 graduate of Missoula County High School.

The 1907 Montana team had its best record to date at 4-1-1. Albion G. Findley, an all-conference gridder from the University of Wisconsin, was athletic director and head coach in football, basketball, baseball and track in the 1907-08 season. The previous season several rule changes had taken place. Some of those included: 10 yards for a first down (instead of five), one forward pass is allowed by the offense (instead of none), teams could no longer move the ball on offense by kicking (similar to rugby) as the ball was now "live" for both the offense and defense, and halves were shortened from 35 minutes to 30 minutes. This was the first year athletic "M" sweaters were awarded to lettermen.

Voice of the Grizzlies

"Grizzly" Bill Schwanke returns as the voice of the Grizzlies for his 17th year as the play-by-play announcer for University of Montana sports. It will be KYLT Radio's 18th year of broadcasting Grizzly athletics and serving as UM's official station. He has been the assistant director of the Grizzly Athletic Association since September, 1988. He is a former sports editor of The Missoulian newspaper and a former sports information director at UM. He is a 1967 graduate of UM. He has been the Montana Sportscaster of the Year six times. Former Grizzly assistant football coach Joe Yeager is in his second season as color commentator for Montana football. He coached at UM from 1982-84.
