Reunion and Commencement Celebrations Find Many Old Grads on Campus

The tumult and the shouting died, and we knew there had been a Reunion. In case you are interested in statistics, there were 265 people actually registered as attending the Reunion, of whom 132 were out-of-town alumni. However, it did not take a mathematician to know that in and about town were some forty or fifty more out-of-town alumni who did not ever get near the registration book, so that the record of their being here is not in black and white.

Gloomy Forecasts: The back drop for the Reunion was a shaky one in some ways, for there were many alumni who did not have a great deal of faith in it. Now that it is all over — and successfully over — one or two members of the Executive Committee have confessed that they did not expect the Reunion ever to take place; or if it did necessarily take place according to plans, they thought not more than fifty people would be present. The year was a bad one; money was scarce; there was no football game in connection with the Reunion; it followed Inter-scholastic too closely. The reasoning was good, and there was no one to question the accuracy of it. However, in spite of everything, the Reunion came off better than any one dared hope it would. It showed definitely that the thing in which the alumni are primarily interested is the institution and the revival of their memories of the happy times they had while attending it.

No Football Game: For the first time no football game heralded the Homecoming. It was a decided departure having it in connection with Commencement rather than in the fall, and partly because it was a departure from the old "Homecoming" idea, the name "Reunion" was given to it. In 1914 President Edwin B. Craighead designated the first Homecoming. Between that time and 1932, there had been four other Homecomings, the 1932 Reunion being sixth. In each case a football game was the occasion for the student-alumni celebration.

Despite the lack of football, there were two athletic events that interested the crowd — a golf tournament Saturday morning, June 4, won by Kirk Badgley, and a baseball game Saturday afternoon that drew a large number of interested and shouting spectators. Such old stars as Jimmy Murphy, Clarence Coyle, Happy Kibble, Eddie Chinske, Gordon Rognlien, Eddie Reeder, Walter Ekegren, Kirk Badgley and Larry Higbee showed that they had not lost the feeling of the game.

Other High Spots: Other high spots of this particular Reunion, aside from Commencement itself, were the buffet supper followed by the Mixer on Saturday evening, and the class breakfasts and tea on Sunday. At all these events there were several hundred people present, all of whom were enthusiastic about the whole idea of the Reunion. Because the Reunion had been made a part of Commencement, Dean Stone Night and the Junior Prom were made parts of the Commencement activities, as well as the traditional May Fete.

Class Breakfasts: The class breakfasts were probably the most spontaneous of any of the Reunion events, and alumni who had not got out of bed on Sunday mornings for some years appeared at an early hour in hotel lobbies and restaurants. All classes up to 1922 ate in various dining rooms at the Florence hotel, and the larger and younger classes scattered about town in various restaurants and tea rooms. The Class of 1931 was the only class to breakfast by itself.

Degree Granted Starz: At Commencement, 276 graduating seniors received degrees, considerably swelling the alumni ranks. A feature of the Commencement was the granting of the honorary doctor of science degree to Emil Alfred Starz, pioneer pharmacist and druggist of Helena.

of Institution: Fortunate indeed was the State University in having as Commencement speaker the Reverend Dr. George E. Barnes of Philadelphia, graduate of the Class of 1902. Seeing the institution for the first time since he sat as a member of the graduating class thirty years ago, he voiced the thoughts of many a returning graduate in his address, "Architects of Tomorrow":

"This is the first time that circumstances have permitted me to return to a Commencement program upon this campus. But not once, during these years, have my interest in, my appreciation of, and my loyalty to this University been dimmed or abated. I have watched from afar the expansion of the physical plant upon this beautiful campus; I have followed the increase in the standards and efficiency of the educational life of the University; I have known of the enlarged enrollment which the years have brought, and yet, like the Queen of Sheba upon her visit to the court of King Solomon in the hey-day of Israel's power, I feel like exclaiming, 'The half has never been told'. I am amazed and delighted by all that I have been seeing and hearing and feeling. The dreams of the founders have been more than fulfilled. From small beginnings, a great University has grown. I have been proud always to be an alumnus of the University of Montana, but that sense of justifiable pride is enhanced today.

"But the real test by which this, or any educational institution must be measured, lies not in its buildings, nor in the courses which it offers, but in the men and women whom it trains for leadership in life. The graduates of a university—the life which they live, the work which they do in service of the common good, the leadership which they give in city and state and nation—are its ultimate justification. And by that test, the glory of this institution is undiminished. I have read with interest the Montana Alumnus—even the pages of personal notes concerning the classes which have graduated during these thirty years. Their names have been unfamiliar to me—but the quality of their service in widely scattered areas and in a great variety of occupations has impressed itself upon my mind. If I do nothing else today, I feel that a trip across the continent, in response to your gracious invitation, would be abundantly justified, from my point of view, to give me an opportunity to congratulate the people of Montana and thank them for having built and maintained a university which has served so notably the life of the state and nation, and furnished so many well-trained leaders to the scientific, industrial, political and professional life of these times."

JOHN PATTERSON RE-ELECTED ALUMNI PRESIDENT

Although the alumni interest in the University and in the Reunion appeared to be unflagging, there were smaller election returns on the ballots for the officers of the Alumni Association than ever before recorded.

Well satisfied with John Patterson's able administration during the past difficult year as president of the Association, alumni re-elected him president for 1932-33. Mr. Patterson is a member of the Class of 1920, and defeated Wallace Brennan of the Class of 1925.

The vice-presidency went to Burt R. Smith, '27, of Anaconda; his opponent for this office was Merle C. Gallagher, '18, of Great Falls.

By two votes, Gordon D. Rognlien, '30, of Kalispell, defeated Edward S. Chinske, '30, of Miles City, for the position of three-year delegate. One-year delegates were: Charles E. Avery, '00, Anaconda; Alva Baird, '16, Los Angeles, and Lillian Shaw Wilson, '28, Butte. The other candidates were: J. J. Bourquin, '20, Butte; Fred T. Dayliss, '23, Billings; Geraldine O'Hara Grant, '18, Hamilton.

Sidelights on Hawaii's Tourist Bureau

(Editor's Note: In view of the recent unpleasant newspaper publicity afforded Hawaii, some information sent to the ALUMNUS by George Armitage at the editor's request is timely news. The growth of the tourist business in this much-discussed territory of the United States is a fascinating story.)

The Hawaii Tourist Bureau, of which George Armitage, '14, is executive secretary (see "What Some of the Alumni Are Doing," April, 1932) is one of the oldest community advertising institutions in the world, having been born about 1902. It almost passed out of existence during the war when Hawaii's tourist business was at a standstill because most of the Pacific passenger carrying ships had been taken to the Atlantic coast for transport duty.

Armitage was a reporter in Honolulu before and after the entry of the United States into the World War, and upon his return there in 1920, he took over the resuscitation of the Tourist Bureau. At that time Hawaii's tourist business was very low, as was the morale and finances of the Tourist Bureau. It was housed in a basement, was carrying very little outside advertising, and had a fund of only about $30,000 a year. Now it is housed in one of the finest new ground floor offices in Honolulu and is in direct correspondence with all of the leading railway and steamship companies, tourist and travel agents throughout the world. During the past year it expended over $150,000 for display advertising space alone, and helped to maintain Hawaii's famous exhibit at the French Colonial Exposition at Paris. The total expenditure of the Bureau for 1932 was over $250,000, all obtained by legislative appropriations, public subscription, and a joint advertising support from the steamship companies serving Hawaii.

The Hawaii Tourist Bureau is an independent branch of the Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu. But in addition, it is a semi-governmental institution in that about half of the Bureau's funds come from a territorial appropriation—similar to a state appropriation in Montana; and half of the governing board of the Bureau is made up of representatives of each of the other islands.

In the time that Armitage has been executive secretary of the Bureau, he has seen the tourist industry in Hawaii grow until it is now the third business of the Islands, topped only by the sugar and pineapple industries. At the present time, it is figured that Hawaii's tourist business is worth about $10,000,000 a year in new money brought into the territory. The Tourist Bureau is at least partly responsible for the magnificent new hotels that have sprung up in Hawaii, and the palatial ocean liners that are rapidly replacing the older combination freight and passenger carriers of the past.

Armitage, a great believer in the future of Hawaii, writes: "It is a great country, and it is an integral part of the United States of America. We may some day add the 49th star to the flag. Hawaii and Alaska are the last two territories of the United States, in very

-:- UNIVERSITY NOTES -:-

The University: Diminished budgets of the six units of the Greater University of Montana and of two custodial institutions were approved by the State Board of Education on July 6. Salary cuts provided most of the 10 per cent saving ordered by the board at its last meeting when it was decided to expend only 90 per cent of the legislative appropriations in order to allow for possible tax delinquencies. Chancellor M. A. Brannon offered to contribute 10 per cent of his salary toward the saving, with the understanding that the amount should be returned to him if his contract was terminated before the end of the period for which it was made. The offer was accepted. Gifts of a building for the Havre school, the addition of 60 acres for the campus there, a mineral exhibit, and laboratory equipment were accepted by the Board.

Constitutionality of the law authorizing the State Board of Education to use receipts from existing University dormitories in the construction of additional dormitories was decided by the Montana Supreme Court in the friendly test case put before it by the State University. This decision will make possible the erection in the near future of a boys' dormitory bearing the same relative position to South hall that Corbin hall bears to North hall, and also of a Student Union building.

Successors: Following upon the announcement of J. W. Stewart's resignation, effective September 1, came the announcement of the election of Harry F. Adams, '21, and A. J. Lewandowski as track and basketball coaches, respectively, for the coming year. Both are named for a period of one year. The sports program for the State University will be controlled by the Athletic Committee.

Barnard W. Hewitt, a graduate of Cornell University at Ithaca, New York, will succeed William Angus as director of dramatics and assistant professor of English.

E. Kirk Badgley

E. Kirk Badgley, '24, has been appointed athletic manager for the coming year. The position of manager is only experimental at the State University at the present time, but most graduates who know Badgley's record feel that there is little doubt as to the experiment's success. Besides being assistant business manager of the State University, Mr. Badgley has been head bookkeeper, auditor of student and auxiliary organizations, instructor and assistant professor in business administration, secretary to Alumni Association, alumni representative to Central Board of A.S.U.M. and the Athletic Board, executive secretary of the Alumni Challenge Athletic Field Corporation, and manager of the State University Golf Course. He has kept in close touch with student as well as alumni affairs; and whatever he has done, he has done quietly, efficiently, well.

Student Affairs: Spring quarter elections resulted in Peter Meloy's receiving the largest majority ever cast for A.S.U.M. president. Meloy, of Townsend, has been largely instrumental in organizing the Independents, has been a proctor at South hall during the past year, and did an outstanding piece of work during the spring quarter in directing "The Hairy Ape" at the Little Theatre.

With no opposition, John Curtis of Libby was appointed by Central Board Kaimin editor for next year. The business managership went to Richard Schneider of Missoula, a rather bitterly contested position. Editorship and business managership of the Sentinel went to Fred Compton of Williston, N. D., and Mitchell Sheridan of Butte, respectively. Whether it will be financially possible to continue the Sentinel on its present basis is a question. There was much criticism of the "economy book" put out this year.

A.W.S. presidency went to Mary Breen of Bridger, an English major who has worked her way through school in the Public Service Division, served well as a Tanan-of-Spur, and is next year's Theta president as well as a Mortar Boarder.

The sophomores and seniors took part in a nation-wide investigation on May 3 and 4 to determine the mental abilities of college students, by taking tests sent out by the American Council on Education. The principal purpose of the examination was to throw light on the capacities, needs, and problems of individuals. Later, institutional comparisons from all over the country will show the scholastic status of Montana students in relationship to that of students from other institutions.

Nineteen forestry students took the 4,000-mile auto trip to inspect lumbering operations and districts of the Pacific Coast during the spring quarter. The route taken by the motor caravan carried them through Idaho, Washington, Oregon, and California. The tour was conducted by Dean T. C. Spaulding, and Professor J. H. Ramskill and Professor I. W. Cook also accompanied the group.

Four sororities are changing their place of residence during the summer. The Alpha Phis have bought the Harry H. Parsons' residence at 1107 Gerald Avenue; the Zeta Chis have leased the Henry Turner home at 539 University Avenue just vacated by the Alpha Phis. Kappa Delta sorority has leased the Robert Cardell residence at 314 University Avenue; and the Alpha Xi Deltas have given up their lease of the J. P. Rowe home, although they have not yet decided where they are moving. Kappa Alpha Theta sorority is doing extensive remodeling, as is Sigma Nu fraternity. The Sigma Nus purchased from Mrs. Spottswood last July their house at 1006 Gerald.

Alumni in Politics: Outstanding among the triumphs for alumni in the recent election returns is the winning of the Democratic nomination for attorney general by Ray T. Nagle of Helena, '22.

Running against each other for state superintendent are two alumni: Elizabeth Ireland, '20, and W. R. Wyatt, '19.

Twenty-two of the law school graduates were candidates for various county and state offices in the primaries. Seventeen of these were candidates for positions as county attorneys, and three of these seventeen were former students who were graduates only a month ago. Among the candidates for positions of county attorney were: Robert Allen, '31, Madison county; Harold Anderson, '32, Lewis and Clark county; Harold Dean, '32, Sanders county; Richard Wellcome, '28, incumbent, and Walter Murphy, '32, Mineral county; Donovan Worden, '23, incumbent, George F. T. Higgins, '29, and Fred Schilling, '31, Missoula county; Gene Grandey, '31, McCone county; E. M. (Pat) Keeley, '22, and Kenneth McPherson, '26, Powell county; Shirley Williams, '30, incumbent, Jefferson county; John McFarlane, '24, incumbent, Sweet Grass county; Thomas C. Colton, '23, incumbent, Wibaux county; Frank Gault,

Raymond T. Nagle

'19, incumbent, Cascade county; Albin McCulloch, '30, incumbent, Petroleum county; J. H. McLearn, '25, incumbent, Liberty county.

Miss Frances Elge, '30, was a candidate for the office of public administrator in Lewis and Clark county. Among the other office-seekers were: Justin Bourquin, '20, attorney general; Roy A. Michaud, '24, judge of the district court; Joseph P. Monaghan, who attended the Law School during 1930-31, congressman from the First district.

In connection with Monaghan's successful candidacy, a Monaghan Club was formed on the campus during the spring quarter with "Snick" Lockwood of Missoula as president.

Faculty: President C. H. Clapp was the guest speaker at the annual banquet of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi at the University of Washington at Commencement time.

President Clapp and Professor W. E. Maddock of the School of Education are members of the Advisory School Finance Survey Committee for Montana, announced in May by William John Cooper, U. S. Commissioner of Education.

Dr. Harry Turney-High, professor of economics and sociology and head of the department, has received word of his election as an honorary member of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholarship organization. The honor, bestowed only on persons of high scholastic attainments, was conferred on the Missoula educator by the Columbia University chapter. Outstanding among the events of the spring quarter was a series of lectures on anthropology given for the townspeople by Dr. Turney-High, filling the auditorium to capacity each time.

Philip O. Keeney, State University librarian, was elected president of the Montana Library association at its Great Falls convention, succeeding Mrs. Mary Homan of Malta. The 1933 library conference will meet in Missoula next May.

To Europe this summer went Mrs. Louise Arnoldson, assistant professor of foreign languages, on her ninth trip abroad, and Mrs. Harriet Sedman, dean of women. Mrs. Arnoldson will spend the summer in Paris where she will complete research work and write a thesis in preparation for taking an examination at the University of Paris for her Ph.D. degree. Mrs. Sedman is visiting for a month in Germany with her daughters, Mary Elizabeth and Virginia, at the close of the Students' Travel club six weeks' tour which she is conducting.

Summer School: As we go to press, the Summer Session registration has much the same position, although further removed from the rest of our country, as were Arizona and New Mexico, not so many years ago. Even so, I imagine that Arizona and New Mexico, at the time of their admission to statehood, seemed farther away from the center of things than we do now. By fastest steamer we are only four days from the Pacific Coast, and we are soon to have airplane service which will place us only a day away.

"Hawaii is in constant communication now with the mainland of America, 2,000 miles away, by cable, wireless, and, just this year, by radio telephone. If I wished to spend a few dollars, I could turn to the instrument at my elbow, in my office, as I sit dictating this in mid-January with the soft sun pouring into the open windows and in a minute or two, depending on the jam of traffic, I could have you on the wire, sympathizing with you possibly because your steam radiator was pounding and the slopes of Sentinel were covered with snow.

"In the evenings we sit before our radio and tune in on all the best programs in the world—Calgary, Chicago, Denver, Mexico City, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Auckland, Sydney, Tokyo—without the slightest difficulty. In turn, we occasionally broadcast some interesting features from Hawaii like the sound by the waves at Waikiki, or the churn of lava in our live volcano.

"Aloha!"

History in the Making

MARRIAGES

'18, '24—Wanderer, Strong. That they were secretly married some time ago in Old Mexico was the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. William Strong upon their arrival in Missoula, July 7. Mrs. Strong, as Myrtle Wanderer, was graduated from the State University in 1918 with a major in mathematics; Mr. Strong in 1924, in biology. After leaving Missoula, Mr. Strong took his master's work at Harvard, and then studied in Europe for some time, later becoming a Long Island landscape artist. For the past year he has been traveling, having visited Missoula last fall on his way to the Pacific Coast and Mexico, where he spent the winter, returning to New York last spring. Mr. and Mrs. Strong have been on an extended honeymoon trip, and after a visit with Mrs. Strong's father at Hamilton and a camping trip at Seeley lake, they will continue eastward. They will make their home in the Catskill mountains two hours from New York, at a place built and landscaped by Mr. Strong. Mrs. Strong is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma; he, of Phi Delta Theta.

ex-'18—Gross, Malloy. Theresia Gross, ex-'18, of Missoula, and John Malloy, Missoula insurance man, left notes to friends on June 27 saying they were going to be married, then quietly left the city. They were married at the Mission in St. Ignatius, and then spent their honeymoon in Glacier park and at Swan lake. Mr. Malloy has been in the railroad insurance business in Missoula for the past four years. He and Mrs. Malloy will probably make their future home in Chicago, where Mr. Malloy is to be transferred.

'25—Rowland, Murchison. Fairalee Murchison became the bride of Thomas E. Rowland, a 1925 graduate of the School of Forestry, on May 7 at a pretty, informal wedding at the home of the bride's mother in Missoula. Miss Mabel Murchison, '30, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. An informal reception followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Rowland will make their home in St. Maries, Idaho, where Mr. Rowland is employed in technical work by the United States Forest Service.

'26—Flightner, McIlrath. J. K. Flightner of Darby and Ruth Virginia McIlrath of Reichle were married on July 5 at Missoula. Mr. Flightner is a graduate of Darby high school and the State University of Montana and also attended Northern university at Chicago. After a honeymoon at Medicine Hot Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Flightner will make their home at Whitehall, where the bridegroom has a teaching position.

ex-'26—Beckwith, Jarmer. Frances Jarmer became the bride of Philip Beckwith, ex-'26, in St. Ignatius on June 1. Mrs. Beckwith, who has been a teacher in the St. Ignatius schools for the past four years, is a graduate of the University of Minnesota. Following a 10-day outing at the Beckwith summer home on Flathead lake, Mr. and Mrs. Beckwith returned to St. Ignatius, where Mr. Beckwith is associated with his father in the mercantile business.

'27—Miller, Flood. On June 24, Catherine Willet Miller and George Flood were married at the home of the bride's parents in Deer Park, Washington. Mrs. Flood completed her work in the economics department of the State University in 1927. For the past few years she has been teaching in South Bend, Washington. Mr. Flood was employed in Missoula for about two years, but is now living in Bayfield, Ohio, where the couple will make their home.

'27—Ryan, Dodge. John F. Ryan, '27, a School of Journalism graduate, was married recently to Lucile Dodge, a graduate of Northwestern university. Mr. and Mrs. Ryan are residing in Chicago.

ex-'27, '28—White, Byrd. On July 2, the marriage of Catherine White to Milton D. Byrd took place at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McCrackin, in Hamilton, before a company of relatives and intimate friends. Mrs. Byrd attended the State University a year, and later attended the University of Southern California at Los Angeles. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Her sister, Gertrude White, was a 1929 journalism graduate. Mr. Byrd of Darby, was a 1928 graduate of the State University, and has been a deputy in the Ravalli county courthouse for several years. They will make their home in Hamilton on South Fourth street.

'28—Gillette, Jay. Announcement has been received of the wedding of Arnold S. Gillette, fine arts graduate, 1928, and Josephine Jay on June 9 at Kirby Chapel, Southern Methodist university, Dallas, Texas. After graduating from the State University, where he was outstanding in track, Mr. Gillette took work at Yale, and is now teaching at the University of Iowa. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

ex-'28—Schaeffer, Marlow. Anna Lou Schaeffer, ex-'28, was married on June 26 to Arthur Broadwater Marlow of Helena. Mr. and Mrs. Marlow's wedding was the first one in the new St. Peter's Episcopal church in Helena.

ex-'28—Towhey, Reischling. Announcement has been received of the marriage of Claire Towhey of White Sulphur Springs, ex-'28, to Richard Reischling of Seattle. Mrs. Reischling is a member of Delta Gamma. From the State University, Mrs. Reischling went to a college in Indiana, and from there to the University of Washington, from which she was graduated.

'29—Briggs, Durfee. Lee Briggs of Victor was married in Missoula on June 11 to Frances M. Durfee of Garrison. Mrs. Durfee is a home economics graduate of 1929. Since that time she has taught in the high school at Drummond. Mr. Durfee is connected with the Anderson phosphate mine near Garison, where they will make their home.

'29, ex-'33—Freund, LeRoux. Announcement has recently been made of the marriage of Jane Freund and Leonard LeRoux, both of Butte, in Superior, in September, 1928. Attendants at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Elderkin of Missoula, both former students of the State University. Mrs. LeRoux was a 1929 graduate in the department of biology, and took graduate work for a year following her graduation. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Mr. LeRoux, former member of the Grizzly football squad, completed his senior work in the school of business administration at the end of the past winter quarter. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega. They will make their home in Butte, where Mr. LeRoux is employed by Dunn & Bradstreet.

'29—James, Price. Another June wedding occurred in Missoula when Betty Price of Avon became the bride of Raymond James at the First Presbyterian church on June 21. Mr. James was a 1929 graduate in physical education; he is a member of Alpha Tau Omega. Mrs. James is a graduate of the State Normal College at Dillon, and since her graduation has been teaching in the schools of Camas Prairie and Avon. After a motor trip to Glacier park and through western Montana, Mr. and Mrs. James will make their home in Blackfoot, Idaho, where he is a member of the high school faculty and athletic coach.

'29, '30—Johnson, Chinske. On June 6, Margaret Catherine Johnson of Paradise and Edward S. Chinske of Miles City were married in St. Anthony's church at Missoula. Catherine Leary, '29, and Ted Mellinger, '30, were the only attendants. After spending a week at Holland lake, Mr. and Mrs. Chinske motored to Los Angeles to attend the Olympics. They will return to Montana in the fall to Miles City, where Mr. Chinske is coach at the Custer County High school. Mrs. Chinske was a member of Kappa Delta and Mortar Board, and Mr. Chinske of Phi Sigma Kappa and Silent Sentinel.

'29—McDonald, Greathouse. Announcement was made on June 15 of the marriage of Margaret Greathouse of Paris, Illinois, to Gordon McDonald of Missoula, who secured his degree from the State University in economics in 1929. The marriage took place in Rockford, Illinois, on March 19. Since his graduation, Mr. McDonald has been taking work toward the doctor's degree at the University of Wisconsin where he met Mrs. McDonald, who will be a senior at that institution this next year. Mrs. McDonald is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

'29, '30—Schroeder, Graham. On May 18 Marian Schroeder of Missoula and Lester Graham of Columbus were married at the First Methodist Episcopal church in Minneapolis. Mr. Graham was a business administration graduate in 1929, and Mrs. Graham received her degree in English in 1930. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, he of Sigma Phi Epsilon. After a wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Graham left on a motor trip to Wisconsin. They may be reached for a short time at Box 270, Mankato, Minnesota. Mr. Graham's work with the Commercial Credit company takes him over the state of Minnesota, and they will probably make their home in the future in Minneapolis.

'29, ex-'29—Wigal, Woods. Gean Lucile Wigal of Missoula and Harold Ernest Woods of Polson were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Missoula, on June 18. The maid of honor was Isabel Brown, '29. After a motor trip to Banff, Lake Louise and Glacier park, Mr. and Mrs. Woods returned to Missoula where they are making their home in the Thornton apartments. Mrs. Woods received her degree from the State University in 1929, and following her graduation taught at Noxon for three years. She is a member of Alpha Phi. Mr. Woods, also, was a member of the Class of 1929, but withdrew from school before graduation. He is employed by Dixon & Hoon company.

ex-'29—Ferring, Weatherlee. At the close of the academic year, Anne Ferring, ex-'29, who has been taking work toward her master's degree this past year at Cornell, was married to Edward Weatherlee. Following the marriage ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Weatherlee sailed for England with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Finch to spend a month or two. Mr. Weatherlee, who completed work at Yale this year for his doctorate, will teach at a college in Lebanon, Illinois, this next year, where he and Mrs. Weatherlee will make their home.

'30—Chidester, Lacy. (From the New Orleans Times-Picayune.) "The marriage of Miss Hortense Chidester . . . to Mr. Joseph Barton Lacy, jr., of Roanoke, Virginia, was celebrated here Wednesday, April 6, in the chapel of St. Paul's Episcopal church. . . . The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Wallis H. Lee, and had as her matron of honor, her sister, Mrs. Wallis H. Lee. The bride is a graduate of the University of Montana and a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. Since her graduation a year ago she has been residing in New Orleans with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lee. The bridegroom, a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute, has made his home in New Orleans for the past three years. Following the ceremony there was an informal reception at Mr. and Mrs. Lee's home on Marengo street, after which the young couple left by motor for Roanoke, Virginia, where they will reside."

'30, ex-'33—McCulloh, Woods. On April 10, Grace Woods and Albyn F. McCulloh were married at Winnett, Montana. Mr. McCulloh was a 1930 graduate of the School of Law, and Mrs. McCulloh a member of the class of 1933. They will make their home in Winnett, where Mr. McCulloh is an attorney.

ex-'30—Dixon, Stearns. Last October in Yonkers, New York, Betty Dixon of Missoula was married to Marshall Stearns of Cambridge, Massachusetts. The marriage followed a football game at West Point to which Mr. Stearns had taken Miss Dixon, and was performed in the Episcopal church in Yonkers. Mrs. Stearns, a member of the class of 1930, withdrew from the State University before her graduation, and secured her bachelor's degree from Radcliffe college. This past year she has been taking work at Columbia university in New York City. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Mr. Stearns received his B.A. degree from Harvard university in 1931. He is now a student in the Harvard law school. Mr. and Mrs. Stearns are spending the summer at Mr. Stearns' home in Massachusetts. They will go to Cambridge in the fall, where Mr. Stearns will continue his studies.

ex-'30, ex-'31—Quigley, Kilroy. The marriage of Kitty Quigley of Avon and Horatio Kilroy of Butte was solemnized on June 11 in Hamilton. They were attended by Zahlia Snyder and Charles William Burns, who have announced their approaching August marriage. Mrs. Kilroy was a member of the class of 1931, and Mr. Kilroy of the class of 1930. He was a member of the Grizzly football and basketball squads, and belongs to Sigma Chi. Mrs. Kilroy is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. For the past year she has been employed in the clerical service division of the University offices. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Kilroy returned to Missoula and went to Butte the next day, where they will make their home, after about a month spent in motoring about the state, a honeymoon-business trip. Mr. Kilroy is employed by the Texaco Oil company.

'31—Allen, Ward. (Quoting an Associated Press report for June 9 from Minneapolis.) "Doris Ward of Winona, Minnesota, University of Minnesota co-ed, was to have a final examination tomorrow. But last Sunday she married George Allen of Livingston, Montana, and the examination was delaying their honeymoon—until Ralph J. Casey, journalism department chairman, let down the rules. Miss Ward, now Mrs. Allen, took a special early examination and the couple departed for Omaha." George Allen was a School of Law graduate in 1931.

'31—Carey, Hanly. Emmett Carey, '31, and Jane Hanly, both of Glendive, were married April 21 in the rectory of the Sacred Heart church at Glendive. The bridegroom received his degree in the School of Business Administration, and Mrs. Carey attended the University of Minnesota for three years. They will live in Glendive, where he is in business with his father.

ex-'31—Clemow, Neidt. Tom Clemow and Rosa Neidt, both of Jackson, were married in Missoula on June 11. Both are graduates of Beaverhead county high school at Dillon. Mr. Clemow was a business administration student at the State University during 1928-29 and 1929-30. Following a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Clemow will reside on the Clemow ranch near Jackson.

ex-'31—Moe, Harding. Maxine Moe of Glendive was married on June 18 to Raymond Harding, also of Glendive. Mrs. Harding attended the State University from 1927 to 1929. She is a member of Alpha Chi Omega.

ex-'32—Burke, Hirschman. The wedding of Dorothy Hirschman of Dillon and Edmund Burke, jr., of Bozeman, occurred in Butte on June 11. Mr. Burke was a student in the State University School of Law in 1930 and 1931, transferring from Montana State College. He was graduated recently from the law school of Washington and Lee university at Lexington, Virginia.

FACULTY MARRIAGES

Tate, Parker. The marriage of Miss Mary Clara Tate of Hamilton to Darrell R. Parker, instructor in English and director of debate and public speaking at the State University, took place at the home of the bride's parents on May 6. Prior to the ceremony (Continued on page 23)

In Memoriam

Frank F. Lauber. Word was received at the Alumnus office of the death of Frank F. Lauber in Seattle on May 8. Mr. Lauber, a Seattle resident, had been failing in health for some time. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Agnes Berry Lauber, a member of the Class of 1908, and one son, John F. Lauber.

1927, Florence Anderson Stuber. The sudden death of Mrs. Harry N. Stuber, (Florence Anderson, 1927), came as a complete shock to her many friends who did not know that she had been ill. Mr. Stuber, also, was a State University graduate, having received his degree in 1926. Since graduation he has been registrar at the Eastern Montana Normal School at Billings, where he and Mrs. Stuber made their home.

Mrs. Stuber was born in Edgely, North Dakota, December 18, 1901. She was graduated from Edgely high school, and later entered Montana State University, where she and Mr. Stuber met as students. They were married in Billings, April 14, 1928.

Mrs. Stuber was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and of the American Association of University Women.

The body was taken to Edgely for burial in the family plot.

CLASS NOTES

Information for this section should be sent to
HENRIETTA WILHELM, Editor of Class Notes
 State University, Missoula, Montana

1899

Class secretary, Mrs. Sidney Ward, (Zoe Bellew), Hamilton, Montana.

William D. Harkins, Ph.D., is the author of "Modern Alchemy: Photographing the Birth of an Atom," in the June issue of the Scientific American. Dr. Harkins, professor of physical chemistry at the University of Chicago, had charge of the chemistry department at the State University from 1900 to 1912. His wife is the former Louise Hathaway of Missoula, who graduated from the State University in 1899, and who formerly taught in the English department here.

1902

Class secretary, G. E. Sheridan, 818 W. Galena, Butte, Montana.

Ben Stewart was a campus visitor in May. He was going through Missoula on his way back to Juneau, Alaska, having been in Washington, D. C., and other eastern cities on a business trip. Mr. Stewart reports this to be his first visit for twenty-two years. He voiced many regrets at not being able to stay on for the Reunion, but he saw as many of the "old faces" on the campus as time permitted. He says his family is "fine". Of their five children, three will be ready for college in the autumn, and the two boys will probably attend the college at Fairbanks.

1907

Class secretary, Mrs. Lynn Ambrose (Daisy Kellogg), 433 McLeod Ave., Missoula, Montana.

My dear Classmates:

It is time for another ALUMNUS and the big Reunion is passed. It succeeded beyond all expectations. Although there were not so very many out of town alumni present we who live in Missoula met, some 375 strong, for the buffet supper Saturday evening, June 4.

The class breakfasts were perhaps the most enjoyable. The class of '07 was placed with the oldest group including classes '00 through '08. Three members of the '07s were present, King Garlington, Charles Dimmick and I—100% of those living in Missoula. I had hoped that Linda Featherman Meyers and Joe Farrell might show up—but alas. In our group were twenty-two. We were honored by having with us George Barnes '02, commencement speaker, Charles Avery '00, the earliest class represented at the Reunion, and Dr. M. J. Elrod and Professor F. C. Scheuch.

I read the '07 letters and telegram at the breakfast, and everyone enjoyed them very much, each letter being so characteristic of the writer. Airmail brought letters from Frances Nuckolls Kelly, and Stella Duncan Maloy; special delivery stamps assured the prompt arrival of a letter from Cora Averill Poole; and from the southwest came a telegram with ten names signed, not all '07s but all early graduates. The names were: Florence and Gil Heyfron, Minta and Jim Bonner, Ethel and Jim Mills, Nell Whitaker Donally, May Murphy, Jennie McGregor, and Ethel Ambrose Hitchcock. I have Florence Heyfron's interest and effort to thank for the message from California.

Cora suggested that these letters be used as a start for a Round Robin letter. I'm wondering if it would get around the circle. It surely would be most interesting if everyone would respond.

I feel certain some of our '07 members must have very sore arms—too sore to write letters, for I can get no replies from them. Here's hoping they recover before next issue of the ALUMNUS is due. To the ones who did respond I wish to express my appreciation.

Very sincerely,
 DAISY KELLOGG AMBROSE

1908

Class secretary, M. Winnifred Feighner, State University, Missoula, Montana.
 Dear Classmates:

I wonder how many impressions of the Reunion will be duplicated in reports to you for this issue! I am sure that every one will agree that it was a huge success even if the attendance of visitors from out of town was not, perhaps, as great as might have been expected. The whole affair caused an unusually large crowd of Missoula alums and ex-students to appear, these people having waxed enthusiastic ever since the very well attended pre-Reunion banquet in May.

Shirlee Shunk Fenn '12, of Kooskia, Idaho, was a visitor at my home, and we missed none of the Reunion events. The weather was rainy most of the time and this caused many people to stay at home, among them Flora McLaughlin '20, of Dixon, and her sister, Winnifred McLaughlin Burdick, ex-'16, of Plains. They, with a number of others nearby, were forced to send regrets.

Some of the members of my class were in on the joint telegram which Daisy K. Ambrose received, and read at the breakfast. Charles Buck and Roy Whitesitt were the "home-comers" in our class. They came for the breakfast and the Reunion tea and certainly seemed to be having a good time.

Helen Smead Harris and family have gone to their home on Idlywilde Island for the summer months. Carrie Hardenburgh Gilham has a new address: she moved recently to the Bowland apartments on South 4th street west in Missoula.

WINNIFRED FEIGHNER

1912

Class secretary, Mrs. Nina Gough Hall, Potomac, Montana.

Mrs. Thomas E. Kinney (Grace Rankin) accompanied by her sons, John and Thomas, was here from Headquarters, Idaho, the first week in June to visit with her sister, Mrs. Harriet Rankin Sedman, and with her mother, Mrs. John Rankin. She attended the University commencement and the Reunion events. Mr. Kinney is superintendent of the Weyerhaeuser Lumber company at Headquarters.

1913

Class secretary, Mrs. James L. Crawford (Gladine Lewis), Hysham, Montana.

The last of June, Mildred Ingalls Stone suffered a serious financial loss when her summer outing place, the E-Bar-L ranch, up the Blackfoot, and all of its furnishings were completely destroyed by fire. No one was hurt, fortunately. It was announced that the lodge will be rebuilt as soon as possible.

1915

Class secretary, Mrs. R. A. Ruenauber (Merle Kettlewell), Plains, Montana.

Ruth Cook visited Ann Reely in Missoula on her way to her home in Helena early in July. Miss Cronk is an instructor in English in the North Central high school in Spokane.

One of our most distant visitors for the Reunion was Hilda F. Marsh, a librarian at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles. Miss Marsh visited in Missoula for a month before resuming her work.

1916

Class secretary, Mrs. Ann Rector Williams, 2160 Waverley, Palo Alto, California. Dear Class of '16:

Gertrude Skinner (Mrs. Bob Nelson), Hartline, Washington, has a second baby daughter born in December of 1931. Says her job for this year is raising chickens and her two girls. It might be a good idea for any nearby 1916ers to call on Gert in fried chicken season.

Lillian Scroggin Cummins, ex-'16, is living in Spokane. Mrs. Cummins has been transferred there from Tacoma. Her address is 1703 Grand avenue, Spokane.

Rosa Sestak, of Victor, is running for county superintendent of Ravalli county on the Republican ticket.

I have a new address—2160 Waverley, Palo Alto, California, which can be used as a fairly permanent one, as mail will be forwarded in case I am away. We plan to be here until September and possibly much longer. My sister wrote me a splendid report of the Reunion and I am sorry not to have been there.

Miss Gussie Gilliland, who has for the past seven years been head of the English department of the Flathead County high school in Kalispell, has filed for county superintendent of schools of that county.

ANN RECTOR WILLIAMS

1917

Class secretary, Hazel Swearingen, 333 Brooks street, Missoula, Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Dean (Virginia Dixon), of New Haven, Connecticut, are spending several weeks in Missoula with Mrs. Dean's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Dixon. Mr. Dean is a visiting professor of English at the State University for the summer session.

Mrs. C. G. Fry (Elizabeth Hershey) reports a new address, 61 School street, Wilts, California. She and her family had been living in Hilmar.

Another alumnus in politics—R. C. W. Friday, a Hollywood attorney, is running for superior judge of Los Angeles county. Mr. Friday's business address is 6404 Hollywood boulevard. He says: "Should have repealed the depression and returned for commencement. Saw DeWitt Law, '24, in Los Angeles. Rex May, '19, lives at 3815 Wilton, Long Beach, and W. L. Rutherford, '19, who married a Pasadena teacher, lives at 1925 Queensbury Road, Pasadena, California."

1919

Class secretary, Elsie May Johnson, Cascade, Montana.

Dear Classmates:

Several of our class members were able to come to Missoula to enjoy the Reunion. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jameson of Billings, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Orr of Noxon, Mrs. Rhea Johnson Strawn from Seattle, and Myrna Booth from Wieser, Idaho.

Myrna says that she enjoyed her work at the Intermountain Institute very much, and is returning there next year. At present she is at home in Missoula.

Frankie Theis is home in Missoula for the summer, too.

Word has been received from George H. Abbott, '19, and his wife, Gretchen Van Cleve Abbott, '23. Mr. Abbott is with the firm of L. E. Cahill & Company, Auditors and Accountants, Exchange National Bank Building, Tulsa, Oklahoma. He has been engaged in public accounting and income tax work in that territory during the past ten years. He is certified in Oklahoma and Arkansas and belongs to the American Institute of Accountants.

William R. Wyatt, for a time among our "lost" alumni, has been found in politics. He is the Democratic candidate for state superintendent of public instruction. His address is 102 Williams street, Butte.

The University Women's club of Hamilton had a picnic June 22 up the Skalkaho. Although there were none of my classmates there, many Montana alums were present. They were all good sports; the games took the form of tryouts for the Olympics. Some records were broken in whistling contests and the like. Although the chapter of the national club here is yet young, it is very active and its members are "live wires"—of course, because so many are Montana grads.

I shall spend part of my vacation in Seattle, after which I shall be at work in Cascade for another year.

For the October issue of the ALUMNUS, let us hear of your summer activities or what turn the "depression" has taken.

Sincerely yours,

ELSIE MAY JOHNSON

Class secretary, Ann Reely, West 524 Seventh avenue, Spokane, Washington.

Dear Classmates:

President Clapp, who for many years has worked to make the summer session an important part of the University's program, has just cause, this summer, to feel that his efforts have been worth while. Despite the depression, the enrollment approaches one hundred more than last year. A decided step in the progress of the summer school was taken last year by Professor H. G. Merriam when he instituted the Writers' Conference. This conference brings to the campus many persons of distinction. Activities this summer are further stimulated by two additional conferences: Conference on Educational Problems, and the Montana Federation of Women's Clubs.

For five years it has been my good fortune to act as social director of the summer school. One would hardly believe that hard-working summer students have time for social activities, but in Montana they manage somehow. They attend lectures and recitals; they study, dance, play bridge, hike, swim, and ride horseback. If you are wondering where to spend next summer, turn your thoughts to Montana. It is a grand place to be.

As no letters were sent out for this issue, personal items have been hard to gather. A few members of the class have been heard from, however.

Josephine Lukens (Mrs. C. R. Agar) and her husband have purchased a ranch near Plains, Montana, and have moved there from Minatare, Nebraska.

Charles E. F. Mollett, who has been on sabbatical leave and working for his Ph.D. degree at the University of Florida, will return in the fall to resume his duties as dean of the School of Pharmacy.

Evelyn Rafferty Strang and her husband operate a summer resort at Echo Lake, near Anaconda.

Florence Dixon (Mrs. C. N. Leach), her husband and two daughters, Nancy and Caroline, arrived in Missoula on July 8 from their home in Vienna, Austria. Dr. Leach is in charge of public health work for the Rockefeller Institute in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Austria and Hungary. The Leach family left Vienna on May 21, arriving in the United States on June 5. Since then they have been visiting in Washington, New York, Montgomery (Alabama), Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Seattle. Florence reports that after four years' absence Missoula appeals to her as one of the beauty spots of the world, and she is most happy to be here. We wish her and her family God-speed on their homeward journey the first of September.

Class secretary, Mrs. Elmer R. Guy (Elsie Thompson), 548 Walnut street, Brea, California.

Dear Class of '22:

Ovidia Gudmunsen, '23, who teaches journalism at Chico (California) high school and junior college, is spending the summer in Los Angeles with her parents and attending summer school at U. S. C. Vid's sister, Gus, ex-'22, who teaches physical education in Inglewood (California) high school, has left on a motor trip to Yellowstone park, Butte and other points in Montana.

Jeanette Garver, '25, who teaches in Great Falls high school, has left for her home in Los Angeles to visit her parents and her brother, Raymond, during her summer vacation. She is driving down, stopping en route at Lake Louise, Banff, Canada, and other points of interest.

Lucille Jameson Armsby has returned to Montana from Menlo Park, California, where she has been working in the Menlo Junior college for the past year. She will come to Missoula in August to take a position as secretary to Professor W. E. Maddock, director of the Public Service Division of the State University.

George A. Strong and his family, of Napa, California, have come to Missoula, where Mr. Strong is registered for summer school.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald S. Kain (Olive McKay, '24) are living in New York City. Their address is 560 Audubon avenue, Apt. E-1. Ronald is now assistant editor of International Year Book and Olive is doing social work in New York City.

Phoebe Walker, now chief technician at the Milwaukee Children's hospital, arrived in Missoula the first week in June to attend the Reunion and to spend a month's vacation here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Walker.

Raymond T. Nagel is running for attorney general in Montana on the Democratic ticket. He was in Missoula for the Reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer R. Guy are driving to Helena, Montana, to visit Mrs. Guy's mother and brothers. They are going via Zion National park, Bryce Canyon and Yellowstone park. They plan to be gone during the month of July.

ELSIE THOMPSON GUY

Class secretary, Mrs. John Gault (Margaret Rutherford), 5146 La Roda, Los Angeles, California.

Richard Underwood, formerly of Absarokee, has been employed for several years in a small Chinese city in Kiangsi Province, the scene of several battles in the recent Sino-Japanese disturbance. After graduating from the University, he accepted a teaching position at Boone college, Central China university, Wuchang, China, and, with the exception of a year's leave spent in this country, has been teaching there ever since until he transferred to Kuling, China, because of his health. In a recent letter to Mrs. Arnoldson, he says: "I regret that my last letter to you left such a worried memory. I was ill at the time . . . and as the Hankow climate is the worst on earth for such things, I was more than fortunate that the Kuling American school, a prep school, with all grades from the kindergarten through high school, was just reorganizing, after having to close on account of communist activity near here. I certainly have lost my zeal for Chinese work, and the combination of work in the mountains in a spot even more beautiful than Missoula—and that really says much!—together with the opportunity to teach real American boys and girls, has more than put me on my feet again.

"Kuling is even more charming than Missoula. We lack the rugged heights of mountains in the distance, because we are the dwellers on Olympus—a mere island above the clouds, jutting up from the plains a distance of 3500 feet.

"The school is interesting. Most of the students are the children of missionaries. Besides the main building—containing classrooms, dining room and service quarters, together with a dormitory for a hundred children, there are four bungalows. I am housemaster of one of these—the only one being operated at present—and I have direct responsibility for the life and activities of the older boys—although, of course, the physical education is directed by someone else. I teach English and Latin—we have a German woman from Munich teaching French!—and next year, when we secure a good Latinist, I shall have charge of all the English in the school."

J. Edwin Bailey and his brother, Earl (ex-'27), were campus visitors in May when they stopped on their way from New York City to their home in Eugene, Oregon. Earl was a member of the original Montana orchestra which made a tour of the Orient. He is now manager and director of a dance orchestra in New York City. Ed is connected with a New York publicity bureau.

Word was received recently that Eugene

Finch, ex-'23, has had a dissertation for a Ph.D. degree accepted at Yale university. He and Helen Hutchens Finch will spend the summer in England and will return to New Haven next year where Mr. Finch will be an instructor at Yale.

Robert Fuller is one of the advertising managers of Harpers magazine and is also a member of the staff of the American Dictionary of National Biography. He lives in New York City.

The last week in June, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Plummer (Mary X. McCarthy) and child visited in Missoula.

An ex-member of the class, Arnold Tschudy, wrote recently from Palama, Balearic Isles (just off the coast of Spain in the Mediterranean): "Here we are on a business trip—life is simple. We have moved our main office to Barcelona. Am general manager for the General Motors company for Spain and Portugal."

Norman McLean, formerly of Missoula, was one of the ten faculty members in the new college division of the University of Chicago honored with special citation for "distinguished teaching contributions." Announcement of the citation was included in the issue of "School and Society" for June 4. Before going to the Chicago institution, Mr. McLean taught at Dartmouth.

Alfreda Zinser made a quick trip to Missoula by plane from Sioux City, Iowa, in July. She was called West by the serious illness of her father. For the past year she has been working in the Methodist hospital in Sioux City.

Class secretary, Solvay Andresen, Marador Apartments, No. 11, Missoula, Montana. Dear Alumnum:

June 30, 11:15 p. m., so I take my typewriter in hand to write the July letter for the ALUMNUS. I'm inclined to believe that Noah used this ribbon when he came over on the Ark. Every once in a while a letter will loom on the horizon. Oh well—at least I am TRYING to do my duty.

For the benefit of those of you who were unable to attend Homecoming I wish to say no condolences are in order. I was in Missoula all during the big celebration and all I was able to attend was the big jamboree on the campus the Saturday night before commencement. In school, with Sol it was all play and no work; now my life seems just the opposite. It seemed good to have a REAL S.O.S. again with Pat Keeley leading the yells and Em Stone the singing. During the lantern parade I had a nice talk with Pat Keeley. He felt quite badly to think he couldn't find a red lantern so that he might join the lantern parade. It's just as well he didn't.

Jimmie O'Connor, in other words, Dr. J. D. O'Connor, heard my wail in the last edition of the ALUMNUS and sent a mighty fine letter. Since becoming an M. D. he uses such big words that I have to have a Webster handy to discover what he's trying to tell me. He writes that Fred Lowe of the old Smith-Lowe-Graham Corporation at 829 Gerald avenue is aflame with a desire to study medicine and will probably be in St. Louis this fall. The Shepherders' association, composed of Jimmie, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Williamson and baby, and Stanley Leydig are planning a royal welcome. Incidentally, Fred is married, has been teaching at Livingston this year, and is attending summer school at the State University. Leydig is now a sophomore at Washington university medical. J. Earl Smith, M. D., is a surgeon at the Marine hospital in St. Louis.

Jimmie claims he met "Bing" Crosby, the radio crooner, the other day, and discovered that he was the same "Bing" that he played football with at Gonzaga in 1918, '19 and '20.

As for Jimmie, he has secured an appointment as resident surgeon at Barnard Free Skin and Cancer hospital, commencing July 1, 1932. This is the oldest hospital for cancer research west of New York and the surgical staff comprises the most brilliant surgeons in town (St. Louis, I suppose). After his sojourn there, he will spend a year in Koch hospital for tuberculosis, a city institution. There Jimmie expects to save sufficient lucre to enable him to establish himself in practice. Commencing July 1, Jimmie's address is 3427 Washington avenue, St. Louis, Missouri. Drop him a line. He'd like to hear from you.

One day I received a large envelope from The Bankers Life company. Decided that some unknown relative must have "gone west" and left me a few million. But it was an announcement from The Bankers Life stating that W. A. (Avon) Fraser has been named agency manager of its Lawrence, Kansas, office; that he earned the promotion by his excellent work. For several years he served as a member of the Lincoln, Nebraska, agency, and for the last two years was supervisor for that agency.

Eugene (Gene) Simerson, '27, formerly of Missoula, now of California, was named a beneficiary under the will of W. A. Clark III, and is to receive $5,000. Gene goes by the name of Kelly now. Understand he decided there were already too many Simersons in California so thought he would become a Swede and change his name to Kelly.

Clark Brown has arrived to spend three weeks in the village. Clark is now associated with a very prominent New York law firm and is spending his vacation here with his parents.

Was very surprised and pleased to have Ed Taylor come up to the station to see me shortly before the Reunion. Ed is now working for the telephone company in California, but to save my neck I can't remember the name of the place. Ed hasn't changed a bit. Came home to visit his folks on his vacation and incidentally caught some real mountain trout when he was here.

Kathryn Bailey was in Missoula visiting Gertrude Hubber Stewart (Mrs. J. W.) on July 1. She had been attending a business women's convention in Denver and was returning to the University of Oregon at Eugene, where she works.

This seems to be all the news I have secured for this time. Besides, it's now early in the morning and I imagine the rest of the inmates of this apartment would appreciate a little sleep. Certainly wish some of you would drop me a line and let me know where you are.

Yours,

SOL

Violet Flanagan has been in Missoula visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. DeJarnette. Violet teaches in the commercial department of the high school at Cheney, Washington. Before coming here, she stopped in Portland. She plans to leave for her home in Chinook for a visit with her parents the last of July.

Bernice Hayes, a librarian in Clairmont college, Clairmont, California, is spending a month with her parents in Missoula. Bernice was an assistant in the library at the State University during the autumn quarter, taking the place of Winona Adams, '26, who had a leave of absence.

Class secretary, Henrietta Wilhelm, State University, Missoula, Montana.

Dear Class of '25:

Believe it or not, another three months have gone by since the last ALUMNUS appeared. At that time the Reunion (which you will find discussed in detail on page—) was our main concern; now vacations seem to be the chief interest.

Ted Jacobs and Jamesbert Garlington, '30, both of Missoula, left New York City on board the liner Europa early in April for Cherbourg, France, the first stop on their tour of Europe. They shipped their car, and are now motoring about the British Isles and the continent. They have been to Barcelona, Spain, where they visited Arnold Tschudy, now with the General Motors corporation there, and from Barcelona took a boat trip to the island of Majorca, to visit Mrs. D. C. Grubbs, formerly of Missoula. The two then went to Italy and Switzerland; in Geneva they lunched with Clarence K. Streit, foreign correspondent for the New York Times. Word last came from them from Munich, Germany, where they made an extended visit. There they met a young German who is studying for admittance to the bar, and who offered to help them in their study of the procedure of German courts. The second week in July the two went from Munich to Vienna and Berlin.

Back in Montana, Lena Partoll, who works in the Missoula public library, says that she is planning to go through Yellowstone park on part of her vacation. She hears from Violet Boileau, who is so ambitious as to attend the summer session of the University of Washington, Seattle. Violet lunched with Elsie Eminger, '27, recently; Elsie is taking work at the Cornish School of Art and the Dance (also in Seattle).

Maybelle Leslie is spending the summer in Missoula with her parents. Maybelle teaches in the commercial department of Anaconda high school.

From Berkeley, California, Peggy Heath Kurtsahn writes that she traveled in the Orient in 1930. Last year she took her M.A. degree in art at the University of California. For the art exhibit at the Reunion she sent five fine original paintings. Peggy's address is Hotel Whitecotton, Berkeley.

Gerry Wedum says that since he moves so frequently he would like to have his whereabouts listed as Room 667, Northwestern University Medical School, 303 East Chicago avenue, Chicago, Illinois. On June 10 he took the final oral examinations for a Ph.D. degree in bacteriology; if all goes well he will finish in August. Next year he will probably act as an assistant in bacteriology.

In May a letter came from Mary Fleming Spence-Thomas, Forest Hall, Whitchurch, Glamorganshire, Great Britain, in which she tells of a trip which she and her husband took around the continent of Africa. She adds: "We lived in mud huts on a coffee plantation and went down the mines 6,000 feet in Johannesburg. During the coming summer we plan to go to Australia via the United States. Virginia Dixon Dean, '17, visited me in 1927 and Marjorie Macrae visited me in 1929."

Sweltering in Minneapolis, Elizabeth Allan writes that she drove back early in June and is attending the summer session of the University of Minnesota. "I am not particularly impressed with the city except in the cheapness of food and clothes. So far, it has been a 'lovely summer', according to the natives. I'll take a Montana summer anytime." Elizabeth teaches in the history department of Helena high school.

William Koch, 901 Bellefonte avenue, Wilmington, Delaware, is a research chemist for the Hercules Powder company, formerly at Kenil, New Jersey, and now at Wilmington. He has a son, John William, now two and a half years old. "Botany is my hobby," he says. "I am also an enthusiastic gardener. Am now recuperating from an occupational illness which affected my heart. Weathering the depression o. k."

Ted Walker writes that he is a federal narcotics inspector in Detroit, Michigan. His address is 530 Free Press building.

A letter was received recently calling attention to the fact that in the May number of Hygea, the health magazine, is a series of full-page health comics entitled "Trials and Joys of Little Life," by Gretchen Coates Donohue. It will be remembered that Gretchen died in January. Before her death she and her sister, Belle Coates, succeeded in placing several bits of illustrated verse with Hygea. These illustrations show Gretchen's remarkable ability for depicting children (her own two sons being her models), an ability which would have made her a known artist had she lived.

Helen Lukens is teaching Spanish in summer school in the Polytechnic high school in Long Beach, California. She plans, of course, to take in the Olympics.

J. Keith Brown has moved from Washington, D. C., to Salt Lake City, Utah. His address there is Belvedere apartments.

The last week in June, Marion Prescott returned to Missoula from Santa Barbara, California, where she teaches, to visit her parents. We were very sorry to learn that she has been ill and that she underwent a major operation at St. Patrick's hospital shortly after her arrival. She is recovering nicely, however, according to last minute reports, and plans to return to her work in Santa Barbara in September.

On July 11, Mr. and Mrs. Karl (Pat) Gallagher arrived in Missoula from Reno, Nevada, where Pat has been teaching for the past two years. He and Dorothy (Morrow, '27) are looking and feeling fine; they are returning to Reno again this year. They said that Margaret Hughes, '28, who also teaches there, went with four other girls on a trip to China this summer. Pat and Dorothy are going to visit in Hobson, and will return to Missoula again before leaving for home. While in Missoula they are visiting at the home of Bill and Valentine Robinson Gallagher, both '25.

I can't remember a single thing more, except that if my plans work out I am going to the Olympics. Wonder if I'll see any of you there?

HENRIETTA WILHELM

Class secretary, Ann Nilson, Box 1147, Great Falls, Montana.

Mrs. J. B. Dale (R. Magdalene Larsen) and her husband, John Dale, are both teaching at Landsdown, Pennsylvania. Their address is 1109 Morgan avenue, Drexel Hill, Pennsylvania. The two are spending the summer abroad, where he is chaperoning a group of students for the summer in France. They landed in Cherbourg on June 28, and will probably stop in Normandy on their way to Paris, where they will stay from July 12 to August 12.

Charles W. Abbott, who has been head of the chemistry department of a Portland dental college, has been a patient at St. Patrick's hospital. For the last three summers Mr. Abbott has been attending the State University summer sessions, taking work toward his master's degree. He hopes to be able to complete his work this summer.

An ex-member of the class, Earl Barry, visited in Missoula recently on his return to Butte, where he is now district manager for the Mountain States Telephone company.

Mrs. Barry was formerly Nora Arthur, '27.

Howard Bodine is now working with the Commercial Credit company of Duluth.

Thomas Van Meter informs us that his present address is Care U. S. F. S., Kemmerer, Wyoming. He had been stationed at Hailey, Idaho.

Friends of Evan Reynolds, ex-'26, will be delighted to know that he has recovered from his long illness and has left Arizona for New York City, where his position was kept waiting for him until his return.

1927

Class secretary, Mrs. Heloise Vinal Wickes, 126 Burlington, Missoula, Montana. Dear Class of '27:

Now I wish that I had gone around with a notebook during Reunion, but the alumni who registered for Reunion will be given elsewhere in this issue and you may supply the missing names from that. It was agreed that the buffet supper was a most successful affair (as was all the Reunion, but the supper was the main get-together), and that everyone looked well, even prosperous! At least 30 had enough money in their pockets to buy in on the '27-'28 class breakfast at the Grill Sunday morning. The classes of '27, '28, '29 and '30 ate together, with Professor and Mrs. E. L. Freeman, Professor and Mrs. G. D. Shallenberger and Professor and Mrs. R. H. Jesse as their faculty guests. We asked each person to tell what he had been doing since graduation and his present occupation, if any; sang college songs and enjoyed the party. Most of the credit goes to Elsie Eminger for the success of our class breakfast, as she had charge of arrangements for the classes mentioned.

Edna Foster Thackwell, '28, and Edythe Benbrooks, '24, drove up from Salt Lake City for the Reunion and were in Missoula five days. Edythe is to be married soon and during her visit here was given a shower by the library staff.

Florence Montgomery, '28, and Claudine Christy, '28, were here from Seattle. Both have been active in the Seattle alumnae organization of Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalism honorary. Florence was recently elected president for the coming year and Claudine, secretary. Florence works for the Izzard Advertising company and Claudine for a talkie distributing house, we believe.

Eddie Reeder, ex-'27, and Karl and Pattie Duncan Martinson, both '28, I saw at the Shack. Eddie is with the credit bureau in Great Falls, but managed to leave long enough for the Reunion and to help out the alum baseball team. Karl has a paper in Whitehall, and says: "Well, yes, I like it."

Robert Piper, '28, was in Missoula during Reunion on a short vacation from his engineering work in Los Angeles.

Helen Dahlberg, '28; Catherine Leary, '29; Inga Hoem, '21, and Julia Hoem and Hilda Benson, '22, of Butte, attended the Reunion. Helen has been teaching at Polson, Catherine at Paradise. Inga Hoem and Hilda Benson teach in the Butte schools.

Dick Davis is vacationing for a month from his advertising work in St. Paul with his parents in Orchard Homes. Kenneth Davis, '28, who has been studying for an M.A. in forestry at Michigan, motored west with Dick. Kenneth will work in the forestry nursery at Priest River, Idaho, during the summer, then return to Michigan, where he has a teaching scholarship, to study for his Ph.D. Mary Shope Davis is in Missoula this summer and will go back to Michigan with Kenneth this fall. They expect to be there two years.

Bob Callaway, '29, is working for the Montana Hardware in Butte. He managed to get down at commencement.

Addison Howard is in Missoula from California and will stay with her father during the summer and attend the summer session. She has been doing M.A. work in California this past year.

Eileen Barrows, '29, is also in Missoula this summer and is registered for the summer session.

Dave and Althea Castle Andrews, '28, were in Missoula during the Reunion. They are now located in Virginia City, where Dave has a print shop.

I heard that Flip Fehlhaber and his wife were over for the Reunion, but didn't see them. Dora Hauck, '26, Helen Zeh and Gladys Price are also in Missoula this summer. I saw Gladys at The Hut Monday morning of the Reunion while I was breakfasting with Ann Nilson, '26. Ann is in Great Falls managing the office work for her father, who has been ill. Since her interesting trips to Europe and New Mexico she has been planning to travel again.

Lesley Vinal of Detroit visited her parents in Missoula during June. She is a health and physical education teacher in the Y. W. C. A. in the "Ford city."

Bill Frisbee, '28, is working in Missoula. He told me at the class breakfast that he had attempted farming in the Bitter Root, but had to give it up when cutworms got his sugar beets, hail his orchard and low butterfat prices his dairy herd.

Annabelle Desmond and her mother drove to Missoula from Dillon during the Reunion. Annabelle is spending the summer in the west and will return to her advertising work in New York in the fall. We had much too short a talk about it, sitting on the hall table in the Shack. She has been working for an outdoor advertising company and much of her work has appeared nationally. Annabelle visited in Missoula again the first of July, after which she and Louise Lubrecht went on a trip to Glacier park.

Grace Eldering writes from 710 South Walnut, Lansing, Michigan, that Kathleen Hainline Michels, '28, is working in the Chicago branch laboratory of the Illinois health department. Grace is still doing laboratory work and spoke of meeting Dr. Lucy Heathman, who was at the University after Grace was graduated.

Hulda Miller Fields' address is 205 Alderson, Billings. She wrote in May that Ralph had a bad six weeks after his accident but was up and around, though not back to work yet. Evelyn Clinton has spent Thanksgiving with them and was teaching at Windham; Kathleen O'Donnell O'Brien had visited her in January and she and her husband were expected in Billings in June. They have been transferred from Fort Benning, Georgia, to Fort Warren, Cheyenne, Wyoming, for this next year.

Hulda also wrote that they saw the Ray Allans and Buck Ramseys, '26, and that she often saw Margaret Johnston Trask, '23, Marjorie Woolfolk Mulvaney, Edith Allan, Elsie Crippen, Mrs. Hal Siepp and Janet Vivian Connelly as members of a card club.

When Hulda wrote, Spot Sanford, '28, was teaching vocations in the Billings high school. He is now attending the summer session at the University. She added that showers were being given for Eleanor Watland prior to her marriage to a California man.

I saw Curtis Brittenham, '28, but a second, from the car, the other day. I presumed that he was in town from Spokane but didn't have time to say more than hello.

Malcolm Morrow has returned to the United States from Chile, where he had been employed by the Andes Copper Mining company for several years. He stopped in Missoula for a short time in June, and then went to Spokane for a visit with his family. He does not plan to return to South America, but as yet has not decided just what work he will take up.

HELOISE VINAL WICKES

In April Peder Moe returned from Washington, D. C., where he represented the Stockmen's association. He says that he shook hands with President Hoover and Senator Walsh. On his way back he stopped in Chicago, where he visited Les Colby. Willard Centerwall, '31, was in Washington at the same time, representing the Indian service.

Dr. D. E. Kvalnes has been selected for the National Research fellowship at Harvard university for the coming year. He was given a fellowship to the University of Minnesota and received his Ph.D. there in 1931. In May Dr. Kvalnes presented a paper on chemistry at New Orleans, and he is to give another at Denver in August. From the Denver meeting he will go to Harvard to take up his new work.

Herbert Haugland was recently made president of the Phi Delta Theta alumni organization in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hodges of Great Falls visited friends and relatives in Missoula recently. Mrs. Hodges was formerly Gertrude Maloney, '29.

One of Montana's most famous athletes, Russell Sweet, and his wife (formerly Eva Johnson) arrived in Missoula June 14 from Menlo Park, California, to spend the summer. Russell is director of athletics at the Menlo Junior college, succeeding Dudley DeGroot as head coach. He is attending the summer session at the State University and giving golf lessons on the side.

Nan Walsh Tiernan arrived in Missoula the first week of July and will spend the remainder of the summer visiting at the home of her parents. Nan and Bob Tiernan, '29, have been living in Toledo, Ohio, the past year. Bob is driving for the Yellowstone Bus company this season.

Fay Fouts visited in Missoula in June on her way from Townsend, Montana, where she teaches, to Seattle, where she has enrolled for the summer school.

Hildegard Weisberg is in Missoula for the summer. Next autumn she is to teach in the high school at Sidney, Montana. During the past year she was at Bonner's Ferry, Idaho.

1928

Class secretary, Zelma Hay, 13 Seventh street North, Great Falls, Montana.

Merlie Cooney returned to Missoula July 1 to take over the position as children's librarian in the Missoula Public library. She succeeded Miss Edith Partridge, who was married to Emil Bishop recently. Merlie has been children's librarian in Boise, Idaho, during the past year.

Fred Lowe is attending summer school at the State University this year. Fred teaches in the Park county high school. He said that Marion Smith, also a teacher there, is driving in Yellowstone park this summer. He saw Boynton Paige, '27, of Twin Bridges, in town here during the Rotary convention, the first week in June. Boynton plans to drive to California for the Olympics.

Fred Ironside went to New York recently to join Wayne Johnson's law firm. James C. Murphy, '23, has taken over Fred's former position with the Western Montana Clinic in Missoula.

On June 7, Julia Woolfolk Beck was granted a Master of Arts degree from the University of Hawaii. The subject of her thesis was "A Study of the Influence of the Machine on Contemporary American Poetry." Mrs. Beck was one of the 224 students granted degrees this year by the University of Hawaii, the youngest land grant university of the United States.

Ben Harrington and three other New York actors are making a cruise in the South Seas. The trip includes the West Indies, Venezuela, and the Canal Zone. The actors were given this trip in return for two performances of one-act plays given on board ship.

Mary Kimball, home economics teacher in Great Falls high school, is in Missoula visiting her parents during the summer vacation.

Missoula county high school athletic teams are to be coached by Sam Kain next year. He was notified of his election early in June. Since leaving the State University, Sam has been in Miles City and Great Falls. He is succeeding Guy T. Stegner, '24, who has had an exceptionally successful coaching career since taking over the work in 1925.

John W. Bonner, attorney for the State Highway Commission, Helena, visited in Missoula the last week in June. John recently donated a valuable book of compilations of Montana's statutes and constitution to the School of Law.

Another summer visitor in Missoula is Helen Hayes, now of Pullman, Washington. Helen has been secretary to the dean of agriculture at the college in Pullman for the past year.

Ethel Haugen of Upper Montclair, New Jersey, is visiting with her parents in Missoula for two months. During the past two years Ethel has been working in a mental hygiene clinic for unusual children. At the same time she takes work at Columbia university and plans to finish her master's degree in psychology soon.

1929

Class secretary, Mary Brennan, Richey, Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanly Burton (Helene Stocker) have just returned to Roundup for the summer from Chicago. Mr. Burton has been studying medicine at Northwestern university during the past year. They plan to return in October and both hope to take work next year.

A three-year trip around the world was completed by Elmore Nelson when he arrived in Missoula from Bucksport, Maine, on June 18. After graduating from the State University, Elmore went to Peking, China, by way of Seattle. After two years in China, he began his trip home across India and through Europe. During the past year he taught in a seminary in Bucksport. He is now attending the State University summer session, after which he plans to return to Maine to resume his teaching.

Lydia Maury has just left on a trip to England and Paris. She has been attending the University of Minnesota and working part time in Minneapolis during the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Vierhus arrived in Missoula from Klamath Falls, Oregon, on July 1 for a visit. Lou has been working for a large lumber company since leaving the University.

Another politician is George F. (Tommy) Higgins, Missoula attorney, who has filed for the office of county attorney on the Democratic ticket. For a year after his graduation from the university, Tommy was associated with the Wellington D. Rankin law offices in Helena. Since that time he has been practicing in Missoula.

Artie Dawes is spending the vacation in Missoula with her parents. During the past year Artie taught in the DePauw School for Spanish Girls in Los Angeles. She will return there to resume her work the latter part of August.

1930

Class secretary, Mrs. Ben Hughes (Elsie Heicksen), Box 406, Missoula, Montana.

Greetings and salutations:

At this time of political turmoil, would that I were a candidate of one sort or another, for then I might at least make promises as to the professional, social, political, as well as moral content of the next periodical news-reel; would that it might be a talkie.

The Reunion was enjoyed immensely by one and all. A real honest-to-goodness exchange of prattle, ideas, personal trinkets and haberdashery, the last two for the benefit of the more forlorn of alumni meaning to re-enjoy the feeling of brotherhood still existent among us. Approximately thirty of the class were here for the event, maybe more, maybe less, but that many registered.

Eddie and Margaret Johnson Chinske were there on the jest of the moment, having just purchased a marriage license, which of course had to be in the paper too soon, and had it not been for the depression and fear of evil effects, I fear Eddie would have been due for cigars. They were married the next day and departed for parts unknown, but should there be a Reunion next year the human-interest in me calls for a huddle on the pros and cons of matrimony, so get ready, Eddie. For the time being the rest of you may turn to the page housing the matrimony column to learn the details and let me at this time add, always mention the magazine when purchasing and sending wedding gifts.

Those registered at the convention were: Cleona Michaelson, Clarence Cahill, Peg Brown, C. N. Mason, Mabel Murchison, Rebecca Grierson, Dorothy Elliott, Adolph Zech, W. A. White, Catherine Besancon, Hildegard Mertz, Gretchen Gayhart, Dora Anita McLean, Eddie Chinske, Hortense Mathews, Severena Cripps, Anne Brown, Ted Rule, Gordon Rognlien, Foy Priest, Alice Stoverud, C. Langton, Clifton Kinney, and Al Erickson.

Hildegard Mertz has returned to Chicago for the time being. Hilde drove back with two teachers on the high school staff here who were driving to Minneapolis for the summer.

Frances Elge, Helena's only woman lawyer, has filed with the Lewis and Clark county clerk a petition for nomination at the July 19 primary as Republican candidate for public administrator. Not only do we wish you luck, Fran, but will do all we can for you.

Fran, by the way, is not the only alum running for public office this year, the list being too numerous to mention as it will be found elsewhere among these pages.

Claude Langton has his M.A. in geology from Cornell and is out here in the Bitter Root doing field work. He will return this fall to the east, where he plans to receive a Ph.D. from the University of Chicago.

Rhea Traver MacFarlane visited here in April.

Jimmy Morrow was elected coach of Three Forks high school for next year.

Harriet Louthier, who teaches in the schools of Lebam, Washington, went through Missoula by car on May 29. She was accompanied by two friends, also teachers in Lebam. They visited in Fort Benton (Harriet's home) for about ten days and then returned to the coast, where Harriet is now attending the summer session at Seattle. The next time through, Harriet, look us up.

Eleanore Keefe has been working for the Los Angeles Bureau of County Welfare since February. She is working on family welfare for the central district. Her address is 835 S. Longwood, Los Angeles.

Harold (Lizzie) Lee was graduated this spring in engineering from Montana State College and has accepted a position with the Ellingson Rand Construction company.

Helen Kennedy stopped for a brief visit on her way back to Seattle. She spent the vacation visiting her family at Phillipsburg. She is working for a vacuum cleaner concern and says that in addition to office work she has to try a hand at repair work once in a while.

The summer school group who spent the Fourth at Holland lake met Louise McLaren, who was vacationing there. Louise is about to be married, from all reports, but as yet we or I, incorporated, haven't learned the fortunate one's name. Holland Lake Lodge is run by two ex-students, Frances Dunn Judge and Paul Judge, who have a most delightful place there according to all reports.

Esther and Sam Gilluly are running the paper at Glasgow, Montana, now, and I am sure that little Sam proves to be quite an assistance. You might drop us a note sometime, Esther, when you have time.

Jamesbert Garlington, as you probably all know, is in Europe now, he and Ted Jacobs having gone on an extended tour.

Louise Lubrecht is in Missoula for the summer, having returned from Lewistown where she taught in the high school last year.

Two New Yorkers were in Missoula for the Reunion—one of them, Adolph Zech, a member of the Class of '30. He plans to stay in Montana for a time at least. He returned from a visit to his home in Germany in January and remained in New York until June.

Mary Cardell arrived in Missoula July 5 from Chicago, to spend a vacation with her parents.

On July 12, Rex Whitaker went to Hoquiam, Washington, where he has taken over half-interest in a drug store. Before leaving for Washington he spent a few days visiting in Missoula.

No more for today, but let us hear from the rest of you—it takes but a line. All's well if there is anything to the line—no news is good news.

1931

Class secretary, Mary Wilson, State University, Missoula, Montana.

Dear Class of '31:

Our Reunion has come and gone—more than fun while it lasted. I was only sorry that more of the '31-ers didn't come, and sad, but true, I had only one letter expressing regrets. But those who did come, I know enjoyed the time they spent on the campus. It may be only a year since we all graduated and perhaps our memories have not acquired the mellow hue of time that the older grads have, but in so short a time we have not lost the feeling that we "belonged" to the campus; at least I haven't.

Among the many people I saw whom I knew at the Reunion, the Class of '31 was represented by quite a few. Mary Louise Davenport, Marian Hobbs and Lois McMahon were down from Butte. Frances Ruckman was here from Lewistown, and Jeanette Rotering and Myrtle Nedderman were guests at the Alpha Xi Delta house. Connie Stevens, Pauline Grafton, and Bill White drove down from Billings more than a week before the Reunion and were among the first arrivals. Dorothy Gerer and Al Erickson, who are working in the State Education department, came over from Helena Saturday evening, returning Sunday. George Adams, editor of the Kaimin last year, visited around the Shack and the campus for more than a week, taking advantage of the one-cent rates on the railroads. Creta Wilson, ex-'31, was also back, coming from Eugene, Oregon, where she is now living. Then, of course, there were all of the alums now in Missoula and doubtless there were some of our class back for the week-end whom I did not see. I'm sorry, if I didn't.

I haven't a lot of news for you this ALUMNUS, but here's what has come in.

Bob Nelson was in Missoula not long ago to visit his sister, who is attending summer session. He was on a two weeks' vacation before returning to Western Reserve university at Cleveland, Ohio, where he plans to continue his work next fall on the second year of his fellowship there. He is more than enthusiastic about the social work he is doing and plans at this time to take a third year for the experience it will give him.

Several of our classmates have entered the political game with the primary and general elections coming up. Three of our class members are among the eighteen law graduates of the University who are seeking county and state offices. Bob Allen seeks the county attorneyship of Madison county;

Fred Schilling, Missoula county, and Gene Grandey, McCone county. Gene Grandey and Wesley Wertz, also '31, visited on the campus a few days the latter part of June. Joe Monaghan, who attended the School of Law during our senior year, is aiming higher than county attorney, seeking the post of congressman from the First Congressional district. Joe is at present an attorney in Butte. He represented Silver Bow county in the state legislature in 1928, and has been quite active in politics in recent years. Best of luck to all of you!

Just a few brief bits of news that have come in regarding our classmates: Loren L. Thomas, pharmacy, is now employed in the Rank's Drug store, Virginia City, Montana. Lowndes Maury left his home in Butte during June for Chicago, where he will take work in music. Frank Thraillkill underwent a major operation recently, but is o. k. now; Frank has been assistant coach at Missoula county high school during the past year. Elvera Hawkins also had a major operation just at the close of the school year; she is now at her home in Helena. Mary Walker, biology graduate, left the latter part of May for Hamilton, where she secured a position as technician in the laboratories of the government experiment station there. Montana Grady was an overnight visitor in Missoula at the end of June on her way to Darby with her mother; she has taught school at Vale, Oregon, the past year. Mildred Broman, Girl Reserve secretary of Missoula, is now visiting at Seattle while on her vacation. She will return this month for the opening of the annual Girl Reserve camp at Seeley lake.

An interesting bit of news comes from Laramie, Wyoming. Mr. and Mrs. Madison Turner (nee Frances Teason), both of whom graduated last year, have suspended publication of their daily mimeographed advertising sheet and are now operating a daily and semi-weekly advertising newspaper.

Others of our graduates have also gone into business for themselves. George Wellcome, ex-'32, and Norma Flick Wellcome have opened the newest and one of the most popular restaurants in Missoula, The Hut. It fills a big need for a common gathering place for students, near the campus, and we wish them all the success in the world. The Class of '31 held its get-together breakfast there on Sunday during the Reunion, and though there weren't many of us to attend, it was more than enjoyable. Dr. Harry Turney-High and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Deiss were faculty guests.

Quite a few members of '31 are on the campus going to summer school this year, and helping make this a record summer session in point of registration—more than 700. Among those here are Annie Mayo, Paul Treichler, Constance Spoklie, Emile Perey, Margaret Price, Harold Rhude, Alicia O'Donnell, Jimmie Morrow, Mack Monaco, Emmapearl McCormick, Marguerite Heinsch, Mary Fierce, Nora Lowry Fleming, Marjorie Dickinson, P. Clifford Crump, Willetta Brien, Dorothy Briggs and Lyle Bucklin.

This is a short news letter, I know, and I'm sorry, but it is the best I can do this time. Just another plea for news—if you have secured work, started business for yourself, gone on an interesting trip, seen any former graduates or classmates, drop me a line and I'll pass the news along to others. There is always someone of your class who will be interested to know what you are doing. I'll count on hearing from a lot of you before the next ALUMNUS comes out. Goodbye and good luck!

1932

Naomi Sternheim of Butte was granted a two-year working fellowship to the school of applied social science at Western Reserve university, Cleveland, Ohio. Naomi has been spending the summer with her parents in Butte and Seattle, and will leave in September for Cleveland.

Early in June, 13 of the 20 students who graduated from the School of Forestry at the State University had secured positions. Robert Cooney is in the Helena National forest; Al Spaulding, Warren Stillings and Joe Woolfolk are on the Kaniksu National forest in northern Idaho; Iver Love and Stanley Larson are on the St. Joe in Idaho, and Kenneth Beechel is at Clearwater, Idaho. Jack Shields and William Ibenthal are with the regional forest service office in Missoula, and Gene Fobes is working for the Kalispell office. William Guntermann is on the Blackfoot forest; Wilbur Chapin on the Bitter Root forest, and A. E. Young is employed by the Northern Pacific land department at Troy, Montana.

An ex-member of the class, Gale Shelbaer, is spending the summer at Wolf Summit, Virginia. Next autumn she is to do critical work in New York under Olin Downes, music critic of the New York Times.

Charlotte Lefever, who received her master's degree at the end of the spring quarter, recently had an article dealing with eighteenth century literature published in PMLA, the literary research publication of the Modern Language association. This was the third article accepted by PMLA from writers of the State University English department, Agnes Getty, '26, having contributed two studies on Chaucer.

Fourteen drawings, sketches and portraits by Tony D'Orazi were displayed in the Missoula Mercantile company store in May. Tony's most difficult piece of work is that of a face carved from solid marble and hand-painted in water colors. Previous to his attempt at marble carving, his most outstanding work was the painting of a mural on the ceiling of the St. Francis Xavier church.

Another of Montana's athletes to take up coaching is Clyde Carpenter, former star halfback for the Grizzlies. He is to coach football, and Frank Ward, Bobcat, is to manage basketball at Billings high school next year.

Ten graduates of the State University School of Law were admitted to the Montana bar by the state supreme court at Helena the second week in June. They were Dorothy M. Hannifin, Harold K. Anderson, Harold Dean, Joseph FitzStephens, Vernon Hoven, Fred Ironside, Jr., Walter Murphy, Dalton Pierson, Leonard Shulz and Floyd Small.

Freda Larson left Missoula July 1 for Palo Alto, California, where she has secured a position as student dietician at the Stanford University hospital.

Margaret MacLanahan returned to Minneapolis for board of health work after six months in Duluth. She plans to spend the month of August in Butte visiting her family.

Mary V. Rose has a teaching position at Brady, Montana, for next year. She will teach English and history.

Hazel Larson of Helena has been appointed as student dietician at the Methodist Episcopal hospital, Indianapolis, Indiana. She took up her work there on June 15.

Lorene Fisher, ex-'32, is working in Denver with the Inter-Coast Sales corporation, the investment branch of a bank in Denver.

Daniel Clapp was awarded a graduate scholarship of $500 a year at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for the coming school year. Daniel has had an exceptionally good scholastic record in Missoula county high school and in the State University. He plans to work directly for his Ph.D. degree, specializing in research work in organic chemistry.

The third Montanan to play professional football in recent years is Russel Peterson (Big Pete), a senior this year in the Department of Physical Education, who, in the autumn, will go East to join the Boston National Professional football league. The other Grizzlies who have been "pros" in football are Bill Kelley, deceased, and Chief Illman, '29. Pete is working at present with the forest service near the Bonita ranger station.

Bernice Nelson, secretary to the dean of men at the State University, returned July 11 from Seattle, where she had spent ten days visiting friends and relatives. She saw Marian Starr, Naomi Sternheim and Mary Lee, and took a boat trip to Victoria, B. C., with Elsie Eminger. On the way back Bernice stopped for a short visit in Spokane.

Byrd, Taylor. Miss Hasseltine Byrd, instructor in economics and sociology during 1928-29 and 1929-30, was married on June 17 at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, at the home of her parents, to Archer Taylor, head of the department of German language and literature at the University of Chicago. Since leaving the State University, Mrs. Taylor has been working for her doctor's degree at the University of Chicago.

Schenck, Kulenkampf-Post. News of the wedding of Dr. C. A. Schenck, noted German forester who has been a member of the State University faculty here at times in recent years, has been received. The marriage took place in Berlin early in April. The bride was Mrs. Marie-Louise Kulenkampf-Post, the widow of a friend of Dr. Schenck. They are making their home at Darmstadt. Dr. Schenck is expected to return to Missoula late next fall.

Dusenberry, Rambo. Announcements have recently been received of the marriage at Cleveland, Ohio, of J. Verne Dusenberry, former graduate assistant in the Department of English, to Miss Jeanette Rambo of Worcester, Ohio.

mounted to 705, almost one hundred more than the total registration of last summer, 618. Two successful conferences have been completed—the Montana Conference on Educational Problems, a new venture, at which President L. D. Coffman of the University of Minnesota did much to contribute to its success, and many leading educators of Montana were present; and the second Writers' Conference, at which the principal guest speaker was Mrs. Mary Austin, author. Present, also, at the Writers' Conference were Vardis Fisher, B. A. Botkin, Grace Stone Coates, Frank B. Linderman and others. At the State University during the first week in August will be held a third special event: The Institute for Women's Clubs in connection with the Fourth Biennial of the Montana Federation of Women's Clubs.

... a cigarette that tastes better!

IN over 80 countries Chesterfield cigarettes are bought and sold ... smoked and enjoyed. Why is it?

BECAUSE THEY ARE MILDER.

BECAUSE THEY TASTE BETTER.

Their mildness begins with milder, riper tobaccos—the right kinds of Domestic with enough Turkish, blended and cross-blended to an even finer taste.

And wherever you go, up and down and across the world, Chesterfield goes too.
